SAME OLD SMILE ON MARY'S PHIZ

SALLOW-FACED AUSTRIAN RIVALS SUN AS SHE PLEADS BEFORE JUDGE CLANCY.

SMILES AND SMILES AND THEN KEEPS ON SMILING

Lamentable Propensity for Choking Possessed the Husband of Mary Berndt, Who Spent His Time Endeavoring to Squeeze the Windpipe in Her Lily Throat to a Mealy Pulp.

Seven years ago back in Michigan, Mary Cuello stood up beside Peter Cuello and promised to stay with him "for better or for worse." Probably Mary did not figure on Peter's worse which landed him in the penitentiary.

Mary did not take the proceedings with any evident show of seriousness. She is a small, sallow-faced creature, with an expression of emptiness and she smiled inanely at the judge when she stated that her husband was now in the penitentiary at Deer Lodge.

She had no other complaint to make against him. He was sent to the prison for assault in the first degree. "Some kind of a drunken row," one of the lawyers called it, but it was a sufficient legal cause for divorce and perhaps the complainant wanted something to fill in her empty little life, so she wanted her convict husband divorced.

She smiled and smiled and smiled. She stood up and took the oath with the empty smile, smiled at the clerk and the judge when she gave her evidence, and smiled with equal emptiness when the court granted her decree.

There was perhaps a little more tragedy in the next case as Mary Berndt, fairly well dressed and weeping, advanced at the call of the court. Mary told a tale of choking and striking and vituperation that would have done credit to a Silver Bow democratic county committee meeting.

Clancy Chokes Off the Choked. "He left long lines on my throat," said she "at the slightest provocations." He left curves when she coughed apologetically. They were married in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, in June, 1889.

LEADERS CONFER TO END STRIKE

MITCHELL AND OTHERS MEET WITH GOVERNOR STONE BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 13.—The conference between Governor Stone and President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, on matters pertaining to the strike, ended at 4:30 o'clock this morning, after a discussion of two hours and a half.

At the conclusion of the meeting Governor Stone gave to the waiting newspaper correspondents the following written statement: "Messrs. Mitchell, Nicholls, Fahey, Duffy, Senator Flynn, C. Richardson and Governor Stone have been in conference. All the differences have been discussed with the best of feeling."

While no official information can be had on the matter it is believed here that Governor Stone and his colleagues submitted a proposition to President Mitchell which will tend to end the struggle in the hard coal field.

Hansell Asked to Play. [SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Sept. 13.—Charles L. Hansell of this city went to Butte this morning in answer to a telephone message from Manager Jack Grim of the Spokane baseball team asking him to play in today's game.

LOVELY HOME IDA COSLETT DESERTED

JAMES SAYS HIS WIFEY DEAR HAD NO CAUSE TO RUN AWAY AND LEAVE HIM AT ALL.

SO JAMES WANTS TO BE MADE A BACHELOR AGAIN

Which He Is, in Just Eleven Seconds—Judge Clancy Has a Very Busy Day Indeed, but Finds Time Between Divorce to Settle a Deal of Law and Motion and Other Business.

James Coslett was the only man among the half-a-dozen applicants for divorce in Judge Clancy's court this morning. James, a disturbed looking man of 40, advanced nervously before the judge and in reply to the question of his attorney, told how Ida Coslett left her happy home.

"We were married in Canada in 1876," said he, "and without any reason she often threatened to leave me after we came to Butte. Three years ago she disappeared and I have neither seen nor heard anything of her since that time."

Then Mr. Coslett went on to relate that Ida had a happy home with him. She had everything she wanted and there was no cause for her departure, but she would away to a sunnier clime. Whether it was the sulphurous or the social atmosphere that affected her, James was unable to say.

It didn't take the court 11 seconds to cut him loose and he went away with the outward and visible signs of satisfaction. "What's the matter? Another divorce," asked Judge Clancy. He had already granted four.

"We'll pass this one today, if the court pleases, for a week," said Attorney J. E. Healey, referring to the suit for divorce instituted by Elizabeth Kittelson against Ole Kittelson.

"With pleasure," said the judge and in his smile he said as plainly as if he shouted it through a megaphone: "There's a pleasure in a bachelor's hall after all."

Law and Motion Business. Between divorces the judge found time to do a little law and motion business and when the noon hour rang from the tower above there wasn't a man in the building that did not feel that Judge Clancy had faithfully earned his forenoon salary.

Among the dispositions of other cases were the following: Thomas Flynn against H. G. Carmichael, setting vacated because of the illness of the attorney for the plaintiff, R. B. Smith; Edward Morrissey against E. H. Wilson, passed; D. B. Vincent against Bernard Noon et al, passed; Northern Pacific Railroad company against Joseph Terry, set for September 22; John O'Rourke against Thomas Rice, September 23; R. N. Rand against A. W. Rand, September 24; A. A. Burton against A. W. Rand, September 24; Anaconda Copper company against M. O. P. Co. et al, passed; James A. Murray against Home Inv. & Realty Co. et al, passed; William White against the City of Butte, September 25; R. C. Smyth against Lee Davenport et al, September 26; Frances O'Hare against H. H. Hanson, September 26.

Other Cases Heard. In the case of Fred Wilcox against Fred Leimbach a motion to retax the costs was overruled. Clark and Leonard were attorney for defendants and L. Forestell for plaintiff.

The case of Pat Mullins against the Butte Hardware company was continued for one week. A similar disposition was made of the following cases of Dolan & Hamill against W. H. Winters and Stewart Celia Davidson against W. E. Carroll, and E. M. Boyle against Kate Formel.

In the case of H. L. Frank against E. L. Chapman the court asked the attorneys to submit briefs and he would take the case under consideration.

In the case of Lillie Bielman against Theresa Schmitz and George Schmitz, by agreement of both parties, the demurrer was overruled and the defendant was given five days in which to plead, otherwise to answer.

Judge Clancy today announced that the matter of granting final citizenship papers would hereafter be taken up at the afternoon instead of at the forenoon session of court.
