COL. WILLIAM CODY TO CREATE A NEW MINNESOTA

"Colonel Buffalo Bill Cody is at it again," remarked a guest at the Butte, as he looked up from the newspaper he was perusing.

"What's he been doing now," asked the reporter as he dropped into the vacant seat beside the guest and applied the interviewer's pump with a view of securing a story for the Inter Mountain readers.

"Oh, he has a new scheme to populate his Wyoming ranches, that's all," was the reply. "He has decided to bring a colony out to the country lying south of Red Lodge in Carbon county, this state, and will do it in the regulation Buffalo Bill style. He never does things by halves and his scheme is a gigantic one. Here is the story."

The item pointed out was in the New York Sun, under a date of March 9, and is as follows:

Swede Settlers.

"Under the guidance of William F. Cody, 'Buffalo Bill,' 5,000 Swedes are to be colonized in the Big Horn valley in Wyoming. Colonel Cody is in Chicago to arrange for getting the settlers and today he was in conference with Gustave Wallenberg, who is at the head of the prospective colony."

"There is no farming safer nor more profitable than irrigation farming," said Colonel Cody today. "The government homesteads are pre-empted and the only lands in the West now open to settlers are the so-called arid lands. Some of the prospective settlers are in the United States, but the majority are still in Sweden."

A WOOLEN MILL THAT MAY COME TO SOME MONTANA TOWN

"Belt has received a proposal from a man who wants to come to the place and locate an enterprise worth $25,000," said a resident of Great Falls today as he stood gossiping with a group of friends in the Finlen lobby.

"Is it a leap year proposal?" asked the reporter who knew the man from the Electric City and his propensity for cracking a joke on occasion.

"No," was the reply, "it is a real offer and can be safely dealt with in a spirit of seriousness for it indicates that the state is beginning to attract attention in other sections of the country and its industries are known abroad as good investments."

A Woollen Mill.

"This proposal is from a man in Chicago who has a woollen mill he wants to locate in a Western state and he believes Montana is all right. He has looked over the field and is convinced that he will make no mistake if he comes here. Accordingly he has addressed a letter to the mayor of Belt and said he would move the mill to that place and, as earnest of his good intentions, put in a plant costing $25,000 if he was assured of a support from the citizens of the place amount to a like amount.

"This sum will represent the value of the mill when it is in running order and the letter points out the fact that the pay roll of the establishment and the trade it would bring to Belt would be of no inconsiderable value to the town."

A Chance for Others.

"It is barely possible that Belt will undertake to raise the amount but I have my doubts about it. The place is rather small for such an enterprise and the sum asked for it is a little too large for the capacity of the town. If any other town in the state wants to take a try at the deal its mayor should write to the mayor of Belt and secure the address of the man who wants to construct the woollen mill and by putting up a suitable bonus a good industry can be secured."

SHEA WAS JOCOSE

CLAIMS GRAFTING CHARGE WAS RESULT OF A PLEASANTRY.

WILL BE SERIOUS IN FUTURE

Called in Before the County Commissioners He Denies That He Has Been Protecting Gamblers.

The county commissioners have exonerated Constable Tim Shea of Walkerville of the charge of taking money from gamblers. His case was investigated thoroughly in an interview with him, in which he denied that he ever "grafted" on the gamblers or anybody else.

It came to the ears of the commissioners about two months ago that Shea had boasted of his profits in the "grafting" business upon the gamblers, and they sent Shea an order to appear and undergo an examination upon the subject.

Shea did not answer the summons, and he said when questioned by the commissioners as to his failure to do so that he had not received the summons.

Made Indignant Denial.

A month ago the commissioners received a bill for fees from the constable for $48, and they delayed paying it for the purpose of bringing Shea before the board for the investigation desired. A second citation was sent to Shea Thursday and he appeared before the board yesterday.

He was told that a policeman had charged him with admitting that he had "grafted" on the gamblers. He denied that he had either "grafted" or admitted that he had "grafted" and indignantly repudiated the charge. He said, as a possible explanation of the charge, that one day Policeman Moore had asked him how "grafting" was and he had answered jocosely that it was not very good, as he had made only $30 the month before.

Shea's explanation was accepted as satisfactory, there being no contradictory evidence against him, and he was cleared of the charge. His bill will be paid, but he will be careful how he jokes with windy policemen hereafter.

DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT.

The jury empaneled by Coroner Johnson for the purpose of inquiring into the cause of the death of Erick Hill, who died in St. James' hospital Thursday morning as a result of injuries sustained by a blast in the Mountain Con mine, completed its labor last evening and returned a verdict of accidental death, caused by a premature explosion of powder.

The body of the unfortunate man was consigned to a grave in Mount Moriah cemetery yesterday, the funeral taking place from the chapel of the Sherman undertaking rooms. Hill leaves a wife and three children, who reside at 116 East Woolman street.

CONSTABLE COSGROVE IS SUED

Constable Thomas Cosgrove has been sued in the district court by E. L. Thomas, trustee in bankruptcy for the estate of J. M. Froelich, the furrier, for the sum of $1,600, which is the value of furs that it is alleged the defendant wrongfully took from Froelich. Patrick T. Hastings and Adolph Pincus, Cosgrove's bondsmen, are made defendants also.

The officer took the furs on an attachment issued in favor of James Shrockleton in a suit against Froelich. Shrockleton applied to be declared bankrupt on January 8 and was adjudged to be bankrupt on February 13.

MOORE WAS CRUEL

WIFE OF POLICE OFFICER BRINGS SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

CHARGES HIM WITH VIOLENCE

She Asks for a Decree, the Custody of a Child and That Her Husband Be Restrained From Disposing of His Pay.

"Plaintiff further alleges that in the month of July, 1901, said defendant again beat and struck this plaintiff in anger and with force and violence and to such an extent that the body of this plaintiff was beaten and bruised and this plaintiff rendered sore and sick by reason thereof."

This is an interesting allegation in the divorce suit filed in the district court this morning by Mrs. Moore against Thomas Moore, a policeman, who was put in jail at Mrs. Moore's request yesterday.

Mrs. Moore asks for a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and there are more allegations in the complaint like the one set out here.

Mrs. Moore says that she and Moore were married at Butte the day after Washington's birthday in 1889, and that there is one child, named Daisy Moore, 2 years old, in the family.

Mrs. Moore says that the beatings began in June, 1901, and that in that month and year Moore struck her without cause and beat her without provocation.

When Beatings Began.

The last beating is set up as having occurred yesterday, when, Mrs. Moore says, the policeman in great anger struck and beat the plaintiff "on various parts of her body." Some of these blows, according to the complaint, were landed upon the face and eyes of the unhappy woman.

Mrs. Moore declares that after the various acts of cruelty set out Moore always promised to give up beating her, but invariably failed to keep the promises, and that she is in fear that if she continued to live with him her life would be in danger.

Mrs. Moore says that Moore is earning $100 a month working for the city as a policeman, and asks that he be restrained from cashing three warrants of $100 each which she says he has on deposit with the city clerk, and also a lot which she is informed and believes he has in the city.

She wants a decree of divorce and the child.

DOCTORS MAKE MEDICINE.

The Silver Bow County Medical association met last night, made some medicine in a social way, and elected officers for the ensuing year.

The following well-known physicians were chosen to administer the affairs of the association for the next twelve months:

President, Dr. Donald Campbell; vice president, Dr. T. J. Sullivan; secretary, Dr. J. A. Donovan.

AN ATTACK OF HEART FAILURE

G. O. MacFarland, in charge of the office of the Large Lumber company, became ill rather suddenly while on duty at his office about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was taken to his home. Heart failure was the cause. Although the attack was quite serious, Mr. MacFarland's condition gradually improved and if no further complications arise he will soon be around again.

SAME OLD THING

HUSTLING FOR SEATS IN CONVENTION BY DEMOCRATS.

FALL ALL OVER EACH OTHER

Canvass Selections Made, But They Do Not Appear to Be Entirely Satisfactory to Those Who Got Left.

The democrats of the city held caucuses last evening and selected men to be voted on at the primaries this evening.

If the chosen ones receive the unanimous support of an alleged undivided democracy they, or at least the delegate portion, will be entitled to seats in the democratic city convention, which will be held next Tuesday for the purpose of nominating eight candidates for one alderman in each ward.

The caucuses were democratic in every sense of the word—the customary riot in several of the wards was narrowly averted. All of the members of the party desired to go to the convention, but the numbers had been limited to 88, 11 from each ward.

Some Were Left.

This left 12 or 15 out in the cold and there was a general scramble to get to the front. Those who failed to get their names on the tickets threatened afterwards to vote against the other fellows and elect themselves at the primaries and the chances are they will carry out the threat.

It has been stated that the party is united and is now as solid as the rock of Gibraltar, but if the wrangling in some of the wards last night is a criterion by which to judge, the breach is about as wide as ever.

The following persons were selected as candidates for delegates and alternates:

The arrest of Ohmstead was made upon a modification received by the game warden that Ohmstead was trapping beaver near Whitehall. Ohmstead was captured at his cabin and admitted that he had broken the laws.

Three beaver skins were surrendered by him. It had been said that Ohmstead had declared that he would not submit to arrest, but he made no resistance.
