

FOR OLD SETTLERS

MAKING REPARATIONS FOR OLD HOME WEEK.
REUNIONS OF THE PIONEERS

Expected That It Will Be a Feature of the Exposition and Will Promote Many Happy Meetings.

(Special Correspondence.)
St. Louis, April 3.—This is an institution which was established a few years ago in counties of some of the older states whose sons are scattered throughout the Union from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Whoever the American emigrant locates he looks ahead to the time when he can pay a visit to "the old folks at home," mingle again with the friends of his youth, and hear from such of them as had wandered as he did, but to different regions.

Where established custom has fixed upon one week of each year as "Old Home Week," a specified time for the annual return of "the wanderers," the trip is rendered far more attractive and beneficial to them by enabling them to meet hundreds of old friends, whom they would probably not meet then or at any time again, but for the "Old Home Week" custom.

The Greenville (Ill.) Sun is making a commendable effort toward the institution of an "Old Home Week" for Bond county, Ill., to bring about a reunion of her widely scattered sons and daughters during the St. Louis World's Fair in 1903.

By combining their visit to the World's Fair with a simultaneous visit to their old home county, they will get the advantage of World's Fair rates of travel, and far more enjoyment for their money than they would obtain under other conditions. The Sun prints nearly every year a large "Wanderers' Edition," which keeps the editor in close communication with former residents of Bond county, wherever located, and keeps them informed as to the whereabouts of each other.

This month it will issue an unusually large "Wanderers' Edition," with a special view to a general agreement on the "Old Home Week" proposition. But a little while ago the people of Illinois and Missouri were all themselves, "settlers" in a new country. Now nearly every family in each state has representatives in the states further west.

There is not a county within three hundred (300) miles of St. Louis, in either state, that cannot have the biggest and most enjoyable kind of an "Old Home Week" by combining its attractions with those of the St. Louis World's Fair and its reduced transportation rates.

The St. Louis World's Fair can be made the means of promoting many happy meetings of old schoolmates and long severed kindred.

UNION JACK COVERED COFFIN.

Private Service Held Over Remains of Rhodes—Wreath From the Queen.

(By Associated Press.)
Cape Town, April 3.—A private service for his family and friends was held over the remains of Cecil Rhodes at Grootes-chur last Monday evening. The body was brought here at midnight Monday night and placed in the vestibule of the parliament building.

The casket is decorated with a tattered Union Jack which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and which he regarded with peculiar veneration and with a tattered flag of the British South Africa Chartered company, which went through the fight at Mankies.

On the two flags rest the cap and gown which he wore when he took his degree at Oxford. Cape policemen are grouped in the corner of the chamber as a guard over the remains.

A beautiful wreath of flowers from Queen Alexandra has been placed at the head of the bier.

Rudyard Kipling will take part in the funeral procession.

SENATE ENLIVENED

GOOD-NATURED BANTER BETWEEN TWO NOTED SENATORS.

OLEOMARGARINE BILL DEBATE

Several Measures of Minor Importance Passed—Senators Bailey of Texas and Depew of New York.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 3.—When routine business had been concluded in the senate yesterday consideration of bills on the calendar was begun and the following were passed: For the relief of John L. Smithmeyer and Paul J. Pelz, in connection with the plans for the congressional library building; authorizing the appointment of John Russell Bartlett as a rear-admiral on the retired list of the navy; providing for the issuance of a patent to the town of Basin City, Wyoming, to the municipal authorities thereof for the use and benefit of said town; authorizing the president to issue to A. W. Huntley a certificate of honorable discharge; authorizing the secretary of war to deliver old pieces of ordnance to the Indian war veterans; to extend the time for presentation of claims to reimburse the governors of states and territories for expenses incurred by them in aiding the United States to raise and organize an army in the war with Spain to January 1, 1903; granting land near Salt Lake, Utah, to a miners' home.

Oleo Bill.
Consideration was then resumed of the oleomargarine bill. Mr. Bailey of Texas continuing his speech begun yesterday. He referred to the testimony of scientific experts who had testified that oleomargarine was nutritious and wholesome and healthful and to a decision of the United States supreme court holding to the same effect. Mr. Bailey conceded the right of congress to legislate the proposed bill as a revenue measure and every senator who supported the measure to raise revenue was entirely within his conscience and his oath of office, but if any senator should vote for it to suppress the oleomargarine industry he would "do violence to his sense of duty and to his obligations of office."

He declared that the purpose of the bill was not to raise revenue and in support of his assertion quoted statements of the principal proponents of the pending measure. "I undertake to say," said he, "that there is not a man in this chamber who either intends or expects to raise revenue by this measure."

He maintained that the proposed bill contained a palpable and even a wicked violation of the constitution in the placing of a tax on the article manufactured and sold within a state.

Mr. Bailey sharply arraigned the creameries and cheese factories of the country, the former of which, he said, was the real backer of the legislation proposed. He said he understood the republican policy of protection of industries, but this new policy to legislate for the destruction of industries were entirely incomprehensible to him. Mr. Bailey said in conclusion that the majority of congress was trying to settle a contention among competing manufacturers.

Depew's Remarks.

Mr. Depew of New York followed Mr. Bailey in support of the bill. He said he never had heard a speech which had so fired his fancy, so appealed to his imagination and had so little effect on his judgment as that of Mr. Bailey. He had been taught that competition was the life of trade, but competition ought to be honest.

If a merchant deceived his customers by foisting on them a fraud he believed that man ought to be reached by law, because every man, when he purchased an article, had a right to get what he paid for.

In the course of his brief speech Mr. Depew, referring to an allusion made by Mr. Bailey, said that the American girl had been put in a wrong position before the people of the United States.

"I forgot at the moment," interjected Mr. Bailey, "a recent occurrence in the life of the senator of New York or I should not have made the allusion."

"And but for that occurrence," retorted Mr. Depew, laughing, "I should have left a younger man to come to the defense of the American girl. It was the senator's youth and beauty (great laughter) which astonished me when he made that remark."

"If he had been soured and disappointed in love, or if the sex had treated him in some way that would lead to remarks about it like that, I should have understood him."

"But no one can meet the senator, no one can see him socially, or in his grave and dignified position, no one can see his photograph on Pennsylvania avenue, without recognizing that his geniality, his happiness, his eloquence, have come because of the American girl who has admitted him and loved him. (Long continued laughter.)"

"And he never ought to have gone back on her by saying she is a fraudulent specimen of living oleomargarine." (Laughter.)

EMIGRANTS JOURNEY WEST.

Thousands of Settlers Passing through St. Paul—Congestion Broken.

(By Associated Press.)
St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—During the past 24 hours 2,000 settlers have left St. Paul for the northwestern states along the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo lines.

This number includes those who have been delayed in the city because of the troubles around Bismarck and those who poured into St. Paul yesterday on the early trains from eastern and southern points.

The settlers who will pass through the St. Paul gateway on Thursday will, in all probability, be larger than that of yesterday.

The trainloads of emigrant movables and livestock which have been held at the Minnesota transfer because of the blockade, commenced to move forward Monday night, and the congestion of business at that point is largely broken.

RACE IS FORBIDDEN

ITALIAN PREMIER STOPS THE AUTOMOBILE CONTEST.

NO MORE CHANCE FOR IT NOW

French Automobilists Are Indignant Over the Order But There Is Nothing to Do But Accept the Inevitable.

(By Associated Press.)
Paris, April 3.—Great indignation has been caused among French automobilists by the news just received that Signor Zanardelli, the Italian premier, has issued orders prohibiting the Nice automobile race on Italian territory.

Yesterday the prefect of Coni, the last stage on the way to Turin, issued a decree forbidding the race on territory under his jurisdiction.

French automobilists held an indignation meeting in Turin and sent a telegram to the premier requesting him to annul the prefect's decree.

Instead of doing so, Signor Zanardelli went further than the prefect and forbade the race on the whole Italian territory.

As the French authorities had suppressed it on French soil nothing is now left but Austria.

The race is thus definitely killed.

HONOR OF FUNSTON

HE IS GIVEN A BANQUET IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SPEAKS HIS MIND FREELY

Filipinos Are Treacherous and Barbarous and Absolutely Incapable of Self-Government—Many Were Buried Alive.

(By Associated Press.)
San Francisco, April 3.—General Frederick Funston was the guest of honor at a banquet given last night by the Ohio society. In response to a toast he said in part:

"After the first three or four months of fighting the Filipinos forsook all civilized methods of fighting and began a guerrilla warfare of a sort unparalleled in history."

"They killed directly or by slow torture nearly 4,000 of their own countrymen during the years 1900 and 1901 because they would not contribute money to support the insurgent cause."

"I know of nearly 400 cases in my own district where natives were buried alive, and many of these were women and children."

Hanged a Few.
"They committed inconceivable atrocities on American soldiers who fell into their hands."

"I had the pleasure of capturing and hanging some rascals guilty of this."

"The officers in the insurgent army ordered the assassination of each other in order to hold their places."

"Personally I owe a good deal to Aguinaldo, but he told me he had General Luna killed for no other reason than he was coming to the front too fast."

"The Filipinos are absolutely incapable of self-government today, and I don't think the next generation of the race will be."

OFFICERS MURDERED BOERS.

Kitchener Court-martialed and Executed Two Australian Officers.
(By Associated Press.)
London, April 3.—The Morning Leader publishes the alleged story of the crime which led to the court-martial and execution of two Australian officers in South Africa, which is just now exciting keen indignation in Australia.

The newspaper asserts that several officers of this particular irregular corps shot natives like rabbits, and that they are even suspected of murdering men of their own command against whom they had grudges.

The incidents which led to their court-martial was the cold-blooded "execution" by those officers of 10 Boers who were journeying to Pietersburg with the object of surrendering.

It was supposed these Boers had £20,000 with them. Actuated by cupidity, the Australians stopped the Boers, tried them by mock court-martial and ordered them all to be shot.

This was done by a squadron of the soldiers after some of the non-commissioned officers had refused to carry out the death sentence. The officers then ransacked the Boer wagon and were disgusted upon finding that the £20,000 was in Transvaal paper money.

Continuing, the Morning Leader says a German missionary a few miles distant from the scene of the "execution" heard of the affair. Lieutenant Hancock, one of the Australians concerned, fearing he would divulge his information, shot the missionary dead.

This shooting eventually led to a complaint by the German consul to Lord Kitchener, who proceeded to court-martial the Australians.

PENSION CAME TOO LATE.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, April 3.—Word has been received in Newark that congress has approved a pension of $30 a month for Adolph Becker, a veteran of the civil war.

When the bearer of the news went to seek the old soldier he learned that the pension had been granted too late. Becker was 71 years old, poor and almost totally blind.

He had friends who would assist, but he refused to accept and committed suicide a few days ago.

BRITISH REPORTS

COMPARISON OF ENGLISH, AMERICAN AND BELGIAN ENGINES.

ORDERS GO TO UNITED STATES

Claimed That There Is Not a Great Difference Except That Americans Can Execute Orders Much the Quickest.

(By Associated Press.)

London, April 3.—A parliamentary paper issued today gives correspondence respecting the comparative merits of the American, British and Belgian locomotives now in use in Egypt. In a dispatch to the foreign secretary, Lord Lansdowne, December 3, covering a number of reports received from railroad officials, the British diplomatic agent and the consul general in Egypt, Lord Cromer, draws the general conclusion that the main reason why so many orders for railroad plants have been recently given to the United States is that the American firms are able to execute them with extraordinary rapidity, due largely to the system of standardization.

In respect to price Lord Cromer finds the British firms can hold their own where special designs have to be executed.

With respect to the quality of British work, it is at least equal and often superior to American and Belgian work, while in consumption of coal the British engines have a decided superiority over the American, though not over the Belgian engines. The British manufacturers' weak point is delay in executing orders.

The correspondence includes the result of a series of trials of American passenger engines. With the same load the American passenger engine consumed 50 per cent more coal than the British engine, and the American freight engines 25 per cent more coal.

Mr. Johnstone, president of the railroad board, concluded his report with a warning against the condemnation of American locomotives, because these trials have been unsatisfactory, pointing out that the Egyptian engineer and fireman are not so muscular or intelligent as the American and alterations had to be made to enable them to operate the locomotives satisfactorily.
