EPWORTH LEAGUERS HARD AT IT

Business of First Day Expeditiously Disposed Of After Which Delegates From All Parts of State Visit Columbia Gardens.

Considerable business was transacted at the convention of Montana Epworth Leaguers at Mountain View Methodist church today. Most of it was, of course, of a routine nature in accordance with the regular program. One of the features of the day's meeting was the introduction of a resolution by the Rev. Edward Smith of Livingston making the state convention a bi-annual instead of an annual affair. The resolution was signed by the following pastors, as well as by Mr. Smith: Rev. Paul M. Adams of Virginia City; Rev. Charles E. Miller of Livingston diocese, and the Rev. Mr. Kershaw of Belgrade. President Avery, at the suggestion of the mover of the resolution, made it the order of business for 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

In answer to the roll call the following delegates signed their names on the register:

Prayer at Sunrise.

At the morning session, a sunrise prayer meeting was conducted by the president, C. E. Avery, and at 9 o'clock devotional exercises were held by Prof. Tenny of the Wesleyan university at Helena. President Avery called the general session to order at 9:30 and the reports of officers for the year were presented. The reports showed the league in a flourishing condition throughout the state. There are at present 1,101 active and 311 associate members in the state.

Two new leagues, one at Carlton and one at Pyrites applied for and received admission to the organization.

After the business meeting in the forenoon, the following papers were read and discussed:

Department of Spiritual Work, Miss Clara D. McDonel, 1st vice-president. Our Watchword—The Evangelization of the World in This Generation—Rev. W. C. Macurdy, Anaconda. Qualifications for Leadership—Dr. H. F. Carman, Anaconda.

Meeting at the Auditorium.

It is not probable that the street meeting will be held this evening as originally arranged. There will, however, be a platform meeting at the Auditorium this evening at 8:30, at which Prof. Tenny of the Wesleyan University will address the audience. The Rev. R. P. Smith of Dillon will also speak on "The Bible in Education."

All the leaguers are enjoying an outing at Columbia Gardens this afternoon. They are the guests of the local leaguers. The election of officers and choice of a meeting place for the coming year will take place tomorrow, the last day of the convention.

CHARGES AGAINST CAPTAIN EVERTS BEFORE COUNCIL

Dr. J. S. Hammond Will File Complaint Against the Police Official This Evening.

At the city council meeting tonight Dr. J. S. Hammond will present his complaint against Police Captain Everts. The complaint was filed with the city clerk this afternoon.

It sets forth that the son of Dr. Hammond was arrested with Delfield Crosswhite, another young man, on the afternoon of June 5; that after arriving at the city jail and while under arrest, Captain Everts did "without cause, wilfully and maliciously assault, strike, beat and bruise each of said minors with the fists of him, the said Everts."

The complaint further alleges that Everts made the assault while on duty as police captain, "without authority of law and maliciously and with intent to bruise and injure said minors."

The petition concludes with a prayer to the city council to have Everts brought before the police commissioners and disciplined.

For the first time and as the only city between Minneapolis and Seattle to be so favored an examination will be held here for the entrance of students to Harvard.

The examination will begin next Tuesday and continue three days.

It will be under the supervision of G. W. Tower and Professor P. A. Leamy and will be held in room 6 in the high school building.

All who pass the examination are eligible to the college course at Harvard university.

MRS. GANS DIES IN NEW YORK

Death Claims a Prominent Woman in New York City.

News has been received in Butte of the death of Mrs. Louis Gans in New York. In consequence of this the mercantile establishment of Messrs. Gans & Kline, on Main street, will be closed until after the funeral which takes place tomorrow. The store in Helena is also closed today.

WANT FORECLOSURE OF CLAIM

Henry and Bedie Moss Demand $3,500 on Notes from Beulah M. Field.

Henry Moss and Bedie Moss began an action against Beulah M. Field in the district court today to recover judgment for $3,500 and an additional $300 with which to pay their attorney, E. B. Howell. To satisfy the judgment they desire to foreclose a mortgage given by the defendant on a portion of the Yellow Jack claim to secure the $3,500, which is represented by two promissory notes, one for $2,000 and the other for $1,500. Interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum is demanded from May 16 of last year.

ALLEN G. CAMPBELL IS WELL KNOWN BY PIONEERS

Old-Timer Who Died in California Has Many Warm Friends in Montana.

Allen G. Campbell, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday, at the age of 69 years, was once a well-known resident of Montana.

"I knew Green Campbell well," said David N. Upton to the Inter Mountain reporter today as he was talking over old times with George Newkirk and Frank Beck. "He came to Montana in 1867 and developed some placer ground in Horse gulch, near Highland. He made money and later went over to the Iron Rod country and discovered a quartz mine he named the Green Campbell which proved a rich property and was worked for many years afterwards. Then he went away, I believe to Utah, but returned to Montana, coming to Butte where he acquired an interest in the Mountain View mine with Charlie Larabee, who later sold it to the Boston & Montana. After remaining in the state some time he went back to Utah where he discovered or bought the famous Horn Silver mine at Priceto, which for years was a large dividend payer and is still being worked. About fifteen years ago Mr. Campbell ran for delegate to congress from Utah as a republican of "liberal ideas," but was not elected as the territory was then democratic.

"Green Campbell was one of the best men in Montana," added Mr. Beck. "I knew him well. He was a great rustler, and very generous and popular. The Montana pioneers will be very sorry to learn of his death."

JOHN M. HARDESTY ASKS FOR TWENTY THOUSAND

Wants Damages for Injuries Sustained While Working for the Large Lumber Company.

John M. Hardesty is after $20,000 of the good money of the Large Lumber company and has brought suit in the district court to get it, his complaint being filed today by Attorney E. B. Howell. He says in his complaint that on November 20 last, while he was engaged in transferring some lumber from one place to another in the yard of the company in this city, the outward tier of one pile of heavy pieces fell on him and broke and crushed the bones of one of his legs and feet; that he was employed by the company and that the company piled the lumber in such a negligent manner as to make it top-heavy and dangerous.

The pile that fell, says the plaintiff, was placed in the yard the day before it fell on him; that when the accident occurred he was taking lumber from another pile four feet away and did not know the dangerous condition of the pile near him.

He further says that by reason of the accident he has been permanently injured and prevented from earning $5 per day, which was the wages he was receiving at the time he was hurt. He places his age at 45 years, and has damages at $20,000.

PRISONER MARTIN'S

case against the two men is the active part taken by Young in the clearing of his partner and the practical confession which he makes in consenting to have Martin go on the stand and testify that he helped rob Donovan.

Notwithstanding this Young made a positive statement today that he was being "sent wrong."

Smith agreed to allow the Inter Mountain staff artist to take his picture on condition that his statement be published. This is what he said:

For a Thirty Spot.

"I want you to put in every word of this as I say it. I am going to the jug for a 30 spot and I don't think any one will look on it as a just sentence. I think I will get pardoned and I want to get the thing before the people.

"I was born and raised in Chicago. I am a candy maker by trade, and I worked for seven different firms in Chicago; I worked for the Chicago Pan Candy company, which is owned by Dr. Price, Dawson Brothers, Chicago, and the Interstate Candy company and the O. H. Peckham company in St. Louis. I worked also for the Grand opera house in St. Louis and for the Chase Candy company in Boston.

"I left Chicago in March, 1896, and worked through Dakota and came to Montana. I got a rotten deal in Helena. Young fellows there were wise and they asked me to handle the stuff they copped. I did and I got seven years in the pen and they were turned out.

The World "Ag'in" Him.

"After I got out I went to Missoula and I got a rotten deal there. There's a fellow called Sidebottom who sent me out to cut timber and said he owned the land. He didn't own it and I got chased off the claim with Winchester and lost all I had.

"I went to work for the Blackfoot Lumber company, and when I quit there I started for Butte to get work in the mines.

"There was a fellow who was a carpenter and another fellow who was an engineer in the boxcar I jumped. They both came from Great Falls. We talked and when we were at the Wicks tunnel, this fellow Donovan jumped in. They said I must be crazy and jumped from Warm Springs because he had his hands in his pockets and walked around as though he wanted to fight everybody in the car.

"He got to talking after, and then he said he had money and was coming to Butte to blow it. Then he said he was going to buy some clothes and the engineer fellow from Great Falls pulled off his coat and vest and told him it was new and that he would sell it to him.

Other Fellow Did the Job.

"He got scared or something, and jumped off at Woodville, and I never seed him after.

"If you want the facts in the case that fellow Murphy robbed him himself."

"Which Murphy? Jerry?"
"No; Dan Murphy I guess his name is. They said I told Donovan I wanted to sell him a watch, and that I told him I was going to soak it. I didn't have nothing but a compass, and that was all I had.

"What I want to know is this: Why didn't they arrest me before? They say this fellow was robbed the 24th, and it was 10 days after that they arrested me. I passed Donovan on the street a dozen times, and they didn't take me in. If I was the one he didn't know me then."

Perry was up for trial this morning with Attorney Ed. Booth as his counsel. There was trouble over the selection of jurors, and both the prosecution and defense objected to the majority of the men summoned to serve.

The entire venire was exhausted, and Judge McClernan was compelled to order a special venire of 25 men to respond tomorrow morning. Because of this the case was continued.

Notice is hereby given that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Marie, as she has left my bed and board.

DRINKS ACID AND DIES AFTER FIFTEEN MINUTES

Martin Brennan, a Miner, Despondent and in Despair, Commits Suicide With Carbolic Acid.

Martin Brennan, a miner 23 years of age, drank an ounce and a half of carbolic acid yesterday evening shortly before 8 o'clock, near Main and Broadway and died from the effects of the fatal dose 15 minutes later.

Brennan was a miner at the Anaconda mine up to Miners' Union day, when he gave up his position. Since that time he has been drinking heavily and it was while he was temporarily mentally deranged that he drank the poison that ended his life.

Determination Sale

A Notable June Event....

Cheapness and little prices are being promised on all sides. Promises, like notes, depend on the maker for value. Our notes have never gone to protest. Our promises have always been kept. A determination to make June sales larger than those of May, the largest we ever made, calls for bargains. You can't make bargains without breaking prices any more than you can make omelets without breaking eggs.

MARY M'LANE CIGAR

must be complied with. This is usually met by manufacturers who prepare a small snippet of the goods bearing the trade mark and ship them on consignment to a Canadian dealer prior to applying for registration.

It is more than likely that the patent office examiners at Washington would exercise unusual vigilance to protect the rights of Miss MacLane in view of the newspaper notoriety her book has created. Cognizance would probably be taken of the girl's youth and inexperience in business affairs and positive proof of her consent to commercialize her name would be required.

Large Bonuses Paid.

In the cases of Lillian Russell and several other public celebrities whose names and portraits adorn the lids of cigar boxes, large bonuses have been paid by the manufacturer for the privilege of using the same.

A reporter for the Inter Mountain called today at the MacLane home, No. 419 North Excelsior, and, in reply to a question, Miss MacLane said she had given Neilsen permission to use her signature on cigar boxes.

"He asked for permission to use my picture also," said Miss MacLane, "but I refused."

"Would you object to stating the consideration of the transaction," asked the reporter.

"Yes," replied the authoress, "I object to making that public. I gave this permission some time ago. Mr. Neilsen came to see me and I made the agreement with him and have nothing to say beyond stating that he is acting with my full permission."

Neilsen is a member of the firm of Piquet & Neilsen, located at 302 North Main street, Butte.
