

THE INTER MOUNTAIN'S ANACONDA DEPARTMENT

PROFESSOR WALKER IS IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, May 26.—Smack! Smack! Yum! Yum! That's what's making trouble for Principal Walker of the High school of this city.

Notwithstanding the fact that the birch-wielder is over forty, and not of the kind that would cut much of a swath with the ladies, he is charged with kissing Anna Stebbins, a bright faced pupil of his, who is still on the sunny side of 16.

Seldom has anything created such a sensation in Anaconda and the end is not yet. It is reported on the streets today that several other sweet-faced High-school girls will have stories to tell when the matter comes before the school board.

It was all because of the removal of the women from the faculty of the high school.

At a recent meeting it was decided to employ men, with one exception, and the ladies of the Woman's club began to protest.

Then the story of Mr. Hobson Walker's alleged osculatory performances leaked out and Mrs. Nellie Graham, a sister of the girl, joined the members of the Woman's club in protesting against the practice at the Saturday night meeting of the school board.

Miss Stebbins is the daughter of Frank Stebbins, formerly on the police force in this city, but now in Washington, and the fact that her parents are away has added to the sentiment.

Mrs. Graham made a written statement of the offense and filed it with the school board. It reads as follows:

"I, Nellie Graham, do hereby charge Principal Walker of the Anaconda high school with on or about the 1st day of January, 1902, kissing one Anna Stebbins, a pupil of the high school at said time she, the said pupil, being about fifteen and one-half years of age and which kiss was against her will and wish."

Quite a furor is being raised on the action of the president of the board who refused the request of Trustee Cox to have the investigation made by the board. For some reason the president decided to have the examination conducted by the committee which elects teachers and notwithstanding the request of Trustee Cox, who is himself a member of the teachers' committee, the president put the matter in the hands of the committee.

Open Investigation. The action of Mr. Cox is highly commended. "I want this investigation to take place before the whole board," said he. "The board must act upon this matter and it is their duty to know the facts. I want the reporters present too. This should be no star chamber investigation for the suppression of facts and the white-washing of the accused. The public is entitled to know the truth. These are public schools. I want this matter investigated before the whole board."

Trustee Kelly indorsed the opinion of Mr. Cox unqualifiedly.

Yesterday a number of the best citizens were around collecting evidence of the alleged amatory performances of the principal and there is considerable excitement about the matter.

After the charges had been made known Saturday night a number of indignant citizens assembled at the corner of Main and Park and there was talk of "water-cure," riding on a rail, and other stringent measures.

"We want women in the high school," said a member of the Woman's club, speaking of the matter yesterday, "otherwise a number of the mothers of the city will refuse to send their girls to the high school."

"We don't want a chaperone in our public schools in these days of enlightenment but we want our girls to be kept away from any such conduct as this."

Indignant Citizens. No statement has been given out by the principal so far and the public is anxiously waiting further action. President Fitzpatrick set no date for the hearing of the report of the committee and a number of the indignant citizens are speaking of holding a public investigation regardless of the action of the board.

The request of the Woman's club for the retention of the women teachers in the high school and the petition signed by most of the business men of the city, the school children and the graduates of the high school for the retention of Professor Redeker were equally ignored by the board.

It was learned today that Mr. Stebbins was on his way from Washington and would take an active hand in the matter when he arrived.

ON THE STREETS OF DANIELSVILLE

THE NEW CAMP HAS ALREADY BEEN LAID OUT IN AVENUES, STREETS, ALLEYS AND TOWN LOTS.

FORTY MEN EMPLOYED IN BUILDING ROAD

Many Anaconda Citizens Are Represented on the Ground and Prospectors Are Arriving Every Day—Townsite Is Five Miles Below the Big Strikes—Building Good Wagon Road Into the New City.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, May 26.—One of the Daniels boys was in town this morning with a plat of the new townsite of Danielsville, where the rich strikes have been made in the Amazon and Independent mines.

The townsite as surveyed contains three avenues as follows: Rainbow avenue, Central avenue and Montana avenue, and two streets, Main and First.

Main and First streets extended up and down the canon parallel to the creek and the avenues run cross wise. The place is divided in town lots and they are going rapidly. The site is about five miles down the gulch from where the big mines are, but the intervening distance is covered by location notices, in fact they extend for miles up and down on both sides of the gulch.

Forty men are now working on a road connecting the mines with Danielsville and in fixing up the road below the latter place. When that is completed travel in and out will be much facilitated, but as it is now the road is lined with teams going and coming, bringing in freight and provisions as well as prospectors.

A great many of Anaconda's prominent citizens have had men in that vicinity for weeks getting in on the ground floor.

One of F. A. Heinze's experts was in last week and the supposition is that he reported favorably upon the district as it is known that an offer for one of the properties reaching into the hundreds of thousands has been refused since.

There are now about 200 men living in Danielsville and new arrivals are reaching there every day. Those who know it is known that nothing of the boom kind about the new camp.

Charles Keefe, a well-known prospector and mining man who has resided in Anaconda for years, has started in the restaurant business there and is also working five claims.

OPENING THE SEASON MOUNTAIN VIEW PARK

Crowds Engaged Themselves at This One of Nature's Beauty Spots—Many More Improvements.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, May 26.—Mountain View Park was opened for the summer season yesterday with a grand flourish of exquisite weather and hundreds of merry visitors.

The claim that the park is one of the finest natural parks in the world, sweeping back for 100 miles into the timber-clothed Rockies, was justified by its appearance yesterday, when the sunshine splashed it with golden streams and dreamy shadows and the fresh verdure and gay flowers made it look like a tree-grown wildwood in fairyland.

The people of Anaconda certainly revelled in the beauty of the day and the matchless park yesterday. They were there in force, and all of the opportunities for pleasure it affords were enthusiastically taken advantage of.

The new feature added to the park by the laying out of flower beds in front of the dancing pavilion was much admired by the visitors, as were all the other improvements. More flower beds are to be constructed and swans and ducks will be put in the lake.

The theater will be opened June 1, and a picture show will be one of the first features of entertainment. It will be in the hands of Prof. Levy, formerly of Columbia Gardens of Butte.

The train service to the park yesterday was excellent, and the park promises to grow more and more popular this year.

FUNERAL OF ISIDORE EHRET

Many Friends of the Old Resident Followed the Remains to Calvary.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, May 26.—One of the old residents of Anaconda and one of the well-known men of Montana received the last tribute of numerous friends when the body of Isidore Ehret was laid at rest in Calvary cemetery yesterday.

At 1 o'clock the funeral cortege started from the Ehret home on Main street and proceeded to St. Paul's Catholic church, where the impressive services of the church were read by Rev. Father Coonan.

Many friends of the dead man came from Butte and other points to pay their respects. The pall bearers were A. Buol, Charles Noble, J. W. James, I. Mueller, Joseph McClellan, Hugh Daly, William Walsh and James Johnson.

SCHOOL TEACHERS HIKE OUT

Are Getting Ready to Leave for the Summer Vacation.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, May 26.—Since the close of school last Friday the teachers have been busily engaged in getting ready for the summer vacation and the latter part of this week will see the greater number of them off for the season.

They will go in every conceivable direction, to the Pacific coast, to the Atlantic coast, to the Great Lakes and to the Gulf of Mexico.

Some of them anticipate a pleasant summer in the country, others in the city, but it's a cinch that when they return next fall it will take the entire winter for them to tell each other what good times they had.
