

ANACONDA AERIE IN MIDST OF BIG BOOM

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]
 Anaconda, July 12.—Aerie No. 18, Fraternal Order of Eagles, located at Anaconda is at the present time in the midst of a big unprecedented wave of prosperity. The lodge now boasts of more than 300 members in Anaconda, with 50 applications on file and a class of 20 to be initiated at the next meeting of the order. On the charter membership roll are the names of many prominent citizens who have been instrumental in making the lodge what it is here, one of the strongest, not only in Montana, but in the northwest, and this in the short space of two years. The officers of the Anaconda lodge are: D. D. G. P., Barney Higgins; W. P. P., M. J. Lavin; W. P., Joseph Lepke; W. V. P., John McLeod; W. Sec., Fred G. Achilles; W. Chaplain, M. J. Quirk; W. Con., Ole Roland; W. Treas., Thomas

NATIONAL PARK EXCURSIONS.

Northern Pacific to Offer $39 Rate Beginning July 25.

The Northern Pacific announces a special excursion to the National Park for July 25. The rate will be $39 for the round trip, tickets good for one week, giving the tourists five and a half days in the park. On the 20th there will be an excursion to Deer Lodge when the Irish societies will have their picnic.

A change on the minimum weights for carload lots of freight on some commodities has also been announced by the Northern Pacific.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

The managements and clients, both, are getting such complete and satisfactory results through leaving their cases in the Owsley block with the International Detective Agency, that new cases are being tendered the office management that formerly was thought to be too difficult to trace. But the success of so many cases has been reported to friends by friends that each day brings new and extensive operations to

The third annual picnic of the local aerie will be held at Mountain View park, Sunday, July 13, and arrangements are being made to have a gathering that will eclipse all previous ones held in the state.

All of the different Montana aeries have been invited to attend and a number of them have signified their intention to be present. The Butte lodge will attend in a body. Large delegations from the Missoula and Helena lodges will also be present.

The festivities of the day will begin with a gigantic parade through the city streets in the morning by local and visiting Eagles. After the parade the crowd will go to Mountain View park and a gala time will be had.

Butte Eagles will attend the picnic in Anaconda tomorrow in a body. Butte Aerie No. 11 has 300 members and nearly all have made preparations to attend the big blow-out at Mountain View park.

Theodore Guting is president of Butte Aerie, and Peter Sanger is state president, W. M. Krier is secretary and these, together with other enthusiastic Eagles, will see that Butte has a good representation at Anaconda's festival day.

KISMET EUCHRE CLUB.

Enjoyable Session is Held at Home of Mrs. Fred Squires.

One of the most delightful sessions of the jolly and interesting series of euchre bouts given by the members of the Kismet club was that of last Monday afternoon, when the ladies met with Mrs. Fred Squires in her pretty home on North Alabama street. Throughout the season it has been the purpose of the entertainers to vary the weekly sessions in the matter of appointments as much as possible, and the ingenuity of the members has been severely taxed in the thinking out of unique ideas.

Mrs. Squires carried away the plume of success with the novelty of her hospitality this week. A delicious luncheon of Boston baked beans, brown bread, coffee, pickles and catsup was served on a table prettily decorated in carnations, pink rosebuds and greens, and the score cards were dainty conceits of pastel paper with the photograph of the hostess in miniature as a centerpiece, surrounded by tiny golden hearts.

The playing was close, both the first and second prizes being cut for, each by three ladies, and the first prize score being only one point higher than the second. The Kismet has been playing euchre so steadily that the matter of prize distributing is becoming difficult, the members being about on a par as to scores.

Mrs. J. V. Su prenent, Mrs. David Reinhardt and Mrs. H. C. Laughlin cut for the first prize, an exquisite handpainted plate, in chrysanthemums, painted by Mrs. Laughlin. Mrs. Reinhardt turned the lucky deuce on a low cut and carried away the pretty bit of art.

Mrs. T. A. Grigg, Mrs. Fred Squires and Miss Dorothy Su prenent cut for the second reward, Mrs. Grigg being the fortunate one. The prize was a daintily-etched set of finger bowls.

Mrs. Sol Buckles won the lone hand, a handsome hand-painted bonbon dish. The consolation prize, a bottle of catsup, bore a typewritten recipe for high scoring and a pun upon the name of the contents. The winner, Mrs. E. W. Shively, was instructed to partake liberally of the catsup with the promise that she would eventually "catch up."

The contestants were: Miss Dorothy Su prenent, Mrs. J. V. Su prenent, Mrs. Sol Buckles, Mrs. David Nixon, Mrs. E. W. Shively, Mrs. David Reinhardt, Mrs. James Sloan, Mrs. Pat Mullins, Mrs. H. C. Laughlin, Mrs. T. A. Griggs, Mrs. A. Booth and the hostess.

The Kismets are planning an evening session in compliment to the husbands of the ladies. It is to be an elaborate affair, replete with surprises, and the invitations will be out for Monday evening, July 21. The club meets next Monday evening with Mrs. T. A. Grigg.

PICNICKED UNDER THE TREES.

Miss Edith Gilbert is Guest at Dinner at Columbia Gardens.

Miss Edith Gilbert of Chateau, Wis., was the complimented guest yesterday at a jolly afternoon and evening party, with a picnic supper intervening.

The party went out to see the contest between the two newspaper baseball teams competing for the honor of playing ball with the bloomer girls.

After the game the company was served with supper under the trees in the Gardens.

Dancing at the pavilion carried the program into the evening. In the party were: Miss Edith Gilbert, Miss Adele Humphrey, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Col. Byron A. Cook, W. K. Semple and J. W. Gilbert.

TRINITY EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Installation of Officers Will Take Place on Monday Evening.

Grand entertainment will be given at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening by the Epworth League. Installation of officers for the next six months will take place. The program for the evening is as follows:

Installation address by the newly-installed president; recitations by Arthur Thomas, Lizzie Wooleock and Beatrice Cole; duet by Mabel Williams and Myrtle Williams; recitation by Rodda Opie and Ella Durstan; solo by Joe Davis; recitation by E. Thomas; dialogue by Misses Collins, Luke, Toy and Trevarthen; anthem by the choir; recitation by William Richards; solo by T. C. Bowden; duet by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph; recitation by Miss Susie Evans; solo by Mr. Carlson, and a recitation by Miss Lottie Williams.

Mrs. Root's Luncheon.

Mrs. Henry Root entertained Wednesday at luncheon in honor of Mrs. J. B. Clayberg of Helena. The table was beautifully decorated with exquisite Jacquemont roses, and the arrangements were artistically elaborate. The place cards were dainty little silhouettes.

Mrs. Root's guests were Mrs. J. B. Clayberg, Mrs. John Forbes, Mrs. C. R. Leonard, Mrs. Sam Johnstone and Mrs. H. I. Wilson.

Unique Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. Joseph Walsh gave a unique dinner party July 4 in compliment to Miss Dorothy Suprenant. The decorations were in the national colors, while a great red, white and blue cake, with little flags to mark the summers enjoyed by the honor guest, occupied the center of the table. A profusion of red and white carnations, with blue ribbons, ornamented the rooms. The guests were Miss Dorothy Suprenant, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Walsh and Mr. Ed A. Charlton.

Jolly Hop at Columbia Gardens.

A jolly gathering of youth and beauty appropriated a corner of the ballroom at Columbia Gardens, Tuesday evening, and enjoyed themselves at dancing. The party was informal, the young folks meeting at the gate of the gardens.

The dancers were Miss Gladys Bowen, Miss Edna Gillis, Miss May McClellan, Miss Allie Kemper, Miss Ella Wright, Mr. Albert Johnson, Mr. Worth Altman, Mr. James Gillie, Mr. A. Jensen and Mr. A. Balmforth.

Informal Dinner Party.

An informal dinner party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rolands Wednesday evening at her West Broadway home. The decorations were of pink carnations, carefully arranged, with ferns.

The guests were: Messrs. W. E. Honeywell, Frank Miller of Boston, and Charles Van Zant.

DARING CHAFFEURS OF BUTTE AUTOMOBILES

An Indian is said to have described the automobile as "Fiz! Fiz! Choo! Choo! Go fast! Much bad smell!"

That the red man was not wrong in his description of some autos, those who have come within hearing or scenting distance of a gasoline or naphtha machine in full action will cordially attest, and the most ardent chaffeur must admit that the mechanical rival of the horse in these points are not altogether pleasing to the senses.

The automobile, with every other innovation, must take its share of banter, but when all is said, the auto, like the bicycle, has come to stay.

Many ingenious cartoons and terse sallies of wit have been launched at the expense of these machines and their owners, and the small American boy, in numbers, is not slow to follow behind, since he can hardly hang on at the rear and give jocular vent to his sentiments as the puffing machine goes by.

Went to Church. In an Eastern city a man proud in following "credo" of rules, drawn up by an old and hardened chaffeur.

Rules for Chaffeurs.

I. Some automobilists, like some women, go by contraries. When you wish to go ahead pull the reverse lever.

II. 'Tis a harbinger of ill luck to run over in consecutive order a cat, an old maid and peanut stand.

III. "You didn't know it was loaded" is no excuse.

IV. Some improvement in mechanism should be studied out whereby one arm may be left free for business and social duties.

V. It is inconvenient and embarrassing to run down and maim your own wife and family. "Try it on your neighbor's."

An eastern auto club is purported to have adopted the following rules of conduct:

No. 1.—Any member of the club found guilty of running over the same pedestrian twice within two months will be adjudged guilty of unsportsmanlike cruelty and censured.

Senator W. A. Clark in his auto on the boulevard through the White House lot in Washington. His guests are Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Mrs. Miles. The man beside the Senator is the chauffeur.

the possession of a brand new automobile designed to go to church in his modern chariot. When near the door of the sacred edifice he thought it meet and respectful to put on the soft pedal, but in some way grabbed the wrong lever and charged in through the front doors of the tabernacle, much to the confusion of the congregation in the rear pews.

Another story has it that a Tyro chaffeur took a friend to ride and, having turned the circling lever for the purpose of turning around, could not turn it off. As a result the machine described dizzy circles on the boulevard, gaining speed with every revolution and finally sending off both the chaffeur and his friend at a tangent, the one landing in an ornamental cactus bush and the other hanging pendantly from the iron picket of a millionaire's residence by the loose folds of his trousers.

The automobile is in Butte, and while the dizzy heights of our camp do not conduce to enjoying the sport from the speed standpoint, they do contribute elements of risk and novelty to a marked degree and serve to demonstrate that Butte is not behind hand in the pace of things.

Autos in Butte.

Colonel Gillie is the proud possessor of a splendid electric machine and Druggist Fair may be seen about town most any fine day, presiding at the lever of a new naphtha.

There are three other autos in Butte, quite an imposing number considering the standing of the Montana eques. Butte would have to be in possession of much convincing evidence in favor of the auto before "passing up," as it were, the Montana pony.

A good automobile in the hands of the expert chaffeur may prove a wonderful exhibition. The uninitiated stare with admiration when first they learn of the hills, declivities and seemingly inaccessible heights the automobilist traverses and surmounts at pleasure.

The automobilists of Butte made the

No. 2.—The autoist who first draws blood on a fleeing pedestrian has first claim to the scalp.

No. 3.—Any club member seen checking speed to avoid causing a runaway will be fined $10.

No. 4.—Unusual lenience in giving pedestrians a chance for their life will be regarded as cause for suspension, at the discretion of the club.

The above picture is taken from a photograph of Senator Clark's automobile, which he has had in use in Washington. This machine was manufactured by the Gardiner-Serpellet company of Paris. It is operated by steam, which is produced by the burning of petroleum under a coil of tubes. The steam is generated under a pressure of about 500 pounds per inch. There are no boilers. The exhaust steam from the cylinders is condensed in a coil of tubes under the front part of the vehicle, and the water resulting flows back into the reservoir. There is an automatic feed supply of both petroleum and water, and this can be regulated according to the speed required. There are gauges to indicate the steam pressure, as well as the air pressure on the petroleum reservoir. An application has been made for a device to turn the flames down when the vehicle is at rest, like the flame of a gas jet, so as to avoid the waste of fuel.

The normal speed of the machine is 40 to 50 miles per hour on macadamized roads, which may be increased to 60 miles per hour if desired. A device is now being manufactured that will indicate both the time and the speed at which the automobile is running.

The machine is absolutely noiseless. There are no vibrations, nor is there any odor from the burning petroleum. The machine weighs 3,500 pounds, and is a sample of the highest order of workmanship. It is an exact duplicate of the automobile ordered by King Edward VII, except the trimmings, which are in dark green. The machine will carry four persons besides the chauffeur.

100-PAGE BOOK FREE TO ALL SUFFERING FROM CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Thousands of unchallengeable proofs of cures sent sealed on application.

Our 100 page book is finely illustrated with many photographs, among them photographs and affidavits of the man whose head is shown here (see page 70 to 74, 100 page book), also an affidavit of photographer who took the pictures. The first picture was taken July 15, 1898, the other October 18, 1898. Our book shows a third picture taken Aug. 25, 1899, at which time patient was cured and face and head were entirely healed and his hair started to grow.

Our patients cured 15 years ago by our Great Discovery, unknown to the profession, are to-day sound and well, and have healthy children since we cured them.
