

NO MORE LIQUOR SOLD IN CAPITOL

AMENDMENT TO THAT EFFECT IS INCORPORATED IN THE HOUSE IMMIGRATION BILL.

PROVISIONS OF BILL IN REGARD TO ALIENS

Prohibitionists Gain Two Points Without Trouble—No Liquor to Be Sold at Immigrant Stations and the Capital Saloon Is Done Away With—Debate Was Lively for a Time.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, May 28.—The house today passed the Shattuck immigration bill. The feature of the day was a lively debate on the question of prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors at immigrant stations.

It was precipitated by an amendment offered by Mr. Bowersock of Kansas to prohibit such sale, which was carried, 83 to 18.

Mr. Landis of Indiana followed this victory with an amendment to prohibit the sale of intoxicants in the capitol, and it prevailed by a still larger majority, 108 to 19. The bill brings together into one act all the scattered legislation heretofore enacted in regard to the immigration of aliens into the United States, amends some of the administrative features and also adds some provisions to the general laws and others made necessary by the extension of the territorial limits of the United States. Among the more important changes are those increasing the head tax on aliens coming into the United States by land transportation, from $1 to $1.50, adding to the excluded classes epileptics, persons who have been insane within five years, anarchists or persons who advocate the overthrow and producers whose importation is now a felony, but whose entry is not prohibited; broadening the word "contract" in the contract labor law to include "offer, solicitation or promise," providing for the fine of steamship companies which receive at the port of departure aliens afflicted with loathsome or contagious diseases, instead of providing, as now, for their deportation on arrival here; extending the time within which an alien who becomes a public charge may be deported in from one to two years and providing that immigrants more than 15 years old should be able to read in some language.

Just before the session closed a special rule was presented to make the bill for coinage of subsidiary silver a continuing order until disposed of.

A vote will be taken on the rule tomorrow.

LABOR CONVENTIONS IN SESSION IN DENVER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Denver, May 28.—The Western Labor convention yesterday afternoon heard the reading of the annual reports of the president and secretary. The report of President McDonald was received with hearty applause. President McDonald urged each union to impress upon the laboring men that "labor owns itself; that the present system clothes a few in rags and the many in rags; that manhood will decay, reason wither and liberty cease under the present system."

Mr. McDonald recommended the establishment of a magazine and a labor press to disseminate the literature of the union, and he is desirous that the organization present a united front in favor of the initiative and referendum. He is especially emphatic in his recommendations to laboring men that they guard themselves against an inundation of cheap Oriental labor. He urges the organization to combat trusts with every honorable means.

The moral influence of the union is asked to favor the irrigation of the arid lands and the enactment of eight-hour laws in the several states.

The report of Secretary Clarence Smith, after reciting that the Western Labor union has doubled its membership during the last year, states that the total yearly receipts for the fiscal year are $12,365, double the receipts of the previous year, and that of this sum $11,372 was expended for organization of other unions.

"Our cash receipts," the report goes on to say, "from per capita tax alone during the last year were greater than during the entire previous existence of our organization, a period of more than three years. A year ago there were affiliated with the Western Labor union 94 local unions, 2 district unions, 1 state organization and 1 international organization. Since then charters have been issued to 102 local unions, 3 district unions and 1 international union. There are now 137 local unions, 5 district unions, 1 state organization and 2 international organizations, there having been a lapse of 33 locals."

The report recites that a large number of applications for charters have been received from independent labor organizations in the East, and says:

"The complaint is constantly being made that with its established policy of inaction and non-progression, the American Federation of Labor is impotent to lead the workmen of the country out of the injurious wage question. The question is whether we should broaden our

The statement places the amount in round numbers at $20,000,000. The expenditures to November 1, 1899, was $6,545,634; for 1900, $5,612,000, and for 1901, $6,335,000. The remainder of the $20,000,000 is estimated for 1902, the exact figures for the present year being unavailable.

TALK ABOUT YUKON RIVER

Canadian Crown Prosecutor on the Mineral Wealth of That Region.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, May 28.—The crown prosecutor of the Yukon region and the originator of a new series of schemes for the opening of a vast district in the northern territory has been consulting with capitalists and financiers, and has been seeking to divert the interest of speculators from South Africa to the Yukon.

VICTIM OF GASOLINE STOVE

Woman Burning to Death Grabbed Her Money and It is Destroyed, Too.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, May 28.—Crazed by burning oil which had fallen from a gasoline stove on which she was serving supper last night, Josephine Pizka, ran into her bedroom and seized $200 in bills which lay scattered between mattresses.

Screams attracted John Novak who extinguished the flames only after she had been fatally burned.

The bills which had represented the savings of herself and brother for several years, were burned.

The girl died a few hours later.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, May 28.—Arrangements are reported to have been made for the introduction of vaudeville performances on some of the ocean liners. The scheme scope of action into an American labor movement, with radical and straightforward principles to guide us, or whether we shall allow our movement to decline and decay from the same causes which have made the eastern movement a force to retard the advance of labor and make it a machine for the maintenance of the capitalistic systems. If we are not to take the advanced stand we have no excuse for existence and ought to go out of business."

One hundred and sixty-five delegates were in attendance at the annual convention of the Western Federation of Miners. The preliminary work was disposed of at the morning session, and President Edward Boyce delivered his address, strongly advocating the participation of labor unions in politics. President Boyce said that 50 new unions had been admitted to the federation during the year.

"During the past two years," he said, "the smelter trust, lead trust, amalgamated copper trust, Metals Selling trust, steel trust and railroad trust or combination, all of which are the offspring of the Standard Oil company or trust, have sprung into existence, and are today threatening the mining industry of the United States and Canada by dictating the terms upon which the individual operator shall dispose of the product of his property, and the wages workmen shall receive for producing this product. But not satisfied with this control, they reach farther, and threaten the very existence of the people engaged in other vocations, but depending upon the mining industry.

"All this power to coerce and exploit the people has been acquired by law. The relations between employers and employees are becoming more strained every day, as the trust magnates know that they have nothing to fear from organized labor as it is now constituted. If the Chinese and Japanese are an undesirable element, let workmen exclude them by collective ownership of the railroads, the coal mines and metalliferous mines and steamship lines, and operate them for the benefit of all, not for the benefit of a few individuals who traffic in human life and human misery.

"The most important action which we can take at this convention is to advise the members of your organization to adopt the principles of socialism, for the time has arrived when we must sever our affiliations with those political parties which have legislated us into our present state of industrial bondage."

President Boyce announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

EPISCOPAL BISHOP DEFENDS CHICAGO

BISHOP FELLOWS DISAGREES WITH OTHER EPISCOPALIANS AS TO WICKEDEST CITY IN WORLD.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, May 28.—Bishop Samuel Fellows of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church has taken issue with Bishop Thoburn and the Rev. Francis Tuck of Newburyport, who think Chicago more wicked than London and Hong Kong.

"If there are any forms of vice in Chicago that cannot be found in London, I found be glad if the Rev. Mr. Tuck would inform me what they are," said the bishop. "I would be glad if he would inform me where they could be found. I have spent some time in the world's metropolises and I saw more forms of wickedness under the shadow of St. Paul's cathedral and Westminster Abbey in two successive nights than I had seen in my own city. Bishop Thoburn said a man's life in Hong Kong was safer than it is in Chicago and yet that would not be any reason for maligning Chicago."

ANNUAL REPORT OF PRESIDENT BARNES

HE TELLS THE NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE THAT THE ERIC CANAL SHOULD BE ENLARGED.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, May 28.—John V. Barnes, president of the New York Produce exchange, in his report at the annual meeting of the exchange, declared that the decline in business on the exchange is the result of trade combinations.

He said: "The port of New York has shared in the general growth of trade and commerce of the country and certain interests of the exchange have benefited. The net registered tonnage was carried, however, at unprofitable rates. There has been a considerable increase in export of wheat, and a light increase in this port.

The corn exports from this port in the past 12 months show a decrease of 30,000,000 bushels, as compared with the previous 12 months.

The farmer is prospering but the produce merchant as a middle man is steadily being supplanted by large corporate dealers dealing almost directly between the producer and the consumer.

The large petroleum trade once conducted at this port has passed in this evolution of trade. Even the grain trade is not free from the same tendency.

"I am convinced that the remedy for the continued loss of this port of the grain trade, as well as other commerce, is an enlarged canal from the great lakes to the Hudson river."

INDIAN CAMPS ARE ORDERED TO MOVE

PEOPLE OF ANACONDA AND VICINITY WORRIED OVER PRESENCE OF THE FLATHEADS.

REQUEST BY OFFICERS TO STOP ALL BATHING

Must Move Today and Not Return, Say Smelter City Sanitary Officials—Crees, Chippewas and Half-Breeds Must All Get Away—Say Agent Keeps Their Rations and Are Compelled to Starve.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Anacoda, May 28.—Ranchers and others living in the valley east of this city are worried at present over the presence of two Indian camps in their neighborhood.

One is a camp of Flatheads and one a camp of Chippewas, Crees and half-breeds. The Indians are charged with being filthy and diseased and the propagators of contagion.

A move was made yesterday to drive them away from the locality, and the Flatheads were ordered to move at once. Both camps were visited by Dr. McKenzie, chairman of the health board, and by County Attorney Duffy and Deputy Sheriff Daly.

The Crees and Chippewas, with their half-breed associates, were found near the borders of Mill creek. These people had been charged with throwing offal into the creek.

This could not be confirmed by the investigators, but it was learned that the children of the camp indulged in baths in the stream, the water of which, farther down, is used for drinking purposes by the scholars of the Mill creek schools.

The Indians are accused of being dirty, yet they were ordered to prevent the children from taking any more baths in the stream. They promised to obey the order and not to pollute the water.

The Flatheads are from the Flathead reservation, and they were asked why they had left the latter. They said that the agent withheld their rations, and that they were compelled to leave or starve.

They said that the agent sells the rations and converts the proceeds.

They were told to scurper away today and not return. If they do not obey the command they will be ousted by the sheriff's officers.

This is the path of the poor Indian, made more rugged; but the sanitation of the valley must be preserved.
