MURTO DISMISSED AS GIRL IS WELL

INJURY WAS NOT SO SERIOUS AS WAS THOUGHT—MAN IS FINED $10.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Jacob Murto, the man who was accused of having thrown a rock and hit little Clara Brown in the back, appeared in the police court this morning and was fined $10, and after the administration of some good advice, was allowed to go on his way rejoicing.

SMASHES WINDOWS FOR THE FUN OF DOING IT

Midnight Prowler Has Succeeded in Shying Rocks in Number of Houses on the East Side.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—"Jack the window smasher" is loose in Anaconda, and for the past few nights has been doing things up right. His field, however, seems to be limited to the thinly populated portion of the town, his favorite place being in the east end, where there are a great number of empty cabins and outhouses.

In the past week broken windows in four different vacant houses are credited to the unknown, besides those of two cabins which are occupied by bachelors.

NOTHING WILL BE TOO GOOD FOR TENNIS MEN

Anaconda Club Will Entertain Tournament Royally Should It Come to This City.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—President Jackson of the Sunset Tennis club of this city says that when the Helena tennis club comes to Anaconda next year to take part in the tournament, nothing will be too good for it.

The statement was prompted by the cordial treatment which the Anaconda boys received at the hands of the Helena club during the tournament there a few days ago. Mr. Jackson says the Helena boys made things very agreeable for the Anaconda club, leaving nothing undone that would add to their pleasure.

BACK FROM FISHING TRIP

Judge Napton and Family Had Good Sport Up in Granite County.

Anaconda, August 19.—Judge Welling Napton and family have returned from a week's camping trip in Granite county. The judge says he had a good time and caught some fish, and with the exception of one day when it rained was favored with excellent weather.

HUMANE SOCIETY IS TO BE ORGANIZED THURSDAY

Mrs. E. Irene Rood Says Prominent Men Have Promised Their Aid—Law to Go to the Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Mrs. E. Irene Rood, national representative of the American Humane association and Humane Education society, is in Anaconda trying to organize a branch of the organizations named here.

Mrs. Rood says that the Anaconda branch of the society may be organized Thursday night. The mayor and city officials and a number of prominent people have promised their aid.

UNIQUE COLLECTION OF VARIOUS ELK TROPHIES

R. T. Williams Snagged on to Number of the Different Badge Work at the Salt Lake Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—This town is the proud possessor of a collection of handsome and unique Elk badges and trophies obtained at the recent Elk meeting at Salt Lake.

He has a badge from the Lacrosse, Wis., Elks, shaped like a cross, and a Kentucky badge with a bottle of "Hunters" tied to it. There are several Southern badges with cotton tied to them, and a badge from Honolulu made of rice paper, with the picture of a native and a palm tree on it.

Among Mr. Williams' collection of canes is one containing a glass tube which will hold a jolt or two, if necessary to the preservation of life.

County Attorney Duffy and family have returned from Salt Lake and report having had a good time.

Bert Brown and Miss Rita Jones of Anaconda won the prize offered by the Miners' union for the most graceful waltzers.

Jim Brooks was yesterday sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge Quane and his partner, Joe Stein, was given three minutes in which to leave the city.

Christ Murry of Butte was yesterday fined $40 by Police Judge Hayes for disturbing the peace at Mountain View park on Sunday. Judge Hayes later remitted the fine.

JAMES THOUGHT HE WOULD LIKE PLACE

Just the Sort of House He Would Enjoy Life In—Handsome Stone Mansion Proves to Be Jail.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—A little story is going the rounds on John W. James. While he was absent on the recent trip to Cripple Creek, as a delegate to the grand lodge of the Woodmen of the World, the entire party from Montana stopped off in Salt Lake City. They were walking down the street and Mr. James was admiring a large stone house nearby, surrounded by a large lawn.

"There is a place to my liking, gentlemen," said Mr. James. "I would like to live in that place for the rest of my days. It is something I am used to."

Just then they rounded a clump of bushes and there glaring them in the face was the sign: "This way to the jail."

The rest of the gang did things to Mr. James.

CAMPING PARTIES FREEZING

Chilly Nights Up in Hills Make Blanket Trade Brisk.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Camping parties that went out several days ago to points high up in the hills are getting a little better assortment of the weather than they bargained for and yesterday the sight of several men getting a supply of blankets and comforters would indicate that the majority of campers out around here had neglected to take enough of those things with them.

Rather than give it up and come home a few days earlier, one of them comes to town and gets the necessary articles to keep himself and comrades from freezing to death.

Three different outfits were supplied in this manner yesterday. They say it is something awful the way the mercury goes down up in the hills these nights. It is the earliest and most severe cold snap Montana has had for some time, if the talk of the old-timers is to be believed.

GENERAL CEMETERY FOR THE USE OF ALL SECTS

Various Plots of Ground, Easily Accessible and Subject to Beautification, Are Considered.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Anaconda is at present interested in a project to establish a new general cemetery or series of cemeteries. It is proposed to buy a large tract of land and divide it up among the churches and fraternal societies and have all of the cemeteries, thus joined, under one management so as to make the whole a beauty spot and keep it in excellent condition at a minimum cost.

Ground near the Hill cemetery, south of the city, has been examined by a committee and a favorably situated piece of ground beyond the western suburbs near the Odd Fellows' cemetery has been suggested as a good site.

Such ground will be chosen as will allow the cemeteries to be beautified with shade trees and flowers, and at the same time easily accessible to town. A decision in the matter will be reached after the various pieces of property suggested have been examined.

EVERY SUNDAY WILL BE TAKEN TO SEASON'S END

Things Are to Be Done Right Along at Mountain View—Sons of St. George May Come.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Manager Phil Daniels of Mountain View park was over to Butte last night completing arrangements with the Society of St. George to hold their annual picnic here next Sunday. This is one of the big days in this part of the country, and an immense crowd is expected to be in attendance.

Mr. Daniels was also talking to the Knights of Pythias of Butte, and it may be that they will decide to hold a picnic later on. There are at the present time a great many on the boards for Mountain View, almost every Sunday being taken until the season draws so near a close that the changeable weather puts a stop to looking forward to a good day. The Blacksmiths' unions of Butte and Anaconda will hold a picnic before long.

INTEREST IN THE BIG FIGHT

Local Sports Thought Gardner Was Trifle the Better of the Two.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—The fight between Root and Gardner, which was pulled off last night, caused nearly as much excitement among the local sports as did that between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries. Gardner was a slight favorite, although many thought that Root would land the belt very easily.

A 17-round mill satisfied everybody, however, and the little betting that was carried on created no ill feeling against the fighters.

TO ATTEND A. O. H. MEETING

Number of Anacondans Have Left for Great Falls Convention.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 19.—Quite a number of Anacondans left this morning to attend the convention of the grand lodge of the A. O. H. of this state, which meets at Great Falls. They will arrive in time for the opening session this evening and will remain, in all probability, for several days.

The A. O. H. in this city is a very strong order. There are two divisions of it and both of these are sending delegations to Great Falls.

SPORTING NEWS

ROOT GOES DOWN BEFORE GARDNER

Both men fought hard and both stood well under punishment. As early as the seventh round it was evident that things were going much in favor of the San Francisco boy. Gardner knew his opponent's weakness and lost no opportunity to place his blows where they would do the most harm, namely on Root's stomach.

Up to the sixth round the fight was as speedily as one cares to see. After that both men plainly tired, Root showing to a slight disadvantage.

Root Gets Slight Advantage.

In the 12th round Root got his man going and followed up the advantage in the 13th. He rushed Gardner, evidently with the intention of landing a knockout blow in that round. Chance was against him, however, and a right hook on the mouth, the result of a wild swing by Gardner, brought the round to a close. Root was much the fresher of the two and things looked bright for the Chicago man.

Root still had the best of the going in the 14th round but came out of it by no means so fresh as he had been at the close of the preceding one.

Then Gardner seemed to gather new life. He started in to finish things in the 15th and rushed Root to the ropes, landing a succession of blows on the latter's stomach. Though weakened Root succeeded in jabbing a nasty one on Gardner's mouth. Again Gardner rushed his man to the ropes hammering away all the while on his opponent's stomach. Root was also exhausted and sank to the floor as the gong sounded.

Gardner had it all his own way after that and in the 16th round Root's seconds, seeing that their man was evidently all in and utterly unable to defend himself, saved him further punishment by throwing up the sponge.

It was a great fight. Both men were badly punished, and Gardner had all he could do in order to again win the title which he lost to Root but a few months ago.

THE FIGHT ROUND BY ROUND

Gardner and Root Enter Ring at 9:38—Harry Hinds the Referee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] It was 9:38 p. m. when Gardner and Root entered the ring and took their corners. Root was attended by Jack Donnelly and Thomas Murtaugh. Gardner was attended by Alec Greggains and Dave Barry. Harry Hynds of Cheyenne was named as referee.

Both men stripped beautifully. Their muscles stood out like whip-cords and it was evident that they were trained to the hour.

Round 1.—After fiddling a moment Root landed a light left on Gardner's face and followed with a heavy one to the same place. He repeated it an instant later, and sent his right to the ear. Gardner put two lefts to Root's stomach. Root forced the fighting, playing for Gardner's face and Gardner devoted his attention to Root's stomach. Root swung a heavy right to Gardner's ear, then tried a heavy right in the stomach. Gardner followed with right and left to Root's stomach. The blows were a trifle low.

Round 9.—They exchange lefts to the face. Root sends left to Gardner's mouth. Gardner sends left to Root's bleeding eye, shaking him up badly. Gardner sent left and right to Root's jaw. Root was plainly growing weak. Root opened Gardner's eye with a right hook. Root sent his right over Gardner's eye but was fiercely uppercut. Gardner was the stronger of the two as they returned to their corners.

Round 10.—Gardner forced the fighting and opened Root's eye with two right swings. Root jabbed. In a fierce mixup Root sent left and right in the stomach. Gardner uppercut Root three times in the face and getting him on the ropes Gardner sent a succession of rights and lefts to Root's stomach. This was decidedly Gardner's round.

YOUNG CORBETT WILL TRAIN IN CINCINNATI

Fight With McGovern Will Be Pulled Off on Sept. 15 Before the Southern Athletic Club, Louisville.

Much regret is expressed in sporting circles generally throughout the East over the necessity of postponing the Corbett-McGovern contest which was scheduled to take place at New London, Conn., on August 29. Ever since the two fighters went into training the state authorities have been continually asserting that the law would be carried out to the letter and the fight stopped at all hazards. The assertions were not much credited for a time but the officials became so aggressive in the matter that it was thought best to transfer the bout to Louisville where there is no law to stop the contest.

The attendance at New London would no doubt have been greatly affected by the reports that the fight would be stopped the minute the men stepped into the ring and that if nothing else makes the move a wise one. While the followers of fistic events will regret the postponement there is not likely to be much grumbling. The fight will be just as fierce at Louisville as it would have been at New London and there will, moreover, be nothing to fear from the authorities, an item by no means to be overlooked.

"Young" Corbett will do his training in Cincinnati where he has many friends and admirers who will watch with interest his daily preparations for the approaching battle. It is not yet announced where Terry will continue his training but it is thought he will select a place somewhere near Louisville.

The fight will take place before the Southern Athletic club on September 15.

THOMPSON WINS THE MATCH

Defeats McLaughlin, the Montana Wrestler, in Clever Style.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Salt Lake, August 19.—Preliminary to the Jack Root-George Gardner 20-round contest at the Salt Palace last night was a wrestling match between B. C. McLaughlin of Montana and Prof. Eugene Thompson of Salt Lake, best two in three falls for a $500 purse and a side bet of $500.

Thompson won the first fall with a combination Nelson bar hold in eight minutes. The second bout was won by McLaughlin, in 10 minutes and a half by a half-Nelson and body hold. The third bout and the match was won by Thompson in nine and one-half minutes by a Nelson and bar hold.

SCANNELL LOSES FORFEIT

Fails to Take Up Option on The Abbott on Account of Horse's Lameness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, August 19.—John J. Scannell announces from Saratoga that the option held by E. P. Smathers on The Abbott expired last Saturday and that Mr. Smathers had failed, on account of the lameness that prevented The Abbott from meeting Lord Derby at Brighton Beach, to take it up. Consequently he loses the $8,000 he put up to bind the option.

Mr. Scannell has received from various prospective buyers $20,500 in forfeits of the same kind and he paid only $26,500 for the horse when he bought him at the Hamlin sale at Madison Square Garden. Mr. Scannell says that The Abbott's lameness is only temporary.

HARRIS WITHDRAWS FORMER CONDITION

WILL MEET ANY MAN IN THE WORLD, CORNISH STYLE, AT 158 POUNDS.

Tony Harris, the Cornish wrestler, has forwarded a communication to the sporting editor of the Inter Mountain, stating that he will disregard his first conditions to the match proposed with an unknown.

"The man who was backing me," says Harris, "leaves Wednesday for Michigan, but I will try and secure other backers and will wrestle any man in the world, Cornish style, at 158 pounds. If there are any men here in Butte who want the job I am willing to go as far as my backing will permit. I will wrestle either in Butte or at any place selected, either in America or across the water. I have enough for a forfeit and will concern myself only with the conditions and the amount of the purse."

ROWE OUT WITH A CHALLENGE

Wants to Meet the Winner of the Coming Dundon-Corrigan Foot Race.

Morris Rowe, the local sprinter, has issued a challenge to the winner of the coming foot race between Dundon and Corrigan. The race is to be at 100 yards and for any amount up to $1,000.

Rowe has the best of backing and it is thought that his challenge will be accepted by the winner of the race, which is scheduled to take place at the Gardens on September 14.

About Amateur Oarsmen. [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, August 19.—The middle states' yachting regatta has just held a meeting to decide on the eligibility of college oarsmen to row under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

It was voted that a collegian who has rowed in a varsity crew be classified a senior. A collegian who has rowed in any race is classified as an intermediate.
