GETS EIGHT YEARS MORE.

Former Attorney W. A. Lewis Is Unable to Secure Bail in Spokane.

(By Associated Press.)
Spokane, Wash., Feb. 19.—Attorney W. A. Lewis was sentenced this morning to serve eight years and six months in the penitentiary at Walla Walla for stealing $225 belonging to Mary Lambert, one of his clients.

The crime was larceny by embezzlement; Lewis having drawn the money after it was deposited with the county clerk.

This sentence is to run concurrently with the sentence of seven years already imposed on Lewis for stealing the money of Mary Platt, another client. Both cases have gone to the state supreme court on appeal, but Lewis is still in jail. He is unable to get bail, one reason being that while on trial he jumped his bond twice, going into hiding in Seattle and Denver.

PYTHIAN ORDER WAS FOUNDED 39 YEARS AGO TODAY.

The Pythians of Butte, and there are many of them, will gather tonight in their spacious castle and do honor to the memory of Justin Rathbone, who, 39 years ago today, founded the order which has grown so great.

The four lodges of the city will participate in the ceremony. Then at 9 o'clock the knights and their ladies will go to Renshaw hall, where a hall is to be given under the auspices of the order.

The Pythians are strong in Butte, and on the order rolls of membership are the names of many of the best men of the city. The order is strong financially, too, and during the past year has built one of the most beautiful castles in the entire Northwest.

Delegates are expected from all parts of the state. It is needless to state that the Pythians and their friends will enjoy themselves tonight.

TWO FINE ANIMALS.

Mayor and Fire Chief Say They Got Good Horses.

Among other matters going to the city council for consideration tonight are the reports of the various city departments, and the petition of the residents of the South Side, who object to the unhealthy garbage dump.

A report from the mayor and fire chief will be sent in. The report says: "We have secured two very fine animals, the cost of the same being $450 for both." The horses are for the fire department.

The street committee will recommend the purchase of two new street sprinklers and suggests that bids for the same be advertised for. Sprinkler No. 10, the committee says, can be repaired for the sum of $40.

BOYS ACCUSED OF BURGLARY GO TO JAIL.

Detective Murphy has succeeded in locating all but one of the boy burglars who broke into the Puck cigar store on West Broadway a week ago and stole $200 worth of cigars.

Three of the boys are now in custody. They are Max Levy, John Johnson and Al Bath, all of whom are accused of participating in the burglary.

The police have learned that the fourth boy wanted has left the city and telegrams have been sent out ordering his arrest.

BENNETT A BANKRUPT.

Says He Owes $1,036.86 and Cannot Pay It.

Edward Bennett, a miner, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the federal court today. He places his liabilities at $1,036.86 and his assets $140. There are 41 creditors and among them are seven doctors.

Identifying the Species.
(Youth's Companion.)
Lord Justice Mathews of England is a man of such mild and kindly exterior, with such gentle voice and manner, that almost invariably he gives the impression of being a simple country gentleman rather than an expert and profound lawyer.

This was evidently the idea of a professional seller of painted birds, who some years ago met him in the neighborhood of the law courts, and exhibiting one of his birds, asked him if he could tell to what species it belonged.

HOLD SECRET COURT

JUDGE BOYLE WILL ORDER SPECTATORS FROM COURT ROOM.

MARTIN'S CASE NOT FOR PUBLIC

Florence Griffith's Charges Against the Miner Are to Be Heard Behind Closed Doors Tomorrow Afternoon.

For the first time since Judge Boyle has presided over the facts and figures of the Butte police court, a star chamber session will be held tomorrow afternoon.

As a rule the public in the persons of the men with heavy time on their hands are welcomed in the court room and seats are set apart for the gallery. Some of the attendants at the court sessions are just as regular as the judge and the clerk and seldom miss a single word uttered during the many trials.

Hard on the Curious.
To those the order to clear the court room tomorrow afternoon will come in the nature of a hardship, particularly as some sensational testimony is expected in the case which causes the secret session.

The case referred to is the one in which Florence Griffith has brought charges against John Martin, whom she accuses of betraying her after a promise of marriage.

The assistant county attorney has decided the case is not of the sort that can bear public exposition and for that reason has made a request of Judge Boyle to have the court room cleared while the hearing is on.

Judge Boyle announced this afternoon that no one would be permitted in the room except the interested persons and the officials of the court, together with members of the press.

FREEDOM IN SIGHT

FOOLEY MAY GAIN LIBERTY TONIGHT.

BONDSMEN ARE TO QUALIFY

Bail Was Set for Two or Three Days Ago—Expected That Bonds Will Be Furnished and Approved by Court This Evening.

Thomas Pooley, charged with murder, is still in jail, although granted bail by Judge McClernan two or three days ago. However, it is understood that his confinement, which is almost of two years' duration already, will come to a period this evening.

Attorney B. F. Thresher, who is one of Pooley's counsel, stated this afternoon that Mr. Booth, his associate counsel, has been engaged in securing bondsmen for Pooley, and that the bondsmen will appear before Judge McClernan at 5 o'clock this evening and qualify on the bonds required by the court.

Are Two Bonds.

The bonds are two in number, as there are two charges against Pooley, one for the killing of Littlejohn and one for the killing of Mrs. Littlejohn. The first bond is for $5,000 and the second for $2,500. Sureties are required to qualify in double the amount of the bond, which they furnish, and it has taken the time since the bail was fixed to get bondsmen.

If the bondsmen satisfy Judge McClernan that the bond which they are willing to furnish is good, it will be accepted and Pooley will be released from custody. When Pooley will be tried again has not been settled yet.

PUGILIST BURGE

HE CLAIMS TO HAVE MADE BIG MONEY IN THE RING.

KNEW NOTHING OF ROBBERY

He of the Iron Jaw Fully Explains to the Court All His Connection With the Liverpool Bank Robbers.

(By Associated Press.)
London, Feb. 19.—On the resumption of the hearing of the charges growing out of the Bank of Liverpool frauds today the defense was begun with an examination of "Dick" Burge, the pugilist, one of the accused men.

He testified that he made £30,000 from boxing during the last ten years, that he had known Lawrie Marks, the missing American bookmaker, 18 months and that he advanced him £250 in October last on the understanding that they were to divide the profits of Marks' business.

Subsequently Marks informed the witness that James Manes (an American bookmaker, who is supposed to have been connected with the robberies) had a rich friend in Liverpool and insisted that he (Burge) go there with Manes as a lot of money might be made by their transactions.

Burge said he never saw Thomas Goudie, the accused bookkeeper, until he met him in Holloway jail.

The witness never knew that Manes was a friend of Goudie's and never suspected the checks were forged.

When he heard of the Bank of Liverpool frauds he had no idea that Marks and Manes were connected with them.

ABOUT A RED COW

TRIAL OF TWO MEN CHARGED WITH ITS THEFT.

GRAND LARCENY CASE OPENS

Moffat & McDonald Face a Jury—Disagreement at Previous Trial—Testimony Concerning Pet Cow's Disappearance.

The red cow grand larceny case, heretofore tried and resulting in a disagreement, in which two butchers—George A. McDonald and John Moffat—are charged with stealing Mrs. Ludger Michaud's parson-colored bovine on November 11, 1901, opened for a second trial this morning in Judge McClernan's court.

Deputy County Attorney Lynch and Assistant County Attorney Mackel conducted the prosecution, and Attorneys Kirk & Clinton represented the defendants.

Mr. Lynch said in his opening statement that the Michaud cow wandered away from her happy home on the day of the alleged crime.

He said, further, that the state's evidence would show that the defendants sold the cow's hide to Gordon & Perelson, junk dealers, on the 15th, and the carcass of a cow to McCarthy & Marquette, butchers, on the 12th; that evidences of the butchery were seen in their slaughter pen on the 13th, and that the defendants had told the sheriff on the 12th that they had not butchered a cow for eight or ten days.

He also said that the evidence would show that when last seen the cow was disappearing behind the corral belonging to McDonald & Moffat.

Mr. Lynch said that upon the showing proposed, he expected a conviction.

It Was a Poser.

Ludger Michaud, who is a Frenchman, was the first witness for the state. He is the husband of the woman who owned the red cow. He said he lived in Silver Bow park, on the flat, not very far from the defendant's slaughter yard.

"When did you see the cow last?" Mr. Lynch asked.

The witness replied that the hour was perhaps 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon of November 11, 1901.

"When did you see the hide of the cow?" he was asked.

"Here, at the first trial," he replied. "The hide was in the courtroom today, and he identified it."

"Did you ever see another red cow?" the defendant's attorneys asked.

"Yes; but not just like that," he replied.

He identified the cowhide by the brand "A" on the right hip and by the features of the hide.

"Do you think you could tell this red cow from another red cow?" he was asked.

"I could," he replied.

"Do you think there was never another red cow like this one?"

"I don't know; I never saw one," the witness replied.

Neither did he know whether the man he bought the cow from had other bay kine branded "A" or not.

Papa Michaud Testifies.

"How could you tell this was your red cow if you met another red cow coming down the road, and both cows were branded "A" on the right hip, and neither of them looked friendly, and you had forgotten your spectacles and you were not thinking of cows any way?" he was asked, but he gave that one up.

His daughter, Miss Mary Michaud, a pretty blonde young lady, was the next witness.

She was asked how she was able to identify the hide as that of her mother's majenta milk producer, and she replied: "The hair on her neck was curly and she had awful short legs."

Mrs. Michaud furnished cumulative and corroborative evidence concerning the red cow, its disappearance and its hide. She identified the cowhide in the court as the hide of the red cow. She was sure of this. She owned the cow five years.

Mrs. George L'Etoile, a neighbor of the Michauds, said she knew the red cow well.

"How did you know it?" Mr. Mackel asked.

"I never saw any cow around there as pretty as that one. It had a brown-red color and curly hair," she replied.

LARGE DEALINGS TODAY.

Stocks of All Kinds Have an Upward Tendency.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Feb. 19.—The opening dealings in stocks were on a fairly large scale, but there was no consistent tendency to price changes. Sugar was bought at the decline and rose a point over yesterday's close.

Pere Marquette jumped 8 points to 79. A rally to above 60 in Amalgamated Copper invited fresh selling and its relapse of a point affected Sugar and other specialties.

The railroad list generally was sluggish. The market hardened gradually during the second hour in very small dealings.

A Couch Sale

Not a sale of ordinary couches, but a sale of couches so much better than the ordinary as to be in a class of their own. Our couches have always been noted for their strength of construction, graceful shapes and desirable coverings. This season they are, if anything, better than ever before, and the prices for this special occasion have been reduced to within a shade of actual cost. We are not in business for our health, and like profit as well as most merchants, but for this one time we have decided to make some couch prices that will force a few samples of our couches into homes that we have never been able to reach before.

Couch No. 1 Is made with strong frame, has steel springs and is entirely covered with fancy velour, heavy fringe valance. A $9.00 value for $6.50	Couch No. 158 Has a solid oak rocco frame, upholstered in green striped velour, closely tufted and strongly constructed. A decidedly good $17.50 value, for $13.00
Couch No. 364 Has oak rocco frame, upholstered in heavy, fancy velour, plain top and tufted head, best steel springs and shaped for $17.50 comfort. $22.50 value.	Bed Couch No. 2,495 has oak frame, nicely upholstered in fancy velour; the frame is handsomely carved and has a high back; it's two pieces of furniture in one. Worth $17.50, for $12.50
Couch No. 195 Has a drop head, oak frame, upholstered in a faultless manner with a rich, heavy velour in bright colors. It is mounted on best steel springs, firmly held in position. Value fully $25.00, for $17.50	Bed Couch No. 2,478 has massive high back, elaborately carved, seat and head are finished plain, in finest fancy pattern velours, indestructible construction. Open in Butte Wednesday February 19

Sugar crossed 121 again and Amalgamated Copper recovered to last night. Among the usually quiet stocks Pacific Mail advanced a point.

Colorado Southern and St. Paul were 1 to 1/4 off. After noon Amalgamated and Sugar moved in opposite directions, which confused the dealers.

Minor specialties largely absorbed attention and their moves were mixed. Sugar was lifted to 132 before 2 o'clock, but Amalgamated, which had risen above 70, receded.

Bonds were firm.
Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville rose 4-7-8 in all and the preferred 1-2. A vigorous upward movement then developed in Union Pacific and St. Paul, which carried them up about a point. Tennessee Coal rose 3 points on large buying and Colorado Fuel, Chicago & Alton and Sioux-Sheffield Steel rose 1 to 1 3/4 over last night. Realizing at strong points caused reactions and Sugar and Copper lost a point. The closing was active and irregular.
