

BLACKSMITHS WILL DO THING UP RIGHT

PICNIC IN MOUNTAIN VIEW SUNDAY WILL BE ONE OF THE EVENTS OF SEASON AT THE PARK;

LONG LIST OF PRIZES PUT UP IN THE SPORTS

Outsiders Are Expected to Take Advantage of the Low Rate to Anaconda and It Is Thought Hundreds Will Go Over on the Two Special Trains—Committee in Charge of Affairs.

There's going to be things doing when the Blacksmiths' Union hold their annual picnic over in Anaconda next Sunday. The blacksmiths of Butte were never known to do things by halves and they are going to uphold their reputation at the big picnic.

The picnic will be on the grounds at Mountain View park, Anaconda. Two trains will leave Butte for the scene, one at 7 o'clock in the morning and the other at 1:30 in the afternoon. Besides the blacksmiths, hundreds of others will take advantage of the low rates offered to enjoy the day in Anaconda.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are: J. V. Cooney, Forbis Buchanan, John A. Flint, Evan Corkish, Edward Caddy, D. Reese and George Baglin. This committee has worked hard to make this the biggest picnic ever given by the Blacksmiths' Union and from present indications their efforts will be crowned with success.

A splendid program of sports has been arranged and this will likely be the feature of the day.

Prizes Offered and Events.

The list of prizes are as follows: Baseball game between Anaconda and Butte blacksmiths—first prize, $25; second prize, $10.

COUNTY MEETINGS OF BOTH PARTIES

CENTRAL COMMITTEES ARE GETTING TOGETHER ON EVERY HAND—DATES SET.

POLITICAL POT WILL BE BOILING HARD FROM NOW

Dates Set by Republicans and Democrats for County Conventions—Without Waiting for State Central Body to Act, Carbon County Demmes Have Met and Nominated a Ticket.

For the next two weeks nearly every political party and every politician in Montana will be busy with caucuses, primaries and conventions. In each county, with the exception of two or three, central committees will meet and decide upon the dates of holding the precinct primaries and county conventions.

The democrats of Carbon county, becoming tired of waiting for the state central committee of that party to act, have already met in convention and nominated a full county ticket and selected delegates to the state convention.

The dates for republican county conventions and the places at which they will be held are:

Missoula county, at Missoula, September 25.

Gallatin county, at Bozeman, September 20.

Deer Lodge county, at Anaconda, September 24.

Silver Bow county, at Butte, September 25.

Custer county, at Miles City, September 20.

Lewis and Clarke county, at Helena, September 25.

Choteau county, at Harlem, September 16.

Cascade county, at Great Falls, September 25.

Yellowstone county, at Billings, September 25.

Valley county, at Glasgow, September 23.

Democratic Dates.

The counties which have decided upon dates for the democratic county conventions are as follows:

Yellowstone county, at Billings, September 20.

Missoula county, at Billings, September 22.

Cascade county, at Great Falls, September 20.

Park county, at Livingston, September 22.

Lewis and Clarke county, at Helena, September 23.

Gallatin county, at Bozeman, September 20.

Madison county, at Virginia City, September 20.

Flathead county, at Kalispell, September 20.

Silver Bow county, at Butte, September 19.

Granite county, at Philipsburg, September 20.

Jefferson county, at Boulder, September 20.

President Roosevelt will not come to Butte for the present, at least. While this does not come in the way of official news, it is true nevertheless and the people of Butte who had expected to give the nation's chief executive a royal welcome, will regret to hear that the president has changed his mind.

Two weeks ago, in an interview given in San Francisco, Senator Foster of Washington was quoted as saying the president and a party of distinguished persons would tour Montana, Washington and California this fall.

Upon learning of this Mayor William H. Davey addressed an invitation to the president to visit Butte. The mayor has not as yet received a reply to the invitation but it is known that President Roosevelt has telegraphed several of his personal friends in the Northwest that he will not be able to make the trip to the Rockies. This means that Butte must wait another year to see the nation's president.

ANIMOSITY OFTEN ASSUMES A ROLE

MONTANA METHOD OF APPOINTING SCHOOL TEACHERS ALLOWS INJUSTICE.

MAN WHO KNOWS SAYS SYSTEM IS PERNICIOUS

Quotes Case of Malta Girl Who Was Turned Down, According to Report of State Superintendent of Education, Because She Was a Possible Rival to the County Official Examining Her.

"As this is teachers' institute time it would not be at all inappropriate for some of the newspapers to call attention to the farcical method of issuing teachers' certificates in vogue in Montana," said a well-known school man to an Inter Mountain representative this afternoon.

"Down in Valley county there has been a tempest in a teapot over the action of the county superintendent in not issuing a certificate to one of her teachers. Upon investigation by the state superintendent it developed that it was a case of personal feeling on the part of the county superintendent.

"It was, more properly speaking, a question of politics and I have no hesitation in saying that with our vaunted educational system, politics have far too much to do with the schools. It appears that Miss Humphreys, the Malta teacher, had expressed her intention to be a candidate for the position of county superintendent at the coming election.

"Before the conclusion of the examination the county superintendent threw away the teacher's papers, alleging that she had found evidence that the latter had been 'cribbing' and had provided herself with pieces of paper on which were marked answers to many of the questions.

The Certificate Question.

"It is an old story to people familiar with schools. The trouble is that the granting of certificates should not be put in the hands of unscrupulous superintendents. True it is, the state superintendent sets the papers, but the county superintendent has the correcting of them.

"Quite frequently the superintendent does not half the education of the applicant, for county superintendents are creatures of politics and are hardly ever elected because of any particular fitness for the office.

"How often do we see young and inexperienced teachers elected to the office and given the supervision of teachers who are admittedly their superior. I know a case where a high school girl, two years after graduating, was put in control of a system of schools and given the supervision over all the teachers and the principal of the school she had left but a couple of years before.

"We have what are called merit certificates here, supposed to be granted to our best teachers. I have been frequently amused at the applications sent in from teachers alleging to be educated. They hold life or state certificates, they say, and they make 15 mistakes in grammar and spelling in the body of the letter. As I am not a reformer I don't care to go into the reasons for this deplorable state of affairs, but any intelligent school teacher can tell you that it is a fact.

An Old Story.

"I would like to see the next legislature take hold of this certificate question and settle it. It is a discouragement to good teachers to be put in the same class with the incompetent ones and the present farcical method of distributing certificates gives us a lot of teachers who ought to be washing dishes for a living. This is not a popular view of the certificate situation, and in cities like Butte where you have an excellent superintendent it is avoided by his vigilance.

"That there is room for improvement, however, in the present method, every school teacher or person capable of expressing an opinion in school matters will tell you.

"As long as we mix politics in our schools so long will we have politicians and not teachers occupying the best positions."

DAN KOWSKIE FASHIONABLE TAILOR PLEASES THE EYE FITS THE PERSON SUITS THE PURSE

BARNEY M'GILLIC SAYS IT IS EASY

BUTTE'S MOST SUCCESSFUL OFFICER TELLS HOW TO GO ABOUT THIEF-TAKING.

EVERY CRIMINAL BEARS HIS TRADE IN HIS FACE

Peculiar Hunted Look, Like That of a Wild Animal, is Common to All, and You Experience No Difficulty in Spotting the Cleverest of Them, if You Only Know How to Do It.

Barney McGillic knows a criminal as far as he can see one. The first thing a thug seeks to know when he hits a new town is what officer he has most reason to dread. He learns to respect the name of such an officer in the same way that a superstitious negro respects the devil.

They all have good reason to fear Barney. When the thugs, pickpockets and burglars come to Butte they cut a wide swath around police headquarters where Barney hangs out, and when they spy him on the street they sidestep him with as much avidity as the pugilists of the last decade sidestepped John L. Sullivan.

Barney was born with the natural instinct to spot a criminal. Years of experience as an officer of the law have seasoned him, but only his natural ability to distinguish crooks from gentlemen has made him the terror to evil-doers that he is.

"A criminal that belongs to the class with burglars, highwaymen, murderers and thugs generally carries a hang-dog expression of countenance," said Barney this afternoon. "Of course this rule does not always hold good, but nine times out of ten you will hit the nail on the head by following that as a guide.

It is Easy to Spot Them.

"The forger, sneakthief, pickpocket and bigamist belongs to any-care class. He lacks the dogged, devil-may-care look, and in its place you will find a sneaky eye, a weak mouth and a cunning look about the face. A highwayman does not lack in physical courage, a sneakthief is afraid of his own shadow.

"Criminals as a rule are scared about the head or face. These come from fights with officers of the law or with themselves. Then there is always that about a criminal's eye that makes you look again if you are accustomed to deal with men who break the law. A criminal is like a wolf—he is continually in fear of being caught.

"Take a man of the Tracy type, for instance. Tracy had more of the stuff that is commonly called nerve than a dozen ordinary men, but his countenance showed a hunted expression. He not only acted the criminal, but looked it.

"When I am detailed to catch a man, I fix his description in my mind. As I walk along the street I am thinking of the wanted man, and if by chance I should pass him on the street I would recognize him as my 'bird,' although I may never have seen him before.

"Long practice as an officer makes one ever ready to meet criminals and it soon becomes a second nature."

IRISH RESENT CRIMES ACT

Dublin Citizens Talk in Plain Language Regarding the Proclamation.

Dublin, Sept. 12.—At a meeting of the corporation today, called to deal with the action of the government in proclaiming Dublin under the crimes act, a resolution was adopted protesting against the "outrage and insult offered the citizens of Dublin in proclaiming the city, in which, in proportion to the size of its population, there was less crime than in any other city in the world." The citizens generally are in a state of agitation.
