

HER HEART LAID OPEN AND SEWN

RARE OPERATION OF STITCHING THE VENTRICLE IS PERFORMED IN A NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

VICTIM OF HUSBAND'S JEALOUSY THE PATIENT

Stabbed by the Man Who Had Sworn to Stand Between Her and the World, Mrs. Annie Kingsley Is Made the Subject of Surgical Skill Little Short of Wonderful—Students Look On.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, Oct. 21.—One of the rarest operations known to surgery—the sewing up of a severed ventricle of a human heart—has been performed at Bellevue hospital.

The patient was Annie Kingsley, who was stabbed by her husband during a quarrel on the street. She was thought to be dying when the ambulance reached the hospital. The blood was pouring from a long wound in the left ventricle, which supplies the body with blood, while the right pumps to the lungs.

The surgeons knew the flow must be checked at once if the woman was to be saved. The operation was decided upon.

It was performed by two surgeons with 15 students looking on. The heart was laid bare and the surgeons saw the wound was very severe. It would require six stitches.

What Man Can Do.

At intervals between the beats of the heart, the needle was inserted six times and the flow of blood stopped. The wound was carefully dressed and the surgeons waited to see the result. The patient rallied rapidly and the surgeons expressed the belief that she will recover.

Mrs. Kingsley left her husband three months ago. When her husband met her for the first time he appealed to her to return to their home. She says it was her intention to do so, but she did not reply at once and her husband stabbed her. She was carried to the hospital and the husband ran away. He was captured a few hours later.

FORTUNE PAID FOR SINGLE OPERATION

VIENNA DOCTOR GETS $150,000 FOR TREATMENT OF DAUGHTER OF J. O. ARMOUR.

FAMOUS SPECIALIST TELLS OF THE METHOD EMPLOYED

Relies Upon Nature to Assist Him in a Practice New in Surgery—After Getting $150,000 for Operation on Armour Specialist Performed Similar One on a Poor Child for Nothing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 21.—Lolita, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, underwent an operation in this city recently for dislocation of the hip joint. The operation was performed by Dr. Adolph Lorenz, who came from Vienna for that purpose, and he earned a fee of $150,000 for his two hours' work. He was assisted by Dr. Frederick Mueller, who accompanied him from Vienna.

"The operation," said Dr. Lorenz, "consisted in drawing the limb down so that the hipbone came below the socket of the hip, into which it ought normally to fit. Then it is pressed in until the femur rests against the socket, as it should."

"Formerly, and indeed until quite recently, it was necessary to accomplish this result by incisions into the flesh, and by removing enough bone from the socket, to insure the femur fitting into it."

Relies Upon Nature.

"After more than 300 such operations had been performed, I conceived the plan of accomplishing the same results without my incision, and of relying upon nature to accomplish results, which had formerly been achieved by the knife alone."

"I now use weights and pressure to force the projecting femur into line with its socket. If the socket is not properly shaped to receive the femur, I rely on its growing into shape by means of my specially contrived appliances."

"After the little girl had been placed under anaesthetics I proceeded to draw down the limb until it was in line with the hip socket. Then the femur was pressed until it rested against the socket."

In Plaster of Paris.

"From the hip down to a line just above the kneecap the limb was then incased in plaster of Paris, in order to hold it in place. This cast will remain on for six months, but the little girl will not have to remain in bed or inactive that long. In a few days I shall require her to take exercise, and that, assisted by nature, will bring about a junction of the bone, so that when the cast is removed the hip will be found to perform its functions in a perfect manner."

Lolita Armour is six years of age, and an only child and heiress to most of the Armour millions.

For Nothing.

Little Catherine Brown of 7717 Dohson avenue, was operated upon in a free clinic at Mercy hospital, for the same hip trouble that afflicted Lolita Armour. She got for nothing what it has cost the Armours a fortune to bring about for their little girl.

Dr. Lorenz performed the operation upon the little Brown child while many Chicago surgeons and students watched his bloodless operation with studious gaze. Dr. Lorenz is the originator of the method of performing orthopaedic surgical operations without cutting.

IT LOOKS BAD TO THEM

British Regard Recent Defeat by the Mullah With Alarm.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Oct. 21.—Military men hold the foreign office responsible for the disaster to Colonel Swayne's force. For economy's sake, they say, the department accepted raw levies of Somalis as trained, disciplined soldiers, while Colonel Swayne's urgent counsel to establish a permanent military post at Curao, was not followed.

Lord Cranborne's statement in the house of commons has created an uneasy feeling and other news is eagerly awaited. There is no doubt Colonel Swayne's force is now in a most perilous position as the mullah will receive large accessions of fighting strength from the tribes which previously remained passive.
