

INTER MOUNTAIN'S ANACONDA DEPARTMENT

BAILEY THOUGHT HE WAS ON FIRE

BOOKKEEPER HAS THE NIGHTMARE AND ROUSES ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD ON THE WEST SIDE.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—"Charley! Charley! Come here! Help! Help!" These words, floating down the hall and through the second story window of a west end residence last night, caused a half score of pajama-clad clerks to spring from their beds and crowd into one room from whence they came.

Murder, thieves, kidnapping, they were ready for anything, for the blood-curdling cries for help had awakened them from a sound sleep and caused their hair to stand on end as though it had been waxed for months past.

The reason of it was Harry Bailey, who is pleased to call himself one of that class of God's noblest works, a good bookkeeper, had the nightmare. A sound crack over the head with a stove-poker wielded by Andy Haslen served to bring him out of his trance and make an apology for rousing every one in the house at such an unholy hour.

Around his bed he saw grouped Tim Kelly, Joe Kelly, Peter Collins, L. L. La-Rose, Andy Haslen, and numerous others who had grasped the first thing they could lay their hands on and rushed to aid a comrade whom they had good reason to believe was being murdered in his bed. Bailey was embarrassed but he saw his finish if he did not explain, so with his eye on Haslen and the poker, he undertook the job.

Says Bailey: "Well I dreamed that La-Rose and I were rooming together and that he, coming in and finding me asleep, got a five-gallon can of kerosene and poured it all over me, then touched a lighted match to it. I thought I saw Charley Tuttle going by and I was calling to him to come and put the fire out and save my life."

"Well," said Haslen, "didn't you know that Tuttle was an undertaker? Why didn't you call for Pete Collins or me?" This question Bailey could not answer and the gang went back to bed vowing vengeance on Bailey if he ever got on fire again.

SOCIALIST MAYOR TALKS ON CAUSE OF UNIONISM

Massachusetts Man Congratulates West on Labor Conditions—Address by Butte Labor Leader.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—There was a large crowd present at Turner hall last night to hear the addresses on labor questions delivered by ex-Mayor Chase of Haverhill, Mass., and Martin Elliott of Butte.

Mr. Chase was thoroughly conversant with the subject. He congratulated the labor unions in the West and said the East and South could learn much from the even conditions in the region of the Rockies.

Mr. Elliott outlined the general conditions in the United States and argued in favor of unionism everywhere.

SALT LAKE HERALD IS RIGHT SORT OF SHEET

Gives Boston & Montana Band Credit for Being Finest Organization Seen at Convention.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—Citizens of Anaconda are gratified to see an account in the Salt Lake Herald which gives the Boston & Montana band of Butte credit for being the best musical organization that competed for the $1,000 prize at the Elks' carnival.

The people of this city were interested in the Montana band no less than were the citizens of Butte, and much indignation has been expressed over the unjust criticism on the part of some of the Utah papers.

"DOPEY" MUST LEAVE CITY

Arrested on Charge of Theft and Released on Condition of Decamping.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—A young man familiarly known about the police station as "Dopey," was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing several pictures from the Margaret theater, the charge being made by Manager Frank Collins. The prisoner was found guilty yesterday afternoon and sentenced to six months in the county jail. Sentence was suspended, however, on condition that "Dopey" depart from the city immediately.

RAPID PROGRESS ON HIGH SCHOOL

HANDSOME STRUCTURE WILL FILL IN NICELY UNSIGHTLY GAP IN MAIN STREET EDIFICES.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—It is with a great deal of interest that the citizens of Anaconda watch the rapid progress that is being made in the construction of the new high school building. The first story is nearly complete, as far as the laying of the brick and stone work is concerned. The arch over the main entrance, which will be on Main street, is nearly finished and the inside work on the first floor is so far finished as to allow the plasterers to commence work next week. As the building assumes definite proportions, the effect the finished structure will have in the appearance of upper Main street is more noticeable. It will fill up a vacant spot that for several years has been the only break in large buildings from the Margaret theater to the courthouse.

It is expected that the edifice will be completed this winter, in time for the removal from the other building to be made before the holidays.

BOSOM FRIENDS BATTLE AND HEADS ARE BROKEN

Green-eyed Monster Comes Between Women of Austrian Birth, Who Employ Broomsticks.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—Considerable diversion was furnished in Judge Hayes' court yesterday by an Austrian woman, named Mrs. Louise Tropich, who demanded that a warrant be sworn out with dispatch for the arrest of Mrs. Harbolic, another Austrian woman, who had formerly been her bosom companion and bosom friend. It seems that the green-eyed monster came between them and Mrs. Tropich sought Mrs. Harbolic in the rear of a saloon, looking for trouble.

In the fracas that resulted Mrs. Harbolic hit Mrs. Tropich over the head with a broom. It was for this blow that Louise desired to swear out the warrant. Judge Hayes advised the excited woman to return later, pending an investigation of the case. In telling her troubles to the court the Austrian woman delivered an emphatic dissertation on things in general in the Austrian dialect. Later the warrant was refused and the complainant departed avowing her intention to "go see him Duffy," who, she declared, would give her a warrant "you bet." At last reports Mrs. Tropich had not obtained her warrant.

BEHTOL APPOINTED AS SUCCESSOR TO SEARS

Selected Out of Long List of Applicants to Be Principal of Lincoln Public School.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—At a meeting of the board of education last night the action of President FitzPatrick in engaging Karl A. Behtol of the Ogden public schools, to fill the position of principal of the Lincoln school, was ratified.

Mr. Behtol was selected from a number of applicants by the board chairman when he went to Utah several days ago. The position to be filled is the one vacated by Arthur Sears some time ago, after he had been officially retained for another year. The salary attached to the office is $125 a month, and the position a desirable one.

The board also voted to retain a number of janitors whose work through the past year has been satisfactory. A meeting of the committee on rules was called for next Monday evening for the purpose of selecting a code for use during the coming year.

Miss Julia Stafford was engaged as a substitute teacher in the city schools, and a number of other matters attended to, among them that of ordering the payment to Contractors Dolan and Hamill of $4,046.85 for their work.

SENDS JUDGE BOX OF CIGARS

Prisoner is Grateful for Quiet Tip Given Him While Inebriated.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—Police Judge Hayes received a box of cigars yesterday, the fine Havanas having attached a card bearing the compliments of one John Adams, who was a few days ago fined by Judge Hayes for being drunk. In pronouncing sentence his honor had made some remarks calculated to exercise a fatherly influence over the offender and in concluding the judge told Adams that he had been told that he (Adams) had left some money in a saloon.

Adams upon being released investigated and found that he had deposited $60 in the saloon named. Adams had forgotten all about it and the money was velvet. In his gratitude he bought the cigars.

NEAT SUM COUNTY OWES TO CITY IN BACK TAXES

Report of Expert Shows That Municipality Is Out Something Like Fourteen Thousand Dollars.

According to J. H. Callan, who was employed as an expert to examine the county tax books to ascertain the amount of delinquent taxes the city claims the county owes, there is lost to the city forever a total of $14,566.00 on personal taxes that were never collected. The report shows that on penalties and interests collected by the county, but claimed by the city, the city has lost $5,630.53.

CHERUBS SAY HATS HAVE DISAPPEARED

SO THEY HAVE, INTO THE MAW OF CHIEF OF POLICE, WHO KEEPS UNTIL CALLED FOR.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—It seems that the youngsters of Anaconda take a notion about every so often that they should become proficient in the act of getting off and on street cars while in motion, and this has in the past caused the motormen no little bother.

It is a favorite pastime with them to meet the cars far down Third street and catch on and ride the rest of the way up town, or as far as they can before they are seen by those who have the cars in charge. When doing this they get off and on and enjoy it very much, not thinking that they are in danger of getting hurt. The street car men make a practice of grabbing their hats, this seeming to be the most effective means of stopping the practice. The hats are turned over to the chief of police who keeps them until they are called for.

The result is that every three or four months the chief has a collection of toppieces that is hard to beat, the boys preferring to report the thing lost and get a new one than to go there after it.

DANGER FROM BONFIRES

South Cherry Street Folk Wants Children to Stop Using Matches.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—South Cherry street residents made complaint yesterday to the police authorities regarding the building of bonfires by the small boys of the neighborhood. Last year property was destroyed by fire resulting from children playing with matches, and it is sought to prevent a repetition of the conflagration.

Notice of Publication Ordered.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—In the district court this morning, in the matter of the estate of W. H. Conley, deceased, an order was made directing publication of notice to creditors.

SMALLER PERCENT THAN EVER BEFORE

ANACONDA HAS NEVER BEEN IN SUCH A HEALTHY CONDITION—ALLEYS ARE KEPT CLEAN.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, August 21.—Noticeable improvement in this city are shown in the condition of the streets and alleys at the present time. Never in the history of the city have they been in a cleaner or more healthful state, and this fact the physicians say has a great deal to do with the scarcity of contagious diseases here this summer.

There has been less sickness in Anaconda the past season than has been the case for many summers past. It is attributed to a large extent to the absence of filth and debris in parts of the city which formerly teemed with disease-producing germs.

The hospital oftentimes in years gone by crowded to the utmost at this time of the year, has now but a limited number of patients, and a large number of them are confined with minor illnesses or injuries traceable to overwork or carelessness.

RALLY ROUND THE FLAG

kings; treasurer, P. H. Manchester. The election of the men named was made by acclamation.

A committee consisting of C. H. Moore, Ralph Lewis, M. E. LeBlanc and Bert Stephens was chosen to draft by-laws for the club and was instructed to report at the next meeting.

All this was accomplished without the usual exchange of convention pleasantries. When the selection of treasurer of the club was up before the meeting it was remarked that the man elected would have to look out for a deficit of about $12.

Bits of Airy Periflage. Like a flash J. E. Rickards sprang up and said: "With malice aforethought I nominate my good friend Clinton Moore."

"There was a roar of laughter which broke out again when Mr. Moore, not to be outdone in convention courtesy, returned the nomination, selecting Mr. Rickards as a target for honorable mention.

Then President Kirk deferred the selection of a certain committee and Mr. Rickards pulled the constitution of the club and pointed it threateningly at the chair.

"Now I know Governor Rickards is going to object," said Mr. Kirk. "That is what I will do," was the reply. "I read in the constitution that all committees and officers of the club must be elected and not appointed."

"Oh, I guess not," said the president. "This motion was carried unanimously and I am going to sustain the majority."

So with good-natured debate and keen flashes of wit, the meeting went on until the routine business of the evening was over and the speech-making began.

Yoder's Splendid Address. Vice-President A. N. Yoder made a splendid address. He warmed up to his work and in ringing tones extolled the party of protection, and hurled hot shot in the camp of the opposing political forces.

When he touched on the local situation and spoke of a divided democracy and the certain chance of victory for the republican forces of the county, round after round of applause rang out.

"I see seated in the rear of the room former Senator Lee Mantle," said President Kirk. "I don't believe he is trying to hide. We all want to hear him on this occasion; Mr. Mantle come forward."

Mr. Mantle walked to the rostrum and delivered one of his characteristic speeches in his usual forceful style. He praised the party of protection and lauded President Roosevelt, taking a fling at the democrats and referring to the dark days of the Cleveland administration in cutting sarcasm that brought forth rounds of cheers.

The Only Issue Left. "The only issue left for democrats is that of imperialism," said he, "and if they want to face us on that issue, let them come on. We will give them such a beating as they have never known before, and prove that patriotism is still the guiding star of the people of this great republic."

Mr. Mantle spoke of the state of the political situation, predicting victory for republicans at the November election.

Then George M. Bourquin was called for, and calls for this eloquent young republican were interspersed with demands for a speech by former Governor Rickards. Mr. Bourquin mounted the platform and was received with cheers.

"I know that the hour is late," said he, "and I will not detain you long. There is much of a discouraging nature before us, as republicans, and much that is encouraging. When we see men reviling the flag and calling down maledictions upon the soldiers of the country for performing their duty to the flag, we are discouraged at the sight and believe that American citizens have forgotten their patriotism; but when we remember that such policies never win, when we recall the splendid triumphs of republicanism and patriotism, we are encouraged to believe that the time is coming when in every state and county the rule of the party of protection to American labor and American industries will be supreme."

An Eloquent Effort. Mr. Bourquin was as eloquent last evening as he has ever been when speaking in the councils of the republican party. He discussed the state and national issues, touched up the labor party and the socialists, and spoke of the prospect of republican victory in Silver Bow county this fall. His speech was greeted with earnest applause and when he paused during the course of his eulogy of the flag an enthusiastic republican sang out the lines:

"When its up its up to stay and we'll neved pull the old flag down."

Arousing chorus of cheers greeted this familiar line and the cheers were repeated when the speaker finished his remarks.

President Kirk announced that another meeting of the club would be held as soon as the night could be set upon a time when there was no other meeting in the Auditorium. "We have some trouble in getting this hall just when we want it," said he, "but I think the next meeting of the club will be in about two weeks from tonight."

Want Everybody to Hustle. "In the meantime," continued Mr. Kirk, "I want every republican in Silver Bow county to work for the success of this club. I want the members to get more members. I want them to take the cards for application for membership, and hustle around among every republican voter on the books. There will be no fees. A few of us who have charge of the affair will chip in and pay for the stationery and that is all the expense there will be. What we want is a good membership and we are getting it every day. Every republican in the county will belong to this club and we will win the election by the means outlined here in this, our first meeting of the campaign."

Another round of cheers greeted the remarks of the popular and eloquent president and the meeting adjourned.

M. JUSSERAND SPEAKS WELL AFTER DINNER AND HIS WIFE IS AN AMERICAN.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, August 21.—M. Jusserand, as French ambassador to the United States, will be a welcome acquisition to Washington society, says a Paris cable. M. Jusserand was born in 1855. The greater portion of his diplomatic career was passed in England. He has written several books in English, bearing upon English poets of the Elizabethan era. He is a bright and witty conversationalist and a capital impromptu after-dinner speaker. He has been minister at Copenhagen for four years.

Mme. Jusserand is an American. She was formerly Miss Richards, daughter of a partner in the banking house of Munroe & Co.

M. Jusserand is at his post at Copenhagen and is not expected in Paris before October.

GERMANS PREPARE TO GREET EMANUEL

BERLIN MAKES ELABORATE PREPARATIONS FOR THE PROPER RECEPTION OF ITALY'S KING.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, August 21.—Gilded masts surmounted by evergreen crowns are being set up along Unter den Linden in preparation for the entry into Berlin of King Victor Emanuel of Italy, Thursday next. The Unter den Linden midway is being boarded throughout its length by large rows of potted greens. The program for the king's entertainment, which includes receptions, state dinners and a daily performance at the opera, ends on Saturday with the great fall parade of troops on the temple of field.

The object of King Victor Emanuel's visit, as explained at the Italian embassy, is that the young king is making his first call since his accession upon his friend, the emperor, that such was the only purpose of his visit to Russia and that it is quite probable that the king will visit France next year.

Australia is not likely to be visited by King Victor Emanuel for the reason that Emperor Francis Joseph has never returned the late King Humbert's visit to Vienna, because he wished to avoid offending the vatican by seeing King Humbert in Rome. As King Victor Emanuel, on his visit to Berlin, will be attended by the Italian premier, Signor Zanardelli, the relations between Italy and Germany will naturally be discussed, but anything approaching negotiations with a definite object growing out of the question of King Victor Emanuel's disarmament proposals, are for the emperor's personal ear and are not official and the fruitlessness of making them is already well understood by the ministers here. As for the rest, the Berliners are looking forward to a brilliant show and officialdom deprecate a wearisome series of functions, while the king is here.

As to Cuba. [Seattle Post-Intelligencer.] The roll of the splendid equipment left for Cuba by the United States when its term of occupancy ended is a proud one. The question is, what portion of these facilities for education, transportation and sanitation will be found in working order after a few years of the present administration there.
