

Joseph M. Dixon, the next Congressman from Montana, will address the voters of the the city of Butte, at the Auditorium this evening. W. B. Rodgers, of Anaconda, former United States district attorney and a splendid orator, will also make an address.

START THE TOUR OF REGIONS OF THE COAL STRIKE

President's Commission Now on the Ground and Work of Investigation Begun.

MINERS IN HAZLETON ARE TO GO OUT AGAIN

Were Not Permitted to Return to Work in a Body and None Will Take Up Their Picks Until All May—Mitchell Is in Wilkesbarre Headquarters, Overwhelmed With Details—Encouraging Reports From Majority of Collieries.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Scranton, Pa., Oct. 30.—The real work of the arbitration commission appointed by President Roosevelt to adjust the differences existing between the coal operators and their employes began today.

Briefly stated, the day's work will consist of a general inspection of the inside and outside workings of coal mines and the home and surroundings of the workmen. All of the region lying north of here to Forest City, a stretch of 22 miles, will be gone over. This will take up the entire day. Tomorrow and Saturday the mining region from here south to Wilkesbarre will be looked over.

The commission is making this tour so that the members may gain a better idea of mining in order to more intelligently understand the testimony that will be given by experts on both sides of the controversy. No testimony will be taken during the inspection trips.

JENKS TELLS OF NEED IN ISLANDS

CORNELL PROFESSOR GIVES IDEAS OF WHAT IS THE MATTER IN OUR NEW POSSESSIONS.

HAS GATHERED FACTS AT INSTANCE OF UNCLE SAM

Visited English and Hollandish Colonies in the Orient to Find Out How They Do It and Thinks He Can Find a Way to Solve Some of the Difficulties Confronting Us in the Philippines.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Oct. 30.—The report made by Prof. Jeremiah Jenks of Cornell university, on his observations in the English and Holland possessions in the Orient was made public yesterday by the war department.

Prof. Jenks visited those dependencies at the instance of the bureau of insular affairs, for the purpose of making a study of methods of administration with a view to recommendation for our own government of the Philippines.

The report is a book in volume and deals with currency, labor, taxation and police regulations. Prof. Jenks finds that notwithstanding considerable progress has been made in the dependencies during recent decades, in no country visited has much been done looking to the establishment of self-government. Nowhere in the dependencies of England, Holland or France in the Orient has there been granted, he says, so great a measure of self-government as the United States already has given to the Philippines.

As to the Currency.
Prof. Jenks with respect to a currency system for the Philippines inclines to the recommendation of a fixed rate of exchange with gold between the islands and the United States. This is in accord with the suggestion of the Philippine commis-

SHAKY FOUNDATION FEARED BY JORDAN

SUPERVISING ARCHITECT ON FEDERAL BUILDING WANTS WORK TO BE DONE BEST WAY.

SUB STRATA OF TIN CANS ENCOUNTERED BY WORKMEN

All Sorts of Accumulations Have Piled Up on the Ground Where Our New Postoffice Is to Be and Jordan Will Ask the Government to Allow Him to Make Foundation Firm, at Any Cost.

Supervising Architect Jordan has written to Washington for the purpose of ascertaining if the department does not consider it advisable to remove the artificial filling that has been encountered at the bottom of the excavation for the new federal building. It seems that in times gone by a large number of different buildings have occupied these grounds and as the result, all sorts of accumulations piled up on the original ground.

A strata of scrap iron and tin cans has been found about six inches under the level of the excavation. Mr. Jordan does not consider that this sort of a bottom would be very desirable to permit to remain underneath the building, particularly in view of the fact that it would require much additional expense to have it removed. He is now awaiting instructions concerning the matter.

It seems that at one time this location was considered a probable mine for there is a good sized prospect hole in one corner of the grounds. This has been cleaned out and will be filled up solidly with concrete. The "swing" room will be situated over the old prospect hole. This is where the men loaf when off duty.

Architect Jordan finds that the building will rest on a solid foundation as the bottom of the excavation is very near to bed rock. This is a very satisfactory

WIFE AND MOTHER ARE CAYLEY HEIRS

PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL OF LATE PHYSICIAN IS FILED IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

EFFECTS VALUED AT A LITTLE OVER $5,000

The Widow Is Named as Executrix and With Dr. Cayley's Mother and a Brother, Are the Only Surviving Witnesses—Judge McClernan Will Hear Petition for Probate November 17.

A petition for probate of the will of the late Henry A. Cayley was filed with the clerk of the district court this morning. It is signed by Mary Cayley, the widow, and by Ed. Mueller.

The revenue and character of the property is described as follows: Divers accounts for medical services, $5,000; library, $50; medical instruments, $50; furniture, $50; cash in the hands of the Forsters of America, Court Butte No. 1, $65. The estate and effects of the deceased are valued in all at $5,215.

The petition states that the deceased left a will bearing date of October 18 which is at present in possession of St. James' hospital; that Mary Cayley, his widow, who is named in the will as executrix and Virginia Cayley, mother of decedent, residing at Montreal, Canada, age named as legatees. H. H. Hanson and William F. Clarkson are the subscribing witnesses.

The Next of Kin.
Further the petition states that the next of kin believed to be the heirs are Mary Cayley, Virginia Cayley and — Cayley, brother of the deceased, aged 33, whose last known residence was St. Paul, Minn.

According to the usual custom the petition asks that the will be admitted to probate, that letters testamentary be issued to the petitioners and for that purpose a time for proving the will be appointed by

CAN JUDGE CLANCY SIT ON HIS BENCH?

QUESTION IS AGITATING THE FRATERNITY, WHO ARE WAITING TO SEE WHAT HE WILL DO.

HIS HONOR WAS TO HAVE HELD COURT ON SATURDAY

But It Is the Belief of Many That Under the Circumstances, He Will Postpone the Law and Motion Session Until His Case Shall Have Been Settled in One Way or the Other.

Can Judge William Clancy, charged with a misdemeanor and nominally under arrest for criminal libel, an offense against the statutes of the state of Montana, take his place on the bench of Department 2 of the district court next Saturday to try cases and act in his official capacity?

That is the question which is occupying the attention of the legal fraternity of Butte today. The weight of expert opinion in the matter seems to be that the judge cannot take his place on the bench, but there are a few who maintain that under the time-worn maxim that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty, the judge will be considered as an innocent man next Saturday, and as such will be in a position to exercise his authority as a member of the judicial department of the state of Montana.

He Has Made Arrangements.
There are no cases set for trial in Judge Clancy's court this week, but Saturday will be law and motion day and, according to his usual custom, the judge has made arrangements for a session of court on that day. What action he will take under the new position which he finds himself in, no one has been able to find out so far.

Many of the attorneys believe that as there is a doubt concerning the legality of his actions while awaiting trial for a breach of the law, the judge will postpone

PAL MAY GIVE AWAY MAN WHO HELD UP N. P. TRAIN

Ed Smith, Now Awaiting Trial in Helena For Robbery, Knows Who Man Is

WAS ASKED TO JOIN IN THE HOLD-UP, IT IS SAID

Man Seen With Smith Answers the Description of the Fellow Who Stopped the Express in Mulkey Canyon and It Is Said Smith Will Give Him Away, in Order if Possible, to Secure a Commutation of His Own Sentence.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]
Helena, Oct. 30.—To regain his liberty, it is said that Ed Smith, alias James Brooks, now awaiting trial in Helena for holding up a street car here last summer, has given officers engaged in making persistent search for the train robber who held up the Northern Pacific train, valuable information which may be productive of gratifying results.

It was learned yesterday from a source that cannot be questioned that Smith informed these officers that a pal with whom he traveled previous to the holdup of the street car, asked him to join him in planning a hold-up of a Northern Pacific train.

What the name of the partner is cannot be learned on account of the secrecy with which the new clue is shrouded, but it is not unlikely that his name is Jack Stein, who was given a 60-day furlough by Judge Boyle of Butte on August 17.

He Looked the Part.
A week before the car was held up here, Ed Smith was arrested because of his suspicious appearance. When he was taken into custody he had a pal with him, whose

GALLATIN COUNTY SAFELY OURS

Vote Is Always Close There and This Year There Seems to Be Little Doubt that a Big Republican Majority Will Be Rolled Up—Who Are Running and What They Are Running For.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]
Bozeman, Oct. 30.—Gallatin county for many years was a democratic stronghold, and it was the exception, not the rule, for a republican to receive a majority of the votes. For the past six years a steady change has been passing over the valley. The old democrats have either died out or have mended their ways, while the influx of Iowans, Ohioans and others from the states that always roll up a good substantial republican majority at every election, has decreased the democratic majority until the party vote is very close.

NELSON STORY, JR.,

Republican Candidate for the Legislature, Gallatin County.

This year the republican party has placed an excellent ticket in the field. The republicans have selected good substantial citizens, and the indications are that the majority of the ticket will win out.

The democratic legislative ticket is made up of three well-known Clark men—J. A. Martin, Zade Morgan and N. S. Campbell—and it is rumored that in order to elect these men that a good deal of money will be spent between now and the election.

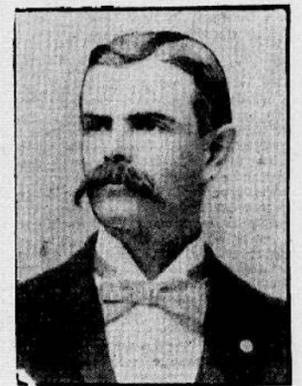

The republicans have placed two farmers and one business man on their legislative ticket—E. F. Kidd, Walter Sales and Nelson Story, Jr.—all three of whom are well fitted for representatives and will do good work if elected, and the present indications are that the voters of Gallatin county will cast their votes for the republicans.

The democrats are making an extra effort to elect two of their candidates—Charles P. Blakeley for treasurer and Eugene B. Hoffman for county attorney. Charles Blakeley is an old-timer, and during his residence in Gallatin county has twice been elected sheriff, was under sheriff two years and for four years was register of the United States land office. His party is endeavoring to elect him on the plea that he needs the office. The republicans believe he has been supported by the county long enough, and this appears to be the general consensus of opinion even among the most prominent democrats. George Flanders, his opponent, has never run for office, and only accepted the nomination at the earnest solicitation of his friends.

Every scheme under the sun is being worked on behalf of Eugene B. Hoffman, who is running largely on his father's reputation. Senator Hoffman having been returned to the legislative assembly for many years and has many friends in the county. Mr. Hoffman has never had any legal practice worth mentioning, but is making all he can out of the fact that he was in Judge Holloway's office for a short time before the judge was elected to the bench. George D. Pease, on the other hand, has made an excellent record, and while a young man, is one of the leading members of the bar.

WALTER SALES,

Popular Candidate for the Legislature, Gallatin County.

The Situation in Gallatin.
The situation in the Gallatin valley may be summed up as follows: Judge William L. Holloway, in spite of all the democrats can do, will secure a majority estimated at from 300 to 500 majority, while Hon. Joseph Dixon will not be very far behind him, although he will not receive as large a vote as Judge Holloway, for the reason he is not so well known.

Judge Holloway is probably the most popular member of the local bar, and has been for years, on account of the fact that he has always been on the side which was fighting corporate rule, and for the further fact that he is a natural born lawyer as well as one by education.

The present incumbent of the assessor's office, David McLeod, a democrat, is out for re-election. He has made himself unpopular owing to the fact that the assessor's books show that he has discriminated against republicans. Men residing on adjoining farms have different assessments, the democrat always having the lowest valuations placed on his property. This bit argues well for his opponent, Fred T. Osborn, the republican candidate.

For Clerk and Recorder.

In the race for clerk and recorder Allen Cameron is the republican candidate, with George W. Ellis, ex-county commissioner, for his opponents. During Mr. Ellis' administration many bonds were issued, which, coupled with the fact that he has had nine or ten years already in a public office, has not made him the most popular democratic candidate.

E. T. KIDD,

One of the Men Who Will Be Elected to the Legislature in Gallatin County.

Miss May Maxey and Miss Olla Ferguson are the republican and democratic candidates for superintendent of schools, and both are well and favorably known throughout the valley, having resided in it nearly all their lives and been closely connected with the schools of the city and county.

Taking it as a whole the republicans are more than pleased with the prospects for victory and while they are working in a democratic stronghold they believe that worth rather than sympathy will tell in the end.

Gallatin county may be counted upon rolling up a good big republican vote next Tuesday.

CONNOLLY THROWS IN HOT SHOT

Former Democratic County Attorney Reviews the Records of Judge Clancy, Faug Heinze and O'Farrell in Scathing Arraignment of Them Delivered Before Large Crowd at Sutton's Theatre.

The most sensational meeting of the campaign was held at Sutton's Family theatre last night when C. P. Connolly, former county attorney of Silver Bow, held the fort for two hours and a half during which he excoriated and flayed Judge Clancy, P. A. O'Farrell and F. A. Heinze in a manner in which men are seldom denounced from a public rostrum. Being intimately associated with Judge Clancy for a number of years Connolly spoke of his personal experiences.

Mr. Connolly began by stating that he had been drawn into Clancy's affidavit against D. J. Hennessy, which appeared in Hennessy's paper which he preferred to call "The Rose," because it would smell as sweet by any other name. This hit was greeted with a storm of applause, as were any number of salient points brought out by the speaker.

In referring to the Clancy affidavit, which charged Connolly as having been the go-between Clancy and Hennessy, Connolly said: Clancy charged that Connolly rushed up to him in the Chequamegon cafe in an excited manner and requested his presence in Hennessy's office.

Only Once Did He Do It.

Connolly ridiculed the idea of getting excited in a public place, under such conditions, and stated that the only time he had ever lost his head in Butte was when he had occasion to call Judge Clancy down in his own court for rulings that had been made by the populist jurist.

Connolly regretted the reflection that Clancy had cast upon Marcus Daly, now that he was dead and unable to defend himself against such scurrilous imputations as Clancy had made upon the memory of the deceased leader who was loved by all.

He said that if Hennessy had offered to make Clancy governor or supreme judge, he had forgotten to include stock in prospect, which would certainly have fitted him better than any other dignity.

Connolly further ridiculed the idea that Clancy had ever written the affidavit, for in place of saying that "he had been offered to go East and live the remainder of his days in luxury and ease," Clancy would have made the affidavit read that he was to have returned to Missouri and raise hogs.

Connolly further claimed that no populist even of Clancy's rankness, would have been guilty of using the word "trust," which appears in the affidavit, and he alleged that the fine hand of Heinze's district messenger candidate for the United States senate, MacGinniss, was responsible for the composition.

Has Been Persecuted.

Mr. Connolly asserted that he had been subjected to persecution by Heinze and Clancy ever since he was in the county attorney's office. He reviewed the history of the Moody-Freyer murder case, which attracted so much attention in Butte, and at this juncture, the charges that he made against Judge Clancy were of the most sensational character that could be imagined.

Connolly asserted that he had been informed that Moody was a blood relation of Clancy and for that reason the judge tried to save him. Mr. Connolly produced an instruction, which he claimed Judge Clancy had written, for the jury to discharge the prisoner on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence to convict him.

Heinze Made War on Him.

Mr. Connolly reviewed the war that Heinze had waged upon him two years ago when he was running for district judge. He refuted the charges that he had conspired to secure the acquittal of Gilman for murdering Sullivan, as maintained by Heinze. Mr. Connolly insisted that he had always done his duty in a conscientious way. He called attention to Heinze's strenuous attempt to court the Irish vote in this election, when he had grossly insulted them by striking Dan Hennessy. At that time he was told by friends that he, Heinze, had made a serious mistake and queered himself with the Irishmen of Butte, because Hennessy was at the head of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, whereupon Heinze said: "Who are they anyhow? Nothing but a lot of Molly McGuire's from Pennsylvania, who are always fighting for liberty 5,000 miles away from the scene of trouble."

TOO NEAR ELECTION FOR HARNEY TO HOLD COURT

Judge Announces That There Will Be Nothing Doing Until the Day After the Votes Are Counted.

When election days are very near even the big wheels of the mill of the law must stop. Judge Harney announces today that there would be no more court in his department until next Wednesday, his day after election. Saturday will be law and motion day as usual, but the trial jurors were excused this morning until Wednesday.

The case of the city of Butte against the residents on Aluminum street was continued today and arguments of counsel heard on both sides. The suit will determine the ownership of a 20-foot strip of ground which the defendants fenced in. City Attorney Lamb and his assistant, Attorney Bolinger, are representing the city and Attorneys Cotter and Shelton the property owners.

TROUGH OF WHISKY HE WAS SENDING INTO JAIL

George Miller Rests Beside His Pal For Trying to Steal Him Some of the Red Liquor That Cheers.

A small tin trough jammed between the grating of one of the windows of the city jail served to conduct nearly half a gallon of whisky to Pat Morrison, a prisoner in the jail last night. Captain Davey was standing on the sidewalk in front of the alley on the east of the city hall shortly before midnight and noticed some one in the alley extremely busy at one of the windows.

He sauntered down to investigate and found George Miller busily engaged pouring the whisky into a rudely constructed tin trough.

Morrison was holding a tin dipper below in the jail and was putting the liquor as he received it, cup by cup, in a large tin dish which lay at his feet. Miller had nearly completed his operation when the captain appeared on the scene and took him down to keep his pal Morrison company.

This is not the first time that this scheme has been resorted to with a view to satiating the thirst of some of the inmates of the city jail and it is quite likely that Miller will be dealt with severely by Judge Boyle.

He was before Judge Boyle this morning but his trial will not be held until tomorrow.

COLONEL SWAYNE IS SAFE

But British Commander Will Not Tackle the Mullah Again Very Soon.

Aden, Arabia, Oct. 30.—Colonel Swayne, the British commissioner in Somaliland, has reached Berbera in safety. His wounds are doing well.

No further movement of the British troops against the Mad Mullah will be made until a large force is collected, which will be about two months hence. There is no doubt that the Somalili levies sawed the white feather in the recent fighting with the Mullah's followers.

Colonel Cobbe is in command at Bohotle, where the guns have arrived. The garrison is not threatened.

THINK THEY HAVE THE MEN

United States Officials Believe They Have Made Important Arrests.

Helena, Oct. 30.—Postoffice Inspector Beatty made at Kalispell last night what is believed to be an important arrest when he captured Louis Peterson and James Bourke, who are supposed to be the leaders of a gang of robbers operating in Montana and North Dakota.

The men were offering to sell stamps at a discount, and when arrested had over 3,000 in their possession.
