FROM JUDGE BOYLE'S DISPENSARY

Millie Murray, colored, is a standby in police court. She was there again this morning, but if she keeps her word, she will not be in Butte 24 hours hence.
Mollie was arrested last night on the charge of vagrancy and when she faced the court this morning she had a knot over one of her eyes as large as a tea cup. She said a man struck her with a bottle.
"Here again Mollie," said Judge Boyle, "as the woman walked up to the dock and entered a plea of guilty."
"Yes, I s'pose I's guilty as usual, too, but if you will let me go this time I'll leave Butte right away."
"All right, Mollie," said the court. I will sentence you to 30 days in the county jail and will suspend sentence for 24 hours.
J. W. Blake, who said he was a miner, charged with being drunk was at a loss to know how to plead.
"How can I plead when I don't know whether I was drunk or not," said Blake.

"Well, you evidently have had a few jolts this morning," said the court as he took a second look at the individual who stood before him.
"You are fined $5."
Blake had enough money to liquidate, and after finding fault with the city ordinance in such cases made and provided, Blake went away in a happy mood.
Tom Keating, charged with fighting, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $10. Keating is not very well liked about police headquarters as one of the officers saw him kick "Blackey," one of the little dogs which have for years made the station their home.
W. M. King, a miner who claims Keating assaulted him without provocation, pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing tomorrow morning.
King says that while walking up Park street yesterday Keating precipitated a quarrel and assaulted him with a rock.

REVENUE STAMPS

SPECIAL TAXES GO OUT OF BUSINESS JULY 1.

REPEALS AND REDUCTIONS

Something Will Be Doing in Revenue Circles When New Bill Takes Effect—Many Articles to Escape Present Tax.

Charles W. French, collector of internal revenue for this district, is in receipt of a communication from the treasury department at Washington notifying him of the repeal of the war revenue tax, a measure for the purpose having received the signature of the president April 12. It will go into effect July 1. Besides repealing the special taxes, the law now in force reduces the taxes on fermented liquors, snuff, tobacco and cigarettes.
Special taxes on the following are repealed: Bankers, brokers, dealers in grain, securities, etc., pawnbrokers, custom house brokers, proprietors of theaters, proprietors of circuses, proprietors of public exhibitions or shows for money, proprietors of bowling alleys or billiard rooms, dealers in leaf tobacco, dealers in tobacco, manufacturers of tobacco and cigars.
Stamps Called Off.
Stamp taxes on the following are also repealed: Instruments, papers, or documents, deliveries or transfers of stocks and sales and agreements of sales or agreements to sell stock, products, or merchandise, wines, seats in parlor or palace cars and berths in sleeping cars, taxes on legacies and distributive shares of personal property, excise taxes on persons, firms, companies and corporations engaged in refining petroleum and sugar. The tax on fermented liquors is reduced to $1 per barrel; on snuff and tobacco to 8 cents per pound and on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per thousand to $3 per thousand. A drawback or rebate is allowed on all original and unbroken factory packages of smoking and manufactured tobacco and snuff held by manufacturers or dealers on July 1, 1902, to the amount of difference between the higher rate paid and the tax imposed by this act.
Legacy Tax Remains.
No discount is allowed on the sale of stamps for fermented liquors or for tobacco or snuff.
The provisions of the present law relative to mixed flour remain unchanged—a slight change is made in the definition of mixed flour.
Rights accrued or liabilities incurred prior to their repeal are not affected.
The estates of all persons dying prior to July 1, 1902, will be subject to the legacy tax even if the distribution is not made until that date.

DOWNTOWN STREETS FLOODED
Various street corners in Butte this morning might have reminded one of Central Park in New York.
The hydrants from which water is drawn to fill the street sprinklers were converted into fountains and water flowed effervescent like geysers to a height of 40 feet.
The streets in the vicinity of the hydrants were flooded and the telephone to police headquarters was kept busy by people reporting the condition.
Within the past week the water was turned into the hydrants which have been closed all winter. The cold spell last night cracked the pipes and at 9 o'clock this morning it seems as if all of the sprinkling hydrants burst simultaneously.
There are eight of these hydrants situated at different street corners about the city and they all let go at once and became fountains throwing water high in the air.
The water company was notified and it took several hours to shut the flow off from the mains.
It is likely that all of the hydrant will have to be replaced and it may interfere with the sprinkling of the streets for several weeks. At present, however, the streets of Butte do not need sprinkling as badly as they need cleaning.

OLD MAN SELLS TOO CHEAP
Frederick V. Scheur, the old German who recently had himself put under the guardianship of Charles Kinman, has brought another suit through his guardian. He has sued Michael Renig, Isabella Scheur and E. S. Johnson to set aside an option which the defendants have on the Saratoga quartz lode claim for $10,000.
Scheur gave Johnson and the others an option of the property for the sum named on September 18, 1901, agreeing to sell them a half interest in it for that sum.
The old man is in a childlike frame of mind. He cannot write the English language and is 71 years old.
The property is worth $25,000.
Johnson was given a lease on the mine, and Kinman asks that it be nullified. A deed was put in escrow by Scheur with the Union Bank and Trust company, to be delivered to Johnson in a year, and the court is asked to enjoin the latter from delivering it.

MAHON AT HIS DESK

SECRETARY OF MINING CONGRESS SETTLES DOWN TO WORK.

ROOMS ARE SPICK AND SPAN

Butte Gets Big Advertising From Meeting of Mining Men—Committee Appointed to Solicit Further Funds for Congress.

With a cake of soap and a bucket of water and a brush a woman was busily engaged all of this morning polishing the floor and woodwork in the rooms of the Business Men's association in the Kingsbury building. From the floor and wainscoting she went to the windows and with much arm labor succeeded in getting the glass burnished to the brilliancy of a French mirror.
Following the woman was a man with a large roller-top desk and a revolving chair and after him came a man with a telephone and wires and finally came Former Governor J. E. Rickards and Secretary Mahon of the Mining congress and said:
"Well done, good and faithful servants."
This was all because the rooms will be turned over to Mr. Mahon tomorrow as his headquarters. He will begin the active work of preparing for the Mining congress and with the assistance of a stenographer will send out the necessary circulars and letters; will attend to the correspondence and he will also evolve schemes for making this the most successful congress ever held.
Hard Work Mapped Out.
There is a vast amount of work to be done. Even Secretary Mahon admits that there is so much to be accomplished that it looks like an impossible job, but he is confident that it will all right itself and that within a few weeks everything will be running smoothly and that the work will be then in such shape as to be easily handled.
Secretary Mahon was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Business Men's association last night. He was introduced by President Rickards and briefly outlined the congress.
Mr. Mahon said that the congress would bring into Butte capitalists and engineers from all sections of the country and that from the viewpoint of advertising alone would be of great benefit to the city as it would give further proof to the world that Butte was a mining center. Aside from the advertising feature it would mean much to Butte, as the presence of so many distinguished men in town would naturally mean that the city would be benefited.
J. E. Rickards, H. M. Patterson, D. J. Hennessy, Henry Mueller and J. T. O'Brien were appointed an executive committee of the association in charge of the Butte end of the congress and to work with Secretary Mahon. This committee is empowered to appoint sub-committees to assist in the work. This committee will collect the remainder of the $5,000 subscribed by the citizens of Butte for the convention.
The congress will be held the first week in September.

CHERISSO KEEPS HIS SECRET
An effort is being made by the police to learn the facts in connection with the assault made upon James Cherisso, the Austrian miner who is now hovering between life and death at the St. James' hospital.
With his skull fractured there appears to be little hope of his recovery. There is reason to believe that Cherisso knows who assaulted him, but he is guarding the secret closely and refuses to disclose the names of his assailants.
Cherisso will today be told of his condition and he may then tell about the affair. He was found lying at the side of the street near the corner of East Park and Arizona early yesterday morning by Policeman Lawson.
Malice rather than robbery seems to have prompted the assault, for $28 was found in Cherisso's pockets when he was searched at the jail. The friends of the injured man say, however, that he had several hundred dollars with him when he left his boarding house last Sunday evening.
Cherisso is unmarried and has no relatives in Butte.

NARROW ESCAPE OF FOREMAN
There were 10 minutes of terrible suspense in the mechanical news department of the Inter Mountain about the time the paper was going to press on the last edition yesterday afternoon, and during the 10 minutes the life of Frank Wheeler, assistant foreman, was in jeopardy, for he was plucked in the elevator with a heavy form of type resting upon him.
Wheeler had stepped upon the elevator and started to pull a table upon which rested a form of type to go below to the stereotypy room. When two legs of the table, or "turtle," as it is technically called, was on the elevator, some one on one of the other floors misunderstood a signal and pulled the governor rope. The elevator moved downward and the "turtle" tipped over upon

THE PIANOLA
Does it bring enough pleasure in return to warrant the investment? The pianola will enable every owner of a piano to play upon his piano whenever he desires. Not only this, but every member of the family can also play upon it, not one or two pieces, but practically every composition ever written for the piano. Did you ever stop to consider how much pleasure there is stored up in your piano, then count the number of times in a month it is used? It is worth thinking about. The pianola supplies the deficiency. It makes no difference if you do not know one note from another.
