NOTE BROKER ARRESTED.

Sears Had His Pockets Full of Them When Caught.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 2.—Alfred J. Sears has been arrested here, after disposing of a number of notes signed by a stove manufacturing firm of Geneva, N. Y.

He was specifically charged with unlawful accumulating $600, in the manner named, but notes calling for $3,500 were found in his pockets and note brokers were about to advance $3,500 more when they became suspicious.

After a telephone conference with the firm, Sears was arrested.

Gen. Alger's Part.

(Washington Post.) If the government would only resume

rect from the cellar into which it was cast, some time in April, 1899, the complete report of the Dodge investigating commission, including testimony, official reports, documents, etc., and distribute it among the American people as was promised when the commission began its work, it would be seen that, so far from "irretrievable ruin," General Alger is entitled to a very honorable and enviable renown for the part he played in 1898.

Microscopic.

(From the New York Times.) When Judge Barnard was on the bench and holding court in Poughkeepsie a lawyer who did not like him chanced to see a 1-cent coin lying on the floor. Picking it up and holding it forth in ostentatious display, he said:

"I imagine, your honor, from the value of this coin, that it must belong to the court."

"And I imagine," replied Judge Barnard, "that if it was not such a small coin the court never would have seen it."

Keep Your Eye on Shaw.

(Leslie's Weekly.) While Secretary Leslie M. Shaw was

governor of Iowa and when his presidential "boom" was first launched, an Iowa newspaper, seeking to advertise the fact, printed every day at the head of its editorial column: "Keep your eye on Shaw." A citizen of the Hawkeye state recently commented on this to the new secretary of the treasury. "That was all right, governor, while we were talking of nominating you for president," he said, "but now that you have the custody of $700,000,000 or $800,000,000 of the government's money, it's time to take that sign down. People will think we haven't confidence in you."

PERSONAL ABUSE

ONLY CAMPAIGN ARGUMENT OF THE DEMOCRATS.

DENNIS O'LEARY'S BAD BREAK

Full Explanation of How the Raise in Salary of City Officers Occurred—Done by Democratic Votes.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—Aside from the mud slinging, the display of personal abuse of men in the republican ranks, the principal argument that the democrats have put forth in the present campaign in the Smelter City is the alleged extravagance of the republican administration in the matter of salaries.

This theory, however, has been completely exploded by the facts contained in the republican resolutions and backed up by the records in the city hall. The books of the city clerk show that when the matter of creating the position of assistant chief of the fire department came up at their regular June meeting of the city council, the proposition met with the unanimous approval of every member of that body. Republican and democratic members voted for it and Dennis O'Leary, a democratic member of the judiciary committee, to whom the ordinance was referred, gave his sanction to the measure and recommended its passage.

How O'Leary Voted. One month later a resolution was offered by Alderman Williams to place the city engineer upon the salary basis of $125 per month. This matter was also referred to the judiciary committee and on that occasion Aldermen O'Leary and Carriher were the only members of that committee present.

Upon motion of O'Leary, after the matter had been referred to the committee, a recess was taken, at the end of which the judiciary committee submitted its report to the council. O'Leary, acting as chairman of the committee, wrote the following in approval of what is known as ordinance No. 178, amending ordinance No. 89, which was concurred in by his colleague, Mr. Carriher.

Report Written by O'Leary. "We, your committee on judiciary, recommend that the above ordinance do pass."

(Signed) D. O'LEARY, C. E. CARRIHER.

The report of the committee was adopted, and upon the motion of O'Leary, which was seconded by Williams, the rules were suspended and the ordinance was passed without going through the usual order.

The records of the committee show that the democratic aldermen were equally responsible for these particular changes, yet democratic politicians have endeavored, but have failed, to make out that the passage of ordinance No. 178 was a piece of awful extravagance.

O'Leary's Inconsistency. Former Alderman O'Leary was a member of the committee on resolutions appointed by the chairman of the late democratic convention.

The resolutions were written by him and democrats who are fully acquainted with the facts declare that he displayed great inconsistency and lack of judgment in engrafting into those resolutions the false statement that the creator of the office of assistant chief of the fire department and the placing of the city engineer upon a new salary basis increased the expense of running the city government $2,700 per year, when, as a matter of fact, as the republican resolutions state, the office of assistant chief has increased the salary expense of the fire department less than $9 per month, while the efficiency of the department has been greatly improved by so doing.

The city engineer, who previously received $10 per day for his work, besides being allowed assistance when he needed it, now gets a little over $4 per day for his entire time and has been required to furnish his own help when he needed the services of an assistant.

Must Have Had 'Em. (London Chronicle.) The usual snare stories were telling the usual snare stories round the usual snare fire. One of them apparently had nothing to tell, for he declined to take any part in the conversation until the experiences of the others had become exhausted. Then he roused himself reluctantly.

"I did once kill a snake," he confessed indifferently; "I saw it lying by the side of the road and I picked up a stick and broke its back."

"Well, there's nothing remarkable about that," said the others, looking disappointed.

"Nothing whatever," admitted the man who had told the tale, "except that the stick I picked up happened to be a cobra."

Toothpicks Won. (Washington Star.) William S. Ballard, who is an employe of the senate, had an interesting relic of a California campaign, which he carries in his vest pocket. It is a celluloid toothpick with an excellent miniature of Representative Loud of California printed on its back.

During the last campaign Mr. Loud's district was filled with these toothpicks. Popular hotels and eating-houses served them to their guests, and thousands of his friends supplied them for their tables at home. The fight didn't prove to be a very close one, as Mr. Loud is popular outside his own party, and very many of his personal friends voted for him because they believed he was a good man to represent their district. He polled over 5,000 votes more than his democratic opponent.

WAS DUFFY'S TURN

BIG JOKE PUT UP ON THE POPULAR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

VICTIM OF AN APRIL FOOL

Heretofore It Has Been Sheriff Conley and Night Chief O'Brien, but Not So This Time—Even for Former Jobs.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—Duffy says he didn't leave the house, but he did just the same, as can be proven by a score of jocksters who were instrumental in putting up the job on him.

About 2 o'clock this morning a number of convivial souls who hold the county attorney in high esteem remembered that it was April Fool day. Inasmuch as Mr. Duffy has in years gone by taken especial delight in getting Sheriff Jack Conley out of bed in the "wee sma' hours" and having him in company with Night Chief Frank O'Brien chase over town after imaginary postoffice robbers and like offenders, it was decided that Duffy's turn had come at last.

So the startling information of a shooting scrape in the rear of a Main street saloon was conveyed to the county attorney by telephone. The message said that the victim of the fray was dying and wanted to make a statement to Mr. Duffy. Would Mr. Duffy come at once? Every moment was precious.

Yes, Mr. Duffy would be down in five minutes. And he was. And in five more he was back at his house in bed. And today he insisted that he never left his residence.

There were no April jokes played on Sheriff Conley or Night Chief O'Brien last night.

WILL BE A RANCHER.

Richard Sharp and Family Will Live Near Missoula.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—Richard Sharp and family left this morning for Missoula. They will take up their residence on a ranch some eight miles from that city.

Mr. Sharp has been for a long time employed in the office of the city treasurer. He held the position under J. R. Walkup and under the present treasurer, W. W. Harper. Ira Gnoie has been appointed to succeed Mr. Sharp.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. English will be the next Anacondians to remove to Missoula. They intend going in a couple of weeks.

YAQUIS ON WAR PATH.

Indians Are Again Giving the Mexican Government Trouble.

(By Associated Press.) Phoenix, Ariz., April 2.—A special to the Republican from Bisbee says: A. C. McDonald, who has just reached this city from Sausal Grande, Sonora, says that trouble is feared by the Mexican government from the Yaqui Indians.

Mexican soldiers have taken all of the water holes in the district inhabited by the Yaquis and intend to drive them out of the country in this manner.

Military officials have advised all foreigners to get out of the country, and many of them are getting out as fast as possible.

The Yaquis are doing very little fighting, but make raids whenever possible to get arms and ammunition with which to carry on warfare as soon as serious trouble commences.

Life and Public Services of John Altgeld Commemorated.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 2.—Preparations are being rapidly completed for the memorial meeting which is to take place next Thursday evening in Cooper Union to commemorate the life and services of John P. Altgeld, the late governor of Illinois.

Ernest H. Crosby will preside. The principal address will be made by Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago.

An interesting feature of the program will be the reading of the famous Chickamauga address, delivered on the battlefield of Chickamauga by Governor Altgeld upon the dedication of the monument to the Illinois troops.

Short speeches will be made by well-known labor and single tax advocates, etc.

WILL BUILD SUGAR MILL.

State of Texas Extensively in the Sugar Business.

(By Associated Press.) Houston, Texas, April 2.—Governor Sayers and the penitentiary board have reached a decision on the matter of the erection of the sugar mill on the state farm in Barksora county, which belongs to the state and is cultivated by convicts. The proposition adopted provides for the erection of a 100-ton mill to cost $268,500, and to be completed by October 15th.

The state has 100,000 acres in cane on the farm this year and will build a railroad from the site of the proposed mill to the Brazos river in order to take advantage of water transportation in moving the crop.

OSTEOPATHS ARE RECOGNIZED.

Controversy Between the Doctors in Iowa Is Finally Settled.

(By Associated Press.) Des Moines, Iowa, April 2.—The senate has passed a bill adjusting the difficulty that has long existed between the osteopathic and the regular doctors of the state, requiring the state board of medical examiners to issue certificates to the osteopathic physicians who pass an examination in designated science.

The bill is a compromise of the long standing controversy and results in the recognition of the osteopathic school.

LAY OFF GROUNDS

GUN CLUB CHANGE HEADQUARTERS TO RACE TRACK.

IDEAL PLACE FOR SHOOTING

Direction Will Be Northwesterly—New Traps, Electric Pulls and All Latest Appliances for Live Bird and Inanimate Target Shooting.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—This afternoon the new shooting grounds of the Anaconda Gun club were laid off in the center of the race track of the city.

This marks an epoch of improvement in the local club, as the new grounds will be fitted with every possible convenience and all the latest things that go to make the modern, up to date shooting club.

The five new expert traps supplied with electric pulls have arrived and will be in place in a few days.

Besides these the mango trap that has been used by the club for some time will be in place, and the Sargent system of shooting unknown traps and unknown angles from fire rotations, using three traps will be used.

This puts the total number of traps belonging to the club at nine, eight being experts and one mango trap.

The electric pulls of the expert traps are a vast improvement over the old system of levers. The target is projected from the trap much quicker and the results are better scores, which pleases the shooters mightily.

Remove the Building.

The building now located on the old ground east of the city will be removed to the new site, another will be erected, the judges stand at the race track will be pressed into service and during the state tournament, May 30, 31 and June 1, several large tents will be placed on the grounds to be utilized by the shooters. Every possible convenience and comfort will be had.

The Anaconda Gun club now boasts of 46 active members, with quite a number more in prospect before the month is up. The officers of the club are:

Frank Kiepetko, president; L. G. Smith, vice president; B. D. Mahon, treasurer; James Cochran, secretary, and H. H. Neil, captain. All are enthusiastic sportsmen and it is to their efforts that the present prosperity of the local organization is due.

The work of fixing up the new grounds will be pushed as rapidly as possible and they will be in use in a short time.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—The forthcoming production of that thrilling society drama, "Forget-Me-Not," at the Margaret theater next Tuesday, by Miss Rose Coghlan and a specially selected cast of players, promises to be the most fashionable theatrical event of the season, inasmuch as Manager Collins has already received requests for several sections of seats and boxes to accommodate parties made up of the elite of local society folk. Some of the most intensely dramatic scenes in the range of modern drama are compressed into this four-act play, which gives Rose Coghlan full scope for her magnificent costuming and the display of the talent which has won her international fame.

MADE A MISTAKE

SMELTER CITY DEMOCRATS HAVE DEFEATED THEMSELVES.

PLATFORM WAS BAD AFFAIR

One Democrat Expresses Himself as Being Particularly Disgusted With the Declaration of Principles Adopted.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—Anaconda democrats are very much ashamed of the resolutions adopted by the delegates to their late city convention.

One prominent democrat said today that he would have given $50 in cold cash five minutes after they were adopted by the convention if the work could have been undone.

"I can't understand," said he, "how it happened; but somehow the delegates wanted them, and they went through. It was a great mistake that they were allowed to go before the convention at all."

"I don't blame the republicans for using them for campaign purposes by displaying them as much as possible alongside the resolutions adopted by their own convention. I am, indeed, sorry to say it, but there is no denying the fact that the democrats made an awful mistake. But I guess we will have to make the best of the matter now."

"By their own foolishness the democrats have made defeat certain for their party this spring."

HAD A LEG BROKEN.

Engineer on the Little Railroad Has Lot of Trouble.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, April 2.—Harry Lanyon, an engineer of one of the compressed air engines running on "Cigarette" hill at the new works, received a broken leg this morning in a miniature wreck on the track and several cars followed it. In some manner Lanyon's leg was caught between the engine and a car and was broken.

Lanyon is about 20 years old. His parents reside in this city. He was removed to St. Ann's hospital.

An employe at the new works named Peck has his foot run over by a wagon this morning.

Several small bones were broken but the injury is not serious.
