OH! HOW FUNNY!

MINSTREL MEN WILL DO ANNUAL SIDE SPLITTING.

OVERLAND CLUB JOLLY CREW

Second Attempt of Minstrel Gang Will Throw First Far in Shade—"Things Doing" Doesn't Half Express It.

Fun in large chunks will be hurled at the citizens of Butte in the Broadway theater Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday matinee, June 5, 6, 7.

These lugs of humor will come from members of the Overland club and the occasion will be the annual minstrel show of the club.

It is announced by members that the minstrels this year will be so funny that those of last year will seem as a Quaker meeting in comparison. It is asserted that there are some gags that will arouse the risibles of even Mary MacLane.

Frequent rehearsals of the minstrels will be held and already there has been one or two rehearsals. Strict secrecy is maintained as to the performers and to the program, but a general outline of the program is permitted to be made public.

A Double-Ender.

This program will be in two parts. The first part will be a regular minstrel opening, with a chorus of 50 voices, several solos and jokes. The party who does not care for the end men's jokes and don't go much on the musical makes but is happy when Mr. Shakespeare comes to town will find that he (or she) has never heard the Overland club members. The part will be a study in black and white.

In the second part will be specialties, a vaudeville sketch and other things. Under the caption of "things" there will be things; things that the wisest people in town will know nothing about until after the first performance.

In a measure the minstrels this year will be largely musical. There will be no gymnastics; no man will be thrown down a pair of stairs nor will any man be rolled in a barrel nor, in fact, will there be any of the grotesque stunts of minstrelsy to create laughter. It will be a clean, wholesome performance from the beginning to the end.

Growing Popularity.

"We believe that the minstrels will be much more popular this year than last," said a prominent member of the club today. "Considerable care has been given and will be given to the program. Parts that appear weak will be strengthened and we've begun rehearsals thus early so that each part will be perfect. Probably different parts will be changed; that is there will probably be additions and subtractions made to the program as it now stands. This will be necessitated as we learn of new things to put in."

"We believe that the performances this year will rank with any amateur performance ever given in Butte, and some of us believe that it will be pronounced by the public the best ever given in the city."

Saturday night the Overland club gives a smoker to its friends. Previous to the smoker there will be a discussion on the minstrels.

Unanswerable Argument.

It's dividends that count. If your life insurance company pays the largest dividends it's the best managed. The New York Life pays the largest dividends, and writes business at less cost than any other company. C. J. Cutler, Gen. Agt., Butte.

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Manila Soon to Have All Modern Appliances. (By Associated Press.)

New York, May 1.—Supplies for the new fire department that is to be organized in Manila by Hugh Bonner, this city's former fire chief, are to be shipped to the Philippines within ten days.

These supplies indicate that the government wants an up-to-date fire department in the chief city of its new possessions.

The steam fire engines, two chemical engines, two hook and ladder trucks and four hose carriages are the main portion of the supplies.

The supplies will get to Manila about July 4, and Chief Bonner may have his firemen drilled in readiness for an exhibition by that time.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PARLIAMENT

Budget Debate Causes Considerable Opposition. (By Associated Press.)

Vancouver, B. C., May 1.—The debate on the budget in the provincial legislature was continued until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, the members of the opposition talking against time to prevent the house going into committee of supply.

They were successful in defeating the object of the government, which was to rush through the debate.

The debate had not been concluded when the house adjourned and the afternoon session was devoted to consideration of private bills.

The budget debate will be continued today.

Injunction Not Granted.

(By Associated Press.)

Victoria, B. C., May 1.—The injunction granted the Kettle Valley railroad and attorney general of the province restraining the Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern Railway company, the name under which the Great Northern is known in the province, from continuing work on their line in the boundary district, was yesterday dissolved by Justice Irving, who held that the attorney had no right to bring the action, as the proposed road had been declared by the dominion government to be one of the general interests of the dominion.

LOST THEIR JOBS

WILLIAM WALSH AND PHIL MAY MUST GO WAY BACK.

AS A MEASURE OF ECONOMY

Peter Breen Makes Strong Fight to Keep Men at Work—May Was Dublin Gulch Deputy—Walsh Was Gambling Detective.

For the purposes of economy and to reduce the burdens of the taxpayers, the county commissioners yesterday removed two special officers—County Detective C. Walsh and Special Deputy Sheriff Phil May—who were dropped from the payroll.

There was nothing personal in the action of the commissioners in taking away the stars of the officers, both men having given satisfaction in the work appointed for them to do. But their removal was occasioned by the desire upon the part of the board to economize in the expenses of the county.

Walsh was appointed to the office he held several months ago upon the application of County Attorney Breen, who was very anxious for an officer who could devote himself to the suppression of gambling in the city.

May was appointed about two months ago upon the application of Sheriff Furey. His business was to keep crime down in the purlieus called Dublin gulch. The removal of the officers was opposed by Commissioner Haggerty and protested against by County Attorney Breen.

JUDGE HARNEY

and the clicking of the typewriter in the judge's chambers had aroused expectation, and there was a breathless hush as the court read. Not a word of what he had to say was missed, nor a word of the order.

When it was understood that the order with the affidavits was to be settled, upon conditions, the interest became intense. The order characterized the affidavits as "false, impertinent and scandalous, and unfit to be presented to a court," and repeated the names of the affidavit-makers categorically.

No comment or remark was made by any of the lawyers when Judge Harney had finished reading.

No Mandate Necessary.

After the legal gentlemen representing Finlen had conferred, however, Mr. Evans arose and asked the court if he could take the order away to have it engrossed. The court answered in the affirmative and then said:

"Do you want an order to that effect?"

"Oh, no. I simply wanted the clerk to understand," Mr. Evans replied, and after Clerk Helmerding had made a minute of the order and bill Mr. Evans took them to have them engrossed.

The order of Judge Harney stated that he permitted the affidavits to remain in the bill and signed and settled the latter under protest in order to expedite proceedings in the case. His action this morning will obviate the necessity of resorting to a writ of mandate to compel him to settle a bill with the affidavits.

The order of Judge Harney in full is as follows:

"It is this day ordered that plaintiff's bill of exceptions on order overruling motion for a new trial be amended as hereinafter stated, and when so amended that it be engrossed, and when so engrossed that it be signed, settled and allowed. The same shall be amended as follows, to-wit:

"1. By striking out the following, appearing on the last line, to-wit: 'Which is accordingly done this day of —, 1902, judge.'

"2. By inserting instead thereof the following, to-wit: 'The same having been examined by me, I find that the affidavits filed and presented by the plaintiff in support of his motion for a new trial and included, to-wit, the affidavit of L. G. Whitehead, the affidavit of C. E. Thompson, the two affidavits of B. C. Eastwick, the affidavit of W. J. Guthrie, the affidavit of John E. McCarthy, the affidavit of Frank Hartman, the affidavit of J. J. Murphy, the two affidavits of E. L. Waters and the two affidavits of J. W. Waters, all of which have been heretofore stricken from the files of this court, are false, impertinent, scandalous and contemptuous, and contain false, impertinent, scandalous and contemptuous statements, and are such as should not have been filed or presented herein, and are unfit to be presented to any court or judge, or allowed to remain in the files of any court or to become or remain a part of the record thereof; nevertheless, for the purpose of permitting the supreme court to have the same brought before it in consideration and review, and for such purpose only, I hereby permit them to be and remain in this bill of exceptions.

"I am further of the opinion that there is included herein a large amount of matter presented by the plaintiff in the form of affidavits as in support of his motion for a new trial that should not have been presented, and is not proper matter; but I also allow it to remain, that the supreme court may review and consider it; and I state that this bill of exceptions is, in both form and substance, such a bill as should not have been presented to a court, and is approved by me reluctantly and to save delay.

"And be it remembered that the defendants presented the following objections, and subject thereto the following proposed amendment to this bill of exceptions (defendants asking if plaintiff's affidavits be allowed to remain, that defendant's counter-affidavits be retained also; and insist upon said objection at the hearing, and ask that any bill of exceptions settled or allowed herein be subject thereto and include the same in full. Which objections and proposed amendments are as follows: (Here insert the same in full.)

"The foregoing bill of exceptions is correct and settled and allowed this 1st day of May, 1902.

"E. W. HARNEY, Judge."

Fashionable Fabrics. Flowered muslins, in fact all figured textiles, will be even more fashionable than they were last summer. They require much less trimming than the un-patterned muslins, frills and flourishes of the material being used on the skirt and bodice, with only a small quantity of lace or insertion used on the bodice. Fancy Indias, mercerized crepes, hand-painted crepe in light-weight and gauzes are found in watered and flowered effects. Coarse linens in natural color will be much worn for summer street gowns, made in tailor fashion, with stitching or bands of silk for trimming. A broad collar of embroidered linen is a decided addition to a linen costume. In fact, the majority of spring and summer gowns will have collars of either lace, linen or Oriental embroideries. Pique is also used for these collars, some of which have an applique of coarse lace.

Flying with the daughter has always been more popular, by the way, than flying with the mother.
