

SOCIETY

IN CLUBDOM

AT "LIBERTY BELLES."

Bevy of Butte Belles Sit and Enjoy Clever Comedy.

After the close of the performance of the "Liberty Belles" Saturday evening, a bevy of Butte's belles and their escorts went to the home of Miss Nell Lloyd, in West Park street, where they were served with a charming supper.

After a little social enjoyment, talking over the events of the night and singing one or two of the latest songs, the party dispersed. In the merry crowd were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lavelle, Captain and Mrs. H. B. Nelson, Miss Helen Pfouts, Lieutenants Taylor and Sweeney and the charming hostess, Miss Nell Lloyd.

PING-PONG PARTY

With Music, Given by Roy, Johanna and Leon Grigg.

Roy, Johanna and Leon Grigg gave a merry ping-pong and musical party to a number of their little friends. Miss Best, Miss Mae Williams, Mr. Miller and Mr. W. Williams assisted largely in the entertainment of the children.

The dining-room was made attractive with flowers and ferns and a delicious supper served to the happy youngsters. Those present were:

Maudie and Arthur Weirick, Lois Gunn, Agatha and Henry Rochester, Isabella Gilbert, Nellie Kroeger, Eddie and Albert Osenberg, Bessie and Charlie Stevenson, Francis Turner, Gail, Lennie and Paul Passmore.

MISS CLARA HAMILTON,

Charming Young Lady of Brooklyn, N. Y., Who Has Been Visiting Her Brother, W. B. Hamilton.

MISS BERNICE GILLIGAN

Entertains in Dignified Fashion on Celebration of Birthday.

Miss Bernice Gilligan celebrated the eighth anniversary of her birth this afternoon at the home of her mother in West Granite street by inviting 15 of her little friends to enjoy the pleasures prepared for them.

All sorts of games, dearest to children's hearts, were played. They had music, too, but the great delight of their young minds was the gorgeous birthday cake with its eight lighted candles.

Boxes of fine candies were given as souvenirs to the little guests, who were as happy as the day was long. Pink and white roses, fresh as the complexion of the little tots, made the house sweetly pretty. All were loth to leave the gay scene.

Celebrating this birthday were Margaret and Alice Leonard, Lottie Wood, L. Gunn, Helen Clark, Margaret Morgan, Dorothy Passmore, Agatha Rochester, L. Rank, Marie Holland, Ora M. Hogan, Andrew Hogan, Gertrude, Bernice, Zita and John Gilligan.

JOLLY BIRTHDAY PARTY

Given in Honor of Miss Marguerite Danuser in Iron Street Home.

A jolly birthday party was given in honor of Miss Marguerite Danuser at her home, 33 East Iron street, last Monday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Welling, Mr. and Mrs. John Reese, Mrs. Fred Levitt, Miss Rhea Levitt, Laura and Bessie Lavery, Hannah Cleary and Hermina Reckisick.

Beautiful floral decorations adorned the refreshment tables on which were served all the "good things" suitable to such an occasion. The usual games and pleasures so dear to the hearts of young folks were engaged in and it was a late hour when the delighted guests departed, each wishing their charming young hostess many happy returns of the day.

MERRY CHILDREN'S VOICES

Gladden the Hearts of Their Elders at This Party for the Tots.

Ernestine Oswald, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Treloar, celebrated her ninth birthday yesterday and made 40 of her little playmates supremely happy. Mrs. Treloar's pretty home, in West Granite street, was the scene of this gay and festive occasion, and the large dining table, with all these little ones seated around it, decorated as it was with pink and white roses and pink ribbons from chandler to the corners of the table, was one long to be remembered. The center of attraction was the birthday cake, with its nine lighted candles and wreath of roses. Lovely bonbonnières were at the plates of each guest, and didn't the little ones enjoy them!

One of the games was a fish pond, from which were jerked whips, balls, whistles, horns and what not? Another was the "donkey tail," for which prizes were given to those coming nearest the mark. First prize for girls—a "Popular Kindergarten"—was won by Mabel Kole; the second—"Home Work Bead Stringing"—went to Alice McCune. The first prize for boys—game of Kerion—went to Ray Lavell; the second—elephant and clown, a mechanical toy—to Marsden Burns. The young and happy guests were:

Wynne Berry, Josephine Dawson, Minnie Nichol, Pet Walker, Marion Lindsay, Helen Breen, Lois Gunn, Lillie McCune, Eleta Heimbach, John Dawson, Frankie Cliff, Carl Berry, Charles Kohl, Howard Rockefeller, Hattie Boucher, Helen Smith, Mahel Kohl, Isabelle Gilbert, Bernice Bachelor, Irene Lynch, Edna Ormsby, Alice McCune, Ellsworth DeSnell, Marsden Burns, William Lindsay, Allie Heimbach, Wayne Foltz, Georgie Dawson, Irma Nichol, Nellie Walker, Ruth Lindsay, Annie Cliff, Manila Royce, Eva Ormsby, Helen Denny, Allen Bachelor, Ray Lavell, Willie Ormsby, Roy Bergstrom and Francis Ruhleau.

"If all work and no play" deadens the sensibilities, what would be the effect of all play and no work?

It may be the club women of Butte thought of this. Anyhow, they are right in harness for the season's campaign in clubdom.

With the exception of one—the Monday Night club—it seems that all the women's clubs of Butte have held their first business meetings and started on their allotted work with renewed enthusiasm.

Monday afternoon the Homer club was entertained by Mrs. D. J. Hennessy, in whose parlors Mrs. Clinton H. Moore, the presiding officer, read her annual greeting to the members present. This was received with marked attention, and at its conclusion, being in a reminiscent mood, each told her story of what she had done and seen during the summer vacation.

The president of the club is highly elated that so much interest in the work is taken by the several members, who rarely, and then not without a sufficient reason, absent themselves from the meetings, bringing up the average attendance within one or two of the total number of members then in town.

Mrs. Moore's address was as follows: "After a long vacation we meet today to resume the work of another year, and I am sure with the pleasantest and most confident anticipations of pleasure and profit.

"We may congratulate ourselves that our prospects were never brighter than they are today; that each year has added strength to our organization which, during the eleven and one-half years of its existence, has been characterized by a harmony, by an esprit du corps quite unusual.

"The course of study planned by our program committee has already received unstinted praise from many of the members. The results they hope for can only be obtained by each member making herself personally responsible for her share of the work. Do you not think it will be always your business to add something to what already shall have been said by the leader and others?"

"While our club is essentially a study club, it has not been indifferent to the changes that have taken place in the purposes of the average woman's club, and always has been found ready to lend its influence to movements which tend to improve the educational, social and economic conditions of the city.

"We could not do otherwise and remain abreast of the times. There is now scarcely a woman's club in the United States so conservative that it is not taking up work in some form for the betterment of humanity.

"Our first effort resulted in a liberal contribution of magazines and papers for a free reading-room in the city—before the days of our public library. Our next was the inauguration of the movement which has placed so many works of art in our public schoolrooms. What better can we do than to continue to co-operate with the other clubs of the city in the furtherance of these good works? Why not do what we can to assist those who are striving to abolish sweat shops and child labor?"

"We are old enough and strong enough as a club to reach out and to help others, instead of devoting ourselves exclusively to self-culture. However, I am confident we shall do quite as much work along the line of study if we give some thought to other interests.

"It has been my privilege to attend three biennial meetings. From these meetings, if anywhere, we can see from a vantage ground the great club movement. There is no phase of club work that has not found expression in some form in this great concourse of representative club women.

"The small literary club; the large department club, as seen in large towns and cities; the domestic science club where problems of the home are discussed; the study club, along lines of art, music, science and literature, all were presented for consideration; but it is the work along sociological lines in which the women of today seem most interested.

"The most valuable sessions of the biennial meetings were not those addressed by brilliant specialists. They were rather those at which we heard of the needs of different states and of the educational, philanthropic and reformatory work undertaken by club women in different parts of the country.

"All these activities, exploited by women from the north, east, south and west, forced from us the confession that the clubs of Montana, from a literary standpoint, rank well with clubs in other states, but from a sociological point of view our achievements do not place us in the front rank.

"Not that Montana club women have been wholly idle. Our state outranks all of her neighbors in the number of her free public libraries. While Utah has two, Montana has at least 12 and two more are being established at the present time. Several of these owe their origin wholly or in part to the club women of the city wherein they are located.

"The rapid multiplication of the public library diminishes the necessity for traveling libraries and when all serve the whole county, as one does at the present time, there will be still less need of the traveling variety.

"It is not my aim or desire to incite a revolution in the Homer club. On the contrary, I hope we are going to do more and better work in the study of Russia than we have ever done before and in addition, that we shall be ready and willing to do our full share in whatever will benefit our city, state or country."

WOMAN'S CLUB OF BUTTE.

In Elk's Hall They Listen to Several Able Disquisitions.

The Woman's club of Butte met in their spacious quarters in Elk's hall, Wednesday afternoon, for the regular weekly business meeting. At the close of this, Mrs. W. W. Cheely, the president, vacated the chair, which was taken by Mrs. Buzza. Then followed the reviewing of late novels and a general discussion of the news of the day.

Mrs. McCrimmon furnished a very interesting paper on "Magazines and Their Influence," which was read by Mrs. I. Donnelly. Many points generally overlooked were ably brought out and caused a discussion that was quite surprising in its earnestness.

Mrs. I. Cunningham's very able paper on "Tolstoi; the Man and His Works," was read by Miss Turnley. It seemed a pity that Mrs. Cunningham, who is on a visit East, was not present to hear her praises sounded by her fellow-members.

A piano solo, "Rigoletto," was brilliantly played by Miss Margaret Reinhardt, after which the club adjourned to meet next Tuesday at the same time and place.

WEST SIDE SHAKESPEARE.

Mrs. George H. Berry of North Alabama Entertains Club.

The West Side Shakespeare club had its first meeting on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. George H. Berry, in North Alabama street. Mrs. F. A. Gilbert, who has the honor of filling the chair for the current year, made the annual address.

In this, the president spoke touchingly of stepping into the footsteps of worthy predecessors, speaking in a general way of what women have accomplished and what progression they have made during the last few years. She spoke words of encouragement to the weaker ones, inciting them to take an active part in the discussion of current topics, and the study of the master mind of the world's greatest dramatist, advising that each give the best she can to the club.

After the address followed a reading of Act 1 of "The Tempest," by the members of the club and light refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Berry.

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE

Enjoyed Thursday Afternoon by Guests of Mrs. J. L. Carroll.

Mrs. J. L. Carroll gave a progressive euchre party Thursday afternoon at her pretty home in West Park street. There were eight tables of players and many guests who did not participate in the game. The house was made very attractive with carnations, pink roses, cypress vines and distinctive forest evergreens, with a sprinkling of nasturtiums from her own garden.

There was a spirited contest between the players for the honor of carrying off the handsome prizes. After the sounding of the bell it was found that the first prize—a richly cut glass dish—was won by Mrs. H. C. Kennedy, the second—a Bohemian bonbon dish—was taken by Mrs. C. G. Ferrell, and the lone-hand prize—a beautiful Venetian vase—was captured by Mrs. G. H. Berry. The refreshments served were particularly pleasing to the palates of the guests, who had a most enjoyable time.

Those invited were: Mesdames D. Brown, F. Glasser, E. H. Irish, G. DeSnell, J. H. Harper, K. Tuberville, W. H. Nichols, H. C. Kennedy, A. E. Hobart.

MRS. EDNA SCOTT-BOWEN,

Secretary of The Shakespeare Literary Club, CHICAGO, ILLS.

430 Cleveland Ave., CHICAGO, ILL., April 9, 1902.

Five years ago when my first child was born it nearly cost me my life. I had four doctors and they used their best skill to save me. To be sure I did not die but my life was worth little for my health was broken. Inflammation and ulceration sapped my strength and robbed me of life's happiness. I was in despair when fortunately one of your Birthdays Almanaes fell into my hands. It gave me new hope for I thought: "Why cannot Wine of Cardui do for me what it has done for others?" I began taking it at once and speedily improved. Within two months I was like a new being. My troubles had disappeared. I felt no pains any longer where before every bone had ached and every spot felt sore. Last year I was blessed with a little daughter. I took Wine of Cardui nearly four months before she came and felt well repaid. My parturition was easy and almost painless. I am the happy mother of two children, enjoy perfect health and give the credit to your great medicine.

Edna Scott-Bowen

No matter how strong a woman is she needs reinforcement at the critical period of childbirth. Wine of Cardui is the best preparation for this anticipated shock and strain to a woman's system. Nothing enables a mother to so quickly regain her health after baby comes as this remarkable tonic taken two or three times a day. Wine of Cardui is good for every woman of every age. It stops the drains and builds up the womanly organs and makes the functions healthy and regular. Periodical suffering and bearing down pains give way before this astonishing tonic. No woman can afford to be without this successful remedy in her home when the Wine of Cardui treatment means so much to her physical welfare. No one could praise any medicine higher than Mrs. Edna Scott-Bowen recommends Wine of Cardui. This Wine cured her of terrible female suffering which was becoming more and more unbearable as doctor after doctor failed to bring relief. Her life seemed hardly worth the living but she finally tried Wine of Cardui and secured relief. Over 1,000,000 suffering women now cured can bear this same testimony. Wine of Cardui will cure you just as it cured Mrs. Edna Scott-Bowen. Go to your druggist today and buy a $1.00 bottle. Take it in the privacy of your room and the relief it always brings will be yours. This is the same offer we made to Mrs. Scott-Bowen months ago. We make it to you now.

BUTTE BOYS' CLUB.

Meet With Worthy President and Listen to Some Good Advice.

The Butte Boys' club met on Tuesday evening with Colin Christie of South Washington street, its worthy president. His opening address told of what the club had done and what it hoped to accomplish.

He said: "I hope in the future that each member will come prepared and feel it his duty to take part in discussion of subjects presented."

Surely these little fellows who are busy with their school studies during the day deserve great credit for banding together in this laudable way. Henry Campeau played two solos most creditably on his violin, and the rest of the evening was devoted to social enjoyment and refreshments. The club will meet Tuesday with Raymond Tucker of No. 553 Nevada avenue.

BUTTE GIRLS' CLUB.

Coming Beauties Get Together to Talk Over Themes of Interest.

The Butte Girls' club, composed of bright young misses barely in their teens, met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Mennie of South Jackson street. "The Life of Andrew Jackson" was the subject of a well-prepared paper by Miss Amy Cain. Miss Florence Mennie gave an interesting paper on the "Life of Grover Cleveland." Both these subjects were ably handled and reflected great credit upon the fair young authors.

The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Mae Mennie at No. 659 South Jackson. This will be a social meeting to which the patronesses are cordially invited.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Card Club Entertained by Mrs. S. Schilling of South Washington.

The Saturday Night club met at the home of Mrs. S. Schilling of South Washington street Saturday evening, where a delightful time was spent studying the intricacies of the game of whist.

The prize—a pretty porcelain chocolate pot—was won by Mrs. S. Gensberger. Interested in the evening's amusement were Mesdames H. Heilbronner, C. Heilbronner, D. Goldberg, Adler, A. Wertheimer, L. Schott, I. N. Synonis, S. Gensberger and S. Schilling.

SATURDAY NIGHTERS

Will Discuss Toothsome Viands Out Back of the Gardens.

The Saturday Night club met last Saturday in the studio of Miss Cox in West Broadway.

A committee was appointed to outline the program for November and December. The club made final arrangements for its annual camp fire, to be held on the hill back of Columbia Gardens this evening when bacon, baked potatoes and other good things suitable to the occasion will be duly disseminated.

Ethical Culture.

The Ethical Culture club had their first meeting Monday evening in Miss Mullin's room at the courthouse. The program for the current year was taken up, forming a theme for not a little discussion.

Later the members related with thrilling earnestness their exploits and experiences while on their summer jaunts. They had a good time and lots of it.
