Expensive to Be a Bachelor.

[From Ainslee's.]
If the average bachelor, with a millionaire's income, not the fellow who goes in for extravagant fads, but the man who maintains good social position and who entertains liberally, were to balance up his personal account for the year, it might contain these charges without comparative extravagance:

- House or apartment and service...$10,000
- Valet.....500
- Clubs.....1,000
- Restaurant and entertaining.....12,000
- Clothing.....3,000
- Automobiles.....5,000
- Chartered yacht.....10,000
- Cards.....5,000
- Bad loans.....3,000
- Horses, coach, grooms, etc.....10,000

Total.....$59,500
These are the more or less fixed items of expense, and anyone who has ever attempted to keep a personal account knows that when you have put down the necessary expenses you may add almost as much more for the thousand and one things that may be grouped conveniently under the head of "incidental expenses." In a general way, it may be said that the millionaire bachelor who spends from $75,000 to $100,000 a year is living his life in accordance with the demands of the time on men of wealth.

Would Frighten "The Wolf" Away.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]
"Well," said the cheerful wife, who thought she had a soprano voice, "if the worst comes to the worst I could keep the wolf from the door by singing."
"I don't doubt that would do it," replied her pessimistic husband, "but suppose the wolf should happen to be deaf?"

A Widow Who Merits Pity.
[Chicago Record.]
When Henry Hiemenz, Jr., of St. Louis died the other day he left $1,000,000 and a will which provided that his widow, who inherited the entire fortune, was to strew the grave of his first wife with flowers every Sunday and on the anniversaries of her birth and death. This probably is the acme of refined cruelty. If the testator had provided that the widow, in order to keep the money, must climb a greased pole every Sunday morning, or give up corsets, or do her own washing, other women might have gone to her and encouraged her with the assurance that it money was worth the sacrifice; but to be compelled to strew flowers on the grave of the lady who is now, let us hope, happily with the gentleman in paradise will undoubtedly be regarded by all sober-minded women as too much. The courts should interfere in this case and wipe out the obligation as being unnecessarily cruel and oppressive.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.
Itching, blind, bleeding and protruding piles. No cure, no pay. All druggists are authorized by the manufacturers of Pazo Ointment to refund the money where it fails to cure any case of piles, no matter how long standing. This is a new discovery and it is the only pile remedy sold on a positive guarantee, no cure, no pay. Price 50c.

Mrs. J. M. Powell

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI.

Lieutenant-Commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees Lodge.

633 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo., March 28, 1902.

In my official capacity it is to my interest to see that members of our society are in the best possible physical health. Having had occasion to use Wine of Cardui myself and having found it a remedy of no ordinary merit but far above anything I have ever known, and being especially adapted to cure all the ills to which women are subject, I have often taken occasion to recommend it and I have never yet had any reason to regret it, for in every instance I have found it most helpful. It not only effects a quick cure, but those who have taken a thorough treatment of this very meritorious medicine seem to be renewed from head to foot, so that they are particularly immune from catching diseases and colds, which are really the beginning of the majority of them. Since I have used Wine of Cardui myself I feel in excellent physical condition and have no need of doctors or other medicine. I consider it a most desirable family remedy and as I have observed for the last three years the very satisfactory results obtained, it is with great pleasure I give public endorsement to Wine of Cardui, as I have many times done privately.

Mrs. J. M. Powell

THE Ladies of the Maccabees is one of the largest fraternal insurance organizations in the country and sickness and death among its members call for benefits to be paid out of the treasury of the order. The great organization is entirely in the hands of women who have so successfully conducted its affairs that among the secret orders it is regarded as a model. Among the leaders of this great order is Mrs. J. M. Powell of Kansas City, Mo. She is a lady of high intelligence and as lieutenant-commander of the Kansas City lodge has the welfare of the organization more or less in her keeping. She says: "In my official capacity it is to my interest to see that members of our society are in the best possible physical health." Clear judgment prompts her to recommend Wine of Cardui to the members of her organization.

Wine of Cardui has benefited every woman who has taken it. Such a remedy is worthy every woman's confidence in the time of sickness when doctors fail and other medicines do not bring the sufferer relief. Wine of Cardui will cure any uncomplained cases of irregular periods and bearing down pains. It is valuable during pregnancy, at childbirth and during the change of life. It is not a strong medicine but it quickly relieves female troubles in an easy and natural way. It strengthens the nervous system, acts directly on the genital organs and is the finest tonic for women known to the medical science.

If Mrs. Powell was cured by Wine of Cardui and recommends it to thousands of her lodge members, don't you think it is worth a trial in your home? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
