THAT TURKEY WILL BE A WEE CHICKEN

FOR THE SUPPLY OF GOBBLERS HAS RUN LOW AND SOME OF US ARE GOING TO GET LEFT.

Alackaday that the festive bird which was wont to grace the table of every good American family on Thanksgiving day should be so scarce; but the truth of the matter is that the 1902 output of turkeys has not been as prolific as the demand requires. In many a family the usual Thanksgiving turkey will be a chicken, or perhaps a duck, this year.

It is estimated by conservative authorities that the crop of gobblers is short something in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 birds this year and that avaricious merchants have attempted to corner the few that are left in order to make capital out of the unfortunate condition. This will necessitate many persons going down deep into their jeans in order to put turkey on the table and fill up the hungry maws of little yellers who crave the luscious drumstick.

The crop of the middle West generally will be 30 per cent short. Turkeys are raised in quantities only in this section of the country. It requires a region of small farms, a land of market gardens, to bring forth the great American bird. No turkey could feel at home on a 3,000-acre ranch. Hence the failure of the crop in this section means a shortage of the entire output.

At this time last year top turkeys in New York sold at from 8 to 13 cents a pound; they are now worth from 13 to 15 cents, and the quality is not so good. Dealers think that there will be a further advance before cranberry sauce is ripe.

Quite a Few of Them.

The total average crop of turkeys for the country is about 400,000 barrels; that is, something like 80,000,000 pounds. The total estimated shortage for 1902 is 24,000,000 pounds. The country will pay $2,000,000 less for turkeys in the annual Thanksgiving spread this year than it did last; but the amount of turkeys consumed will cost $1,000,000 more than they would have at this price a year ago.

Chickens are plentiful, but the ducks are as scarce as turkeys. It is evident that about 15,000,000 people will not have their hearts gladdened by a turkey Thanksgiving dinner this year.

"The housewife who stuffs the Thanksgiving turkey with chestnuts this year will have to start early," said a Butte provision dealer this morning. "The early worm has cornered the greater part of the crop and now you will have to pay for the remaining few."

Among the Thanksgiving supplies are nuts, figs, dates, raisins and fruits of all kinds.

Cranberries sell at from 10 to 12 1/2 cents a quart; oranges retail at 35 to 50 cents a dozen; lemons and limes, 20 cents a dozen.

IN NICK OF TIME JAKE WAS RESCUED

MITCHELL WAS GOING TO JUMP OFF THE ROOF OF A BUILDING IN EAST PARK STREET.

"Lookout! I'm going to jump!" shouted Jake Mitchell as he poised nervously on the roof curbing of the brick building at 343 East Park street yesterday afternoon.

Several people were passing on the sidewalk below at the time and they gave heed to the warning by scattering out into the street.

But Jake Mitchell didn't jump. Perhaps it wasn't altogether his fault that he didn't for somebody engaged his attention for the space of three minutes and at the end of that time strong arms seized him from behind and bore him away to a place of safety.

Mitchell is temporarily crazy from the effects of drink. He roams almost directly across the street from the place where he threatened to commit suicide. His roommate, T. J. Bell, had watched him closely all the morning, knowing his friend to have delirium tremens. But shortly after noon Bell went to work at the Rarus mine then it was Mitchell ran across the street, climbed the stairway and ladder that led to the roof and a moment later appeared on the edge of the roof over the sidewalk on East Park street.

Rescued Just in Time.

Somebody sent in a message to police headquarters and Barney McGillis started for the scene, but before he arrived Mitchell had been rescued in the manner stated.

The officer, on arriving, thought it best that the man be removed to the city jail to sober up, but his friends promised faithfully to watch him closely and keep him confined to his room.

The incident caused quite a flutter of excitement in the neighborhood of East Park street, but soon subsided when it became known that the threatened fatal leap had not been made.

FEDERAL COURT ON IMPORTANT CASES

NUMBER OF MATTERS OF INTEREST COME BEFORE NATIONAL TRIBUNAL IN HELENA.

[SPECIAL TO INTER MOUNTAIN.]

Helena, Nov. 15.—In the federal court arguments on demurrers in five cases brought by the government against the Bitter Root Development company, the Anaconda company and Margaret Daly, as executrix of the estate of the late Marcus Daly, were heard yesterday. The actions were brought by the government to recover $1,345,722.68, claimed as the value of timber cut from public lands in Western Montana.

The Anaconda company's demurrer was overruled and the other demurrers were taken under advisement by Judge Knowles. The suits brought by the government cover a period of about eight years, from 1890, during which time the defendants are alleged to have cut millions of feet of timber belonging to the United States.

A check covering the full amount at which the property is valued was tendered. Receiver Eugene Wilson yesterday afternoon to pay for the transfer of the Merchants' National bank and the First National bank assets to W. G. Conrad.

Check Was Not Accepted.

The check was not accepted, as the clerical work incident to the receivership was not completed. It is believed the work will be brought up by Monday and as soon as this is done checks will be made out for the payment of the remaining dividends of both banks and to the depositors. It is not likely these payments can be made before the holidays.

Governor Toole has issued a pardon to George Handschu, who was convicted in the district court of Lewis and Clarke county, February 12, 1901, as being implicated with Frank Kelly in the theft of three calves. The opinion has always been that Kelly was the principal. Handschu lived in Great Falls and bore an excellent reputation.

Assistant State Land Register John P. Schmidt has concluded the sale of public lands in Carbon and Park counties. There were 565 acres of land sold at $10 an acre.

ROBERT WOODS IS LEARNING LESSON

YOUNG BOY WHO IS CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF RAPPING ON DOORS BEFORE JUDGE BOYLE.

Robert Woods, a boy about 14 years of age, was arrested last night about 10 o'clock on West Broadway, charged with malicious mischief. The lad was taken to the city jail and passed the night in the detention ward.

At this morning's session of police court the arresting officer testified that young Woods was engaged in a peculiar sort of amusement when he spied him. "The boy was going from house to house," said the policeman, "knocking on doors with a stick about four feet long. He would wait until he heard someone coming to answer to the knock and then he would knock-step it to the front gate. Then he would make a visit to the next-door-neighbor."

Robert hung his head in shame and made no denial of the policeman's story. Judge Boyle has always made it a rule not to fine young boys if he could possibly avoid it, but the complaints from the West Side have been so frequent of late that he has established a new rule and now he punishes each youthful offender who is guilty of malicious mischief.

He fined Robert Woods $10. Later in the day the boy's father called at police station and informed the jailer that he would pay the fine. The fine is still forthcoming, however, and young Woods sits in the detention ward with folded hands.

TOM BUCKLEY IS AGAIN IN PRISON

RAISES A DISTURBANCE IN THE BOARD OF TRADE SALOON AND IS ONCE MORE CAPTURED.

Tom Buckley, the slick, the daring and smooth, was up before Judge Boyle this morning on several charges. Buckley is a bad man and the police are determined to either force him to leave Butte or send him to the penitentiary where his criminal career will be cut short for a little season.

Buckley gained some notoriety about two weeks ago by reason of a daring dash to liberty while he was being searched at the city jail office. He had been arrested and Acting Jailer Hamilton was in the act of searching his man when the latter suddenly side-stepped and the next instant was running full speed down the corridor to liberty.

Hamilton rushed after Buckley and in trying to turn a corner in the hallway, bumped into the wall, knocking a hole several inches deep.

Since his escape Buckley has succeeded in eluding arrest until last evening, when he was caught trying to raise a disturbance in the Board of Trade saloon at the corner of Main and Park streets. Chief Reynolds and Officers Parlin and O'Brien arrested him and on the way to the city jail the prisoner abused the officers until the atmosphere was blue. He was locked in the dungeon over night to sober up.

Although charged with jail breaking, larceny, disturbing the peace and resisting an officer, Buckley pleaded guilty to but one charge—that of disturbing the peace. Judge Boyle suspended sentence until this afternoon, when the surly prisoner will learn what treat there is in store for him.

Wants a Cotton Factory.

London, Nov. 11.—Liverpool evidently is disturbed by the American scheme for the direct importation of cotton from the Southern plantations to Manchester. The local press is publishing appeals for the establishment of cotton factories in Liverpool and for the release of the port from dependence upon the manufacturing centers.

WILL BE A LONG, LONG TIME
 Before the Would-be Jail Breakers Get Another Chance.

A thorough search was made of the cells at the county jail last night for the purpose of discovering any more jail-breaking appliances, should the prisoners have them secreted. One small saw, made of a watchspring, was found in the cell of M. N. Hadsell, who is being held on the charge of forgery.

The place has been pretty thoroughly cleaned out by this time, and it will be some time before the men have another chance to make an attempt to get away.

Mrs. Minnie M. LeRoy died at 6 o'clock yesterday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. George E. DeSnell. Death was caused by pneumonia. Mrs. LeRoy was taken ill a week ago today with the dread disease.

Three sisters, Mrs. DeSnell, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. E. Fultz, of this city survive her. Mrs. LeRoy was well known in Butte and took a prominent part in the social functions of the city.

The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock
