

THE INTER MOUNTAIN'S ANACONDA DEPARTMENT

DRASTIC METHODS SEEM NECESSARY

QUANTITY OF FEVER IMPREGNATED CLOTHES BURIED TO PREVENT SPREADING CONTAGION.

SEVERAL CHILDREN BEEN EXPOSED TO THE DISEASE

Woman Who Owned Them Had Sent Them Out to Be Washed Without Fumigation—Man in the House Protested Against It and Reported the Matter and Authorities Took Action.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—There has been of late a great deal of scarlet fever in Anaconda, and accordingly the authorities have endeavored to take all possible precautions to prevent the spread of the malignant disease.

A few days ago a lady who had been nursing a case of the fever, after her work was concluded, instead of fumigating her wearing apparel, sent it to a wash-woman just as it was.

It happened that in another portion of the house where the wash-woman lived was a family having two small children who had never had scarlet fever. The woman who did the washing also had a small boy who was liable to contract the fever.

The gentleman on the other side of the house accidentally learned of the bundle of fever-impregnated clothes and entered his protest vigorously. He asked the woman to remove them at once. This she refused to do, stating that she intended washing them. The gentleman was rightly indignant and reported the matter to the proper authorities. As a result the clothes were immediately secured and burned.

The lady who owned the clothes, upon learning of this, became very indignant and tried to obtain redress or the equivalent of her property in money but so far she has failed signally.

People Are Careless.

The dangerous nature of the disease makes it absolutely imperative that stringent measures be taken in cases of this kind. Despite the warnings of physicians there are many people who insist upon having fever-impregnated clothing washed before it is fumigated. As in the case mentioned, the health and lives of several children would have been threatened had this purpose been carried out and the authorities think and are upheld by all the physicians in the city, that burning the clothes was the proper thing to do. The prompt and energetic action of the city health physician in this matter has received the hearty indorsement of all who are in possession of the facts in the case.

This is not the first time that similar cases have been encountered. But a short time since Dr. Evans, the city health physician, encountered in the home of a woman having five small children an immense quantity of fever-impregnated clothes, which had been taken there for the purpose of being washed. In this case, to say that his action was prompt, would be putting it mildly.

Those citizens of Anaconda having children liable to contract scarlet fever, will at once see the necessity of heroic measures when, by such, the spreading of the disease may be prevented.

TRACK SWEEPER IS KILLED

John Harrington Struck by a Passing Engine at Washoe Smelter.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—John Harrington, an aged track sweeper at the Washoe smelter, was struck by a passing engine and instantly killed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The old man had just been warned to get out of the way of an incoming ore train, and he stepped off the track in question to the one on which an engine was switching. He was struck full in the back by the engine and died almost immediately.

Harrington was 65 years of age at the time of his death and had been in the employ of the Washoe company for many years.

From inquiries made by the Washoe company officials yesterday afternoon it seems that the accident was an unavoidable one.

Coroner Hughes will hold an inquest this afternoon.

YOUNG WOMEN TO RECIEVE DIPLOMAS

ANNIE SULLIVAN AND MAY RUSSELL,

Graduates of Ursuline Convent, Anaconda.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—Miss Annie Sullivan and Miss May Russell of this city, who receive their diplomas from the Ursuline convent at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, have the honor of being the first graduates that institution has ever sent out.

Both the young ladies are well known in Anaconda and their charming personality, as well as their diligence in studies, make them fitting representatives of an excellent educational institution, which is as yet but in its infancy in this city.

CHARLES R. HICKEY TO BE AN IDAHO BANKER

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—Charles R. Hickey, head clerk in the purchasing department of the A. C. M. Co. of this city, has resigned his position and accepted a more lucrative one as an official of the Bank of Nampa, Idaho, where he and his family will make their future home. Mr. Hickey is the son of J. S. Hickey, superintendent of the foundry department of the A. C. M. company. He has for a number of years been connected with the company in different capacities. Beginning in a minor position he rose rapidly until he was made storekeeper of the A. C. M. company's warehouse, located near the foundry in Anaconda. This responsible position he held for several years. When a man was wanted to fill an important and difficult position in the purchasing department Mr. Hickey was selected for the place. He has been connected with that department for the past year. His position has been one requiring decisive business ability and far-sightedness. As a zealous and untiring worker Mr. Hickey commands the respect of his employers and fellow-workers. The removal of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey from Anaconda will be a distinct loss in social circles as well as in musical, in which Mr. Hickey has been a recognized leader for several years past. They will leave for their new home during the coming week and will be followed by the best wishes of their many Anaconda and Montana friends and acquaintances. Mr. Hickey's successor with the A. C. M. company has not yet been named.

PING-PONG IS SPLENDID PASTIME

ANACONDA BUSINESS MEN HAVE INDORSED THE GAME BY THEIR ACTION IN PLAYING IT.

THEY TAKE AN HOUR OFF FOR PLAY EVERY DAY

Layout Down Town Makes It Easy and Accounts for the Sudden Popularity of the Game—It's a Winner When Once a Man Starts to Play It—Succeeds Billiards, Pool and Bowling.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—Ping-pong is all the go in Anaconda now. Yesterday a Main street firm set up an outfit in the rear of their store and as a result all the stud, quiet business men have tried their hand at the game, pronounced it "fine business," and so have, by their indorsement, made it the successor of billiards, pool and to a certain extent, lawn tennis, and several other games not played with balls or racquet.

Ping-pong, as a vitalizer, is something fierce. It will put ginger into almost anyone who will give it a trial. Men who do not care to play will sit about the table and root with a vehemence that would put many baseball fans to shame. It is a game that requires activity, presence of mind and a quick eye and at the same time is not violent, hence it at once appeals to the man who would scorn to appear upon a tennis court attired in a pair of white canvas shoes. Yesterday was ping-pong's first day. Therefore it was a matter of mystery as to where numerous business men were spending the afternoon, and it was a cause of no small worry to several clerks. Such will not be the case in the future, however, for when the boss now lights a cigar and says: "I'm going out for a minute," it's a cinch that he is going to play ping-pong for an hour and the clerks know just where to find him if he is needed. When he returns his disheveled hair and sparkling eyes, to say nothing of accelerated movements, would indicate that there was something doing that is as yet out of the ordinary.

LOOKING UP HIS PROPERTY

Aged Prospector Who Recently Died in Anaconda Is Now Known. [SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—It has been learned that the aged miner, who died recently in this city, is a brother of Peter H. Boyland of Helena. Edward Horsky is now in Anaconda looking after some property the dead man owned. The dead man's name was Andrew Edward Boyland, and he owned a gold mine in partnership with Gus Egstrom of this city. The latter was a one-third owner of the mine which is located north of Foster Gulch. Mr. Boyland of Helena is apparently of the belief that the mine is well worth looking after and samples of the ores have been taken for the purpose of assaying.

WILL GIVE FAREWELL BALL

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hickey have made arrangements to give them a farewell dancing party in the diningroom of the Montana hotel next Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hickey have long been identified with Anaconda society circles and were always prime favorites. Monday night's ball, given in their honor, will no doubt be one of the swellest affairs of the kind ever given in Anaconda.

PRINCIPAL WALKER IS EXONERATED

TWO MEMBERS OF BOARD WHO HEARD CASE AGAINST THE PRINCIPAL SAY HE IS NOT GUILTY.

REPORT WAS EXPECTED BY THE PUBLIC

Matter Will Now Be Acted Upon by the Whole Board as Soon as the Newly Appointed Trustee Can Thoroughly Examine the Testimony—Voluminous Report Submitted.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—In a voluminous report, covering 80 typewritten pages, two members of the teachers' committee of the school board exonerate Principal Walker of the charge of kissing Miss Amy Stebbins, one of his pupils in the High School. Trustee W. Kelly, the other member of the committee, did not sign the report, which will come before the board for action as soon as Trustee D. D. Twoby, who has just been appointed, will have had time to examine the testimony. It was the general belief that Trustees Jones and Nell would bring in such a report, but it is expected that the action of the board in the matter will be full of interest.

In general, the report of the two trustees discredits the story of the young lady, and alleges that she trumped it up. There was a painful and significant pause when the report was submitted. No member made a motion regarding it, and it was laid on the table for further consideration.

It also discredits the statement of Miss Elizabeth Waterbury, one of the graduates, which is that Principal Walker told her that he did not blame any man for leading an immoral life in Anaconda.

More of Interest. The 80-page report of the two members discredits the testimony of all who disagreed with Mr. Walker and accepts that of all who support him. It lays stress on the opinion of a dozen of the High School pupils that Mr. Walker is a gentleman "sans peur, et sans reproche."

As far as can be learned today the report of the two members does not affect the judgment of the people of the city, as it was pretty generally anticipated. In brief, Miss Stebbins alleged that the principal kissed her against her will. The report says the charge is not corroborated. That is the purport of the opinion of the two members of the committee.

That much of interest will ensue is extremely probable.

BUTTE ELKS STILL BLAST

Hurl Defiance at Ball Team of Anaconda Lodge and Accept Challenge.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, June 21.—In answer to a challenge sent the Butte Elk baseball team some time ago by the team of the Anaconda lodge, Frank Clinton this morning received a letter wherein the Butte bunch not only accepted the challenge and hurl defiance in the teeth of the Anaconda herd, but seem to consider it a huge joke that the Smelter City gang should hope to win the loving cup, and Tom Kihallon, the recognized leader in Elk baseball circles, says: "They cannot have the mug unless they get the most scores." The exact date of the game has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably take place on the Butte grounds about the middle of July. This will give both lodges a chance to get the old covering off their horns and get them in shape to spear wild throws and long drives with deadly accuracy. The conditions are that all players must be members of the B. P. O. E., with the possible exception of the catchers. It is even said that it would be best to have an umpire who is a prominent member of the order, as he will be more apt to escape goring and violent handling than an outsider would in that position.

TODAY'S WALL STREET STOCKS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, June 21.—An original bull campaign in the stock market gained volume and force this week, dealings expanding on Wednesday to over 100,000 shares, the largest total for any day since early in May. Seemingly adverse factors were ignored, as for instance the permanent injunction against the United States stock conversation, a threatened spread of the coal miners strike conveyed in the calling of a national miners convention, the notable falling off in the country's favorable trade balance in May, and reports of too much rain for grain and too little for cotton. The bulls attached more importance to the generally prosperous conditions of trade and industry and a belief in the ultimate success of the year's crops. On Thursday, however, an active movement to take profits caused sharp reactions in prices and somewhat chilled bullish enthusiasm. The approach of the semi-annual settlement with the requirements for money contributed to the disposition to realize. The majority of stocks showed higher prices at the opening. Dealings were on a small scale and not widely distributed. Buying of United States Steel stocks and Southern railroads gave increased firmness to the general market. St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Texas Pacific, St. Joseph and Grand Island first and second preferred advanced from 1 to 1 1/2. Sugar rose slightly above yesterday's close, but Anaconda, Michigan Central and New York Airbrake fell 1 to 1 1/2. A reaction of 1/2 in steel was followed elsewhere. The large loan expansion showed by the bank statement was considered unfavorable. Continental Tobacco preferred led 2 1/2. Ice 2 1/2. Lead rose 2 and North American and General Electric a point or more. There was advance of about a point in Pacific Mail, Cotton Oil and Corn products and 1 1/2 in Northern Central. The close was easy.
