TRACY HIDING IN LAKE CREEK REGION

WAS SEEN LAST EVENING THREE AND A HALF MILES NORTHEAST OF ODESSA HEADED NORTH.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Spokane, Wash., August 4.—Harry Tracy, the outlaw, is believed to be hiding today in the rough Lake creek country, west of Harrington, waiting for darkness to sneak toward the wild region in southwestern Lincoln county. A special from Odessa states that a man answering his description was seen by Mrs. Graben, a farmer's wife, three and one-half miles northeast of that town, about 9:30 o'clock last evening. He was traveling north on the road that leads to Wilbur, riding one horse and leading another, and carrying two rifles. He did not stop nor speak to the woman as he passed. It is suspected that he merely turned north to find a hiding place.

Will Try to Head Him Off.
Sheriff Doust of Spokane with a posse goes West today to co-operate with Sheriff Gardner of Lincoln, Debolt of Douglas and Cuddehe of King counties. Gardner and a posse left Harrington this morning. Debolt left Reardon this morning, and is supposed to have gone to the Lake creek region. The plan of campaign is somewhat changed, the program now being to get in front of Tracy and head him off instead of pursuing him.
Debolt tried this plan Saturday night, lying in wait for the outlaw near Odessa, but the road forked and Tracy took the wrong fork, swinging south and missing the ambush.

IRISH ARE ANGRY AND WILL DESERT

ROSEBERY HAS LOST NATIONALIST SUPPORT BY ABANDONING THE GLADSTONIAN POLICY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, August 4.—Lord Rosebery's speech Thursday night, although creating little surprise, naturally attracted considerable attention in Ireland.

It was regarded as marking a definite departure of the ex-premier from Mr. Gladstone's Irish policy, which he supported from 1886 to 1896.
The nationalists accuse Lord Rosebery of flagrantly deserting the cause handed down to him by a great leader under sacred and pathetic circumstances and, anticipating that any possible liberal government must depend partly or wholly on the Irish vote in the house of commons, announce their determination to render his policy ineffectual.

Will Support the Opposition.
On the other hand, they are prepared to support Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman and Mr. Morley in carrying out the Gladstonian tradition. Mr. Gladstone, they say, taught English liberalism to trust in Ireland and Lord Rosebery would put back the clock to create the old suspicion on the one side and defiance on the other.
The Johannesburg correspondent of the Times strongly protests in a dispatch, against the attempts of influential houses to remedy the scarcity of labor by the introduction into the colony of Chinese and declares if those attempts are seriously pushed the government must intervene.

MUST CLOSE MINNIE HEALY

Supreme Court Denies Heinze's Plea For Re-hearing and Accepts Bonds For $600,000 as Filed By Appellant's Attorney.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]
Helena, August 4.—Unless F. Augustus Heinze seeks to attack one of the best bonds ever filed in the courts of the state, a bond for $600,000, which stands as an indemnity in the case of the injunction issued by the state supreme court restraining Heinze from operating the Minnie Healey mine, pending a decision by the supreme court on the merits of the title and ownership of the property, the injunction will be in full force and effect at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The supreme court this morning summarily denied Heinze's motion for a re-hearing of the court's recent order, enjoining him from operating the mine.

The Bond Filed.
Upon convening of court this morning, Attorney A. J. Shores, representing the appellant, Miles Finlen, in the celebrated Minnie Healey case, filed the bond required by the court when the injunction was issued.

The bond was for $300,000, but was given for double that amount with the following sureties: D. J. Hennessy, $150,000; Henry Muller, $100,000; A. F. Bray, $100,000; W. A. Clark, Jr., $125,000; A. J. Davis, $125,000.

Chief Justice Brantley was not present when the order of the court was handed when the order of the court was handed associate Justice Piggott, was stamped upon it.

Associate Justice Milburn dissented from the order of the court denying a re-hearing of the former order granting the injunction. He gave no reasons and all the talking was done by Justice Piggott, who presented the finding of the court, which follows:

The Finding.
"In the matter of Miles Finlen against F. Augustus Heinze and others, the motion of the respondents for a re-hearing of the appellant's application for an injunction, and to set aside and vacate the order of injunction thereon made, having been submitted on July 28, 1902, coming on for decision the court being fully advised in the premises, does now here order that the said motion of the respondents be and the same is hereby denied; it is further ordered that an opinion be hereafter prepared and filed as of August 4, 1902." Justice Milburn dissents.

In prefacing the order of the court, Justice Piggott said: "We have given the powerful and learned arguments of the distinguished and able counsel who appear on behalf of the motion, the most careful consideration. Deliberation and discussion have served to fortify the conclusions announced in the opinion hereto delivered." The opinion states: "The court is satisfied that the result is the only one that can logically be reached and Payne

HIGHWAYMEN REPLY BY FLOORING HIM

THOMAS HEALEY OBJECTS TO BEING HELD UP AND IS BEATEN WITH REVOLVER BUTT.

Highwaymen got in their work again in Butte last night and came very near killing Thomas Healey, a miner employed at the Diamond mine. He is now under the care of physicians.

Healey lives at No. 733 North Main street. Early last evening he came down and started home again about 11:30 o'clock. When near the old power house of the street railway company, near the north end of the city limits, three men, wearing masks over their faces, held him up and relieved him of a silver watch and all the money he had.

Healey demurred to the action of the desperados, and one of them struck him two blows on the head with a heavy revolver. Each blow cut the scalp to the bone and several stitches were required to draw the severed edges together. The blows rendered Healey unconscious and it was several minutes before he recovered sufficiently to get up.

The matter was reported at police headquarters today, and although Healey could not give a very good description of his assailants, an effort will be made to apprehend them.

PICKETS FIRE ON SUSPICIOUS MEN

THE CAMP AT SHENANDOAH IS ROUSED IN DEAD OF NIGHT AND INVESTIGATE THE ALARM.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Shenandoah, Pa., August 4.—The Eighth regiment had another call to arms last night. The pickets in the vicinity of the stables saw a man stealthily approaching the horses and he was commanded to stop. He probably did not see the sentry, because the instant he heard the soldier's command, the powder turned and fled down the side of the hill. Three bullets were sent after him, but he escaped. The sentry on the next post also saw a man running in the darkness, and he, too, fired at the fleeing figure. The sound of the shooting aroused the guard and bugle call to arms was immediately sounded. The whole regiment was quickly in line and Company H was sent out to investigate, but the mysterious person had disappeared.

Were About to Attack Horses.
After that the men were not again disturbed. Colonel Hoffman is of the opinion that the intruders were about to make an attack on the horses by hamstringing them or otherwise injuring them, so as to make the animals useless.

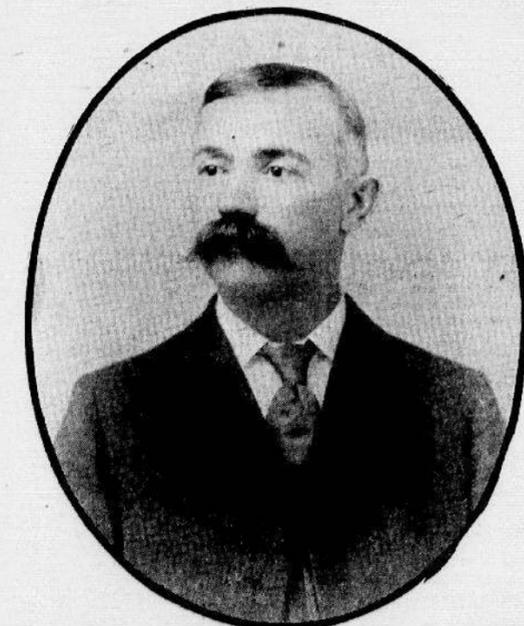

The camp today was quiet. Both regiments were put through drill and other camp routine.
The arrest of the men who took part in the riots of last week were made today. Everything is quiet today.

FELIX F. CASTELLANO DIES OF ERYSIPELAS

Felix F. Castellano, of No. 35 East Park street, died of erysipelas yesterday in Dr. Wells' hospital and his body will be shipped to Salt Lake for burial. The dead man leaves a wife, a son 18 years old and a daughter 12 years old. The son was at his bedside when death claimed him.
Mr. Castellano was born in Biella, Italy,

ing. In 1888 he came to Butte and entered the employ of Savin Lisa, one of the best known Italian citizens of Montana. After living here three years he and his wife, who was a Miss Davidson prior to her marriage, moved back to Salt Lake, where he was appointed sergeant of police. After finishing his term in that office

EMANCIPATION DAY IS MARKED BY BARBECUE

Old Plantation Times Revived by Tumbling Pickaninnies and Buxom Dames of Ebony Hue, in Flaming Dresses of Red and Green and Yellow—Two Hundred From Butte Take Train.

In the multi-colored crowd that gathered at the B. A. & P. depot this morning, there was a reflection of the old plantation days and in the merry babble that rose from the throng there was an echo of the sunny south.

To say that the crowd was multi-colored is not an exaggeration, but there was a prevailing color. It was ebony. There were other shades of course, but through it all there prevailed an unctuous and predominant ebony hue.

Butte's and Anaconda's colored population, to the number of 200 had assembled there to take the train to Basin, for this is Emancipation Day and from every city in the state Ethiopians are gathering in the little town for the grand celebration.

Major Dawson stood on the steps of the depot and rubbed his hands together with gleeful satisfaction as he watched the care-free holiday seekers congregate.

In Garments Gay.
First, on the early train from Anaconda, a delegation of about 30 arrived. They were gaily dressed and as they waited and looked forward with pleasurable anticipation for the arrival of their compatriots they made a merry gathering.

Soon the Afro-Americans began to come. From every car that stopped at the depot they swarmed out and such a blaze of color, such a babble of voices, and such a peal of laughter rarely seen or heard around that precinct. There were formal introductions at first and salutations that were as grandiloquent as they were hearty.

While there were a few men in the throng, the majority were of the fairer sex with a generous sprinkling of pick-

TOOK YOUNG GIRL INTO QUEER JOINT

MAN OF FIFTY IS ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE CONNECTED WITH CHILD OF FIFTEEN.

TWO ARE SEEN TO ENTER SALOON SEVERAL TIMES

Finally Spotted by Police, Who Land Offender, a Well-Known Bookkeeper, in Jail—Father of Victim Starts Out After Etrayer of His Daughter With a Gun, but Is Corralled by Officers.

E. J. Lane, who has been employed as a bookkeeper at various places in the city during the last 10 years, was arrested by Policemen James Lawson and P. H. Cassidy Saturday night on a charge of enticing Mary Casey into the rear room of a saloon in South Montana street. Lane and the girl were caught in the room, but the man who keeps the saloon says he did not know the girl was there, she having entered via the rear door.

Lane gave a bond of $500 for his appearance in the police court tomorrow, and the girl, who is not yet 15 years old, was released on her own recognizance.

The girl is the daughter of James Casey, an old faro dealer, who it is claimed is as square a man as ever turned a card. The Casey family lives in Dakota street, not a great way from the place where the girl and Lane were arrested.

Were Seen Several Times.
About a week ago Policeman Cassidy saw them enter a saloon and made it his business to watch developments. During last week he saw them there several times and consulted Assistant City Attorney Bollinger about it.

Saturday night he again saw Lane and the girl meet at the trying place and after waiting a few minutes he and Officer Lawson arrested both.

In view of the fact that Lane is a man nearly 50 years old and Miss Casey is a minor, the charge is a serious one and will be handled by the county after Judge Boyle gets through with it.

Last night the girl's father armed himself with a revolver and a knife and started after Lane, but was captured before the services of the coroner were needed. Had Casey run across Lane at the proper time, the chances are he would have sent him above the timber.

MRS. JOHN M. FOSTER DIES FROM CANCER

Mrs. John M. Foster died of cancer of the breast yesterday morning at the Foster home, No. 831 West Granite street, and will be buried at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. A. H. Henry of the Mountain View Methodist church will conduct the services.
Mrs. Foster was the wife of J. M. Foster, who came from Pennsylvania to Butte

Foster passed away. Two of the dead woman's brothers live in Pittsburg, one in Chicago and the other in Ohio. Mrs. Ray, one of the sisters, lives in Warren, Ind., and Mrs. Brady, the other, lives in Pittsburg. Mrs. Foster was born in Verango county, Pa., September 22, 1844. Mrs. Foster had been ill several months. Some time ago she sought relief in California. She spent two months there without benefit and then came back to Butte. Three months ago she went to New York and underwent the X-ray treatment for the ailment, but it did her no good. She returned from New York only three weeks ago. During the last few days of her life she suffered considerably.
