Platform and Resolutions.

The republicans of Deer Lodge county, in convention assembled, renew their allegiance to the principles and policies of the republican party. It is with sorrowing hearts that we refer to the death of our beloved ex-president, William McKinley. We recognize him as having been one of the country's greatest presidents, and the republican party's greatest leader. Under his splendid administration the country prospered and both his foreign and domestic policy redounded to the glory of the nation and the prosperity of his people. His life is an inspiration to all our people, and his example one to be emulated by all good citizens. We indorse the administration of President Roosevelt as eminently wise and patriotic, and commend his efforts to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor. We point to the fact that the republican party was the first party to indorse the eight-hour law in their platform and helped to place it upon the statute books of this state, and if elected we do hereby reaffirm our unqualified allegiance to its every principle. Believing that the republican party, both in its national and local administration of affairs, has nobly fulfilled its every promise made to the people, we hereby pledge our representatives in the legislature to the loyal support of the eight-hour law should any attempt be made to repeal it by the democratic party. Resolved, That we recognize the inefficiency and extravagance of the present democratic county and state administrations, and pledge ourselves and our candidates to the strict performance of their duties, and guarantee a conservative and economic administration with equal rights to all and special privileges to none. W. R. ALLEN, Chairman

JACK HAS 'EM BAD IN CITY BASTILE

BURNS TRIES TO BUTT OUT HIS BRAINS AGAINST THE WALL IN A FIT OF THE D. T.'S

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Sept. 25.—"Big Neck Jack" Burns, a barn rat and hotel character about town for a number of years past, was arrested last night by Officer Powers and when confined and left alone in the city jail, tried to butt his brains out against the cell wall. The cause of his arrest and subsequent attempt to suicide is explained by the following entry made opposite his name on the police register: "Mr. Burns has been drunk for about six months and is now watching the animals perform." Burns' residence in Anaconda extends over a period of years, during which time he has worked in almost every livery barn in the city. Until six months ago he was employed by John H. French, proprietor of the Warm Springs livery stable. Since that time he has not worked, and has been living in a squalid cabin between West Commercial avenue and Front street. His greatest exertions have been to keep a sufficient supply of liquor on hand and he did so well at this that he reached the stage where he was continually picking hair out of his teeth or stepping on huge beetles and bugs every few feet. He was around the Warm Springs stable yesterday and was not at all right. The "animals" got to performing so well for him last night that Officer Powers happened along and voluntarily accepted the job as ringmaster. Dr. Freeman was called to the city hall to attend the man's wounds, which are not serious, after which he was taken to the county jail where he will remain until his case can be investigated.

LITTLE NEWSBOY THROWN BY CAR

CARL BECKER HAS HIS SCALP PARTIALLY TORN FROM HIS HEAD IN ST. ANN'S HOSPITAL.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Sept. 25.—Little Carl Becker, a newsboy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker of No. 812 East Third street, was run over by a street car a few minutes after 6 o'clock this morning and seriously injured. His scalp was almost torn from his head and one foot mangled in such a manner that it may become necessary to amputate a portion of it. He was taken to St. Ann's hospital, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Feenan. He suffers most from the shock, and it is feared that the accident may result most unfortunately. Young Becker sells newspapers, and this morning attempted to board an uptown street car that was passing his father's house. In some manner he slipped and fell and was run over by the wheels. The motorman was unaware of the accident and came on up town. A passerby informed the family of the accident that had befallen the lad, and he was immediately taken in the house and cared for until he could be transferred to the hospital, a space of only a few minutes. Mr. Becker, his father, is a pumpman at the new reduction works and has resided in this city for many years.

THINK FRANK DURBAN IS OLD ANACONDA PRISONER

Man Arrested in Great Falls Thought to Be Same Individual Who Was Once Sent to the Pen.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Sept. 25.—Anaconda authorities are under the impression that Frank Durban, who was arrested recently in Great Falls on a charge of robbing a woman there, is none other than Ed Coffey, the man who attempted to rob Patrick Sugrue's saloon some five years ago. At that time he was turned over to the authorities by William Cochran, the bartender, and pleading guilty when he was brought up for trial was sent to Deer Lodge for six years. Coffey was released last June and soon after made his appearance in Anaconda. He was ordered to leave town but asked to be allowed to remain a while as he was expecting money from his folks in the East. The local authorities thought the city would be better rid of him, however, and ordered him for the second time to chase himself.

His bond was placed at $500, and he was given 24 hours in which to enter his plea. The bond was furnished.

TAFT GIVES FACTS ABOUT CONFERENCE

FIRST AUTHENTIC ACCOUNT OF HIS INTERVIEW WITH THE POPE ON PHILIPPINES.

FRIARS' LANDS MATTER THEME OF CONTROVERSY

His Holiness Wished Matter to Be Referred to an Apostolic Delegate and Was Shy of Signing Papers Which Might Anger Spain—May Submit the Trouble to Board of Arbitrators.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Sept. 25.—The bureau of insular affairs has furnished to the press copies of the speech made by Governor Taft on the occasion of the reception tendered him on his arrival in the Philippines, in the course of which Governor Taft said: "You can be very sure that it will only be a matter of a year or two before American duty on Philippine goods will be reduced to such an extent as to make it practically free trade. The many questions requiring settlement between the Philippine government and the church led the president and secretary of war to direct me to visit Rome for a conference with the pope to see if a basis of settlement might not be reached. After an audience with the pope, my instructions were referred to a committee of cardinals and an answer was given, agreeing generally with all the purposes stated in the instructions which included among other things the purchase of the friars' lands by the government. To Submit to Arbitration. This answer proposed that further negotiations be had between an apostolic delegate and myself in Manila. With the hope of having less to do in Manila and by authority of the secretary, I replied by suggesting to the pope the form of a contract to be signed in Rome, submitting the questions at issue to a tribunal of arbitration, to consist of two members, appointed by the pope, two by this government and the fifth to be appointed by the Viceroy of India. The questions were: First, the price to be paid for the friars' lands; second, the price to be paid for the occupation of parish churches and convents by American troops; third, the disposition of educational and charitable trusts, including the San Jose college case. The contract included a covenant that the members of the four great religious orders, who were all Spaniards, would leave the islands in two years after the payment was made for the lands and only secular priests or non-Spanish members of the regular priests act as parish priests. Pope Declined to Sign. The pope declined to sign, first because it related to administration of religious affairs, not the proper subject of a commercial contract; second, because signing such a covenant would give just offense to Spain, whose subjects the friars were, and as such were entitled to remain in the islands under the treaty of Paris, and because the vatican did not wish to give countenance to what was regarded as the exaggerated charges against them. However, the pope said through Cardinal Rampolla that he intended to recall the friars now in the islands from intermeddling in political affairs to their institutes of their order; to provide ecclesiastical education to the natives, so that the priesthood eventually should be entirely native and to introduce priests of other nationalities than Spanish, chiefly from the United States, into the islands. He said that the money for the land would go to the church for the benefit of the church in the Philippines, not to the order, and he finally reiterated what had been said earlier in the correspondence, that no priests would be sent to any parish in the islands where a majority of the Catholics in the parish did not wish to receive him. Negotiations Are to Continue. In view of the unwillingness of the vatican to enter a contract for the definite removal of the Spanish friars, the secretary of war was unwilling to enter a contract obligating the Philippine and American governments to pay such sums without investigation and preferred to recur to the original method of negotiations proposed by the vatican, through an apostolic delegate, who is to visit the islands with authority to sell the lands, settle the rentals due and to agree upon the question of charitable and educational trusts. This basis was agreed to and negotiations are to be continued hereafter. All the data necessary have been submitted with the approval of the church. It will thus be seen that negotiations upon many issues are only begun though the sale of the lands has been approved, and that on the question of the return of the friars to the parishes, the matter is completely in the hands of the people of each parish for each settlement by a quiet, peaceful and lawful expression of their desire to receive or not receive a priest."

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Sept. 25.—Nothing could have been more perfect than was the republican county convention, held in this city yesterday afternoon. The delegates went into the convention to nominate the best ticket possible, a ticket to be supported by the people and to win.

How well they carried out their determination can be seen by glancing at the ticket they named. It has upon it men representing the laboring classes, business and professional men and many expressions of satisfaction have been heard from members of all political parties at the care and judgment exercised by the members of the republican convention in placing this ticket in the field.

Harmony was the feature of the day. At no time was there any petty strife or differences. There were 90 men, representative republicans, on the convention floor.

Temporary Organization. The convention was called to order at 11:30 o'clock by the chairman of the county central committee, H. F. Errett. Secretary J. B. Gnos read the call and called the roll of delegates, after which a temporary organization was effected.

Henry J. Rainsford and T. C. Davidson were the nominees for temporary chairman and Rainsford was elected by ballot. G. S. E. Wisner was elected temporary secretary.

A motion was made empowering the chair to appoint committees consisting of seven members each on permanent organization and order of business, resolutions and platform and credentials.

The committees appointed were as follows: Permanent organization and order of business—William McEachran, Charles V. Carlson, George W. Peterson, F. A. Jones, J. H. Standahl, H. R. Whitehill and G. W. Sparrow. Credentials—D. Cohen, H. F. Errett, H. H. Nell, J. S. Wisner, W. S. Turner, David Jones and J. Wellcome. Resolutions and platform—

W. R. Allen, J. Ness, J. K. Crawford, M. M. Leahy, Roger S. Edwards, W. B. Rodgers and C. M. Sawyer. The convention then recessed until 2 o'clock p. m.

Routine Reports Heard. Upon the resumption of business the reports of the various committees were heard and accepted. The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent and submitted an order of business which was closely followed during the afternoon and evening.

The nominations for the legislative ticket were first in order. The names placed in nomination follow with the votes received opposite, the first six being elected:
