

Ex-Senator Lee Mantle and Hon. E. B. Howell will address the voters at the Auditorium this evening on the issues of the campaign. The Montana State Band and the Butte Glee Club will furnish the music. It will be a rousing meeting and of course there will be a large crowd to hear these orators.

READY TO START UP THE MINES WHEN GONG SOUNDS

Pennsylvania Coal Fields Are Full of Industry Once More After the Strike.

TOMORROW THOUSANDS ARE TO RESUME WORK

In Some Instances, the Strikers Are Not to Be Taken Back, as the Operators Refuse to Turn Down Men Who Have Stood by Them During the Trouble—Some of the Union Men Are Leaving the United Mine Workers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Oct. 22.—Acceptances have been received by the president from all the members of the coal strike arbitration commission. Each one has indicated his intention of being present at the preliminary session of the commission to be held here on Friday morning.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 22.—Thousands of men began work today repairing the mines and placing the collieries in condition for the general resumption of coal mining which will take place throughout the anthracite region tomorrow.

Those men who are directly engaged in cutting and handling coal will not, under the decision of the convention, return to the mines until tomorrow.

While there were thousands of men who are able to again begin earning their daily bread today, there were hundreds who were disappointed when they applied to the superintendents of the collieries where they were formerly employed. They were principally steam men, engineers, firemen and pump runners, who struck on June 2 for an eight-hour day and also to help the miners win their battle. These men wanted their old places back, but in many instances the company officials refused to discharge those who stood by them during the strike.

In the Wyoming Valley.

There were many in the Wyoming Valley, however, who were fortunate enough to find employment. The company officials maintain they will not discriminate against union or non-union men and that work will be given all when there are vacancies. During the strike the companies were compelled to employ many incompetent men to help keep the mines free from water or from "squeezing" as a result of the lack of proper timbering.

The strikers feel that the majority of these workmen will gradually be dismissed and the more competent men engaged. A mine worker who came into the union headquarters from South Wilkesbarre today, said: "The superintendents are turning down a good many men on the ground that they are not needed. This is only a bluff and they will be glad to get our men in a day or two. The workmen they have are, in most cases green, and won't be tolerated about the collieries when the miners begin working full time to catch up with the demand for coal. The companies will not take the risk of having men killed or mines wrecked through the mistake of some new men."

Times Are Still Hard.

Although the strike is over the path of the non-union workman is still a thorny one. They are disliked by the unionists and it is not expected the relations between them will be improved when they get into the mines together. Reports were received today that scores of the non-union men have given up their positions and are leaving the region.

President Mitchell today began the work of preparing the miners side of the case for presentation to the arbitration commission. He will be the leading representative of the workmen before the tribunal and will gather around him such experts in anthracite mining as will be necessary to properly present his side to the commission. He said today he did not know when he would make his first appearance before the commission.

RELIC HUNTERS CLIP THE YOUNGER COFFIN TO BITS

Body of Former Bandit Is to Be Buried in Lee's Summit, Mo., Tomorrow in the Lot of His Folks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lee Summit, Mo., Oct. 22.—The body of Jim Younger, the bandit, who shot himself at St. Paul, arrived here today and probably will be buried in the family lot tomorrow. Pall-bearers have been selected from Younger's former Missouri friends, several of whom knew him from childhood and served with the Youngers under Quantrell.

When the coffin arrived it was seen that many splinters had been cut from the pine box inclosing it, presumably by relic hunters who had met the funeral party at different points along the route from the North.

D. J. HENNESSY GIVES THE FACTS

Gives the Facts in Charge of Attempted Bribery of Judge Harney in the Minnie Healy Case—Inside Information Is a Matter of Paramount Interest in This Campaign.

D. J. Hennessy was seen by an Inter Mountain reporter this morning in regard to recent statements, made in the Reveille, concerning an alleged attempt to bribe Judge Harney in the Minnie Healy case when that famous litigation first came before him.

Mr. Hennessy enters an emphatic denial of all the accusations made and says in unmistakable language that he is ready at any and all times to refute the charges to anyone worth the trouble, in a manner to convince the public that he is being maliciously and wilfully slandered. He said today:

"In reference to the charge that I offered Judge Harney a bribe in the Minnie Healy, or any other case, I made a statement which was published in the Anaconda Standard in August of last year, which in my opinion fully covered that charge and to which Judge Harney or no other party concerned has ever made reply or taken exception.

False in Every Particular.

"I stated at that time, and state now, that the charge was false in every particular, and that Judge Harney acknowledged in my presence that the charge was absolutely without foundation.

"In regard to the other charge made by Mr. Heinze's paid blackmailer, viz.: that I at any time made, or caused to be made, any offer of $250,000 or any part of it, to Judge Clancy, for any purpose is also absolutely false, a lie manufactured by a man whom Mr. Heinze is supposed to retain and pay just for such purposes.

"If Mr. Heinze, or Judge Clancy, or any one of any financial or even moral standing, would make these charges over their own signatures, or accept the responsibility for the charges, I will certainly when the excitement of the election contest has died away, give them a chance to prove the charges or take the consequences.

"I have no doubt but that Mr. Heinze is responsible for everything that has appeared in his paper, The Reveille, but I do not know that he can be held legally responsible, and every citizen of this state is fully aware that the paid blackmailer, who claims to be managing editor of that sheet, is not responsible financially, has no moral standing, and no reputation to lose."

The Statement Referred To.

"The statement above referred to was made in an interview between Mr. Hennessy and a Standard reporter, and published in the Standard on August 15, 1901, and read as follows:

"The first I learned of these charges was last evening on my return from the Flathead. I have since read the interview purported to have been given by Judge Harney, and if he asserts, insinuates or implies that he was ever offered by me, or any third party acting for me, $250,000, or any part of it, he states a deliberate falsehood. Some time ago it was reported to me that Judge Harney had made a statement that he had been offered $250,000 by a party claiming to represent me, naming the party. I saw the party referred to and asked him if he had ever made any offer in my name. He absolutely denied having made such an offer or any offer, and stated that he would bring the judge to me in person to contradict the report I had heard.

"He carried out his promise, and accompanied the judge to my office, where, in the presence of myself, the other party referred to, and within the hearing of at least one other person, Judge Harney absolutely denied ever having received any such offer from me through the party then present, or through any other party.

"He also said that he had never made any such statements and that the whole report must have been fabricated by some enemy of his. This conversation was on the date upon which the subpoena was served on the judge requiring him to be a witness before the notary public.

A Party Came to Him.

"In regard to the lease proposition I will say that some time before the conversation last referred to, a party claiming to be authorized by Judge Harney came to me and asked me whether a mining lease could be got from the company for the judge out of which the latter could make a little money, the man stating that the judge was very much in need of it.

"I had no authority to speak for the company and no connection with the company that would give me any power in any way to make any promise of a lease, but I told Mr. Scallon, president of the Anaconda Mining company of the suggestion that had been made, and Mr. Scallon absolutely refused to entertain the suggestion or consider it, and I reported the fact to the man who spoke to me, and that put an end to all talk about a lease. That is the only suggestion or proposition about leasing of which I have any knowledge.

"In regard to the house, I never had any conversation with Judge Harney or any one representing him on that subject, nor have I either directly or indirectly authorized any person to broach such a subject to him."

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT THE LETTER

IRISH LEADER CREATES STIR IN PARLIAMENT OVER MISSIVE SENT BY ROOSEVELT.

TROUBLE OVER A SIMPLE LETTER FROM PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Does Not in Any Way Give the Impression That He Wishes to Mix in Irish Affairs in Ireland, but Merely Thanks Society in Courteous Tones for Invitation to Be Present.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Oct. 22.—William O'Brien created a good deal of excitement among his fellow-nationalists in the house of commons today by questioning Premier Balfour regarding President Roosevelt's letter to the convention of the United Irish League, at Boston. Mr. O'Brien asked the premier if he had observed that Mr. Roosevelt sent a letter and whether, in view of the future friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain, he could make any announcement that this country was not disposed to learn wisdom regarding Irish affairs from the head of a great and friendly nation.

The speaker promptly ruled the question out of order, to the evident chagrin of the nationalists, whose excitement increased as Mr. O'Brien tried to urge his point. He declared the president's letter was an international fact of the first importance to the future of Great Britain and it would not be a friendly thing to the head of a great nation that his letter should be treated as if the house of commons was disposed to "avenge an insult to the chief secretary for Ireland and his removables."

The speaker maintained his ruling and Mr. O'Brien tried to move an adjournment of the house to discuss the matter, but the speaker ruled it was a matter of definite importance.

The President's Letter.

Boston, Oct. 22.—Following is the text of the letter sent by the president's secretary to the United Irish League at its convention in this city:

"White House, Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—Dear Sir: Your communication of recent date has been received and in reply I would state that while the president very much appreciates the cordial invitation extended to him by your league, he regrets that his public duties will prevent him from being present on the occasion to which you refer. Owing to the pressure upon his time incident to the preparation of his annual message to congress he is at present unable to accept invitations. Permit me, in the president's behalf to thank you, and through you, the members of your organization for this courtesy, and believe me very truly yours,

GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, Secretary."

OUR OWN BISHOP AMONG SPEAKERS

EPISCOPAL BISHOP OF MONTANA DELIVERS AN ADDRESS AT A PHILADELPHIA MEETING.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—Bishop Tuttle of Missouri presided at the business session today of the missionary council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Rev. G. S. A. Rose of Monterey, Mexico, addressed the council on church conditions in his diocese. He stated that the large increase in the American population of Mexico has rendered it imperative that the missionary council take more notice of that country.

Other denominations are progressing there with rapid strides, he asserted, and the members of the Episcopal church were asking more consideration from the council.

Rt. Rev. T. N. Morrison, D.D., bishop of Iowa, presided at the conference session. The subject discussed was: "Is a change in the missionary canon desirable?"

The speakers were the Rev. H. Y. Satterlee, D.D., bishop of Washington, and Rt. Rev. L. R. Brewer, D.D., bishop of Montana.

NO ONE WILL EVER KNOW NOW

But the Awful Eye of His Maker Is on the Man Who Did This.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Oct. 22.—After hovering between life and death since last December, Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the victim of one of the most mysterious assaults in the history of the District of Columbia, died at the Garfield hospital today. With her death the last hope of the solution of the mystery has disappeared.

She came here from Gettysburg, Pa. and married Walter Dennis, a Washington actor. She was found December 10, insensible on her bed. Her skull was crushed. Various theories were advanced as to the motive of the crime, but no definite clue was ever obtained. She never recovered sufficiently to talk rationally.

VENDERS OF FILTHY LITERATURE ARE ARRAIGNED

Publishers, Artists and Staff of the Reveille Before Commissioners.

OBSCENE CARTOON WHICH PASSED THROUGH MAILS

W. A. Brouse, P. A. O'Farrell, W. D. McGill, J. D. Wilmarth and R. A. Pelkey Plead Not Guilty to the Charges Preferred—Inspector Beatty Testifies That the Issue Containing the Cartoon Was Kept From Him.

That the United States government shares the disgust of the people of Montana and of the citizens of this country at large, wherever the sheet has appeared, with the vile organ known as the Reveille and the vile cartoons that are appearing in it, was made evident today when the publishers, artists and staff of the paper were arraigned before a United States commissioner to answer to a charge of sending improper matter through the mails.

The charge of sending obscene literature was made against W. A. Brouse, P. A. O'Farrell, W. D. McGill, J. D. Wilmarth, and R. A. Pelkey, by Postoffice Inspector Beatty last Friday. These men appeared before United States Commissioner Naughten Saturday morning and they were released on $250 bond to appear this afternoon.

Commissioner Naughten called the court to order at 2 o'clock and District Attorney Carl Rasch of Helena read the warrant that had been sworn out against the defendants and which appeared in the Inter Mountain in full on Saturday.

This case having attracted a great deal of attention a large audience was present when the court was called to order.

In addition to the defendants, John MacGinnis and County Attorney Breen were present.

Plead Not Guilty.

When arraigned Attorney J. W. Cotter entered an appearance for the defendants and pleaded not guilty.

A. D. Beatty of Great Falls took the stand and told the court that he was United States postoffice inspector for the district of Montana. Beatty said that W. A. Brouse was the only one of the defendants that he was acquainted with.

Attorney Cotter objected to Beatty's evidence having any bearing on the defendants other than Brouse, because he, Beatty, was not acquainted with them. This objection was overruled by Commissioner Naughten.

Beatty said that on October 15 Brouse had told him that he had complete control over the mailing lists of the Reveille. While investigating the circulation of the paper in accordance with the postoffice requirements, Inspector Beatty stated that the files were incomplete. The issue of October 4 was missing. Brouse said that the edition had been exhausted.

In the meantime Beatty secured a copy, which he produced in court. He also produced a bundle of papers of October 4 of the Reveille, addressed to J. W. Steadwell of Great Falls, secretary of the clerks' union. This bundle had been taken from the postoffice at Great Falls. His object in taking the bundle from the mails was that he had heard numerous remarks concerning a picture in the paper at Great Falls and Helena.

What Beatty Thought.

Mr. Beatty testified that on investigating the paper he found that the picture could be taken to give the impression that had been inferred by the cartoon. Attorney Cotter objected; that this was a conclusion on Beatty's part and asked that it be stricken out on that ground. Commissioner Naughten told Beatty to tell what he thought the picture meant, irrespective of what other persons said of it.

United States Attorney Rasch and J. M. Cotter engaged in a lively tilt as the right of the prosecution to introduce the issue of October 4 as evidence. Cotter insisted that there had been no proof that the defendants had mailed the papers.

Commissioner Naughten ruled that the papers could be regularly introduced as evidence. Beatty then told the court what he considered obscene in the cartoon entitled, "I Am the Leader of Democracy."

United States Attorney Rasch then passed the postoffice inspector to Attorney Cotter who examined him for the defense. He questioned the witness as to what he considered an indecent picture and the inspector said that it was one making an improper exposure. Subsequent questions asked by Attorney Cotter were ruled out. He attempted to aggravate the witness and Beatty took exceptions to the proceedings.

Cotter insisted it was necessary to distort the picture in order to deduct the double meaning.

Rule Out Cartoon.

Attorney Cotter attempted to introduce an art magazine containing pictures of nude models, said to pass through the mails, but Commissioner Naughten ruled the publication out. Then Attorney Cotter tried to bring in yesterday's issue of the Inter Mountain containing a cartoon referring to the present trial of the Reveille. This was also ruled out by Commissioner Naughten on objection of District Attorney Rasch.

Beatty testified that Brouse had told him on October 15 that Heinze had money invested in the Reveille. Beatty used a memorandum to refresh his memory. Cotter
