IT TWISTS THOMAS'S JAW

He Has a Hard Time Calling These Fellows by Name. [SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 28.—County Clerk W. E. Thomas has completed the issuing of citizenship papers to 79 new voters who passed through the franchise mill of Judge Napton yesterday. The number of new citizens is unprecedented here, and one significant fact is the number of Finns and Austrians who have taken out papers. The usual predominance of the sons of the Emerald Isle has faded away, and the men with a hopeless lot of consonants in their names are leading in point of numbers.

CAMPAIGN IS UNUSUALLY QUIET

But the Candidates Are Getting at the People All the Same and in a More forcible and Convincing Way Than Ever.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 28.—The last week of the campaign has started off with things doing in all parties, but in a very quiet way. The quiet manner in which all parties have been carrying on their work all fall has been the feature of the campaign and has been in noticeable contrast to the methods employed in former years. There has been no lack of interest. On the contrary it has been much more marked than is usually the case, but a trial at quiet and personal campaigning resulted in such good results and won favor, where in past years more strenuous ways have not, that it has been followed by the candidates in all parties in Deer Lodge county this year. This being the last week the activity among the campaigners has reached its zenith, and this activity will continue until the election is over. During the past two weeks every gulch and mining camp, and every remote wood chopper has been visited by from one to four candidates representing every party in the field. Where in years gone by the residents of some districts have been asked to meet at some certain place at a certain time to listen to talks by various candidates and campaigners, this year they are visited in their homes, in their mines and in their fields, and put to no inconvenience whatever. Not in years has matters politic in Deer Lodge county been put before the public as strong as they have this year and in as quiet and forcible a way.

BIG STRIKE OF RICH ORE

Danielsville Will Be on the Boom Soon, if This Is True. [SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Anaconda, Oct. 28.—Word has been received from Danielsville of a good find of rich ore that has been made in the Amazon mine, which belongs to Frank Jones, Thomas Daniels and R. L. LaCourse of Anaconda. A 40-inch vein of gold-bearing rock has been struck that assays from $110 to $190 to the ton. This find promises to renew interest in Danielsville, and preparations have been made at once to start the 10-stamp mill, which has been erected on the grounds. Much money has been sunk here and now that something good is in sight there is renewed hope. A postoffice has been established at Danielsville.

BOY CAUGHT BY BLACK BEAR IN ZOO GARDENS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 28.—Happy Hollow, a pleasure resort near here, contain a zoo, Robert Tatum, about eight years of age, while passing close to where a large black bear was chained, was caught between the paws of the animal, who dragged him close to his body and placing the youth's head in his mouth started to crush his skull. The bear's keeper rushed to the scene, pried open the mouth of the animal and rescued the boy, who was unconscious. The boy's skull was fractured and his legs torn. He will die.

POWELL COUNTY CERTAINLY OURS

REPUBLICAN VICTORY IS ASSURED AND TO MAKE IT DOUBLY SO, ALL WORK TOGETHER.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.] Deer Lodge, Oct. 28.—The outlook for the success of the entire republican ticket in Powell county is much brighter than at first. Not but what it was generally understood that this was a republican county, but the general excellence of the ticket and the geographical location of each man on it appeals to the people. This is the first election in Powell county, but it is not a difficult matter to figure up the vote of two years ago approximately. This has been done and it shows that the republicans have a fair majority. In addition to this pleasing fact, the republicans from one end of the county to the other are working harmoniously together. Without a single exception, they are all pushing with all of their might and energy for the party's success. Factions in Enemy's Ranks. There is another great factor in this campaign that will aid the republican ticket. It is the trouble between the democratic factions. There are some Heinze boosters in the north end of the county now, and while republicans are not much concerned as to their actions, as a matter of curiosity they want to know who they are pretending to support. It does not matter, however, as the moment they become known as Heinze men, just that moment they and their efforts will be discredited. Powell county has no use for the man that is trying to destroy the good name of the state.

VICTIM TO SCIENCE IS PHILADELPHIA DOCTOR

Daniel E. Hughes Dies of Disease Taken in Course of Experiments About Patients in Hospital. [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—Dr. Daniel E. Hughes, chief resident physician of the Philadelphia almshouse, died today of tubercular peritonitis, the germs of which disease he is believed to have contracted from a patient in the hospital. Dr. Hughes had an international reputation as an alienist. He devoted his life to a study of insanity and amelioration of the condition of the criminal and pauper insane. The public agitation resulting from Dr. Hughes' peculiar experiment started an investigation which will probably result in an attempt to improve the sanitary conditions at the almshouse.

MASKED MEN BLOW UP SAFE

Robbers Secure Nothing, as the Money They Were After Is Not There. [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Irwin, Pa., Oct. 28.—After binding, gagging and badly maltreating the night watchman at the West Moreland Coal company's office in West Irwin last night, four masked men blew open the safe. The robbery was evidently timed as it was just before pay day when about $6,000 is disbursed. The money is not kept there, however, and the robbers secured only $200. They escaped.

Cranberry Flowers.

[Country Life in America.] One of the daintiest of wild flowers of June is the blossom of that time-honored concomitant of roast turkey, the cranberry. While, however, everybody knows the berry, few are acquainted with the flower, for the plant grows where it grows in the choice fellowship of the stately pitcher plant and the golden chub, and of many a rare orchid, are quite remote from the beaten paths of travel. The cranberry plant is a small, slender, somewhat trailing shrub, with the nearest of evergreen leaves, from amid which a few threadlike stalks lift their nodding flowers. When fully expanded, the pink lobes of each corolla are curled back like a lily's, and from the heart of them the compressed stamens protrude in the shape of a spear-point or beak. The imaginative may see in this long-beaked little blossom a resemblance to a tiny crane's head, whence some hard-pressed etymologist has thought to derive the word cranberry—that is, cranberry. Those who like to make a place on the home table for oddities and rarities of the plant world may include in their list for June a few sprays of the cranberry vine in bloom—the unfamiliar, alert blossoms, looking brightly out from their green bower, being sure to delight all flower-loving visitors.

RUSSIANS STUDY THE HARD TIMES

LOCAL COMMITTEES ON AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION REPORT UPON CONDITION.

SPECIAL MEASURES TO BENEFIT PRODUCTION

Many Committees Have Made Education Their Basic Demands and Have Directed Attention to the Inefficiency of the Existing Schools in Different Provinces—Many Crop Failures. [CORRESPONDENCE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.] St. Petersburg, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—The reports of the local committees on the agricultural depression are receiving wide publicity here, whole pages of newspapers being filled with them. The Russkija Vedomosti, one of the ablest newspapers in Russia, has carefully followed the work of local committees and now prints a general review. "The review has prevailed in most of the committees," says this liberal organ, "that the inquiry into the cause of the agricultural depression rendered it indispensable to study fundamental needs of the country. They undertook this task with entire sincerity and in all seriousness. It has been found that the aim in view, 'agricultural improvement,' can be obtained by no agronomic technical measures, nor special measures for the benefit of special branches of production. Not Enough Land. "According to the majority of the committee no improvement in agriculture or in the economic life of the agricultural portion of the population are possible without the removal of the main hindrance to progress. Since hindrance to the plane of civilization are, on the one hand land hunger, inequitable taxation and excessive protection of manufacturers on the other. "Many committees have made education their basic demands and have directed attention to the inefficiency of existing schools; many have laid equal emphasis upon the necessity of a change in the legal position of the peasants, of emancipation of the villagers from bureaucratic tutelage and of a thorough change in the local court organization. "According to committees, which lay stress upon this side of the problem, no important economic improvement is possible without moral, intellectual uplifting of the peasant, and without the legal equality of the peasantry with other classes. The condition of our system of taxation has been generally declared unsatisfactory, and it has been stated that the burden is too heavy for the great majority of the taxpayers. In some committees the proportional income tax has been pronounced the most suitable for Russia. Numerous committees have demanded the partial or complete cancellation of the indebtedness of the peasants for their lands." Need Radical Changes. The reactionary press is not pleased with this liberal propaganda, but in event such papers as the Novoe Vremya the need of radical remedies is admitted. The Journal of Commerce and Industry, published by the ministry of finance, finds useful information in the reports of the American consulate, Newchang, on American commerce in Manchuria. After recapitulating the facts it observes that Russia ought to be able to wrest the kerosene trade from the United States and secure a part of its textile trade. Crop failures are reported in various parts of Finland, especially Uleaborg. River improvements at a cost of $160,000 for the benefit of the suffering population will probably be undertaken by the Finnish senate.
