UNUSUAL QUIET IN DISTRICT COURTS

PEOPLE ARE SO BUSY WITH POLITICS THEY HAVE NO TIME TO SPARE FOR LITIGATION. This has been an unusual and remarkable day in the courts of Silver Bow county. It has been remarkable in the fact that there was an absolute lull in the business of all the departments. In the offices of the sheriff, jailer and county attorney, it was so quiet that the deputies sat around, discussed the probable outcome of the Bozeman convention, and incidentally thought it was a good thing that most of the politicians were out of the city. "There will be no complaints filed, no informations, no warrants for arrest, no trouble for the deputies and jailers as long as that crowd that went down to the Gallatin valley in the two special trains stay away," remarked one of the deputies. Not even in the office of the clerk of the district court were any papers of importance placed on file. People are so busy with politics that they haven't time to file suits for damages against their neighbors. Considerable amusement was caused by the announcement that the prisoners had taken sides on the issues of the day. "We took a little secret ballot in the jail this morning," said the old truster, as he sat on the steam radiator and kicked his heels together. "If Heinze's success could depend upon the boys in there he would be safe enough. All three of the men accused or convicted of murder are strong with the M. O. P. One burglar is a socialist, because he says he believes in the distribution of property and equal property rights. But Can Vote This Fall. "There are a few Clark democrats in the bunch, but there was no way of finding out who they were, for after the secret ballot the Heinze men started on a still hunt to find the Clark supporters and 'kangaroo' them. "Of course some of our boys in there don't expect to have a chance to mark their ballots at the coming election, and there are others who will be pretty well satisfied if they ever get a chance to mark another ballot, but they are all equally stirred up on the outcome of the coming campaign. Not the least remarkable feature in the prison politics is the fact that the women in the cells are a unit in opposing universal suffrage. By special request the jailer was asked to find out their opinions on the matter today and he announced that they were 'agin' it' to a woman. "Jess Lester said he believed the proper place for a woman is at home in the bosom of her family washing dishes and attending to her household duties," said the jailer. The unfortunate feature in the matter is that Jess cannot make the judge see the question in the same light. He doesn't think that home is just the place for Jess just now. It seems quite probable that she will make a continued visit with friends and enemies in Deer Lodge. There is one populist in the county jail.

HALL OF RECORDS NEEDED

Silver Bow Has No Place to Keep Papers of Importance. Silver Bow county needs a hall of records where all of the important books and papers of the county can be safely kept. Such a building would cost about a quarter of a million dollars. The matter will be submitted to the people soon. The vault room used for this purpose now is too small and in the event of fire a number of valuable books would be in danger. The county owns the lot west of the courthouse on which an imposing structure might be erected.

WORK OF THE GRAND JURY

Seven Indictments Returned, Three Against Indians. A partial report of the work of the grand jury, made late yesterday afternoon, contains seven indictments. Pierre and Pasho, two Indians, are charged with having stolen two horses from another Indian, Mike Matt, on the Flathead reservation. Another Indian is charged with having stolen a red cow from the same reservation. These three reds will have to explain their doings to the federal court. Alex Langevin, a Frenchman, was indicted to selling two gallons of whisky to Pierre and Pasho, which is said to have excited them to commit their felonies.

MISS RICH HAUL OF FURS

Burglars Driven Away From Froehlich Store Before Damage Is Done. Burglars were frustrated in an attempt to force an entrance into the rear of the fur store of J. M. Froehlich in Academy street last night. The attempt was reported at headquarters by Policeman Thompson. Mr. Froehlich had left the store and gone across the street to converse with a friend. He had been gone scarcely a half hour when a sound in the direction of the store attracted his attention and he arrived there just in time to frighten the night prowlers away. A large piece of sheet iron, placed so as to secure the door, had been torn bodily from its fastenings. The burglars missed a rich haul of valuable furs. There will be a meeting of the republican county central committee at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at Tribune-Review office, East Broadway. M. GILLIS, Chairman.
