

BABY BELLE WILLIS, KID ELOCUTIONIST.

Who Charms Butte Audiences. She is Four Years Old, and is the Only Child of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stanley Willis, and a Pupil of Mrs. W. H. Cochran.

Mrs. McCrimmon on Thursday evening, covers being laid for nine.

The table was prettily decorated with pink carnations and smilax, while at each cover was found a miniature musical instrument filled with bonbons. A delightful musical program followed and a happy evening was spent by the guests, who were: Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Miss McKechnie, Dr. McDonald, Mr. Ervin.

The Kismets Last Session.

Mrs. W. W. Cheeley was the hostess last Monday for the Kismet club and a delightful afternoon was passed with her, progressive euchre being as usual the game played.

The first prize was a beautiful plate, painted with roses in exquisite shades, the work of Mrs. Laughlin of the club. This went to Mrs. David Reinhardt who had the highest score. The second prize was a handsome almond dish, in pale green painted with blueberries and foliage. This was awarded to Mrs. P. Mullins, a sister of Mrs. Reinhardt.

After the prizes were awarded the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss McStay, served refreshments which proved tempting enough to keep the members there for a long time.

Those present were: Mesdames P. Mullins, David Reinhardt, D. A. Dickson, A. H. Whitteker, Frederick Squiers, Hugh C. Laughlin, W. W. Cheeley, C. V. Fulton, Sol Buckles, T. A. Grigg, members, substitutes: Mrs. Charles Hellbrone, Miss Margaret Reinhardt, guest, Miss McStay.

The club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur M. Whitteker at the Lenox.

A Charming Surprise.

A charming surprise, one which was an oddity as well, was the surprise given to Miss Mildred Jamieson on Monday evening by her school mates, all girls. The party crowd assembled at the home of Winnifred Tomey in Walkerville and went from there to the Jamieson home. Here they met a surprised but hearty welcome.

The evening was devoted to games, music and a general good time, a regular bachelor girl evening. They made fudge, too, according to the well-known Vassar college receipt. At a late hour the good things they brought with them were served, the girls making the coffee.

In the party were Misses Beattie and Winnifred Tomey, Mildred and Jessie Jamieson, Kate and Nona Sullivan, Connie Trent, Anna White, Essie Harper, Teenie Young, Rose Gallagher, Kitty McDermott, Phena Rawlins, Hattie Bailey, Gussie and Edna Casey, Viva Marlin, Georgia West, Ollie Unas, Mattie Bayley, Mary Sullivan.

A Grand Success.

The gentlemen members of Ruth chapter, No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star, had charge of the celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the lodge last Wednesday night. Only Masons and members of the Eastern Star were present. The first of the evening was devoted to a fine but lengthy program. After this was over the gentlemen served a fine banquet. It was 1 o'clock before the guests departed.

The first thing on the program was a trio, Messrs. Argall, Martin and Price, giving first "Moonlight on the Lake;" encore, "Come Hiss With the Lark;" Ella Knowles Haskell followed with one of her eloquent addresses speaking of the Order of the Eastern Star and Masonic fraternity. One of the hits of the evening was W. H. Pierce disguised as an old darkey professor of phonology. His subject was John R. Bordeaux and the hot spot poured into that unlucky individual convulsed the people.

Miss Margaret Willard sang "Happy Days," Christine Brebner playing the violin obligato. Miss Willard possesses a rich, velvety contralto voice and she was obliged to respond to a warm encore giving "A Little Puritan Maid." H. C. Clark brought the house down with his original poetry, "Don't Trust to Fate;" encore, "Laska." Miss Brasler gave a piano solo. W. E. Carroll was to have followed with a five-minute talk, but failed to materialize.

Miss Mamie Innis recited "The Legend of Berengaz," but refused to respond to the encore. William Argall sang, "If You But Knew;" encore "Marguerite." Mr. Martin sang a bass solo, "The Sailor." Mrs. Arthur Clark recited and made a great impression, but refused an encore. Here Chairman Bettinson announced that they would have a cakewalk by John R. Bordeaux and his Honolulu lady. Mr. Bordeaux arose to remark that he had no Honolulu lady or in fact any lady. The Misses Brazier and Mr. Brazier sang "Come Where the Lilies;" encore, "Whispering Music." Mrs. W. H. Cochran came last and after her first recitation had to respond to three encores.

The gentlemen who were in charge and to whose efforts the great success was due also officiated as waiters during the banquet: Messrs. George Bettinson, L. W. Shodair, O. N. Perry, H. Rosenzweig, J. L. Carroll, S. M. Wilson, O. L. Bishop, H. S. Clark, Phil Davis and John R. Bordeaux.

Scarlet Decorations at Deutsche Club.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. C. Pingel, entertained the Deutsche club at her home on West Granite street, there being a full attendance of members and several guests.

As usual the members enjoyed conversation in the German tongue, any member speaking in English being fined a penny. Many employed some of the time in doing embroidery or drawn work or in sewing.

The refreshments were served from a handsomely decorated table in the back parlor. It was decorated in scarlet and green, carnations and smilax in the center and scattered over the table. Real, genuine German coffee cake and coffee are the principal features with this club and although many other delicacies are added by the hostesses. Mrs. Pingel is renowned for her fine refreshments and Saturday they are "better than ever" as one member remarked.

Among those present were: Mesdames W. C. Speer, George B. Tower, C. C. Feuser, J. A. Reuger, Henry Mueller, C. C. Pingel.

The A. B. C. Whist Club.

The A. B. C. Whist club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ed Wright at her home on South Idaho street in South Butte. The afternoon was one of the most delightful of the series.

The first prize, a handsome salad bowl, went to Mrs. W. F. Noyes; the second prize, a pretty Haviland cup and saucer, was won by Mrs. Hopkins. The consolation, a pretty bisque ornament for the wall, was awarded to Mrs. Frank Talbott.

After the prize awarding one of the most tempting and elaborate luncheons was served. Those present were: Mesdames Ed Wright, J. H. Gilbert, W. F. Noyes, Frank Talbott, Nelson Moor, Will Ashford, Lamb, Al Corbett, Stanley Willis, Hopkins, M. L. Eifer, Sam Bishop.

Informal Luncheon for Miss Farrell.

Miss Olive Farrell of Salt Lake was the honor guest at an informal luncheon given on Monday afternoon by Miss Jessie Thomas at her home in Centerville. The decorations were all in pink, azaleas, carnations and ferns. The menu was a dainty one and the affair quite pleasing.

Those present were: Miss Olive Farrell, Miss Jessie Thomas, Miss Nita Thomas, Miss Trella Hoskins, Miss Kate Sullivan, Miss Lollita McLever, Miss Trank, Miss Hattie Rawson, Miss Vera Webster, Miss Lily Harris, Miss Babs Curtain, Miss Dessie Worth.

Nonpartisan Whist Club.

The Nonpartisan Whist club met with Mrs. R. May at her home, 1240 East Second street, Thursday afternoon. The time was delightfully spent, the following being the prize winners: Mrs. J. F. Esbry, first prize, half dozen Haviland fruit dishes; Mrs. M. R. Williams, second, a handsome China cake plate. Dainty refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mesdames E. C.

Hollingsworth, May W. Gillette, J. F. Esbey, E. Stephenson, W. R. Williams, Frank E. Haskins, R. May, H. L. Ayers, W. W. Scott, Hermine Hanson, Mrs. C. V. Fulton substituted for Mrs. R. R. Winstcott.

The club will meet with Mrs. Hanson next Thursday afternoon at her home, 788 Maryland avenue.

Delightfully Entertained.

On Monday, St. Patrick's day, Mrs. Ignatius Donnelly went over to Anaconda to sing for the Ancient Order of Hibernians. She was accompanied by Mrs. Belle Rooney, Miss Dorothy Supernaut and Miss Mamie Nevin. Mrs. Donnelly is a great favorite in the Smelter City and her selection, "Ashore," was encored again and again. She gave for her first encore "Kerry Dance."

After the entertainment the Apiclus club, a swell organization of Anaconda, composed of ten young gentlemen, entertained Mrs. Donnelly and her party at a fine course banquet. The decorations were exquisite, all in green, save the wealth of American Beauty roses, which composed the centerpiece. The name cards were water colored gems.

After the banquet an impromptu musicale was enjoyed in which Mrs. Donnelly, Mr. Hickey, Mr. Davies and others participated. Mr. and Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and their guest, Dr. McKenzie, were also present.

Mrs. McIntyre Surprised.

On St. Patrick's evening Dr. and Mrs. John McIntyre were surprised by a number of their friends at their home on West Broadway. The guests brought with them potatoes, big and small, and the evening was devoted to playing potato games—trying to guess sizes and weights of potatoes, carrying potatoes on a knife, and other funny games, all with potatoes. At a late hour a dainty luncheon was served.

In the party of surprisers were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wethey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, Dr. Nevin, Miss Telfar, Miss Wethey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Berry and several others.

N. H. Whist Club.

Mrs. R. Williams was the hostess for the N. H. Whist club last Thursday at her home on Farrell street. The games were greatly enjoyed and a delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Williams won two solid silver spoons for first prize and Mrs. N. Genereux the second, one spoon.

In attendance were: Mrs. Genereux, Mrs. R. F. Hopper, Mrs. L. Erick, Mrs. J. H. Gilbert, Mrs. N. G. Thompson, Mrs. C. C. Willis, Mrs. W. F. Noyes, Mrs. F. Gray, Mrs. F. L. Melcher, Mrs. E. Farnham, Mrs. W. Bowen, Mrs. R. Williams.

Daughters of Revolution.

Mrs. E. H. Renisch entertained in a charming manner the Daughters of the Revolution on Thursday afternoon. The house was appropriately decorated with American flags and cut flowers. After the business of the day was disposed of Mrs. J. W. Murphy read a very interesting paper on "The Manners and Customs in the South, Prior to the Revolution." The daintiest of refreshments were served, after which each guest was presented with a dainty bunch of English violets. In attendance were: Mesdames Young, Wethey, Mitchell, Welch, Murphy, Morley, Renisch and Miss Green.

Holbrook Luncheon Today.

Mrs. Fred Holbrook gave a beautiful luncheon today in honor of Mrs. H. I. Wilson, who has returned home after a stay of several months in California and other coast points. Her table decorations were extremely artistic and were in red tulips and red shaded candelabra, with red bonbons and favors. At the table were: Mrs. H. I. Wilson, Mrs. Geoff Lauzier, Mrs. I. Freund, Mrs. J. V. Long, Mrs. William Tuohy, Mrs. Bruce Kremer, Mrs. Thomas Lavell, Mrs. W. W. Dixon, Mrs. T. J. Murray.

Entertained by Mrs. Dingley.

In the afternoon yesterday the members of the Y. V. F. B. club met with Mrs. M. A. Dingley at her pleasant home on the West Side. The afternoon was spent as usual in sewing, making fancy work and social conversation.

Most Charming Card Party of Lent.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. J. W. Gunn gave the largest, most elaborate and altogether charming card party of the Lenten season, at her home on West Granite street.

The decorations were of the season, spring-like, white and green being the color scheme throughout. White carnations and roses were massed in cut glass bowls, vases and on the mantels. In the parlors, the dining room and library, green ribbons were carried from the four corners of the rooms to the electridlers in each room, terminating in graceful bows. In the open doorways were elaborate portieres, and above the doors green freezes of the ribbons. On all the card tables, 11 in all, were cut glass dishes filled with dainty green candies. The color scheme was carried even to the china used.

The game was progressive euchre. Mrs. Frank Boucher won the lone-hand prize, a handsome cut glass powder bowl. The first prize, a massive handsome cut glass water carafe was the prize of Mrs. George E. Clark. The second, a new style of jeweled embroidery Kensington center piece was won by Mrs. Paxson. The third, a pretty china cake plate, painted in Dresden, went to Mrs. Charles Schatzlein. The consolation, a cute cut glass vinaigrette, fell to Mrs. C. P. Drennen.

At 4 o'clock the ladies ceased playing to enjoy the delicious refreshments served and then resumed playing at the call of the bell.

Across the Street.

(Smart Set.)
Across the street there lives a maid,
A jolly, teasing little jade,
With wanton hair and witching eyes,
And yet, so staid and worldly wise
That, if she deigns to send a glance
Across my way, it seems mere chance,
And quick withdraws in swift retreat
Across the street.

Across the street I sit and look,
Forgetful of my pipe and book;
I see her shadow on the pane,
And build my castles in far Spain,
I watch and wait, with patience rare,
Till, just as I would quite despair,
She looks from out her window seat
Across the street.

What use have I for fancies frail?
The maid, as fits romantic tale,
Hath moved, to make my joy complete,
Across the street.

Applying Modern Methods.

(New York Post.)
"Now," said the young mother, in closing the Sunday afternoon bible lesson, "I want my little boy to remember that St. Peter was picked by his conscience when he denied that he knew Jesus."
"Did the pricking hurt much?"
"Yes, the bible says he went out and wept bitterly."
"But it wouldn't have hurt if he'd used a safety pin, would it?"
