EDWARD'S CORONATION HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Operation Successful and the King is Now Reported as Sleeping Peacefully.

(By Associated Press.)

London, June 24.—King Edward's coronation has been indefinitely postponed because of the indisposition of his majesty, who is suffering from perityphilitis, for which an operation was found necessary.

Latest reports from the sick chamber say that the operation was successfully performed and that the king is now asleep.

STEAMSHIP MERGER TO HELP BOSTON HARBOR

Syndicate Has Given a Virtual Pledge That They Will Give a Superior Ocean Service.

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, June 24.—Railroad interests in and about Boston have been speculating for some time as to the effect of the steamship merger upon this port.

It is now stated that the syndicate has given a virtual pledge to the railroad powers here for a passenger ocean steamship service superior to anything that has ever been planned for this coast.

The carrying out of this promise is conditional upon all completion of the 30-foot channel between Brown sound and President roads, upon the agreement of congress to cut a 35-foot channel of deep water to the head of the harbor. The 35-foot channel will be completed by the war department by October of this year, while congress just put through the plans for the 35-foot channel.

WORSTED AT FISTS

Friends interfered and Cusick left the saloon. He was gone some little time and the witnesses to the fight supposed the affair was over with.

Half an hour later Cusick appeared again at the saloon with two other men and walked into the front entrance, stepping to the cigar case.

At that time Baggs, together with Timothy Keefe and "Scotty" Fox were out in front of the Elite. Baggs was seated on the hoodblack stand in the chair next to the door, and Keefe was sitting on the farther chair. Fox was standing in front of Keefe.

Keefe and Fox saw Cusick enter the saloon and advised Baggs to get out of the way.

"We're not going to have any trouble," said Baggs. "I'm sorry I hit him, and I'm going to apologize as soon as he comes out."

Came With Intent to Kill.

Cusick was standing inside of the window, and one of the two men with him turned and pointed to Baggs sitting outside. Cusick stepped out of the door and turned to Baggs, exclaiming:

"You're the _____ who hit me."

At the same time Cusick raised a revolver he had carried in his hand and fired. The first bullet struck Baggs in the left side of the head and he fell over toward the sidewalk. Almost instantly Cusick pulled the trigger again and the second bullet entered the side of the fallen man from the back, between the fourth and fifth ribs.

Baggs fell to the sidewalk and Cusick rushed back into the saloon and attempted to make his way out at the rear entrance. He became confused in the dark, and rushed into one of the wine rooms, where he remained until arrested by Police Sergeant Dawson.

POLICE SERGEANT DAWSON,

Nervy Officer Who Took Cusick Prisoner After the Killing.

Dawson Heard Shots.

Sergeant Dawson was standing at the corner of Park and Main streets, and heard the shots. He rushed to the saloon where several men had already gathered and was in time to see a man rush into the saloon.

The sergeant followed, and once inside asked what had happened.

"Jim Cusick is back there with a gun. He just shot a man in front."

As the sergeant started back to the rear some one cried:

"Look out. It's Cusick. He's got the gun."

The policeman did not hesitate but pulled

Garvey joined him and assisted in keeping back the crowd, among whom were men who were determined to take the sergeant for an example.

Once in the city jail an ample guard was secured and 20 minutes later the patrol wagon was called to remove the murderer to the county jail.

Large Crowd Gathered.

In that space of time a large crowd had gathered about the city jail and there were rumors of an attempt to rescue Cusick from the police.

Cusick was handcuffed and rushed into the wagon with a strong guard and driven pellmell through the streets and the crowd to the county jail.

When Baggs fell City Physician Sullivan was walking down the opposite side of Park street. The physician rushed over and took the wounded man in charge. He was removed to the inside of the saloon and the surgeon did all possible to save his life. The effort was fruitless and white stretched on the floor of the bar room Tom Baggs, at one time the best known and wealthiest gambler in the Rockies, gasped his last.

The body was at once removed to the Montana Undertaking company's rooms on the order of Coroner Johnson. Today the undertaking rooms were thronged with people attracted either through curiosity or through knowing the dead man.

Cusick Well-Known Character.

Cusick, the man who dealt death in the most cowardly manner to Baggs, is a well-known character about the city. At one time he stood well among the gamblers and unions. A queer coincidence is that one time, the police officer who braved another shot to arrest him, was a partner of Cusick's and worked alongside of him in the mines.

Cusick at that time was regarded as one of the best workmen and one of the most gentlemanly men in Butte. Bad associations and the company of women of bad repute brought him down. He became a bartender in questionable resorts and an intimate of strong arm women.

Through all of his life in the lower world, Cusick maintained his gentlemanly appearance and was regarded as a man who, notwithstanding his wild ways, was one worth calling a friend.

A few weeks ago he was arrested by Officers Hamilton and Barshaw and then carried out his frequent boast that no two policemen could take him to jail. He required the united efforts of four of the strongest officers, later aided by Police Captain Everts, to put the Hercules into the wagon and lodge him in jail.

Was Already Held for Trial.

Cusick was a popular member of the Eagles and the members of that order rallied to his support and charges of brutality were brought against the policemen. Cusick was badly beaten about the head in resisting the officers and this made the base of a complaint which failed to receive affirmative action from the police committee.

Cusick was to have been tried in Judge Boyle's court yesterday afternoon on the charges of vagrancy and consorting with fallen women, but at his request the case was continued a week.

In Judge Boyle's office yesterday, he was quiet and gentlemanly and showed no signs of drinking. Later he is reported to have been drinking and to have used "dope."

After the fights with Baggs in the Elite, Cusick went to the lower district and there met the woman recognized as his wife, and who is one of the characters of the red light district.

From "Bert," as the woman is known, he secured the revolver used and, despite her protests, went back to the saloon with the avowed intention of killing Baggs.

Unknown Accomplice Seen.

An effort is being made today to locate the two men who accompanied Cusick from the Little Terrace saloon after he had secured the gun and announced his intention of committing murder. Especially sought for by the authorities is the un-

F. Winn, and through the latter's efforts was appointed janitor at the city hall.

Baggs was noted as an absolutely fearless man. He had the reputation of whipping the toughest men Butte produced in the stormy election days and was never known to flinch in defense of a friend. To those who knew him the defeat of Cusick in a personal encounter was an easy matter notwithstanding the reputation of the latter as a fighter.

One anecdote related of Baggs, to show his nerve, was when "Dutch Charley" shot a man named "Missouri" in the "Wood River." While the gun was turned threateningly on every man in the place and each target expected a shot, Baggs coolly walked up to the desperado, grabbed the gun and kicked the killer out of the place.

Cusick a Wreck.

At the county jail Cusick is a wreck. He was given opiates this morning to assist him in quieting down and slept most of the morning. Many callers were denied admittance.

When seen by a reporter for the Inter Mountain, Cusick looked as if ready to collapse. The cut between his eyes was dressed with court plaster and both cheeks were black and blue from the terrific blows of his dead adversary.

No preliminary examination will be held but an information will be filed against Cusick at the close of the inquest tomorrow evening at the Montana undertaking rooms.

"I don't know anything about it," was Cusick's reply to a question. "I can't remember a thing. I don't seem to be right, and if I were to die this minute I couldn't tell you where I was after dark or what I did."

"If you would a statement I will have to refer you to my attorney, Ed. Booth. He has been engaged by my friends and will defend me when the time comes."

SENATE REPORT ON INCREASE OF NAVY

MANY OF THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTIONS REMAIN UNSETTLED BY CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, June 24.—The conference report on the naval appropriation bill which was agreed to by the senate was only a partial report. Many of the important amendments inserted by the senate are still in controversy and will be made the subject of further conferences.

The undetermined questions include all those relating to the increase of the navy, the proposed additional torpedo boats and the points as to whether any of the new war ships shall be built in the navy yards of the government, also the provisions for the increase of the staff and the amendment for the increase of midshipmen.

Among the senate amendments accepted by the conference are two providing for a naval training station for the great lakes, for repairs at Mare Island, for the increase of the existing force of the marine corps and giving the commandant of the marine corps the rank of major general.

Among the senate amendments which the house conferees refused to accept and which, therefore, were stricken out are those providing for improvements at Guam and Cavite, P. I.

DISTRIBUTE SURPLUS FUNDS

Matter Has Again Been Delayed—Will Pay Up in the Fall.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, June 24.—H. N. Higginbotham, president and acting treasurer of the board, has announced that the $150,000 surplus world's fair funds will not be distributed until fall.

The intention was to give the fund this month among the 20,000 stockholders.

An appeal from the decision in the final suit against the world's fair, the suit having been won by the defendants, has caused the delay.

The amount in litigation is only $10,000 asked for by W. H. Stubbins, who had the contract for painting and glazing the manufacturers' and liberal arts' buildings.

ROWING A BARGE RACE

Crews of the Brooklyn and Massachusetts Contest for Supremacy.

New York, June 24.—The eight-oar barge crew from the battleship Massachusetts and the cruiser Brooklyn, now lying at the Brooklyn navy yard, have met on the Harlem river course and the battleship aggregation won by more than 10 lengths. The crews were taken to the course in a revenue cutter on which was almost every man of the navy yard who could get the day's leave. They rowed the two and one-half miles course and crowds along the river cheered lustily.

The Brooklyn men claim they lost because they neglected to properly ballast the barge.

Fell From a Horse.

Burlington, Vt., June 24.—Mrs. Seward Webb, daughter of the late William H. Vanderbilt, has been severely injured by a fall from her horse. The animal shied when Mrs. Webb was riding near Shelburne farms with a party of friends. The rider was thrown to the ground and was unconscious several hours.

PECULIAR DISAPPEARANCE

Both Father and Son Wander Away and Remember Nothing.

New York, June 24.—Word has just been received of the whereabouts of Dr. George H. Craft of Newark, N. J., who strangely disappeared last April, says a Geneva, N. Y., special. His wife received a letter from San Francisco, where the doctor says he is in a hospital recovering from typhoid fever.

The physician left his home in Newark in April to find his father, who had wandered away from home. The elder Craft was found and later the son disappeared. He was heard from last at Sandusky, Ohio.

The police of the Western cities were asked to search for him, but no trace was found. The letter says the writer cannot explain how he reached San Francisco.

Revolution in Venezuela.

Willenstedt, Island of Curacao, June 24.—The revolution in Venezuela is gaining ground and the government of President Castro is losing ground daily and is obliged to confess in its organs in spite of the terror which reigns in the capital that his armies are not always victorious.
