BLOOD OF ROOSTER TO BIND THE OATH

CELESTIAL WHO WANTS TO BRING SUIT IN COURT DISDAINS "MELICAN" STYLE.

"NO TELLEE TLUTH 'LESS LOOSTER BLOOD" IS USED

It All Comes About Over an Important Transaction Involving a Horse and Wagon and a Cow and a Calf—Loo Quack Pot Says Kow Poy Got the Best of Him and He Wants Blood.

Everybody with a funny idea and every man who has a grievance presents himself one time or another at the county attorney's office. This morning it was a Chinaman. His name was Loo Quack Pot, and he wanted to start a law suit against another Chinaman named Kow Poy. Kow Poy had bought two horses and a wagon from him, but had not paid in full for them, and it was the collection of the balance that worried Quack Pot.

Kow Poy was to have paid $40 and a cow and calf for the wagon and horses. One of the latter was blind and the other balky. Quack Pot said that the $40 had been paid, but that the calf had died in the hands of a third Chink named Sin Goo, to whom the cow and calf had been delivered by Kow Poy for him, and that Sin Goo wanted him to pay $9.40 for feed eaten by the cow while in his hands.

Loo Quack Pot's Version. Loo Quack Pot ascertained that Kow Poy had agreed in the presence of two other Chinamen, Buck Suey and Mut Kee, that he would deliver the cow and calf into his hands, so he did not regard the delivery to Sin Goo as delivery to him, and he did not hold himself as liable for the feed bill.

Quack Pot was told that the case was plain if Buck Suey and Mut Kee would swear to the agreement that they witnessed. But here came up one of the queerest ideas that has been turned loose in the county attorney's office for a long time.

Quack Pot declared that Mut Kee and Buck Suey cared nothing for the white man's oath, and that, being members of Kow Poy's gang, they would testify against Quack Pot and say they knew nothing of such an agreement unless sworn in court in Chinese fashion.

Bind Oaths By Blood.

The Chinaman binds his oath in blood, and Loo Quack Pot wanted that done to Buck Suey and Mut Kee. He was very clear about the matter and his English was plain. He wanted the head of a rooster cut off in court, when each witness should be sworn and the blood of the bird allowed to run over the hands of the man taking the oath.

He said there was no use in going to law about the calf he did not get, unless Mut Kee, Buck Suey, Kow Poy and the rest should be sworn in that fashion. "Melican manee swell him no gooddee," he said. "Killee looster; puttee him hands heap muchee blooddee, tellee tluth."

After Quack Pot had made the matter clear he was told that the case would be taken under advisement, and that if a justice who would swear the witnesses in the way described could be found the suit would be brought.

GREEN GOODS MEN BROUGHT TO EARTH

BIGGEST ROUND UP OF SWINDLERS EVER MADE IN NEW YORK IS REPORTED TODAY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, August 22.—What is to be the biggest round up of green goods swindlers ever made by the federal authorities in this city was reported today. Five men and a woman were taken into custody and an entire green goods plant was captured. The prisoners are: Joseph R. Baker, Elmer Brown, S. Gottlieb and Newark, N. J., and George Brown and Thomas Henry were arrested in this city.

According to the police inspector he received a complaint against the prisoners from one of their victims. Many complaints have reached the police recently and the alleged "plant" was located in Newark after much work. Yesterday the inspectors saw a man come to the house in the company of Elmer Brown, the alleged "steerer," and followed by Baker, who, it is said, was the "trailer."

The pair entered the house and later came out. The victim carried a miniature trunk about 10 inches long and four wide. The "steerer" took the victim to an express office, where the little trunk, which the victim thought contained $1,000 in bills printed from stolen government plates, was shipped to New Haven.

Then the inspectors placed the "steerer" and the "trailer" under arrest. The victim said he had paid $300 for the supposed money, and was thunderstruck when the inspector secured the trunk and showed him that it contained nothing but slips of green paper, cut to the size of bills.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON HIS NEW ENGLAND TOUR

New Haven First Place Visited by the President—Military Guard Escorts Party Through the City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New Haven, Conn., August 22.—President Roosevelt entered upon his New England tour today and New Haven was the first place visited. The yacht Sylph, bearing the president, arrived at Belle dock about 1:15 p. m., having made the run up New Haven harbor to the accompaniment of universal salutes. The president acknowledged the salutes from the yacht's quarter deck. He came ashore at 1:20 p. m., at a special landing constructed for the occasion.

Mayor John F. Studley and a committee from the board of aldermen greeted the president and his party and conducted them to the carriages in waiting.

Troop A, Connecticut National Guard, constituted the military escort. The program provided for nothing but a drive and the progress of it took the distinguished visitor through the slums, the factory quarters and the center of the city. The factories and shops were closed and the city was gaily decorated in flags and bunting.

The president's train left the Belle dock yards promptly at 2:30 p. m. The president stood on the rear platform of the train and bowed repeatedly to the throngs. The locomotives and factory whistles in the vicinity sounded parting salutes for several minutes.

COUNT OF INCA IS MEDICINE PEDDLER

LAST OF THE MONTAZUMAS HAS BEEN ALL OVER THE COUNTRY SELLING SWAMP ROOT CURES.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Missoula, August 22.—Nanzeta Montezuma, Count of Inca, who is now electrifying reporters of Butte with wild tales of his origin and career, is merely a man who sells Swamp Root and whose itinerary extends throughout nearly every portion of the United States. The reporter that he has never visited the Northwest before, but several persons who reside here have seen him in other places where he plied his vocation as a vendor of a remedy for the chills and fever.

One resident of Missoula met the alleged count a couple of months ago in Joplin, Mo., and during the recent visit of the vendor to this city, he talked with him concerning his experience in the Missouri town.

When Nanzeta alighted from the train in Missoula he had in charge several boxes of Swamp Root, which were carried to his hotel by a boy. His stay in Missoula was short, but not so short that his powers of imagination were denied activity. He told the wondering inhabitants of this city that he was positively the last of the Montezumas and with his decline the famous race would pass out. He played engagements in all the cities west of here and secured the publication of his story in the newspapers from the coast to the Montana line.

Missouri residents who knew the count in Joplin say it is the same tale he used to bolster up his Swamp Root deals.

HIGGINSON KEEPS GUARD ON COAST

REAR ADMIRAL'S SQUADRON FINDS NO TRACE OF IMAGINARY ENEMY—GAME GROWS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rockport, Mass., August 22.—The battleships of Rear Admiral Higginson's squadron defending the New England coast from an imaginary attack by a fleet under Commander John E. Pillsbury were plainly seen in the clear from this port this morning. The other vessels of Higginson's command were maintaining guard of the coast. The night passed without unusual incident and no trace of the "enemy" was reported from any of the signal stations.

All conditions at the beginning of the day were considered as favoring the defending fleet, as apparently it would be inviting detection were Commander Pillsbury to attempt to approach the coast under a cloudless sky and with absolutely no mist or haze to obstruct vision for miles and miles at sea. Nevertheless, the coast guard ships were on the move early in the morning.

Off towards Cape Cod were the Brooklyn and the Olympia. The battleships Kearsarge, Massachusetts and Alabama were outside Straitsmouth point, near Thatcher island, their position being at about the center of the line of defense. The Mayflower and the Scorpion were on duty off the Isles of Shoals and the other vessels were stationed at more distant points or were moving to and fro, acting as patrols along the picket lines.

Just after 8 o'clock the torpedo boat Bagley was sent into this port to get dispatches.

Rockport, Mass., August 22.—(On board the flagship Kearsarge, Friday, August 22, 11 a. m.)—Admiral Higginson has his three battleships at anchor in the same position that they occupied at sundown last night. With steam up, they are ready to start for any point at the slightest warning.

The thick fog obscured the vision of the lookouts on the ships early this forenoon and more uncertainty was apparent on board than has been seen at any previous time since the maneuvers began, as it was the opinion that it was an opportune time for Commander Pillsbury and his fleet to make a dash under cover of the fog and land at some convenient point selected during the previous clear weather.

The possibilities were fully discussed on board today. It was known that Commander Pillsbury's authority enabled him to take possession of certain steam yachts, such as tug or a yacht, that came his way if he used in connection with his plan of attack.

It is figured that if he should do so, he might place aboard such a craft a force of his ship's crew, and under this disguise land them near some lighthouse or signal station used by the defenders, and thereby interrupt the system of communication maintained by Admiral Higginson and cause any amount of trouble.

Matters certainly are on a war basis on the defending fleet. Yesterday afternoon drill was dispensed with and officers and men alike stored up plenty of good sleep in anticipation of the enemy being located during the night. The watch slept on deck prepared for instant call.

Once during the night there was an exciting moment. At 11 o'clock a flash signal came from shore. When the message was completed there was a tumult, for it stated that the enemy was entering Salem harbor. An instant later, however, the message was amended, it having been discovered that the fleet included a three-masted schooner, a yacht and a scouting torpedo boat.

SCIENTIST FROM BERLIN IS HERE

REPRESENTATIVE OF GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL INVESTIGATE BEET SUGAR CULTURE.

Dr. Peter Mussigbrod of Warm Springs, is in Butte today introducing to his friends Dr. Ullrich Gerber, a representative of the department of agriculture of the German government. Dr. Gerber is one of a commission for special employment and who have a roving commission to study and report on agricultural work in foreign countries. Dr. Gerber is now investigating beet sugar culture in the United States and will doubtless visit the Bitter Root valley, where recent experiments in that branch of agriculture have been successfully made. Later he will go to Senator Clark's sugar plantation at Los Alamitos, Cal.

Peculiar interest attaches to Dr. Gerber's visit from the fact that he is a graduate of the same university from which Dr. Mussigbrod graduated.

CONDITIONS FAVOR ATTACKING FLEET

tended to Sankaty head, on Nantucket, where the wireless telegraph station is located. From there all incoming vessels will be queried as to whether or not they have seen any of Commander Pillsbury's ships and the results of these investigations will be signalled to the scout boats or the land stations.

By 11 o'clock the fog had lifted and the battleships were seen in their usual positions. Observations in the distance was impossible owing to the haze, which hung low to the water. All the signal and lookout stations reported during the forenoon, showing that the message system was intact. All the scout boats were heard from before 11 o'clock, either at the station here or on board the Kearsarge.

It is learned that the rules of the maneuvers in which the vessels are engaged permit the "destruction" of the ships of the opposing squadron, and the fear that Pillsbury may dash in and "disable" one of these vessels, is one reason why the defending fleet has kept so compact by Admiral Higginson.

COLOMBIA MINISTER CABLES HIS REPORT

DISCUSSES RECENT SEIZURE OF THE BRITISH VESSELS BY THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, August 22.—Minister Hart at Bogota, Colombia, has cabled the state department in regard to the situation in that country. After referring to the unrest and rather serious condition that exists and the fact that troops are being hurried to the front by the government, he discusses the subject of seizure of vessels by the Colombian government.

As the seizures concern British vessels alone, the officials of the department here will not make public or discuss the contents of Minister Hart's report. The United States treaty provides for the seizure of vessels for war purposes upon the payment of proper indemnity.

Rev. J. W. Tait and family have returned to Butte after attending the conference and enjoying a few weeks' outing in Bozeman. Mr. Tait will preach in Grace church at the usual hours on Sunday.
