

MAYBE THEY WILL BE JOLTED

Perhaps the Demmies Will Wilt When Votes Are Counted Next Month—G. O. P. Is Standing Together—About Dixon.

Montana democrats are proceeding upon the theory that this is to be a "yellow dog" year for their party. That is to say, they are acting as though they really believed that they can carry Montana this fall as easily as they did two years ago. It is possible that the party of calamity and bad luck may have some reason for being so sanguine with which the public is not familiar, but to the close observer of the drift of public opinion there would seem to be no reason for democratic exultation. On the contrary, there appears to be widespread dissatisfaction in the ranks of the party, and a determination on the part of the better element thereof to teach the arrogant leaders a lesson that they will have cause to remember.

The rank and file of the democratic party are not at all proud of their leaders in the different counties. They object to the rule or ruin policy of the leaders and would-be leaders. They are not pleased at being called together every two years for the sole purpose of raking some individual's chestnuts out of the fire. They are afraid of the motives and disperse the open declarations of some of the new recruits. Many democrats are frank in expressing the belief that they now have an opportunity to wrest political control from the hands of those whose rule have brought disgrace upon the party and upon the state.

Are Working in Harmony.
Republicans, so far as they have acted at all, have shown wisdom and a disposition to get together and work harmoniously for the success of the splendid state and county tickets. It is now pretty generally admitted, by the democrats themselves, that Joseph M. Dixon, the republican nominee for congress, will be elected. It is expected that many tales will be told in an attempt to influence the minds of the voters against Mr. Dixon.

In usual democratic style, he will be branded as a hireling and a corporation man. Columns of newspaper space will be devoted to his abuse, but he will be elected triumphantly just the same.

It is common talk in every county in the state that Montana should be represented in congress. For the past two years a man named Edward Caldwell or Caldwell Edwards has been in Washington and was supposed to look after Montana affairs, but he forgot what he was sent there for and the people have forgotten him. He has not been honored even by a favorable mention by the party that was guilty of naming him for the place. He is not even ranked as a back number.

It will be different with Mr. Dixon who is a natural statesman. With that gentleman in congress, the people of the state will be represented and he will make himself known and be recognized as one of the coming young men of the nation. He will have no difficulty in catching the speaker's eye. Mr. Dixon will receive thousands of democratic votes of men who are anxious to once again have the state represented in the lower branch of congress.

Faction Is Sure to Tell.
In every county in the state, the democratic factional fight will have more or less effect and even in republican counties, like Fergus, Custer, Valley, Teton and other which are far removed from the seat of trouble, the democratic trouble is making success doubly sure. The proceedings in this city, when Mr. Heinze attempted to capture the democratic county central committee, has been heralded far and near and all good democrats have become disgusted. They say: "A plague of both your houses" and hundreds of the best citizens have decided to vote the republican ticket. Mr. Heinze's followers in every county are made up of the riff-raff of the population and his bulldozing tactics put to shame the methods of Devery. The effect of this sort of work has been to align the better element of the democratic party with the republicans, in an endeavor to purify the political atmosphere of the state.

Wanted—An Issue.
The democratic party of Montana will pay a liberal reward and no questions asked to any one who will provide it with an issue for the coming campaign.

It is not popular in any Western state to talk against expansion. It is not popular in Montana to abuse the United States soldier. The people, irrespective of party, acknowledge that the only party capable of handling and adjusting the tariff rates is the republican party. Everyone knows that the republicans, under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, will satisfactorily settle the trust question and the democratic orators must satisfy their unfortunate audiences with glittering generalities.

HADSEL FORMALLY CHARGED

Authorities Will Try to Send the Alleged Forger to the Pen.
County Attorney Breen this morning filed an information in Judge McClellan's court, charging M. N. Hadsel, alias M. M. Wilson, alias H. V. Van Damme, alias Stavolo with the crime of forgery. Hadsel is the "specialist" who passed a check for $500 on his friend of former years, Dr. W. P. Kelley of the Yelick Medical institute.

Hadsel has a record in criminal experience that far outshines the swath he cut in the medical profession. He has spent four years in the Utah penitentiary for forgery already, so that if the present charge against him can be proved, he stands an excellent chance to winter in Deer Lodge for years to come.

CATHOLIC FAIR IS TO BE REAL THING

Miss Lynch secretary, and J. J. Leahy, treasurer.

Mrs. Broderick will have charge of the Sacred Heart table and the Walkerville table will be supervised by the ladies of the L. C. B. A. Mrs. George Rockwood will have charge of the Sisters' table, which represents St. Patrick's.

Each of these tables will bear a portrait of the priest belonging to the parish, and will be used in the voting contest.

Good Things to Eat Every Day.

One of the new departures of the fair will be the serving of a dinner every evening, beginning at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Spiller will assist Mrs. Lavelle in providing a dinner service, which is intended to surpass any menu served elsewhere in the city.

There will be a doll booth, which is expected to take precedence over most of the tables in the fair. Mrs. Frank Boucher will have charge of this booth, and just at present half the ladies on the west side are in the dressmaking business, adorning the silent twigs of fashion.

Miss Annie Ward will have the candy booth and then will come what is expected to be the largest and most popular booth of all—cigars and flowers. Mrs. A. T. Morgan will have charge of this booth, and will be assisted by 20 of the prettiest girls and young ladies in the city. Because of the attendants it is expected that the youth of Catholic circles will smoke more cigars of unknown make than have before been received in the city.

Mrs. Lavelle has a corps of young ladies to operate the fortune-telling booth for the benefit of the unsophisticated and the announcement that palmistry as well as cards will be used, is likely to crowd the witches' corner.

Mrs. J. J. McHatten will preside over the school girls' voting contest. Other booths will be named and the ladies in charge announced during the coming week.

If You Like to Dance.

The fair will open October 9 and continue until the night of October 20, ending with three grand balls, which will be tendered by the ladies of the association as a testimonial to those supporting the fair.

One ball will be held in Columbia hall, another in Miners' Union hall and the third in Hibernia hall. The price of admission for a gentleman and lady, together with supper, will be but $7, the ladies fixing this low price as a return for the expected support given them.

Every evening there will be half an hour devoted to concerts, vaudeville and other entertainments. Some of the best local talent in the city has been secured for the stage features. There will be two matinees for the children, and because of these, the evenings will be devoted to the adults, children who are not accompanied by their parents being charged admission each evening.

FAMOUS CHARACTER OF EARLY TIMES NO MORE

General Bela Hughes Passes Away in Denver—Saw This Country in the Days of the Indians.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Denver, Oct. 3.—Gen. Bela Hughes, one of the most noted characters in the history of the West, died at his residence in this city at 4 o'clock this morning, after an illness of several weeks. He was 86 years of age.

Mr. Hughes was president of the Overland Stage and Express company in the early 60's, which operated between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast. He was also the first president of the Denver & Pacific company and was prominent in the early days of the city.

Mr. Hughes was born in Kentucky and educated for the law, which pursuit he followed with success for a long period of his life, until 1839, when he retired. He began his legal career at St. Joseph, Mo., and served that state in the legislature.

Mr. Hughes' death was due to an attack of pneumonia, which his enfeebled condition could not withstand.

India Crop Conditions Better.

London, Oct. 3.—A report from Lord Curzon, viceroy of India, says that although more rain is needed in the districts in which the non-irrigation crops have suffered, the general agricultural prospects for India have very greatly improved the past month and crop conditions are improving.
