

WHAT THE SPORTS ARE DOING

upon the setting sun and paddle their canoe through the Golden Gate.

There are about 18,000 trotters in the 2:30 list, and nearly 8,000 pacers with a record of 2:25 and better.

McHenry says that one of the highest class pacers he saw last year was Londa, the son of Allerton.

It is said that an Eastern man offered $6,000 last week for Sweet Marie, the Los Angeles mare by McKinney that has a matinee record of 2:13 1/2. It is said that Mr. Taylor, her present owner, contemplates racing and declined the offer.

"Eggs did it," sighed J. Rube Ferns as he walked back to his dressing-room. "I'll never fight on Friday again as long as I live," and Rube mopped the blood off his battered face and proceeded to put on his street togs. While the Kansas slugger was dressing he expressed the opinion that the hen fruit was weakening, but being a member of a church which forbids the eating of meat on this day eggs constituted his diet. This is Rube's reason for his defeat at the hands of Al Neill, who rocked him to sleep in 12 rounds of hard and exciting fighting, but it will not go down with the large crowd who witnessed one of the best shows that has been pulled off in San Francisco in months. The young Californian won simply because he was Ferns' master in every department of the game.

After all "Philadelphia Jack O'Brien" is not the man, pugilistically speaking, that his English record would lead us to believe. The other night in the proverbially sleepy town of Philadelphia one Charley McKeever gave the much heralded Jack a good argument for the space of six rounds, and in the initial round of that contest McKeever landed a right wallop on the point of the jaw of the English champion that came within an ace of putting him in the ranks of the has bens. From all accounts O'Brien has expressed on several occasions an anxiety to meet Tommy Ryan, he of Syracuse fame. But certain it is that the redoubtable Tommy would make a chopping block of O'Brien if they should ever come together in the roped arena. Some Eastern critics would make it appear that Ryan is not the man that he was back in the early 90's when he was the acknowledged champion of the welterweight division, but there seems to be no good reason for such a theory. With the possible exception of Joe Walcott, the "Black Demon of the Barbadoes," Ryan is the best man of his weight in the ring today. Unless we forget he has only one defeat to his record—the time he was put to sleep in the fifteenth round by that foxy boxer Kid McCoy. Tommy has a ring experience of some 14 years dating back to the day when he fought Danny Neeldham 70 rounds in a draw. With his long experience then, his stiff punch, his shiftiness, and above all, his ring generalship, Tommy is more than a match for any middleweight in the business of his inches. Jack O'Brien, if he is wise, will not tackle Tommy for some time yet.

When Kid Carter of Brooklyn knocked out Joe Chonyski in jig time several days ago, he did what the best men in the ring failed to do when the sandy-haired pugilist was in the heyday of his prime, all of which goes to prove conclusively that Joe is not by any means the formidable opponent that once gave Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons and a few other topnotchers, close arguments. Joe has been fighting now for some 15 years and we would suggest that it is time for him to "go way back and sit down."

News comes from the West that minor colleges that have hitherto taken but little interest in college athletics are at last opening their eyes to the fact that they are behind the Eastern schools in this respect and are determined to hire coaches and improve the physical as well as mental caliber of the students. The colleges and schools of Colorado have already made rapid stride in that direction, but even they are woefully behind in track athletics. As for Montana schools and those of Idaho they have scarcely considered track athletics and it is a pleasure to note that they are to employ experienced coaches from the larger Eastern schools to develop this particular branch of athletics. A competent coach will give more attention to form than to results; with proper form the results are sure to be satisfactory.

The National Sporting club of London is persistent in its efforts to secure Young Corbett's consent to fight in London with Terry McGovern during the coronation.

Young Corbett has refused an offer of $7,000, made by Ordway, the English club's representative.

Word to this effect was sent to Ordway and the following telegram was received: "Will Corbett accept $10,000 guaranteed and expenses for a contest in June?"

"Date, Gilsey House, New York." Corbett was seen and said: "I would as soon box in London as anywhere else, but I will not fight Terry McGovern before October 15, the date mentioned in our agreement. The National club can bid in the meantime if it wants the contest in October, and if its bid is the best, I suppose it will get the fight. That is all I have to say on the subject."

The recent purchase by President Roosevelt of a team of driving horses for $11,000 is of interest to horse owners, because of the fact that one of the team was bred and raised by Dr. C. O. Burke of Atlanta, Ill. He broke it at the age of four years and then drove it on his professional rounds through the counties of McLean and Logan. He sold the horse to a New York financier for $475. The latter found a perfect match, and putting the value of the Illinois horse at $6,000 and the other at $5,000, received the price stated from the president. The horse owned by Dr. Burke is dark bay in color, without a white hair or blemish, and was looked upon as one of the finest actors in Central Illinois. When Prince Henry was in Washington he was greatly impressed with the beauty of the team, and learning that the Illinois horse had a brother in Missouri, owned by a brother of Dr. Burke, he left instructions to purchase it and ship it to the royal stables in Germany.

C. X. Larrabee, proprietor of the Brooknook Farm, Montana, who purchased three mares at the recent Palo Alto sale in this city, has sent two of them to Tom James' horse Barondale at San Jose. One of the mares is Ella, a year-old, record 2:29, full sister to Helena, 2:11 1-4, by Electioneer out of the great brood mare Lady Ellen by Carr's Mambino. Ella has a very handsome colt by Nutwood Wilkes at foot. The other mare is Anselma, 2:29 1-4 by Ansel, 2:20, out of the great brood mare Elaine, 2:20, dam of Iran Alo, 2:12 1-4, Palatine, 2:18, etc., second dam, the famous Green Mountain Maid, dam of Electioneer, and nine standard trotters. This mare is now heavy in foal to Monbells. Two better bred mares have not been sent to any California stallion this year, and that Mr. Larrabee, who is one of the leading breeders of the country, should select Barondale is a compliment to Mr. James' great horse.—Breeder and Sportsman.

Thomas Lawson is advertising $500 in prizes to the horsemen who select and register the most appropriate names for their horses during the year 1902. Mr. Lawson evidently has no idea of entering the competition himself or setting an example to others, as he has named a colt Dreamwood Poncelacy. The cognomen is a little too long and rangy to last through a five-heat race.

The signs are unmistakable that the coming season will prove to be one of the greatest in the history of trotting sport. Every track in the country has claimed dates for 1902. Some idea of the magnitude of harness horse racing in America may be gleaned from the fact that nearly 1,000 cities gave race meetings that were officially reported last season, and as many of these gave more than one meeting—some as high as seven—the grand total of meetings was considerably over 1,000, and a very conservative estimate of the money hung up by associations in purses will place the figure in the neighborhood of $2,000. The announcements already made show a tendency to increase the size of the purses not only at the larger cities, but for the smaller towns as well.

This practically closes the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons incident as far as the Los Angeles Century club is concerned. The club has proposed a fight with "Denver Ed" Martin who recently defeated Frank Childs in Chicago, but Jeffries declares he will not battle with a colored man until he is entitled to demand championship recognition.

TOOTH IN HIS THROAT.
Bass Singer Relieved of Old Obstruction by Coughing It.
(Cincinnati Enquirer.)
R. C. Davis, aged 63, has just performed the astonishing feat of recovering his long-lost voice by the simple process of coughing up a tooth.
About 18 years ago he began to have trouble with his throat, which continued uninterruptedly until last Sunday morning. Until he first experienced this trouble he was an accomplished bass singer and attained considerable reputation in Indianapolis, where he previously resided, as a basso in church choirs.
Suddenly he discovered that there was something the matter with his throat, but he had been treated for asthma, catarrh and all manner of throat trouble without obtaining relief.
During a very severe fit of coughing he coughed up a hard substance, which proved to be a piece of tooth a little larger than a pea. The removal of the tooth restored his voice and he now can sing and breathe without obstruction.
The theory is that the piece of tooth slipped down his throat 18 years ago and lodged in the esophagus, just below the larynx. It formed a pocket in that position and remained there without materially affecting his ability to swallow food.

Quaint, Queer, Querious.
