

OPINION BY BREEN

THINKS DUBLIN GULCH SHOULD HAVE DEPUTY SHERIFF.

ONE MAY BE APPOINTED SOON

Commissioners Haggerty and Peoples Speak in Favor of Appointment This Morning -- Written Opinion on Their Authority From Breen.

County Attorney Breen has taken up the matter of the need of the Dublin Gulch people for better police protection, and in all probability the commissioners will authorize the appointment of an extra deputy sheriff to stand guard where trouble brews.

In the opinion of Mr. Breen expresses the view that the commissioners have the power to authorize the sheriff to employ a deputy sheriff for that purpose. He also says that he believes that the sheriff would be justified in employing the deputy without the authority of the board.

This morning both Commissioners Peoples and Haggerty expressed a willingness to appoint the special officer desired. Commissioner Clark was not present, so his opinion was not secured. Mr. Haggerty said that he would only vote for the appointment of a man who would live or stay in the district all the time.

This is Breen's Opinion.

Mr. Breen's opinion is as follows: "Honorable Board of County Commissioners of Silver Bow County, Montana.

"Gentlemen: In my opinion you have the power to authorize the sheriff of Silver Bow county to appoint one or more special deputies to protect the lives and property of the citizens of Dublin Gulch and to preserve the public peace therein. The condition of lawlessness and terrorism prevailing at present in that unhappy locality would, I believe, justify the sheriff in taking the initiative in this matter himself and appointing one or more deputies for the purpose above named, and retaining him or them until the necessity for his or their services has ceased to exist.

"As county attorney of this county, I heartily indorse the movement originating with some of the law-abiding people of Dublin Gulch for the appointment of a special deputy sheriff for that place, knowing as I do that crime has been rampant there for some time, but that detection of the criminals has been almost wholly impossible for want of such a peace officer."

ROUTINE THE ORDER

COUNCIL FAILS TO CONSIDER IMPORTANT MEASURES.

GO OVER TO FUTURE MEETINGS

New Bond Issue Question Held in Committee--Pool Room Petition Not Ready--Other Matters Sidetracked.

At the meeting of the city council last night considerable routine business was disposed of. The question of a new bonding issue for the purpose of refunding outstanding city obligations, was not up for action, the judiciary committee asking for further time after spending the greater part of the afternoon yesterday in discussing the proposition. It is understood that some of the members of the committee oppose the plan on the ground that a sinking fund will be necessary later in order to secure sufficient money to pay off the new bonds and that this means the tying up of a considerable sum of money until such time as the entire fund would be available.

Mayor Davey appointed the following registration agents: West Side, John G. Simpson, Charles Lyford; East Side, Alexander Anderson, P. J. Kane. The appointments were unanimously confirmed.

Alderman Bryant moved to invite the various parties in the city to send in lists of the names desired for election judges for consideration by the council, which was carried. There will be five judges in each ward and these will name two clerks for each ward.

Cohen Wanted the Earth. The proposition of Alderman Cohen to have appointed three democrats, one republican and one labor member as judges in each ward, went over until the next meeting, it being pointed out that no populist was provided for.

Alderman Mayo moved to cancel any agreement existing between the city and county relative to the city paying a part of the smallpox expenses. This was carried.

Fire Chief Sanger asked that the council authorize a ten-days' vacation each year with pay for the firemen and the request was granted by unanimous vote.

The judiciary committee recommended passage of the extension ordinance after it had been amended to change the territory described in the third description. The recommendation was concurred in.

BANKING HOUSE FOR PONY

P. H. Gahn is in the city for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the establishment of a state bank at Pony. The institution will be opened in the course of a few weeks.

Mr. Gahn has been connected with the Elling banking interests for a number of years, and is a son-in-law and was schooled in the business by the late Henry Elling, who, when he died a year ago, was at the head of seven financial institutions in this state.

W. W. Morris of Pony and Thomas Duncan of Virginia City are associated with Mr. Gahn in his new enterprise.

LEE DAVENPORT RE-LOCATES

GROUND INVOLVED IN CASEY-BARNARD FIGHT

THE OLD THOMAS LODE CLAIM

There was a flutter of excitement around the courthouse this morning when it became generally known that a new location of the old Thomas lode claim, which figures so prominently in the suit of George H. Casey and others against A. W. Barnard, had been made.

The new location was made yesterday shortly after Judge Harney had decided in the Casey-Barnard suit that the location of the Thomas claim was defective. The relocater is Lee Davenport.

The fact that the claim had been relocated did not become known until this morning.

The title of the Davenport location is suggestive. It is the "Poker quartz lode mining claim." The notice of the location has been posted in a small box nailed to the old windlass frame over the shaft dug by General Legat on the lot west of the courthouse.

The old shaft is taken as the discovery shaft and the claim is 1,280 feet long and 60 feet wide.

Will Not Affect Surface Rights.

It is contended that if the old Thomas lode location is declared invalid the new one just made by Davenport will hold all the mineral rights in the ground it covers.

The suit now pending between Casey and others and Barnard, if carried, as has been stated it will be, to the United States supreme court, will either establish the Thomas lode title or knock it out. Whether any surface ground will be gained by the new lode location is an open question.

It is contended that the surface rights, having been held more than ten years, will not be affected by the Davenport location, even if in time it takes the mineral rights in the ground it covers.

What value the mineral rights have, if any, is yet to be shown. If the surface rights already belong to others and cannot be affected by the new location the mineral rights will not be available unless the owner of them purchases ground through which to mine his claim.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES CAPTURED

Representatives from the Butte & Boston and the Parrot smelters were at the police station today to identify a lot of stolen brass and copper.

The plunder was captured by Policeman Tom Hynes along with three youths who were carrying it along Shields avenue last night. The officer became suspicious and arrested three of the youths, a fourth making his escape.

The prisoners gave their names as Harry Edwards, Homer Tilley and James Madden. The property stolen was in sacks and altogether weighed in the neighborhood of 300 pounds.

Edwards is the boy who was fined recently by Judge Boyle for spitting in a street car in violation of the city ordinance. His fine was made the minimum because of the representations of his father to Manager Wharton of the Street Car company and to Judge Boyle that the youth was a well-behaved lad and had never before been in trouble.

At the jail the lads insisted that they saw a man place the sacks in the tunnel near the Butte & Boston smelter and that they took them intending to find who owned the stuff.

The police think they have succeeded through this arrest in breaking into the practices of the gang of boys who have been stealing from the smelters for months past and have been protected and encouraged by some of the junk men of the city.

This morning most of the stolen stuff was identified by the master mechanic of the Butte & Montana. The boys will be held on a charge of having stolen property in their possession and will probably be arraigned tomorrow.

WILL PROBABLY COMPROMISE

The Journeymen Butchers' Union, at its meeting held at the courthouse last night, appointed a committee to confer with the Swift Packing company's agents regarding the difference existing between them. The matter may result in a boycott, which the packing company people say they are ready to fight, having had considerable experience in the fighting business. More reasonable and amicable measures are liable to be adopted, however, as both sides are willing to give and take a little in the controversy.

HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE.

Will Save Men, Body and Soul, Says Prof. Quackenboss. (New York Herald.)

Before the New York City Training School for Nurses Prof. John D. Quackenboss, at the New York Academy of Medicine yesterday afternoon read a paper on "Hypno-Science, Its Progress and Its Future Development." He called attention to the important advance made by psychology by the assumption of a practical character, and in part he said: "In no direction has this practical evolution been more conspicuous than in the recent utilization of psycho-therapeutics as an appropriate instrumentality for the treatment of functional disorders, nervous diseases, delusions and imperative conceptions, moral obliquity and disquietal backwardness and arrested mental development. "I firmly believe that as an agent of physical cure hypno-suggestion will shortly come to be universally employed by trained nurses for the purpose of carrying their patients through the crisis of disease. It will be used by physicians, the character of the child being determined by suggestion; and this method of improving ethically and intellectually a coming generation will be practiced on so large and broad a scale that society must feel the uplift. "Intelligent physicians will anticipate by such treatment an inherited tendency to malignant growths, fortifying through the channels of suggestion the system of the subject against any chemical, mechanical or emotional cause for the development of cancer. Carcinoma, for instance, being rare under 30, the physician of the future will keep up the vitality of the threatened tissues in cases where the heritage is suspected, by powerful suggestions to the sub-personal mind, begun at the age of 25. Suggestions may further be used to regulate and control the population of the earth. Such promises to be the development of the twentieth century, while hypno-science seems to be destined to demonstrate immortality on philosophical principles to determine the laws that govern telepathic intercourse, and possibly to extend its investigations into the realm of the dead. "Investigations extending over many years have led me to believe in the dual personality of man--that is, each human unit exists in two distinct states of superior consciousness. One of these states is called the primary or supraliminal consciousness--the personality by which a man is known to his objective associates, which takes cognizance through the senses of the outside world and carries on the ordinary business of every-day life. The second or subliminal personality is the superior spiritual self, the man's own over-soul, which automatically super-tends all physical functions and procedures and influences mental and moral attitudes. "It happens to be a fact of mind that in sleep--natural or induced--this subliminal or submerged self may be brought into active control of the objective life. My experiments have forced me to the conclusion that there is no difference as regards suggestibility between natural sleep and the so-called hypnotic trance. In the induced sleep the subject is in rapport exclusively with the operator; in his natural sleep he may be in rapport with his own objective self, perhaps with a multitude of disparate personalities, who think and feel in common with him, and, in case he be of superior parts, possibly with all well-wishing extrahuman intelligences. "The impressing outside personality operates through the double consciousness fused in the single human mind, the superior spiritual self being obnoxious to the insinuation of a belief, impulse or thought, which may dominate the waking life--and this is suggestion. The subject believes, and post hypnotically does, all that he is urged to do--all that has in view the accomplishment of his purpose and is in conformity with his highest good. He is constrained after waking to obey the impulses of his own superior self thus inspired by a person of unassailable principle who believes in himself and in his suggestions. "From the physical viewpoint hypno-suggestion has for its aim emancipation from functional disturbances through its regulation of the ordinary process of digestion, absorption, elimination, circulation and innervation in general. Pain is controllable, and, as you know, minor surgical operations have been successfully and painlessly performed on hypnotized subjects. Many a woman has been snatched from the clutches of death by an imperative suggestion given by her physician or some member of her family to the effect that she shall live for the child she had borne. "The trained nurse has it in her power to render invaluable service along this new line of psycho-therapeutics. In the management of nervous invalids alone, at the command of the properly equipped nurse, in the calm of hypnosis, all nervous systems subside, the heart stops its tumultuous beat, the pulse falls from 120 to 70, the hurried respiration becomes slow, regular and breezy, and the patient, by helpful suggestions, is exalted to a plane where nothing can ruffle the serene surface of his soul. "I have a trained nurse now, treating in California, under my direction, a little girl with diabetes mellitus, which in a child has long been regarded as equivalent to a death sentence, and this particular case was sent to me from the West in November, after specialists here and abroad had pronounced it hopeless. Three treatments by suggestion were given after the child was asleep in bed at night, with the result of most marked improvement in 10 days. The reports since have been most encouraging. "Philosophic Mauderlings. (Baltimore News.) The man who does his thinking to himself has a heap better results than the man who thinks out loud. Never mind, the corner where the coldest breezes blow is the most comfortable next August. The man who sprawls all over the street car would shrink like a 20-cent shirt if he had to pay two fares. The cook may have lots of dough and still work for two-fifty a week. One distinctive feature about a furnace is that tho' condemned by many, by all it is acknowledged to be a grate institution. There are ten different railroads centering in the Twin Cities. Of these ten, six operate between the two towns and Chicago. Of these six there is one particular favorite--one that carries travel largely in excess of the others. It is "The Milwaukee." While it has always been recognized as THE line, its popularity has greatly increased since the inauguration of its Pioneer Limited service. The Pioneer Limited is a beauty bright.
