The menu was in a number of courses and beautifully served. At the conclusion of the dinner the guests adjourned to the parlors where an evening with music and social conversation was enjoyed.

The guests were: Captain and Mrs. Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Eltis Owens, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Will Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McVeagh.

An Egg Rolling Party Today.

One would think in Butte such a thing as egg-rolling was an impossibility, but motherly ingenuity will encompass many things. Consequently when Mrs. George Gains decided her little daughter and son, Amy and Wilfred, should have an egg-rolling the thing was practically done.

The two large parlors in the Gains home in Centerville were stripped of furniture and the children rolled from the bow windows at the front to the line across the back of the second parlor. The game is always a jolly one and the children are having a gay time.

They will play other games in which eggs are the principal factor. At 5 o'clock they will have such a lovely supper, with eggs made of ice cream, chicken, egg salad and, oh, so many good things made of eggs. The house will be decorated in yellow and white throughout.

Those present will be: Amy and Wilfred Gains, Jessie Rollins, Hope Trafford, Kent Wilkins, Myra Haskins, Ella Haskins, Kitty Jeffries, Willie Scott, Norton White, Alice White, Nona Sullivan, Belle Vespe, Ollie Carpenter, Edna Harris, Louis Davis, Clifford Barnes, Edgar Jones, Harry Little, Ben Farnham, Clyde and Guy Weston, Lon Farnham, Bayley and Al and Ned Ruske.

N. H. Whist Club.

The N. H. whist club spent a delightful afternoon Monday at the home of Mrs. F. Gray on Farrell street. The first prize of two silver spoons went to Mrs. Fred L. Melcher, and the second, of one spoon, to Mrs. C. C. Willis. All the members were present but Mrs. A. B. Elliott, Mrs. Phillip Jones substituting for her.

A dainty luncheon was served after the games. The members present were: Mesdames F. L. Melcher, W. F. Noyes, C. C. Willis, E. Farnham, R. Williams, R. F. Hopper, N. Genevieve, J. H. Gilbert, Leonard Erick, N. G. Thompson.

A Violet Luncheon.

Thursday afternoon a dainty violet luncheon was given by Mrs. Martin H. Farris at her charming home in the South Side. The decorations were all in violets, the parlors and library ornamented with flat dishes of cut glass holding the fragrant treasures. Every where was the violet breath of spring, the myriads of blossoms perfuming the air.

The table, a large round mahogany, was without cloth, the shingling surface covered with exquisite embroidered and lace doilies. The center was ornamented with a centerpiece embroidered in violets and resting on a cut glass epergne with center bowl and side slender vases all filled with violets.

At each cover was a cluster of the violets and the name-card, bearing the name and a water color gem of violets and through one corner a pretty silver stick to fasten the violets to the corsage. Placed at intervals were candied violets and violets cachous.

The menu was as dainty as the decorations, the many dishes decorated with violet wreaths where it was possible. The guests were: Mrs. Henry Gabse, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Gorton Hilton, Mrs. Arthur H. Whitcher, Mrs. Mueller, Mrs. Oliver Wilson, Mrs. Johnstone, Mrs. Frank Gabse, Mrs. Elmer Farris, Mrs. Louis Webber, Mrs. M. L. Norris.

Ethical Culture Club.

The meeting of the Ethical Culture club last Tuesday night was well attended. Miss O'Neill gave an interesting talk on "Individuality," in which she clearly defined the difference between personality and individuality. Many apt illustrations were given during the address to show how individuality declares itself even when silent. "Take a group of persons and quietly look them over and irresistibly the attention is drawn toward those possessing the stronger individuality.

The great majority are satisfied to accept other people's opinions, teachings and social codes rather than rouse themselves to the point of having a thought of their own.

These people are like unto a ship in the Saragossa sea—they are wrapped around with the weeds of dead issues, dead beliefs and worn-out opinions. They are immersed in deadly quiet and are satisfied with this condition. But from among them rises the few courageous ones with the firm resolve to seek truth in all of God's universe, and to develop the latent qualities, latent talents and latent powers lying dormant within each individual.

The individuality is the real true many, the personality is the outward seeming of that many. Individuality is a matter of growth toward one's ideals. The life of every one is on one's own hands and, according as one cultivates the power to stand alone, to think alone, to live above the small pleasures of material things and become self-reliant, does individuality gain in strength and power. Desire for knowledge is a good motive in the development of individuality, but this knowledge should not be of the head alone. Intellectual growth is necessary to this evolution, but if not softened by the emotions, becomes a poor warped thing. A balance must be kept to make a perfect individuality. It has its center in the soul and looks out upon "my surroundings, my world, my body" with the calm assurance that all can be changed by changing the point of view. The individuality, after all is said, is but the receptacle of life's experiences and the more one's experiences are confined to the higher plane of living and thinking the more rapid is the growth of one's individuality. For he it understood that individuality can never be induced to develop through following the desires and passions—these belong to the personality alone.

Next Tuesday night the club will meet as usual at the courthouse and Mrs. Ella Knowles Haskell will give an informal talk on the experiences of women in the upward climb to intellectual recognition.

An Advance Easter Dinner.

Today Mrs. Robert McClernan is giving an Easter dinner at her apartments in the Harris block. The decorations are all in yellow and white, white and yellow lilies and ferns. The menu is composed of eggs entirely, or rather every dish has eggs in it in some form.

Her guests are: Mrs. David George, Mrs. Thomas McKay, Mrs. Edward Bolton, Mrs. Jack Hickey, Mrs. Emil Schwartz, Mrs. Jack Meyers, Mrs. Trent Harrington, Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, Mrs. Jerry Bailey, Mrs. George Mullins.

Passmore Napkin Party Thursday.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Ed Passmore entertained a number of friends at her apartments in the Montana, it being a napkin party. Every guest hemmed a napkin for Mrs. Passmore, not sewing on their own work. It was a novel idea and they hemmed and talked and had a lovely time. Late in the afternoon refreshments were served.

Her guests were: Mrs. Richard Vail, Mrs. Randolph Vail, Miss Vail, Mrs. John Passmore, Mrs. Charles Passmore, Mrs. John Haynes, Mrs. Wood, Miss Wood, Miss Ballou, Mrs. J. R. E. Seiver.

The Passmore Luncheon.

Mrs. John Passmore gave a beautiful luncheon at her home, West Granite street, on Wednesday afternoon, covers being laid for seven. The table was artistically decorated with vari-colored carnations and a delightful menu was served. There were present: Miss McMillan of Anaconda, Mrs. Farley, Mrs. High, Mrs. Ed Passmore, Mrs. Parson, Mrs. E. G. Groeneveld.

Forbis Informal Dinner.

Mrs. John Forbis gave a charming, though informal dinner Tuesday evening, covers being laid for eight. The table was prettily decorated with white tulips and a perfect menu was served. The guests were: Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. Denny, Miss May, Mr. Fred Aylwin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Aylwin.

Aylwin Theater Party Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Aylwin complimented Miss May of the "Pride of Jennico" company with a charming theater supper on Tuesday evening at their home in West Granite street. At the table were: Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. Denny, Miss May, Mr. Fred Aylwin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Aylwin.

The T. C. E. Club.

The regular meeting of the T. C. E. club, held Wednesday evening, was the occasion of a very interesting progressive whist party which resulted in Misses Graham and O'Neill cutting for the ladies prize, a handsome book, and Mr. Leighter capturing the gentlemen's prize.

Among those present were: Misses Annie Page, McNulty, O'Neill, Gorman, Etzensperger, Graham, Helen and Gertrude Pierce, Messrs. George Broughton, Miles Hogan, Hugh Lynch, Dave Lewis, Pat Lynch, John Coppo, James Penman, Bert Watt, Mike Hogan, Griffin, Leighton and Will Watt.

Afternoon Informal for Miss May.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. J. K. McDonald was at home to a number of friends, whom she had invited to meet Miss Aileen May of the "Pride of Jennico" company. The rooms were made charming by quantities of carnations and ferns, while the daintiest of refreshments were served. Miss May is a charming young woman and made many friends while in Butte.

Among those who were invited were: Mesdames Thomas Lavell, W. H. Blockford, Forbis, Russell, Hanson, Lloyd, Sam M. Johnstone, Blackiston, Miller, Goodale, F. W. McCrimmon, Holbrook, Sanders, Campbell, Dalton, Rickards, Renick, Cunningham, Adams, McKeechie, Barker.

Entertained Auditing Committee.

A charming afternoon was spent on Wednesday by the members of the auditing committee of the Women's Relief corps at the home of Mrs. Maggie Waldrip. The first of the afternoon was devoted to business, a large amount of which was transacted.

Afterwards sociability was in order, the committee enjoying a very appetizing luncheon. Those present were: Mrs. Violet Gilbert, Mrs. Sarah Spencer, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Maggie Waldrip.

Will Be a Brilliant Affair.

The ball to be given by Montana Circle, Women of Woodcraft, on Easter Monday night at Renshaw hall promises to be a grand and brilliant success.

The large committee on arrangements have spared neither time nor expense to secure an enjoyable time for all who are fortunate enough to be present.

The ball will be supplemented by a fine Guard Drill, given by 16 ladies in bright new uniforms, under the command of Mrs. Leonard Erick. Afterwards the Guards will lead the grand march, Bergstrom's orchestra furnishing the music.

The following committees are responsible for the great affair: Printing committee, Mesdames Violet Gilbert, Johanna Grigg, Maggie Gagan, Ada Buckles; committee on arrangements, Mesdames Alice Steele, N. A. Erick, R. Morrison, M. J. Boyle; lemonade committee, Mesdames Edith Owen, Emmand Harnois, Henrietta Edda; door committee, Mesdames Lizzie Foster, Jenny Duffy, May Pope.

Stevenson High Tea.

In the afternoon yesterday a pleasant high tea was given by Mrs. B. C. Stevenson at her home on East Park street. The decorations were in pink and green.

Her guests were: Mesdames Roy Parker, Larry Darrell, Edward Thurber, Winston White; Con Sullivan, P. T. Leary, Ernest Ridell, George Baker, Henry Ordler, Archibald Sawyer, Thomas Carson, James Atwood, F. A. Robbins.

Graves Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Graves entertained very charmingly at dinner on Tuesday evening Mr. W. S. Hay, superintendent of the Northern Pacific Express company of St. Paul, and Mr. L. M. Hughes of Helena.

The Thimble Club.

The West Side Thimble club met with Mrs. John Muir Wednesday afternoon and the usual afternoon was spent. Many beautiful pieces of fancy work were in evidence and a generally good time was enjoyed. The hostess presented each member with a pretty cluster of flowers as a souvenir of the afternoon. A delightful luncheon was served and the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Heath on next Wednesday afternoon.

Baby Wright's Egg Party.

This afternoon baby Henry Wright is celebrating his fourth birthday at the home of his parents in Meaderville, by means of an egg party.

The little ones are hunting eggs hid in cunningly contrived nests and having all kinds of fun with eggs, real and candy. The table is very pretty with its wealth of goodies and pretty things. An Easter cake is a feature.

The little ones in attendance are: Etta McCrimmons, Charles Harris, Leroy Mitchell, Edith Williams, Carrie Mears, Valentine Brooke, Nona and Freddie Sullivan, Elina and Baby Potoski, Archie Pyper, Edila Lane, Davie Ross, Johnny Wilkins, Tessie and Fairfax Wright.

Novel Birthday Party.

The always unique Birthday club had another of its novel parties last Saturday and it was one of the jolliest of the series. It was the birthday of Mrs. John Kroffanz and she charmingly entertained the club at her home on Iron street.

The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and ferns, the key-note, pink and white. The flowers were massed in cut glass vases and jardiniere. The table was handsomely decorated in pink and white. In the center was a magnificent flower bowl of fine china hand-painted in pink, held aloft by silver cupids, a birthday gift from the two sons of Mrs. Kroffanz. This bowl was filled with the blossoms and feathery ferns. At each cover was a favor of the carnations and ferns.

The menu was one of the most elaborate and unusual the club has enjoyed. As usual, games were the feature of the afternoon. The first one was an oddity. Each member of the club brought the oldest picture of herself she could find, taken at the youngest period of life. Nearly all were babies. The one shown here is of the hostess, Mrs. Kroffanz. Each picture in turn was examined and the others wrote down their guesses as to whom it was. Mrs. Dawson guessed every one and walked off with a beautiful landscape finely framed. Mrs. Graves secured the consolation, a dainty china olive dish.

Then they had another game in three parts. The first was tasting; and all hands had to taste 11 different kitchen products and see what each one was. Then came seeing, all being allowed a look at a table on which were 55 articles. They had to remember as many as possible. For smelling all were blindfolded and had to smell vanilla, coal oil, catsup, etc. Mrs. Turpening won in this game.

A feature of the afternoon was the music, Miss Bertha Fox at the piano and little Alice Davies with the violin playing charmingly. Then Alice Davies danced a cakewalk so well she received the most enthusiastic encores. Her violin solos were gems, for Miss Alice is regarded as a musical marvel when it comes to the violin. Several others played a medley of old airs, the members trying to guess what the airs were, not one succeeding perfectly.

It was very late when the club adjourned. Five were absent and the following were guests: Mesdames McDonald, Lockhart, McGinniss. The following members were present: Mesdames John Kroffanz, R. A. Turpening, M. Wallace, F. E. Curtis, Dawson, Graves, W. J. Naughton, H. S. Clark, A. A. Crossman.

The Atlas Club.

The club met yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Business Men's association and it proved an unusually interesting session. The current topics discussion was interesting and up to date. The club decided to meet next Friday with Mrs. Arthur H. Whitcher at the Lenox. It is hoped every member will be present.

It is thought that by a week from next Friday that room in the library will be finished. Nothing has been done to it and it lies for use then, a week from next Friday the club will meet with the president, Mrs. E. A. Gilbert, 52 Main street, Meaderville.

Mrs. Hinkle read a most interesting paper, or rather talked, on "Rudolph and the Robber Kings." It was discussed and several matters on which the City Federation will be asked to act, were brought up for discussion.

Next week President Gilbert will appoint the delegate to the biennial.

Royal Neighbors Needlecraft Club.

A delightful afternoon was spent Thursday by the members of the Royal sisters, Mrs. D. A. Dickson, Mrs. P. Mullins, Mrs. David Reinhardt and Mrs. Holland.

Last Saturday evening Messrs. H. Salles, Louis Howard and Ernest Edsell gave a fine musicale at the Park. The

Mrs. Lulu Largey who has spent the winter in New York, returned to Butte a week ago. She will only remain a short time before going East to remain an indefinite length of time.

Mrs. Frank McGill of Omaha is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lulu Largey.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mendelsohn arrived in the city on Thursday and will be at home at 103 South Washington street after March 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Merriman are in the city from San Francisco, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harte.

L. M. Atherton, who died Thursday morning near Spokane, was the father of Mrs. H. C. Bellinger, formerly of this city. The many friends of Mrs. Bellinger sympathize sincerely with her in this sorrow. Mr. Atherton was well and favorably known in Butte, having come to this place in his pioneer days. He was a man of fine qualities and a rare mind. He was the idol of his granddaughter, little Rita Bellinger, upon whom the blow will fall severely. It is not known whether the remains will be brought to Butte or be buried at his home.
