"BILLY" ALLEN LOOKS GOOD TO ALL CLASSES

W. R. ALLEN,

Republican Candidate for Representative From Deer Lodge County and a Sure Winner.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 1.—William R. Allen, or "Billy" Allen, as his friends are pleased to call him, candidate for the house of representatives on the republican ticket of Deer Lodge county, is a native Montanan. He was born in what is now Deer Lodge county, when it was a part of Silver Bow county, in the year 1871 and therefore is at this time in his thirty-second year.

A resident of this mining country since his birth, he engaged in mining, but for a number of years worked for other people. Several years ago he branched out for himself and is at the present time one of the representative mining men of Deer Lodge county. He is the owner of much valuable quartz and placer property in French Gulch and also has one of the few successful dredge boats in operation in this section of the country. In 1893 he was married to Miss Eliza Berkin of Boulder, Mr. and Mrs. Allen reside in Anaconda, although a great deal of Mr. Allen's time is spent in the vicinity of his mining property in French Gulch.

Mr. Allen has always been an ardent republican, and is now serving his second term as the president of the Lincoln Republican club of Anaconda. He is deservedly popular with all classes.

IT IS OURS IF WE TURN IN AND WORK

NOTHING CAN PREVENT A REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN DEER LODGE IN THIS CAMPAIGN.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Anaconda, Oct. 1.—After the meeting of the republican county central committee tomorrow its permanent organization, which will take place then, the work of the fall campaign will be taken up in earnest and pushed with a vigor and activity that will take precedence over all other campaigns that have been conducted in this city or county.

The republicans have decided that inasmuch as they have better than an even break in the coming fall election they will turn to and make it as signal a victory for republicanism as they possibly can. And with a little work in certain lines the possibilities of the republican party in Deer Lodge county are unlimited. A good clean campaign conducted on party lines will pretty nearly establish republican supremacy in this section for the next to years. The time is ripe for just such a change and the members of the republican party realize it.

A good clean campaign conducted on party lines is just the kind the central committee and the individual members of the party have decided to carry on. The enthusiasm is unbounded; the ticket is the strongest any party has ever put before the public in this county and asked it to support. On it are found representative ranchers, mining men, business men and laboring men. The ticket, if elected, will look after the interests of all classes, and with this knowledge the party is daily growing in strength, aided by dissension and dissatisfaction in the ranks of the opposition.

COUNTY ATTORNEY DUFFY HAS A TALK WITH HENRY

Charges of Perjury in the Dougal Case May Be Withdrawn—Henry Says He Is Rather Deaf.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 1.—County Attorney Duffy and John William Henry held an interview yesterday and it is possible that the latter will be released from custody. Henry was arrested at the request of Duffy on a charge of perjury, it being proven that he gave false testimony in the trial of Louis Dougal in Justice of the Peace Kennedy's court Monday.

Henry stated yesterday to County Attorney Duffy that he had become confused when on the stand and that he had no intention of swearing falsely. He also said that he was somewhat hard of hearing and could not understand all the questions asked of him.

If Henry testifies correctly when again placed on the stand, it is unlikely that the charges of perjury will be held against him.

ISIDORE COPINUS SUED BY A BIG SHOE CONCERN

American Hand-Sewed Company Claims They Delivered Goods for Which Some Money Is Due.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 1.—George E. Winston, acting as attorney for the American Hand-Sewed Shoe company, this morning filed in the district court a suit against Isidore Copinus and asked for judgment in the sum of $366.70.

The complaint avers that during the year 1901 the plaintiff sold and delivered to the defendant merchandise to the amount of $445.70 and that to the present time there has been but $100 of that amount paid. Wherefore the plaintiff asks for judgment against the defendant in the sum of $345.70 and interest to the amount of $21.

The season is starting in rather early and within the next three or four weeks most of the prospectors and mining men from far back in the hills will be prepared to take a vacation until sometime next June.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Missoula, Oct. 1.—A large attendance marked the opening of the Western Montana fair yesterday, and altogether it may be considered as the most successful first day since the fair has been inaugurated.

The attendance from outside points is especially gratifying, and large delegations from Butte and Anaconda are already in the city, and other cities are well represented, the half-fare rate of the Northern Pacific making it possible for everybody who has the time to come.

The exhibits this year are above the ordinary and have come in for much praise.

BUTTE NEWS

CAPTAIN FORAKER AVERTED A PANIC

MAN WHO WITNESSED DEED OF HEROISM TELLS OF BRAVERY OF SENATOR'S SON.

INCIDENT OF ROOSEVELT'S VISIT TO THE QUEEN CITY

While the President was Speaking in Music Hall to a Vast Concourse, an Alarm of Fire Was Tured In—Young Foraker Kept the News From the Crowd by a Daring Maneuver.

Elliot Madison of Helena, who is stopping a few days at the Butte hotel, was in Cincinnati when President Roosevelt spoke there at the exposition recently and tells a thrilling story of the bravery of Captain Foraker, the son of Senator Foraker, whose nerve and daring prevented a panic which would have been as terrible in its extent as that which occurred at Birmingham, Alabama, a short time ago.

"President Roosevelt, said Mr. Madison to an Inter Mountain man, "was speaking at the exposition to a large concourse of people. It is said it was one of the greatest gatherings ever seen there. During the president's speech a small fire broke out near there which was put out in a short time by a single policeman, but some one became excited and turned in an alarm. Captain Foraker got knowledge of the fact in some way and made up his mind that the only way to avert a panic in the hall where the president was speaking was to stop the fire department before it got near the grounds."

"I was just leaving the grounds at the time and saw the fire wagons and engines coming madly down the street. In a flash Captain Foraker was out in the middle of the road and jumped to the handle of one of the horses pulling the first wagon. He pulled the team into the curb, in great danger of his life, but he escaped without any injury."

He hastily explained to the driver his reasons for stopping the wagon and the companies which followed were waved to stop. The panic was averted, thanks to the splendid nerve of Senator Foraker's son. It was all done quietly and only a few people in the hall listening to the speech were aware of the imminent peril in which they stood."

Teles Picotte is the distinguished name of a Hamilton citizen who has asked Judge Knowles for permission to wipe out his old debts so that he can make a new start with a clean slate. Picotte follows the humble calling of a "ratchet setter" in a sawmill down in Ravalli county.

The schedule of assets filed by Picotte shows him to be indebted to the extent of $82,295, consisting of judgments and sundry merchandise accounts. His assets are put in at $25, representing a suit of clothes and a watch. In addition, Picotte claims a credit of $1.50 with the Collier Publishing company, which amount he paid as an installment on a set of books that he had purchased.

On account of the unexpected amount of time that is being consumed by the Campbell-Thompson case before the federal court at present, the case of Elizabeth Forbis vs. the Northern Pacific railroad which was set for this morning was continued until October 15 by Judge Knowles.

For the same reasons the cases of Walter Wilson and Patrick O'Neill, both of which actions are against Miles Finlen, have been extended until October 8.
