

Doings of Society.

BUTTE society has had a pretty lively time this week. Large receptions and informal teas, well luncheons and dinners "en famille," picnic outings and tally-ho parties, wedding receptions and candy pulling matches, with the usual quota of whist, euchre and bid-euchre have kept the votaries of society in a whirl of excitement.

The following paragraphs tell the story in detail.

IN GARDENS' PAVILION.

Mrs. Charles Clark Entertains Butte Elite in Charming Fashion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark gave a reception and dancing party Monday evening in the pavilion at Columbia Gardens in honor of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Connell of Los Angeles, Cal.

The large hall, with its elaborate decorations and highly-polished floor, made a rich setting for the handsomely gowned women and their gallant escorts. Red bunting, forming an immense canopy, was suspended from the ceiling and caught up at the sides with bows of silk.

Artistic draperies and large tapestries covered the walls. Entrance to dressing-rooms were hidden behind rich curtains, and the musicians' gallery prettily decorated. The large alcoves on the west side was made attractive with fine hangings, rare Oriental rugs, chairs and easy seats on which to rest and watch the merry dancers. The most charming spot of all was the East India room. Luxuriously beautiful were the many choice pieces of Eastern art that made this cozy, comfortable retreat. Unique draperies from the Orient, Turkish and Indian rugs, tea-wood and other stands gave a glimpse of Oriental luxury seldom witnessed. The famous Boston & Montana band was at its best in the latest dance music and no company danced amidst more pleasant surroundings or greater facilities for thorough enjoyment.

Mrs. Charles Clark was charmingly attired in a white mousseline de soie gown, with corsage yoke of rose point lace and pearls. Mrs. Clark was assisted in receiving by Mrs. M. J. Connell, who wore a stunning gown of white satin crepe, lavishly trimmed with Irish lace and a coral dog-collar banded with diamonds. Mrs. J. K. Clark was elegantly gowned in a hand-knitted mousseline de soie set off by some handsome diamonds. Miss Hammond of California wore a lovely cream Canton crepe with Egyptian lace trimmings and pearls. Miss Scallion was gowned in a beautiful pink dotted silk mull, chiffon and satin trimmings and diamonds.

Supper was served in the private dining room, the floral decorations of which were refreshingly sweet and greatly admired.

The list of guests was as follows:

MERRY DUTCH LUNCH.

Follows Dance Given at Columbia by Mrs. W. B. Hamilton.

Mrs. W. B. Hamilton and a party of friends went out to Columbia Gardens Thursday night and enjoyed a dance on the polished floor of the pavilion.

At a late hour they returned to Mrs. Hamilton's home on West Galena, where in a beautifully decorated dining room, a cheery Dutch lunch was served to Mesdames H. W. Trumer, J. Templeman and F. Holbrook, the Misses Viola Horgan, Harriet Young, Madge Marks and Clara Hamilton, Judge Clark, J. Murray, Will Horgan, McCormick and L. Napton.

BOWLING PARTY.

At the Thornton Is Followed by a Supper Given by Miss Shores.

Miss Shores gave a bowling party in the Thornton alley Thursday evening. The lady's prize, a pretty vase, was won by Miss Hammond, while George Busch captured the gentlemen's prize, a useful and ornamental stein.

After the games the party ascended to the dining room of the hotel for supper. The table was decorated in quaint fashion with radishes, onions, cauliflower and other vegetables and jack o'lanterns, the guests doing full justice to the sumptuous repast that awaited them. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Shores, Mrs. M. J. Connell, Mrs. Shields of Anaconda, the Misses Alice and Anne Lowry, E. Hammond, Bess McBain and L. Shields of Anaconda, Messrs. Fred Slemmons, Thomas Markley, George Busch, Robert LeBeau and Robert Shores.

TO NINE-MILE HOUSE.

Mrs. F. T. McBride Takes Party of Fifteen on a Drive.

Fifteen ladies, guests of Mrs. F. T. McBride, were driven out to the Nine-Mile house on Tuesday morning behind a four-horse team for a day's outing. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Reed of Texas, mother of the hostess. The day was fine, the roads good and the company most agreeable, so the drive to the canyon proved in every way enjoyable. The beauties of grove and lake claimed attention for several minutes, when luncheon was served on tables under the trees.

Then whist was proposed and four tables of players tried the progressive game. Some said it was luck, but Mrs. J. M. White was deemed the winner of a fine linen center piece, richly embroidered, given to the one making most points. Those on the tally-ho were: Mesdames Reed, John Davis, J. R. Wharton, R. Kunkel, George Lyman, J. H. Lynch, Ben Calkins, D. Campbell, G. A. Hay, W. B. Hamilton, J. M. White, Fay Harrington, L. M. Newbro, F. W. McCrimmon, Miss Hamilton and Mrs. F. T. McBride.

JEFFREY-LIEBE NUPTIALS.

Popular Couple Are Married by Father De Siere in St. Patrick's.

Miss Ida Jeffrey and James E. Liebe were married Wednesday evening by Rev. Father Peter De Siere at St. Patrick's church in the presence of numbers of their friends. Miss Mary E. Moran assisted the bride and Dr. Hannifan was best man. The bride was beautiful in a gown of cream silk mull over cream tulle with yoke and trimmings of Point de Venice and carried a bouquet of lovely bride roses.

The bridesmaid was attired in white silk mull over white silk, with trimmings of handsome lace. She carried a La France rose bouquet.

Mr. Liebe is freight agent for the Northern Pacific and deservedly popular. Prof. Vernon E. Matlack presided at the organ and played the wedding marches of Mendelssohn and Loehring. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of Mrs. J. E. Morgan, No. 304 South Idaho. Twenty were in the party, seated at five small tables with floral decorations, that of the bride having sweet peas covered with a bridal veil of white meline, held at the corners with large pink satin ribbon bows. The house was beautiful with pink sweet peas. Chandeliers with pink ribbon and smilax, electric lights being softened with pink shades, produced a charming effect. Many valuable and elegant presents were displayed in these pretty rooms. As a traveling gown, the bride wore a navy blue broad cloth tailor suit and blue picture hat with white wings. The newly married couple left on the evening train for Chicago and other Eastern cities.

MISS SUPRENANT.

Entertains the Kismet in Home in the Barnard Block.

Miss Dorothy Suprenant entertained the Kismet club on Monday in rooms artistically decorated with asters and sweet peas. Valuable prizes were given. The first prize, a point lace collar and revers, went to Mrs. J. M. Kennedy; the second, a point lace doily, to Miss Julia Ward, and the third, a water color, handsomely framed, to Mrs. David Dickson, who was also the happy winner of the lone-hand prize, a yellow satin pin-cushion, with point lace cover. The fourth prize, a necktie, with butterfly points in lace, was won by Mrs. E. L. Bradley, and to the one needing consolation was given a souvenir vase from Helena. With the regular members were Mesdames I. Donnelly, J. M. Kennedy, Don Walsh, Joseph Walsh, Mrs. Clark, James Flood and the Misses Julia and Annie Ward.

PICNIC IN CANYON.

In Early Morning Enjoyed by Party Entertaining Miss Harper.

Miss Harper of Lincoln, Neb., after touring Yellowstone park, visited her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Harper of North Idaho street, before leaving Butte she was tendered a coaching picnic in the canyon beyond Stratton's ranch, on Wednesday last. In the early morning of that glorious day the party drove out to the camping ground, where they enjoyed a tempting lunch. Later a game of bid euchre was proposed and played until dinner time.

After satisfying appetites gained by exercise and fresh air, they returned in the cool of the evening. The entertainers were: Mesdames A. H. Wethey, J. H. Harper, Richard Vail, J. H. Hall, Morrison, Kate Turberille, D. W. Tilton, G. E. Blackburn, A. B. Knight, J. McIntyre, J. R. McCracken, Telfair and Lander, the Misses Lucas, H. Tilton and P. Wethey.

FROM THE EAST.

Telegram of Congratulation Pour in Upon This Happy Couple.

Last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augusta Young, at 621 Talbot avenue, in the presence of a host of friends, Miss Minnie Young and Mr. Thomas Rowe were united in marriage by the Rev. John Hosking of Trinity M. E. church.

The bride was handsomely attired. The groom was dressed in conventional black and was supported by Mr. Will Hawkins. The bridesmaid was Miss Freda Young, a sister of the bride. The home was beautifully decorated with evergreens and cut flowers. Many valuable gifts were presented to the happy couple. Congratulations were received by telegram from friends in the East. The pair will be at home at 628 1/2 East Galena street of this city after September 15.

IN HONOR OF VISITORS.

Misses Lowry Entertain for Miss Hammond and Miss Shields.

The Misses Lowry, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lowry, gave a reception at their beautiful home, corner of Park street and Excelsior avenue, on Thursday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Shields of Anaconda and Miss Hammond of California.

In the receiving party were Miss Hammond, Miss Shields, Mrs. M. J. Connell and the Misses Alice and Anne Lowry. Presiding at the punchbowl were Mrs. John Gillie and Mrs. Sam Johnstone. The

MRS. HESLET'S RECEPTION.

Long List of Society People Present at Pretty Affair.

Mrs. James K. Heslet gave a reception this afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. J. K. Clark, Mrs. M. J. Connell and Miss Hammond at her pretty home, No. 601 West Galena. Lovely without, but with pink asters and sweet peas, tastefully arranged in every room on tables, stands, in nooks and corners, the house was a bower of beauty.

The color combination in the dining room was green and gold. The chandeliers were trimmed with asparagus vines and smilax, the green shades banded with golden glow. The table was brilliant with golden glow, cut glass and silver.

Here refreshments were served by these popular ladies: The Misses Lowry, Frances Thornton, Helen Pfouts and Harriott Young; tea and coffee being poured by Mrs. W. L. Renick, Mrs. Eugene Carroll and Miss Fred Kenyon.

Receiving with Mrs. Heslet were Mrs. Charles Clark and the ladies in whose honor the reception was given. As they always are at this hostess' house, this function was a grand success. Those invited were:

POET-SCOUT CRAWFORD.

Is Guest of Honor at Function Given by Mrs. W. F. Cobban.

Mrs. W. F. Cobban of South Wyoming street entertained to guests at dinner Thursday in honor of Captain Jack Crawford, the poet-scout. Summer flowers in profusion decorated the house, the table being especially attractive. Those at dinner with Mrs. Cobban and family were Captain Jack Crawford, W. F. Noyes, Floyd Noyes and Miss Grace Noyes.

Several were invited in the evening to meet the distinguished guest, who entertained the party with tales and reminiscences of his frontier life. Miss Grace Cobban, a brilliant pianist, possessing a rich contralto voice, favored the company with several pleasing vocal and instrumental selections.

Refreshments were served and the evening spent most enjoyably by Captain Jack Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. John Scovill, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Galigner, Mrs. C. H. Moore, Mrs. E. L. Newell and Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Mercury street in honor of Miss Hamilton, who is visiting her brother, W. B. Hamilton. The rainbow effect of colored sweet peas, with which flower the dining table was decorated, was greatly admired. Place cards were aquarelle heads, finely executed. The appetizing luncheon, like many preceding ones served by Mrs. Dierks, was most enjoyable.

The rendition of vocal and instrumental music by such well-known artists as Mrs. Dierks and Mrs. Hamilton, made the afternoon pass most entertainingly. Those with the hostess were: Miss Hamilton, Mesdames W. B. Hamilton, James Hodgins, E. B. Weirick and Charles J. Kelly.

DURAND GUEST.

Miss Maud Fox Is Honored by Mrs. John Kirk, in South Montana.

Mrs. John Kirk of South Montana street gave a dinner Friday evening in honor of Miss Maud Fox of Durand Yellow was the prevailing color in decorations, carried out with yellow-shaded candles. Two long stemmed sunflowers lay upon one end of the table, tied with yellow satin ribbons reaching to the other end, holding captive a golden cupid with a candelabra. Small sunflowers were at each plate and canary bird flowers wreathed the candlesticks and chandelier, the tout ensemble producing a charming effect.

The guests were: Miss Fox, Dr. Bertha Mackel, Alexander Mackel, Harry Galloway and the host and hostess.

MUSIC AND PING-PONG.

Occupy the Attention of the Guests of Mrs. W. W. Wishon.

Music and ping-pong were the pleasures provided by Mrs. W. W. Wishon Friday evening for a party of friends at her home on West Quartz street. Summer flowers banded the mantels and decorated the rooms, making them a series of beautiful pictures.

The games were warmly contested, the music inspiring and the night far advanced before the hostess bid the last adieu to the departing guests—Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGinn and E. Mullen of Omaha, Miss Madeline Bartlett of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Denard Noon, Carol Harrison and Sellers Largey.

VISITOR FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Mrs. Susan Tuttle Is Entertained by Her Niece, Mrs. M. M. Miller.

Mrs. M. M. Miller of West Granite street gave a dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of her grand aunt, Mrs. Susan Tuttle of Philadelphia. The decorations were pink sweet peas, filling large cut glass vases with bouquets at each corner. The place cards were autumn leaves in water colors.

A choice dinner was served to the following guests: Mrs. Susan Tuttle, Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Blackiston, Mr. and Mrs. George Magee, Margaret Blackiston and the host and hostess.

HANDSOME MONDAY DINNER.

Given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harper for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobart.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harper of North Idaho street gave a handsome dinner Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobart. The table was tastefully decorated with a profusion of sweet peas and asters and the rooms brightened with pretty bunches of the same flower.

Ten guests discussed the choice menu provided, while wit and humor sparkled and brilliant conversation, interspersed with scientific remarks, made time fly faster than its usual wont. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. Azelle Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Knight, Miss Myrtle Hobart, Miss Ella Harper and the host and hostess.

MAKE CANDY AND FUN.

At Merry Party Given by Mrs. Grace Wilson Cahoon in the Owsley.

Dr. Grace Wilson Cahoon entertained a jolly crowd of candy makers at fudge parties given in her rooms at the Owsley on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. It must not be understood these people were professionals in the art, although the fudge produced was greatly enjoyed and lacked nothing.

About 20 indulged in the sweets and other refreshments, and the hope expressed that the treat might soon be repeated.

OUT TO COLUMBIA.

Guests of Mrs. Henry Williams Ride in a Special Car.

J. R. Wharton, the genial and accomplished street railroad manager, tendered a special car to Mrs. Henry Williams to transport her guests to the popular Columbia Gardens Thursday evening.

Those who enjoyed the trip and the pleasure of viewing the immense beds of lovely flowers and other attractions were: Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. James Thompson and son, Seymour, of Kansas City, Mrs. W. G. Pfouts and Rev. Mr. Bowker.

INFORMAL LUNCHEON.

Served to a Few Friends by Miss Goodale in West Quartz Home.

An informal luncheon was given by Miss Goodale of West Quartz street to a few friends Friday afternoon.

The charming personality of the hostess inspired interesting talks while the courses were served and delicacies enjoyed by Mrs. J. D. Ryan, Mrs. T. J. Murray and Mrs. J. V. Long.

MID BOW OF SMILAX.

Edith Graves Stands to Become Mrs. Alfred Mills Kitto.

Miss Edith Frances Graves, who has lived in Butte from her infancy, was married Wednesday evening to Alfred Mills Kitto at the home of her parents, No. 1000 Iowa avenue by Rev. S. C. Blackiston of St. John's Episcopal church. The groom holds a responsible position in the State Savings bank and many of his associates and friends, together with the friends of the bride's family, witnessed the interesting ceremony.

The bride wore a lovely costume of
