

ENGLISH SOCIETY

HAD SWELL DINNER AT DELMONICO'S IN NEW YORK.

MAJOR GENERAL BROOK'S TALK

Comparison of War in Philippines and in South Africa—Hopes That Peace Will Soon Come.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—The St. George's society of New York held its 116th dinner here last night at Delmonico's. Distinctly English features were introduced in the parading of royal barons of beef around the room to the tune of "The Roast Beef of Old England." The ending of the plum pudding with appropriate honors, the singing of "Soldiers of the Queen," and the toasting of the king, Sir Percy Sanderson, the British consul general and also president of the society, was toastmaster. His supporters, right and left respectively, were the Duke of Newcastle and Major General Brooke.

Major General Brooke responded to the toast of "The Army and Navy." He said in part:

"Our English friends know what the war in South Africa means. It's time that the American people knew what the war in the Philippines means. I don't wish to draw comparisons between the people we are fighting. The effect of the victory will be the same—the progress of civilization and enlightenment of the nations and the glory of the flag. In South Africa Kitchener has been left to sweep up the people who are spread over the country in small detachments over a large territory. In the Philippines, General Chaffee has something of the same difficult task."

Concluding, General Brooke said: "Let us all hope, let us all pray, that peace will soon come in South Africa and in the Philippines; may God grant that under these two flags (pointing to the American and English flags entwined) may dawn a lasting peace, is the wishing of every martial heart."

PROBATING THE RICE WILL.

Handwriting Expert on the Stand Again.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—Hearing has been resumed over the contest of the two wills, each offered for probate as the last testament of William M. Rice.

One of the documents, dated June 30, 1900, was offered by Albert T. Patrick, who was convicted several weeks ago of Rice's murder. Albert S. Osborne, a handwriting expert of Rochester, N. Y., who was on the witness stand when court adjourned last Thursday, resumed his testimony.

He gave his reasons in great detail for believing the signatures to the 1900 will, known as the Patrick will, to be forgeries.

The testimony was similar to that which he gave during the Patrick trial for murder.

LONDON AUTOMOBILE GETS BEYOND CONTROL OF DRIVER.

DASHED INTO JEWELRY SHOP

Machine stopped and Then Suddenly Turning Went Ahead at Full Speed—One Man Injured Somewhat Seriously.

(By Associated Press.)

London, April 24.—The most disastrous smash caused by an automobile reported since these vehicles have been introduced, has just occurred in Regent street. Oswald Edward Lord, a young man residing at Arundel mansion, Fulham, was driving an automobile along the street about 2 o'clock in the morning, when the vehicle got beyond control and dashed into a jeweler's shop, wrecking the fruit and causing damage which will, it is reported, amount to some thousands of pounds.

Mr. Lord was immediately arrested and remanded on bail. The constables, describing the occurrence, said that Mr. Lord seemed to quite lose control of his machine, which first came to a sudden stop then turned around and dashed into the shop window, damaging the shutters, glass and woodwork in pieces and scattering the jewelry in all directions.

The car recoiled across the pavement and injured a man who was passing so seriously that he had to be taken to a hospital.

Mr. Lord claims the street had just been sprinkled and was so slippery he lost control of the machine.

SHE PLAYED EVEN.

Wife Who Had Revenge on Drunken Husband.

(By Associated Press.) English, Ind., April 24.—Cruel and inhuman treatment will be the plea of Thomas Foley for divorce.

His wife admits that she tied his hands and feet while he was drunk and applied salt to his hands, face and clothing that the cattle in the field where to lay helpless, might tramp him to death, as revenge for the beating she received during a drunken orgy. Foley's skin was raw in many places and his clothing in shreds.

Postponed One Month.

(By Associated Press.) Phoenix, Ariz., April 24.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county recorder here of the Western Iron & Steel company, with a capital stock of $15,000,000 divided into shares of $100. The business proposed is smelting and working of steel and iron in any form, making armor plate, building ships, railroads, locomotives, etc.

MINISTER DEFENDS THEATER.

Says That Life Is Made Up of Work and Play.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—At the Congregational convention of New Jersey now in session at Jersey City, Rev. Robert Mourse of Falls church, Va., defended the theater.

He said life is made up of work and play and that play is the dominating factor in life. Information is gained in school, and character is formed on the play ground. Amusements should not be confined to the church, he said, and just as soon as a church declares the members shall not go to the theaters the members rise and create a circus, the clown included.

PALMA AT HOLGUIN

HE IS KEPT CONTINUALLY BUSY GREETING THE PEOPLE.

GEN. MASSEO TO EMBARCE HIM

Next City to Be Visited to Be Bayamo, the President-Elect's Native Town—Support of the Whole People.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, April 24.—President-elect Palma's triumphal tour will be continued early Thursday morning, says a Holguin, Cuba, dispatch. The next city to be visited is Bayamo, General Palma's native town.

Except for perhaps three hours General Palma was kept continually busy Wednesday receiving the people of this town. He paid a visit to the mother of Gen. Calixto Garcia. The meeting was extremely pathetic.

In the afternoon General Palma reviewed a procession of 1,000 school children, among whom were many Americans.

A demonstration in the plaza and a reception followed. Messages of congratulation continue to reach the president-elect. One of these came from Gen. Bartolomeo Masseo, who was his opponent at the presidential election. He said he anxiously awaited General Palma's arrival at Manzanillo, that he might embrace him.

This message disposes of any question that may have existed as to the heartiness of the support which the entire Cuban people will give General Palma's administration.

Under Sheriff Pat Phillips was sick and Deputy Reeder was on shift.

Bert asked leave to get a bucket of water, and while Reeder was trying to fit a key in the jail door the young man disappeared.

It was learned that the man's name was John Meade, and the verdict of the jury was that he died of alcoholism. He had been on a spree for a month. His remains were shipped to Olathe, Kan., where his parents reside.

Where Aaron Burr Died.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—St. James hotel at Port Richmond, where Aaron Burr died, has just been sold. Although over 100 years old, the building is in a fair state of preservation. It was the home site of the old British fort. In 1820 the homestead was converted into a hotel. In a room on the second floor Burr breathed his last. On one of the window pane he had written his name with a diamond ring.

ENEMY OF SOCIETY

BISHOP POTTER OBJECTS TO SPIRIT OF CASTE.

HIS SECOND YALE ADDRESS

Modern Idea of Caste Is Much Worse Than the Ancient—Confidence Between Capital and Labor.

(By Associated Press.)

New Haven, Conn., April 24.—Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York, in his second address of the series on the "Responsibilities of Citizenship," at Yale, discussed the subject of the relation of the citizen and the capitalist, and urged that the panacea for the labor situation is not any particular method or plan, but greater confidence between employer and employe, between capitalist and laborer, and a disregard of any caste differences.

"The worst enemy of human society," said Bishop Potter, "is the spirit of caste, and the tragic element in the discussion of our modern society is that under forms of government that profess long ago to have removed and abandoned it, it still rears its head in forms more insolent and more mischievous than any it has ever assumed; for while we may be patient with the caste spirit, when it survives as a product of early days of tribal distinctions, of feudal tradition, of distinguished ancestry of social culture, it becomes, when we see it as too often we see it today, the mere incarnation of material possessions held in huge bulk and adroit association, then, I say, it becomes a menace alike to the right of the weak and the freedom of the poor, a caste of capitalists, separated by practically inseparable barriers from a caste of laborers, means social anarchy and industrial war."

Starting Club Saloon.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—It was announced at the annual meeting of the City club, just held, that the committee appointed to inquire into the advisability of organizing a stock company to conduct the operations of a model saloon, had reported that another organization is about to establish a similar saloon and in the committee's opinion it did not seem wise for the club to take any definite steps until the results of the experiment became apparent. The organization referred to is the Social Halls association and the mode to be followed is that which Earl Gray has been instrumental in establishing in England.

WORKMEN ENRAGED

SCABS DRIVEN OUT OF PATERSON DYE WORKS.

MEMBER OF FIRM IS BEATEN

Clash With the Police Who Claim They Were Compelled to Shoot—No Serious Casualties So Far Reported.

(By Associated Press.)

Pateron, N. J., April 24.—The strikers held a meeting yesterday and, after it was over, a large body of men marched to Hawthorne, which is just outside the limits of the city. Here are located the works of the American Silk Dyeing and Finishing company. This plant was the objective point of the mob and when they reached there they made an immediate attack on the works.

As the plant is outside the city limits there was no police guard. The rioters charged into the mill and drove out all the men at work. They turned on the steam and directed it against the fleeing workmen, a number of whom were badly scalded.

George Arnold, a member of the firm, was in his office when the mob entered the works. He started to see what the trouble was, when he was attacked on all sides and badly beaten. A few of his workmen, who had not fled with the others, finally succeeded in getting him away from the mob.

Clash With Police.

Shortly after noon there was a clash between the crowd of men and the police at Emil Gerring's dyeing works. As the employees of the dye works left the establishment for luncheon the crowd made a charge on the building and tried to force their way through the main entrance.

The police on guard drove back the mob with their clubs, but there was a second charge and this time the attacking party fought so desperately that the police were compelled to shoot. At this time the mob broke and fled.

During the fight two policemen were badly injured on the head by stones. The police intended to fire over the heads of the strikers, but it is said one of the mob was wounded. At the same time that the attack was made on Gerring's dye works there was a riotous demonstration at the dye works of Knipscher and Maas.

Here there was a hard fight between a large body of men and a detail of police. The police had to send for reinforcements and when these arrived the rioters were dispersed. No shots were fired during this affray.
