

MISS CAMILLE GARNIER,
Daughter of the Mayor of Livingston.

Mrs. Theodore Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Bain Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Davids, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Peterson.

Hodgens Dinner for Mrs. Largey.

One of the beautiful dinners of the week was the one given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hodgson at their handsome home on West Broadway, complimentary to Mrs. Lulu Largey. Choice cut flowers trimmed the parlor and dining room.

The table held a splendid arrangement of meteor roses and spirals placed in loose clusters in the center of the table. Monogram name cards were laid at each cover.

The guests were: Mrs. Lulu Largey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGinn of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Turner, the host and hostess.

For Miss Helen McKechnie.

Last evening Dr. Hall entertained at a handsome dinner, as a compliment to Miss Helen McKechnie, who will leave this evening for her home in Toronto, where she will the latter part of this month be married to Mr. Harold Vercoe of Winnipeg. The dinner was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell and covers were laid for 12.

All the arrangements were carried out in the most elegant manner. American Beauty roses, with liberty ribbons in harmonizing tones, together with spirals, trimmed the table most effectively. As dinner perfect in all its appointments was served to the guests, who were: Miss McKechnie, Miss Cullen, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. McCrimmon, Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook, A. K. Erwin, William Mangam and the host.

Honor Mrs. Root and Miss McKechnie.

This afternoon Mrs. Fred Holbrook is giving a high tea in honor of Mrs. Henry Root and Miss McKechnie at her home on West Granite street. Spring flowers are arranged with charming effect in the parlor and dining-room, the color tones being pink and white. Mrs. Holbrook will be assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Root and Miss McKechnie—and in the dining-room by the Misses Cora, Julia and Hattie Sanders, and Miss Margaret Blackiston.

The following is a list of the guests: Misses McKechnie, Blackiston, Lloyd, Sanders, Cullen, Young, Marks, Leliah, Eliza and Theo Russell; Allie and Annie Lowry, Bickford, Gardner, Walker, Cotter of Denver, Patton, Rickards, Voltz, Mrs. Henry Root; Mesdames McCrimmon, Cam bell, Hamilton, Ryan, Twoby, Kramer, Dixon, Hugh I. Wilson, John Cotter, Jesse Root, Freund, Murray, Harrington, Johnstone, McDonald, Legat, Meech, Hennessy, John Forbis, Hand, Thomas, Turner, Renick, Robt. Turner, Lloyd, Dierks, Lavell, A. H. Whitchee, Geoffrey Lauzier, Walter Lewis, Laurence Harris, Thomas Hodgens, J. V. Long, Leonard, N. L. Cunningham, Kunkle, McHatton, Lulu Largey, Frank McGinn of Omaha.

Willard Daum's Ninth Birthday.

Yesterday Willard Daum, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Daum, attained the dignity of 9 years and celebrated the event by giving an Easter party at the home of his parents in Meaderville. It was a lovely party, with all kinds of games and fun, and just nine boys and girls to help him have a good time.

The house was beautifully decorated with daisies—that being the flower for April—and the table was charmingly decorated with the flowers. In the center of the table was the handsome birthday cake, with its nine candles and a life candle, and around it were such cunning rabbits standing guard! The favors were rabbits and eggs.

Mrs. Daum was assisted in looking out for the pleasure of the children by her mother, Mrs. A. A. Crossman, and her sister, Miss Ida Crossman.

Blackburn Book Auction.

One of the most unique affairs of the week was the book auction party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. G. E. Blackburn in her new home, corner of Jackson and Broadway.

The guests as they entered were given bags containing fifty beans and with these beans they bid the packages offerred for sale. Once they "went broke" though, and that settled it; they could not bid unless they had beans. The books were misleading; for instance, "Vanity Fair" was a mirror, and "Hard Cash" was a Chinese bank with a nickel in it.

The games aroused enthusiasm and merriment. The poems were prettily decorated in red carnations and smilax. During the afternoon a tempting luncheon was enjoyed.

Those present were: Mesdames Knight, Fenner, Haviland, C. S. Passmore, Stevenson, Davidson, J. M. Hinkle, Bimrose, E. H. Morrison, H. S. Clark.

Gabse Easter Dinner on Sunday.

One of the most beautiful of the Easter dinners was the one given Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gabse at their charming home in South Butte. The decorations were in yellow and white, Easter colorings.

The parlors were simply decorated with masses of Easter lilies and yellow tulips and narcissus, held in cut-glass and china vases.

The table was beautiful and very novel in its decorations. Over a pale yellow silk cloth was laid a magnificent cloth of all-drawn work through which the yellow shone, and scattered all over the table were white violets and lilies of the valley.

The centerpiece was a huge white egg standing on one end in a nest of yellow narcissus. The egg was opened at one end and a brave little yellow chick stood on the edge apparently looking upward.

From the egg yellow and white satin narrow ribbons ran up to the electrolifer, with a bow here and there, and on each bow stood another chick apparently trying to reach the electrolifer, on which was perched half a dozen downy baby chickens. The effect was charming.

From the egg centerpiece ropes of the yellow and white flowers were carried to each cover.

There they terminated in dainty baskets woven of white and yellow satin ribbons and holding a beautiful Easter egg hand-painted in water colors. The name cards were also in water colors, angelic Easter angels. The menu was all that one expects when a guest in the Gabse home.

In all ways possible the white and yellow scheme was followed, from the soup and yellow orange fruit gelatine baskets to the cunning ice cream checks of white, flecked with yellow.

The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Farriss, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Farriss, Mr. and Mrs. Milward Robertson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Whitchee, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Payson, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Captain and Mrs. Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dennett of Helena, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Emmons.

Informal Rawson Easter Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rawson gave an informal Easter dinner last Sunday at their home in Centerville. The table decorations were all in yellow and white, lilies and tulips being used.

These were placed in the center of the table in a huge punch bowl set in a bed of ferns.

The guests each received a pretty cluster of the lilies as favors. In attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rawson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watson, Mr. and Mrs. David Farnham and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morgan.

Worth Almon Won the Prize.

Last night the second Demorest Silver Medal was contested for by four of Butte's ecclouionists at the South Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The church was crowded and in addition to the contest a fine program was given and refreshments served.

Neighborhood Whist Club.

The Neighborhood Whist club met this week with Mrs. C. C. Willis on Farrell street. Mrs. Fred Melcher won the first prize, two solid silver spoons, while Mrs. E. F. Hopper won the second, one spoon. During the afternoon a dainty luncheon was served.

Those present were: Mrs. J. H. Gilbert, Mrs. R. F. Hopper, Mrs. W. F. Noyes, Mrs. Fred Melcher, Mrs. M. Genereux, Mrs. A. B. Elliott, Mrs. E. Farnham, Mrs. C. C. Willis, Mrs. Leonard Erick, Mrs. P. Gray, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. E. Morrison.

Pretty White Easter Luncheon.

Miss Cecile Harris gave a pretty luncheon to the girls of her Sunday school class at her home on South Jackson last Sunday. The decorations were simple—pure white Easter lilies, arranged in the parlor and lilies of the valley massed in a mound of moss in the center of the table. Each girl received a huge cluster of the lilies of the valley.

Those present were: Misses Roberta Shoup, Lillian Farriss, Nona McLever, Honore Owens, Kate Sullivan, Georgia Trask, Vera Roberts, Rita White, Kitty West, Birdie Harrison and Jessie Inglis.

Royal Neighbors Needle Club.

The Royal Neighbors Needle club met this week with Mrs. Frank Haskins and passed a delightful afternoon sewing and doing fancy work. After work was over the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Those present were: Mesdames Frank Haskins, K. R. Winscott, May W. Gillett, E. C. Hollingsworth, Hermine Henson, L. Giesert, Layn, Larry Duggan, Martin Dee, H. L. Ayres, W. W. Scott.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. Hollingsworth, 625 South Montana.

Brilliant Dancing Party.

Miss Mabel Merriman and Miss Grace Campbell will give a dancing party tonight to their friends. The event will take place at the Pythian hall and it promises to be the most brilliant event in the younger set that the year has offered.

Miss Francis Meckalls gave a dancing party on Friday night at her home on the corner of Quartz and Excelsior, entertaining very delightfully about 25 of the young friends.

Ladies' Aid Society Election.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. After the election a social afternoon was enjoyed, with the daintiest of refreshments.

Mrs. Dunoon Johnston was elected president, Jennie Ellis vice president, Mrs. John W. Passmore second vice president, Mrs. Charles Passmore treasurer, Mrs. George De Snell secretary and Mrs. A. A. McMillan financial secretary.

Mrs. Wilson's Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. H. I. Wilson gave a dainty and delightful luncheon Wednesday at the Butte. The table glowed with yellow tulips, which were beautifully arranged with delicate foliage. Her guests were: Mrs. Holbrook, Mrs. Cotter, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Root and Mrs. Hamilton.

Change of Meeting Place.

Instead of meeting with Mrs. W. H. Fenton, the West Side Atlas club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. J. P. Cutting, 916 West Copper.

An April Fool Party.

Wednesday evening Miss Eva Frey gave an April Fool party at her home in Meaderville. Everything was arranged to fool some one. The flowers on the table were invited to smell had cayenne pepper hidden in their petals. In the games played the object was to fool some one. The dainty chocolate bonbons were a mockery of cotton batten coated with chocolate.

A prize was given to the one who was not fooled at all, a pretty pearl stick pin, and this went to Percy Marcey. The one who was oftenest fooled received a book, "Advice on Fools," and Rita Kitto received this.

Then came a smelling game when each in turn sniffed at mysterious little packages sealed up and then wrote down their guesses. Nearly all were fooled, Wayne Bennet guessing eight of the 12 odors, and receiving a prize of a handsome bottle filled with violet perfume. The consolation of a pepper shaker went to Miss Celia Long. But the majority were fooled on the confusing sniffs.

Then came the supper—no fooling about that—delicious fried oysters, waffles and all kinds of hot good things were served. Those enjoying it were: Misses Adelaide and Dulcie Rogers, Rita and Edna Kitto, Emma Wilson, Tessa Falles, Josie Upson, Daisy Jenkins, Isabelle Boyce, Selia Logan, Fay Masters, Celia Long; Messrs. Willard and Travis Upson, Alfred Eddy, Frank S. Moor, Cory Virchand, Gerald Kinsley, Ned Burburgh, Bunt Eagen, Hal Edgars, Kenneth Seeley, Mort Damsel, Bud Daly, Horace Sullivan and Oliver Blood.

Society's Note Book.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will meet on the 19th, the paper on "American Women of the Revolution" to be read by Mrs. Walter S. Talant.

The Good Templars of Meaderville enjoyed a pleasant evening on Monday at the hall, which was well filled. A good literary and musical program was given and refreshments were served.

Thursday evening the missionary society of the Baptist church gave a delightful entertainment at the church, a musical and literary program following the semi-annual opening of the mite boxes. Fine refreshments were also served.

Mrs. Heath delightfully entertained the Thimble club of the West Side on last Wednesday afternoon. She served a dainty luncheon after the sewing and embroidery were put away.

An informal breakfast was given on Easter by Miss Isabel Jones at the Montana. The table was decorated with Easter lilies and lilies of the valley. Her guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Weirick, Miss Avy Short, Miss Frances Coyne; Messrs. E. J. Murphy, J. E. Swindelhurst, Henry Newman and John Dixon.

April 8, last Thursday, the young ladies of Twelve Native Daughters club gave a charming luncheon at the home of Miss Hortense Garateau. The decorations were all in red, carnations and roses. Covers were laid for twelve.

Monday Mrs. F. P. Holbrook gave a dainty informal luncheon for Mrs. Henry Root at her home on West Granite street. The decorations were in white, tulips. Her guests were: Mesdames Henry Root, W. B. Hamilton, H. I. Wilson, John Cotter.

Last night Mrs. Martin Farriss entertained informally at dinner at her home in South Butte. The decorations were of meteor roses and asparagus ferns. Her guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gabse, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney L. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Farriss, Miss Fern Trenton, H. K. Wilcox.

Society Personals.

Miss Daisy Thomas left Thursday for Seattle to visit relatives in that city and Tacoma.

T. H. Dunstan is entertaining as a guest Mrs. George Miller of Missoula.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitford have returned from a trip of six months through the Southern and Eastern states.

Additional Club Notes

Cunningham Euchre Party.

One of the most delightful functions of the week was the progressive euchre party given yesterday by Mrs. M. L. Cunningham at her home on West Park street. The decorations were in pink and green, roses, carnations and smilax in shower bouquets.

The first prize, a handsome marble statue and pedestal of the Greek Slave was cut for by Mrs. Frank Boucher, Mrs. James Forbis and Mrs. J. V. Long, Mrs. Forbis winning. The second prize, a yet glass vinaigrette went to Mrs. Kellogg, while the lone-hand prize, a handsome address book, was awarded to Mrs. Boucher. The consolation, a set of dominoes in a chase, went to Mrs. Laurence Harris.

As the game was drawing to a close dainty refreshments were served, after which playing was resumed and continued until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Cunningham was assisted in receiving and in keeping tally by Mrs. W. L. Renick.

The players were: Mesdames F. P. Holbrook, F. W. McCrimmon, James Forbis, J. V. Long, Geoffrey Lauzier, J. W. Gunn, F. W. Cotter, Blackiston, Bruce Kramer, Frank Boucher, W. M. Bickford, John McIntyre, J. Ryan, Joe Vivian, C. C. Pingel, P. J. Brophy, Malgory, McPherson, W. O. Spear, A. H. Jones, Kunkle, Sam M. Johnstone, William Touhy, Thomas Lavell, A. H. Whitchee, D. J. Hennessey, T. Hodgson, W. H. Turner, Walter Lewis, E. W. Shively, Kellogg, R. H. Turner, Charles Leonard, W. A. Smith, Laurence Harris, Miss Eleanor Horgan.

The Art Club.

The Art club was entertained by Miss Julia Dawson at her home on North Jackson street on Friday, March 28.

Rosa Bonheur, the most renowned woman artist, was the subject discussed. Miss Frances Carroll, the president of the club, gave a most interesting account of the life and work of Rosa Bonheur. She said the majority of our great artists have been men, so when we can list a woman, great, powerful, fully equal to the artist's task, it is to glory a triumph for women everywhere and for our girls, from whom "all wise ladies grow."

After a vivid description of her childhood days she described her home in that splendid old forest of Fontainebleau, beside which gathered that little colony of artists known as the Barbizon school, those men who loved nature more than academic rules and models, and who dared stand out and express independently the thought planted of God.

Miss Carroll concluded her talk by giving this great artist's advice to beginners: "I cannot repeat sufficiently to young beginners who wish to adopt the hard life of the artist, to do as I have done; stock their brains with studies after the old masters. It is the real grammar of art and time thus employed will be profitable to the end of one's career."

"The ever present desire to bring myself nearer to truth and incessant research after simplicity are my two guides. I have never grown tired of study. It is today, and it has been during my whole life, a happiness to me, for it is with persistent work alone that we can approach the unsolvable problem of ever changing nature, the problem which more than any other elevates our soul and entertains in us thoughts of justice, of goodness and of charity."

Horace Woodbury then gave a brief account of her most celebrated pictures, among which three hold the highest rank: "Ploughing in Normandy," now in the Louvre; "Hay Harvest," in Auvergne; "The Horse Fair," now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York and is her most celebrated canvas.

Ethical Culture Club.

The informal talk given by Mrs. Ella Knowles Haskell last Tuesday night before the Ethical Culture club was one full of interest and good cheer. Woman's rapid rise in the intellectual and professional world was touched upon by Mrs. Haskell and each young woman present felt that the pioneers in this work had endured much for the sake of those who are now enjoying the fruits of their hard labor. The talk was inspiring in its effect. The vote of thanks accorded Mrs. Haskell was most cordially given.

Next Tuesday night the Physical Culture department meets with Miss Mary Craigm, 412 West Granite. Miss Corbin will be present as instructor.

The Woman's Club.

The Woman's club held really a business session Wednesday, the Current Topics department having to give up the day to the business. The club

MRS. M. L. CUNNINGHAM,
Delegate from the Woman's Club to the Biennial elected Mrs. M. L. Cunningham delegate to the biennial.

Then came the many months deferred nomination of candidates for trustees. Many were nominated and the 22 receiving the highest number of votes were: Mesdames A. H. Wetthey, T. W. Buzzo, Ignatius Donnelly, W. W. Cheely, J. W. Gunn, A. H. Jones, T. A. Grigg, E. W. Shively, Sam M. Johnstone, M. L. Cunningham, C. C. Reuger, W. C. Spear, R. G. Young, Charles Schatzlein, F. P. Holbrook, Henry Mueller, A. S. Christie, A. H. Whitchee, J. H. Russell, Harper, W. J. Christie, Spencer Wortman.

From these candidates eleven will be elected a week from next Wednesday. Probably many of those nominated will withdraw their names. Mrs. A. H. Wetthey ran far ahead of the others in the voting.

Little Alice Davies, the pretty child violinist, played a selection, accompanied by Miss Bertha Fox on the piano, and an encore, "Martha" and "Berceuse," by Kohler. Mrs. G. H. Martius had loaned her graphophone and she wound it up, or what ever they do, and two selections were given.

Monday Night Club.

The Monday Night club met with Miss Coffin on West Broadway last week, and divided the time between Current Events and the History and Literature of Spain. Miss Ewing read a very interesting paper on "Spanish History," embracing the period between 1815 and 1848. After a brief discussion the club took up Spanish Literature, Miss Madden gave a delightful talk on this subject.

"This period," said Miss Madden, "is known as the Interregnum in Spanish literature. The very foundation of the country was so shocked by the wars through which it had passed that there was little of anything really national. Men of letters suffered more than people in any other walk of life. They were punished for their ideas, banished or forced to enter the army or enlist in other service unsuited to their taste or talent."

Miss Madden then spoke briefly of the principal writers of this period, touching lightly on the most important works of each.

After a short discussion on Spanish Literature Current Events were taken up.

On April 9 the club will meet with Mrs. Nichols on Excelsior.

Butte Boys' Club.

Another delightful session was enjoyed by the Butte Boys' club this week at the home of Willard Wood on West Granite street. It was visitors' night and a number of guests were present. The program was as follows:

Paper on "Pocahontas"—Fred Sheffield.
Brief History of the Club—Marshall Harnois.

Paper on General Custer—Henry Campbell.

Mandolin solo—Raymond Tucker.

The papers were very clever and well read. The playing of Mr. Tucker was very fine. After the program the members played games and a delicious luncheon was served. They will meet next week with Colin Christie, 219 South Washington street.

Butte Girls' Club.

This week the Butte Girls' club met in Miss Turnley's school room and held a business meeting. The election of last week was illegal as there was not a quorum present, so another election was held, resulting as follows:

President—Miss Ralpha Spurrier.
Vice president—Gladys Christie.
Recording secretary—Ethel Cain.
Corresponding secretary—Lulu Lewis.
Treasurer—Pay Wright.

Program committee: Chairman, Laura Holland; members: Winnie Richards and Norah Nichols.

The Homer Club.

Last Monday the Homer club held a most enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. Lauzier.

Among the current events discussed were: "The social standing of the negroes in the Danish West Indies;" "A free hospital in Paris for Americans donated by Edward Tuck, to be completed in 1904;" "The treaty between England and Japan to keep the door open in China and to protect Japan's commercial interests in Korea;" "The Isthmian Canal question;" "The raising of funds in Paris by Countess Castellaine for a monument to the late President McKinley;" "The growing unpopularity of co-education."

The first subject of the afternoon was a most excellent paper written by the hostess, Mrs. Lauzier, on Garibaldi. This paper said in part:

"The keynote to Garibaldi's life was his enthusiasm for liberty. At 21 his heart was filled with enthusiasm for Italian independence, which was the aim and glory of his life. Through the influence of Mazzini he took part in the invasion of Piedmont from Switzerland and also in a conspiracy to effect a revolutionary uprising in Genoa; both failed and Garibaldi was sentenced to death, but escaped to South America, where he remained for 19 years.

"Returning to Italy, we find him first at Nice offering his services to Charles Albert, then in Tuscany with a large body of volunteers starting for Milan to help defend the city, but hearing of the armistice, deeply indignant, turning his footsteps towards Venice, but changing his plans and entering Rome in April. An Englishman thus describes him at this time, 'Probably a human face so like a lion and still retaining the humanity nearest the image of its maker was never seen.' Garibaldi routed the Neapolitans completely here, then marched against them at Velletri where he gained a decisive victory.

"About to march on Naples he was hurriedly summoned back to Rome to find the city had fallen and that Austrian despotism ruled Italy from the Alps to the end of the peninsula. Leaving the defeated and despairing city he made his way to Genoa where he was considered a dangerous guest and ordered to leave Italy.

"He sailed for New York where he remained for 18 months and then went to Peru.

"But when the Piedmontese government became more settled he returned once more to his own land and again entered the army.

"By June, 1860, he resigned as dictator over all Sicily and his troops were known as the 'Army of the South.' With this army he united Italy. This united Italy he turned over to his king, refusing a dukedom and a decoration."

In connection with this paper Mrs. Cunningham told of Garibaldi in South America and Mrs. Moore spoke of him in New York.

Mrs. McCrackin read some interesting facts about Mazzini.

The five minutes sketch of Donizetti was very entertainingly given by Mrs. Groeneveld, who spoke of his birthplace, his family, his education and his work and success in Rome, Naples, Florence, Paris and Vienna.

At the close of the program tea was served and a social time was enjoyed.

The club will meet on next Monday at the rooms of the Butte Business Men's association.

Echoes of the Clubs.

There will be a meeting of the Butte Federation next Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the rooms of Mrs. A. H. Whitchee in the Lenox. It is hoped that every member will be present.

The members of the Literature department of the Woman's club met last Tuesday morning and elected officers of the department as follows: President, Mrs. J. W. Gunn; vice president, Mrs. Kellogg; secretary, Mrs. H. Charles; membership committee, Mesdames D. A. Dickson and Christie.

The members of the music department of the Woman's club elected Mrs. E. C. Price, president; program, Mrs. Charles Copenhagen; membership, Mrs. C. V. Fulton and Miss Allen.

The literature department of the Woman's club will meet next Tuesday in the parlors of Elk hall. Refreshments will be served. The members in charge will be Mesdames J. H. Russell, McDonald, T. A. Steele and Elizabeth Flood. Current events will be the feature and every member is expected to bring a current event.

The art department of the Woman's club elected Mrs. T. A. Grigg president, Mrs. E. W. Shively, vice president; Mrs. C. C. Pingel and Mrs. J. D. Ritter, program committee, and Mrs. A. S. Christie, membership.

The social and domestic science department of the Woman's club elected Mrs. Green Majors president; Mrs. Spencer Wortman, vice president; membership, Mrs. Schilling and Mrs. Charles Schatzlein; secretary, Mrs. Murphy; program, Mrs. Hall; treasurer, Mrs. George Stevenson.
