

Hon. Joseph M. Dixon, of Missoula, will make four addresses in Butte and the suburbs next week. Monday evening he will speak in the Odd Fellows-Masonic Hall in Walkerville. Tuesday he is to appear in Centreville, in the Sons of St. George Hall. Wednesday evening he will talk to the voters of Meaderville in Gunderson Hall. The closing meeting is to be held in the Auditorium, in Butte, Thursday evening.

EDWARD HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

With Queen Alexandra He Leaves the Guild Hall a Few Minutes Before Fire Breaks Out--Consequences of Panic Might Have Been Terrible--Royal Procession on Streets of London.

KING EDWARD VII.

Who, With His Queen, Made a Royal Procession Today Through London Streets and Addressed the Multitude.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Oct. 25.—London was thrown into a turmoil of excitement today when a fire was reported in the Guild hall, where their majesties, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, were thought to be. It was rumored at first that both had been in serious danger, if not injured, in the panic. It developed later that their majesties had left the building shortly before the conflagration broke out.

The Guild hall caught fire shortly after noon. The fire was in the dome of the hall some distance from the part of the building where the luncheon was held. The firemen easily subdued the flames.

The fire is said to have been caused by a fused wire.

London, Oct. 25.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra started on the royal progress toward the city shortly after noon today in somewhat dull weather. The rain, however, kept off and the temperature was sufficiently mild to make the day enjoyable.

Outside Buckingham palace a great crowd had been waiting for hours watching the arrivals and departures and the forming of the procession. The brilliancy of the latter was greatly detracted from by the fact that all the troops were cloaked. The only touch of color was from the lace pennants of the lancers and the brass helmets of the heavy cavalry. The khaki-painted guns of the artillery and a naval gun of the same hue added to the general note of somberness.

The procession formed up outside the gate and had already moved off when the first carriages containing the royal personages and members of the household emerged therefrom.

There was a somewhat tedious interval before the appearance of their majesties, who drew forth the first real cheers of the day as they passed through the rows of blue jackets from the first-class cruiser

BLOWING POLITICAL BUBBLES.

OLD BEAVERHEAD IS CERTAIN TO GO TO G. O. P.

Sweeping Republican Victory Is Assured in Dillon and County November 4.

AND THIS IS BECAUSE THE BEST MEN ARE UP

Something of the Men Who Are Up for Legislative and Other Offices, With Logical Arguments to Show Why They Should be Selected by an Overwhelming Vote to Look After the Destinies of the County.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Dillon, Oct. 25.—Present indications point to a sweeping victory for the republican party at the polls next November, and the grand old county of Beaverhead, which has temporarily wandered from the republican fold, will return to its own again when election day comes next month, and return every candidate on the ticket an easy winner.

At present the republican candidates are making a tour of the entire county, having spent the week in the Big Hole basin. All along the route their reception was enthusiastic, and there is scarcely a doubt that the excellent personnel of the ticket has won many votes for the republicans during the trip.

At the head of the ticket two representative men are candidates for the legislature. They are former Gov. B. F. White, the first resident of Montana to be appointed a governor of the territory, and George Woodworth, the leading stockman of the Big Hole basin, whose every interest is in Beaverhead county.

White Is Well Known.

Mr. White is recognized as the leading business man of the county. Ever since the town of Dillon was founded he has been at the head of the First National bank, and he has proved himself time and again to be allied with all of the interests that would promote the development of Beaverhead.

It is to him that the development of the stock-raising industry of this county, one of the leading industries of the county owes its birth. It is Mr. White who advanced money to the ranchers of the Big Hole basin to engage in an occupation which at its best looked precarious.

But his sound business insight showed

FAMOUS CORNISH WRESTLER CRAZY

TIM HARRINGTON FOUND WANDERING ABOUT THE STREETS IN DEMENTED CONDITION.

SENT TO COUNTY JAIL ON INSANITY CHARGE

Was to Have Wrestled Tony Harris Here for $1,000 a Side—Claims He Was Drunk and Had Been Given "Knockout Drops," but His Queer Talk Shows That He Is "Off"

Tim Harrington, the famous Cornish wrestler who was brought here from Michigan to be matched against Tony Harris, is confined in the "boxcar" at the county jail under a charge of insanity.

Harrington was found last night by one of his friends, Chit Keough, wandering about the streets demented and raving.

Keough succeeded in getting Officer Murphy and with the assistance of two or three others, managed to get the unfortunate athlete to the county jail, after a desperate struggle.

Harrington is one of the champions in Cornish wrestling of the country and is a powerful, well-trained man. It required the united efforts of four or five men to place him in the cage at the jail.

The wrestler has two brothers here, Jack and Jim Harrington, and has a host of friends and admirers who were not made aware of his condition until late this afternoon.

Alderman Larry Duggan was an old playmate and school-fellow of Harrington's, and he was the first to visit him this afternoon.

Will Be Taken Care Of.

Immediately steps were taken to care for Harrington and it is probable that quiet and medical treatment will restore him.

Harrington came from Calumet, Mich., two weeks ago and was to have been matched against Tony Harris for $1,000 a side at Cornish style. The match attracted attention from all over the county and was to have been pulled off within the next six or eight weeks. Already there has been talk of the big sums to be placed on the men and the lovers of wrestling looked forward to the best match held in years.

The unfortunate lapse of Harrington has elicited sympathy from all interested in the proposed match.

Some time ago Harrington wrestled in Michigan and had his collar bone broken. Whether at that time he was injured about the head is not known at present.

Has Always Been Temperate.

He has always been strictly temperate, but his friends this afternoon he insisted

FRANK NORRIS, THE NOVELIST, IS DEAD

HAD A BRILLIANT FUTURE BEFORE HIM—SOMETHING OF WHAT HE HAS WRITTEN.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—Frank Norris, the brilliant young California novelist, who was hastily operated upon for appendicitis several days ago, died this morning. Norris received his literary apprenticeship in this city, where he acquired the technique of his art as a contributor of short stories and sketches to the weekly papers.

His first novel, "Moran of the Lady Letty," was widely read and favorably criticized. "McTeague," "Blix," "A Man's Woman," and other novels followed. The work, however, that doubtless brought him the greatest fame and placed him in the front rank of latter day novelists was "The Octopus," a story of the struggle between the wheat growers of California and the railroad.

"The Pit," a story of the Chicago grain market, is now running as a serial in an eastern magazine, and a third novel on a somewhat similar topic was in course of preparation when Norris was seized with the illness that culminated in his death.

COLBERT WILL CASE IS ON Famous Local Litigation Comes Before the Supreme Court.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Helena, Oct. 25.—In the hearing of the Colbert will case, which is now before the supreme court of Montana, the attorney general has ordered J. S. Ledwidge, who is the stenographer of Department II of the district court of Silver Bow county, to appear before the supreme court at Helena on October 28, and produce the testimony that was taken here.

Secures Writ of Mandate.

Helena, Oct. 25.—Assistant Attorney General F. W. Metler has asked the supreme court for an alternative writ of mandate directed against J. F. Ledwidge, stenographer of Department II, of the district court of Silver Bow county, compelling him to furnish the attorney general with a copy of the testimony and proceedings in the case of the estate of the Colbert will case.

that he had been drinking and had been given knockout drops. That his condition was not much improved was evidenced by his repeated assertion that he was locked up because he owed money and couldn't pay it.

Some of his friends are inclined to believe that he fell in with a bad crowd here and was induced to drink and that the high altitude to which he was accustomed caused the liquor to affect his brain.

Unless this latter statement should prove correct, there is little hope of the big match being pulled off.

BY NEXT TUESDAY IT MAY BE GIVEN

DECISION IN CLARK-HEINZE CONTROVERSY IS STILL BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Helena, Oct. 25.—In the hearing of the Silver Bow county ballot case before the supreme court of Montana, today's session has developed no new features. The court was taken up with routine matter and hearing the testimony of various witnesses. It is probable that several days more will be required to hear all of the testimony and no decision is looked for before Tuesday.

THREE KINGS ARE TO GET TOGETHER

EDWARD, WILHELM AND CARLOS WILL DISCUSS THE DELAGAO BAY PROPOSITION.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Oct. 25.—Emperor William will arrive in England November 8, and by that time it is expected King Carlos of Portugal also will be a guest of King Edward.

There is every reason to believe that the meeting of the three monarchs will result in important international understandings, especially as regards South Africa, and more particularly Delagoa bay, which is so vitally important to Great Britain as an outlet for her newly acquired colonies.

The Portuguese government appears willing to transfer some portions of its South African territory to British rule. Germany, however, is understood to be strenuously opposed to British trade securing such an advantage at any rate, unless Portugal is willing to placate Germany by granting her some similar concession, and it is believed that before the emperor and King Carlos leave England a bargain will be arranged.

Build Telephone Line.

DARING ROBBER IS ELUDING PURSUERS

BLOODHOUNDS AND POSSES ARE UNABLE TO CATCH MAN WHO HELD UP N. P. EXPRESS.

HE IS BELIEVED TO BE ONE OF A FIERCE GANG

But Nobody Is Able to Discover the Slightest Trace of the Gentleman, Who Has Disappeared as Completely as if Swallowed Up by the Earth—Posses Are Abandoning the Search.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Missoula, Oct. 25.—All trains and road in the vicinity of yesterday's train robbery near Drummond are being guarded to cut off chances of the escape of the high wayman, if he is still in hiding in that locality. Organized pursuit, however, has been abandoned, the officers believing he is already far away. No trace of him nor of any horse having been hidden near the scene of the holdup can be found and it is believed this part of his statement was a bluff. The officers hold to the theory that he made a detour, boarded the train he had held up and rode away upon it. The Missoula sheriff and his men have returned to town. The guards from the Montana penitentiary with the bloodhounds are still at Drummond, but may return to Deer Lodge today.

Man Still at Large.

Livingston, Oct. 25.—Railway authorities here say that the train robber has not yet been caught and the pursuing posses have little tangible clues to his whereabouts. The bloodhounds from the state penitentiary struck the scent for a while yesterday and it led back to the railroad track, where it was lost.

It is suspected that the robber may be one of a tough gang who are said to make their homes in the neighborhood of where the robbery occurred, but this is mere surmise.

The posses are in the field and as they are away from telegraphic communication no word has been received from any of them since early this morning and that was not encouraging.

Democrats in Livingston.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Livingston, Oct. 25.—United States Senator William A. Clark and John M. Evans, democratic candidate for congress, spoke in this city last night to a fair sized audience.

CAYLEY INQUEST IS BEGUN BY JURY OF CORONER

Edward Chapman, in Whose House the Shooting Occurred, Called to Testify.

WHY HE DID NOT TELL POLICE OF OCCURRENCE

Says LaBonte Had Been in the Habit of Doing Sensational Things, and for That Reason He Thought She Might Have Fired the Pistol Herself J. W. Kelley, the Defendant in the Case, Is Not Present at the Inquest.

An inquest over the remains of Dr. Cayley was begun this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Montana undertaking rooms by Coroner Johnson. More than a dozen witnesses were summoned to give testimony in the investigation to determine how Dr. Cayley came to his death. J. W. Kelly was not present at the inquest. County Attorney Breen, who was present to conduct the examination of the witnesses, stated that Mr. Kelly, as the defendant in the case, had the right to absent himself from the inquest if he felt so disposed. The record of the testimony, however, will state that Mr. Kelly was present, but refused to give any testimony.

Edward Chapman, who lives at 77 West Broadway, was the first witness called. He said that he conducted the rooming house at that place with his wife. He knew nothing of the shooting but what his wife told him.

Asked if he knew Dr. Cayley, he said he never saw him. He was told about the shooting about 1 o'clock—half an hour before he went to bed. From what his wife said, he thought the shooting must have been done a short while after midnight.

Why He Did Not Report It. The reason he did not report the shooting to the police department, he said, was because the La Bonte woman had been in the habit of doing things on the sensational order and that he thought that the shooting was one of those hysterical incidents. He saw no reason to report the matter, in view of this.

The taking of testimony will continue during the afternoon and probably on
