

WHAT THE SPORTS ARE DOING

New York, April 2.—Racing control and other functions of a national organization have been formally assumed by the American Automobile association. The first regular meeting of the board of directors was held at the quarters of the Automobile club of America. Winthrop Scarritt, president of the new association, was in the chair.

The chairman outlined the objects of the association to be the general encouragement of the automobile industry, the formation of proper rules for the use of motor vehicles on road and track, the obtaining of rational legislation and the protection of the followers of the new sport against unjust discrimination. Mr. Scarritt urged a thorough organization, both local and national.

The racing question has to be met at once as clubs throughout the country have written the Automobile Club of America for sanction and rules. The latter club had practically resigned racing control and the committee on plans and scope reported that it had adopted the club's racing rules after amendments to suit altered conditions. This action was ratified and it was decided to have copies of the new rules printed at once, for circulation among automobile clubs.

The president was directed to send to clubs, eligible to membership, a statement of the plan and objects of the new national body.

If Thomas Lawson means to award the prizes he has offered for the best names for horses with the name Dreamwood Poncelacy as a model for those who compete for the prizes to have in mind, then there will be a lot of inexpressible meaningless names in the next volume of the trotting register. How much more expressive and significant is the name of Chimes, whose dam was Beautiful Bells; or Curfew, a son of Chimes; Disipation, by Prodigal; Impeachment, out of Electrix; Emancipation, out of Franchise; Welcome Home, by Prodigal; Searchlight, by Dark Night; Summer Morn, out of Midsommer; Gammon, out of Fib; Equity, by Heir-at-Law; Poem, Prose and Stanza, all out of Sonnet; Merry Christmas, by Santa Claus; Volunteer and Sentinel, out of Lady Patriot; Standard Bearer, by Volunteer; Rumor, Slander and Gossip, all sired by Tattler; Fiction, out of Romance, are other horses the names of which, when connected with those of their sires or dams, have some significance. If breeders would endeavor—and it is a pleasure to know that some of them do—to give their foals sensible, significant names, instead of the stupid combination names bestowed on so many horses, the readers of the turf papers would be inexpressibly delighted.—Raymond, in Horse World.

Elliot W. Shanklin, a prominent trotting horseman and member of the sales firm of Woodward & Shanklin, has accepted the secretaryship of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association made vacant by the resignation of Horace Wilson. Mr. Shanklin is eminently qualified for the position and the Kentucky association is fortunate to secure his services.

Thomas W. Lawson says that Boraima—2:07—will positively be a starter in the Boston cup race this year unless he is ill or lame. Mr. Gerken of New York, owner of The Monk—2:08½—king of the speedway, has stated that he would rather win the cup race than a ten-thousand-dollar purse, and there are several others among the wealthy horsemen who feel the same way. It will be one of the greatest races of the year.

The earning capacity of the trotter down the grand circuit is on the increase. At Detroit is the M. & M., $10,000; Readville has the Massachusetts, $15,000; Providence the $10,000 Roger Williams, Hartford the $10,000 Charter Oak, Brighton Beach the $10,000 Bonner Memorial, and one is to be opened by the Cincinnati management. If the horse still remains good he can be accommodated at both Lexington and Memphis.

It now looks as though the promised fight between Joe Gans and Frank Erne at Fort Erie, on May 12, will not take place. Manager Herman met Al Herford, Gans' manager and, instead of bringing the articles of agreement which he said Erne had signed some days ago, he brought a new agreement, which Herford refused to touch. This new agreement, instead of dividing 50 per cent of the gate receipts, as was first agreed on, proposed that the fight should be for a purse of $3,500, 75 per cent to the winner and the balance to the loser.

Herford contended that under such an agreement Erne could lose and still get more money out of the fight than Gans, as a $12,000 house is expected, and the club would probably give Erne the difference between $3,500 and $6,000, half of the gate receipts, for bringing the fight to Fort Erie.

Mr. J. C. Bray of Butte, Mont., who has been in California for the past month buying road horses for the business men and members of the driving club of that city, expects to ship his purchases some time next week. He has secured 12 head and has paid from $200 to $600 for them.—Breeder and Sportsman.

The news is that the great $10,000 race between Thomas W. Lawson's Boraima and E. E. Smathers' Lord Derby will be trotted over Charter Oak Park track, Hartford, during the grand circuit meeting. It is said that Marsh will not pilot Boraima in the race, and the guess is that Myron E. McHenry will have the mount behind the Lawson crack.

The Breeder and Sportsman pays this compliment to Butte's new racing secretary:

"Ralph A. Tozer has been appointed secretary and associate judge of the Montana Jockey club, that will begin a two months' meeting at Butte on June 21st. Mr. Tozer was formerly one of the editors of this journal and no more intelligent, competent or honorable man ever wielded a pen. For the past four years he has been identified with racing matters in various avocations, finding time, however, to write occasionally for the press and to attend to pedigree work, for which there is probably no student of thoroughbred breeding more eminently qualified. Mr. Tozer has the entire confidence of the horsemen and the public, and all who know him are confident that no act of his will ever bring discredit upon the grand sport in which he takes so much interest and pride. He will be a very valuable acquisition to the list of sterling officials which the Montana Jockey club has secured for its meeting this year."

A dispatch from Los Angeles says: G. E. Waddell, better known as "Rube," pitcher of the Los Angeles baseball club, was a prisoner at the police station for a few minutes last night for having used his good right arm to almost knock the head off a young race track tout and supposed pickpocket, F. A. Hazel. So fairly was the blow which Waddell delivered that for half an hour Hazel was a "dead one."

The fun occurred at First and Main streets. Hazel and Joe Abbott, another of the same ilk, arrived last night from San Francisco with two women, who claim to be their wives, and went to the Orpheum. Waddell was there, and after the performance he saw the woman with Hazel in the crowd, and stepped up to speak to her. Hazel resented this, and there were loud words. Waddell started away, followed by Hazel, Abbott and the woman. As they were crossing the street Hazel is said to have applied, a vile epithet to Waddell and threatened to shoot him.

Waddell turned, and his fist landed on Hazel's nose. A patrol wagon conveyed

POSTMASTER IRVIN ASKS FOR FOUR CLERKS AND CARRIERS.

GREAT INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Comparative Statements Show Remarkable Gains in All Departments of the Butte Postoffice for Fiscal Year.

Postmaster George Irvin has completed his annual report for the fiscal year, which ended March 31. It shows a steady and substantial gain in every department of the postoffice.

During the past year three clerks and three carriers have been added to the force of the office, making the total of the present force 41.

On account of the remarkable rate of increase of the business in the office, it is believed that an additional force of four clerks and four carriers will be needed to meet the demand of the coming year.

The following comparative statements are interesting, showing the postal and registry receipts for the years 1901 and 1902:

Postal receipts of the Butte postoffice for the two postoffice years ended March 31, 1901, and March 31, 1902:	1901.	1902.

him and Waddell to the police station, where the latter was released on $50 cash bail. In the Receiving hospital Hazel came to, and his injuries were found to be trivial, although he was decidedly groggy.

The question as to what constitutes hereditary unsoundness sufficient to disqualify animals intended for breeding purposes has been officially decided by the directors of the Boston horse show. Roaring, whistling, ringbone, spavin, navicular disease and cataract are specified as the only ailments giving cause for disqualification on the score of unsoundness.

The Roman—2:19—by McKinney has reached Memphis with Dick Benson's string of campaign material and reports from there say he is looking stronger than ever and has all the speed he has been credited with.

The Chicago board of automobile examiners has fixed 12 miles an hour in outlying neighborhoods and eight miles an hour in the business districts, as the speed at which automobiles may be propelled.

The enforcement of the order will be left to the police, who will be requested to see that this rate of speed is not exceeded in any case.

Should chauffeurs persist in "scorching" a remedy will be made by ordering that all horseless vehicles be compelled to carry a big tag which can be seen by policemen across the street or several feet behind the vehicle.

CHARLES M'INTYRE, "THE GLADIATOR."

Charles F. M'Intyre, known as "The Gladiator," shortstop of the Butte club, was born in Lebanon, Ind., 27 years ago. His first professional engagement was with Lynchburg, Va., in 1895, where he led the second basemen in fielding, and stood third in the league in batting at the close of the season. In 1896 he was a member of the Wilmington (Del.) club of the Atlantic league, playing second base with a fielding average of .944, and batted a .824 clip. In 1897 he was with Reading, Pa., in the same league, standing second in batting, with an average of .833; fielding, .921. In 1898 he was with the Allentown (Pa.) club, Atlantic league, doing splendid work, and at the close of the season he again stood near the top, batting .836 and fielding .914. In 1900 he played with Anaconda in the Montana league, where he led the league in batting, with an average of .444, and fielding, .898. Last season he was with Tacoma of the Pacific Northwest league, he again leading another league in batting, with an average of .341, and fielded .918 in 108 games.

McIntyre signed with Chicago, an through Manager McCloskey's influence with President Hart of the Chicago club, he got McIntyre for Butte, after also paying Tacoma $50 for his release.

New York, April 2.—"Kid" McCoy, the pugilist, has returned from Europe and declares he is looking for a fight with Jeffries or Fitzsimmons.

An old-time Western sport blew into town the other day full to the brim of news of reminiscences of doings in his section. After a hearty handshake, and a little of the stuff that cheers, he said: "I have booked on a track when the betting ring was flooded and have started horses on a track ankle deep in mud, but I was never before on a railroad train that landed its passengers by rowboats."

"Yes, that Chicago ticker story is true; I never saw the boys get busy so quick in my life. Around the Saratoga hotel and Chapin & Gore's, and in all of those 'aley resorts' in the neighborhood where the 'gang' hangs out, the tip escaped. It must have been an extra strong one, as everyone around the corner 'dug up' somewhere to get a bet down."

"Of course every one knows that it went through all right, and the boys cashed; but they have not landed the 'chief squeeze' yet, and probably never will. It was handed to me, but I passed it up."

"Funny that none of those handbook fellows didn't smell a mouse; they stood the gaff well, although it put many out of business. I heard that some of the money was returned by several of the regular patrons, and a lot of hard feeling was created by others who were known, refusing to refund."

Joe Macias, manager for Kid Broad, says that Young Corbett has given his word that he will fight Broad again. In speaking of the matter, he said: "After Broad beat Young Corbett the latter asked me for a return match and I promised to give him one, saying Broad has always given a return match to anybody he has beaten, and I kept my word and my man lost, and it was this victory over Broad that gave Corbett the chance to meet McGovern and become champion of the world."

"After the latter's fight in Hartford I asked him to give Broad another chance, and if he keeps his word I will be satisfied and say no more."

Johnny Corbett was asked about the above and he said he was more than willing to let his man meet Broad again and that he thought the two would meet in the near future, as Corbett bars nobody of his weight in the world, and Macias need not worry, for he will get the chance he asks for and will not have to wait very long, either. These two men will certainly make a good attraction for any club and the one that is lucky enough to get them will be able to pack its arena to the doors.

Philadelphia, April 2.—Jack O'Brien and Charles McKeever went the limit in a six-round bout at Industrial hall last night. O'Brien had the better of the go and McKeever showed distress in the last round.

New York, April 2.—Only one bid was received in this city today for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons fight. It was that of the Charleston Athletic club, which offered the fighters 75 per cent of the gross receipts and a guarantee of $20,000. The club agreed to hold the contest between May 15 and June 1 and offered to give the entire proceeds from the picture privileges. After the bid had been received a telegram was sent to San Francisco regarding bids and the matter was postponed.

Considerable interest is being taken in the McCarthy-Barnes fight which will be pulled off in Eureka, a week from tomorrow. Jerry is the favorite in the betting.
