

INTER MOUNTAIN'S REVIEW OF SPORTING LOCAL AND NATIONAL

TONY MULLANE IS ON POLICE FORCE

CRACK TWIRLER OF ANTE-DILUVIAN ERAS HAS COME DOWN TO WALKING A BEAT.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Chicago, Jan. 29.—Tony Mullane, once the premier twirler of the old National League and the American Association, and later one of the best umpires who officiated for the Northwest League, and who earned glory on the best diamonds in various parts of the country, is about to seek honor by doing duty on the Chicago police force.

Mullane yesterday was appointed a member of O'Neill's squad, a position which the former star baseball player and umpire has been longing for for some time.

Mullane will be one of the best built men on the force. He is muscular from head to foot and a powerful man.

Persons closely in touch in baseball circles were surprised to learn that Mullane is about to become "one of the finest" in the city.

MR. TERRY M'GOVERN HAS PRINCE HAL BEAT HOLLOW

Guess the Press Agent Who Faked This Had Never Read About Falstaff and His Royal Protege.

Terry McGovern is fond of fun and will take long chances to play a practical joke on his friends. Whenever Joe Humphreys and Terry are in the same neighborhood there is always something doing.

"Supposing we get Sam to play highwayman," said Terry to Joe, "and have him hold up Don on his way home."

The porter, Sam, was brought into service and given instructions how to act the role of highwayman. They armed him with a shotgun, a mask and an old slouch hat.

Sam, realizing that he had fallen into the hands of the officers of the law, broke away and dashed down the pike with the speed of a deer.

After Don had been comfortably seated in an armchair, Joe and Terry made their identity known.

VAN HORNE DENIES CHARGE

J. W. Van Horne, who was arrested by Officer Barney McGillic on a charge of burglary, alleged to have been committed at the barn of Frank Grayley, No. 1208 South Wyoming street, was arraigned before Justice Taylor in South Butte this morning, and pleaded not guilty.

FELTZ IS A MAN TO LOOK TO IN FUTURE

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Boston, Jan. 29.—"Terror Tomasso" Feltz exhibited his right hand, clinched tightly, to "Davey" McNeill last night, and then walked over and planted that glove on Dave's face. It was just after they shaped up, and Steve Mahoney's pet took a short nap. It was too late to let Steve and George McDonald think they had a champion, but the best of them will be fooled, particularly when they are enthusiastic.

It shows that Feltz is a pretty husky with William of Stratford on Avon, that it is best it was done so quickly.

SHARKEY TRAINING AT HIS INDIANA QUARTERS

Is to Wrestle McLeod Feb. 12—Anxious for the Munroe Bout.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. French Lick, Ind., Jan. 29.—Tom Sharkey, the sailor pugilist, is putting in full time training, and his trainers are kept busy in taking care of his charge.

TOM SHARKEY.

At 2 o'clock the big fighter takes on McCormick, Jimmy Ryan and Tom Williams, and they have all they can do to ward off the blows showered at them.

Sharkey went to church Sunday. February 12 he will wrestle Dan McLeod at Cleveland, Ohio. McLeod offers to throw

THORNTONS ARE TO PLAY AT PFISTER

THREE MAN TEAM WILL MEET THE PFISTER AGGREGATION TONIGHT.

The Thornton and Pfister "three man team" will play a series of five games at the Pfister alleys tonight.

Mr. Ellison of St. Louis, whose picture appeared in the Inter Mountain some time ago, will play with the Pfisters.

'FRISCO GETS TWO STARS

Ham Iberg and Charley Irwin Have Been Secured.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. San Francisco, Jan. 29.—Ham Iberg, the well-known pitcher, and Charley Irwin, a reliable outfielder, have been added to the San Francisco baseball team by Manager Harris.

"KID" FREDERICKS IS LEARNING FAST

MONTANA BOY KNOWS HOW TO GET IN THE NEWSPAPERS AS WELL AS TO USE DUKES.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Seattle, Jan. 29.—Kid Fredericks is getting on to the ways of a fighter; in the last issue of a Boston sporting paper the kid said a lot of things that he could do if he wanted to, and he stated that any of the top-notchers could get a match with him if they were looking for trouble.

According to a letter to the Times, Fredericks will not return to the coast as soon as he has pulled off his doubleheader.

But according to Tommy Reilly things fictitiously down South are anything but rosy. The clubs are a little slow in offering fair odds and the loser's end of the purse generally doesn't amount to much.

MANAGERS ARE MORE TO BLAME THAN THE BOXERS

Average Prize Fighter Would Not Kick Through His Hat if It Were Not for His Slick Booster.

In referring to pugilistic oratory, one word of justice must be inserted, says a writer in a San Francisco exchange, and that is, that managers and not pugilists are responsible for the tiresome elocution in the prize ring.

The majority of sporting writers are tired of this kind of talk, and give it no attention. But others print it all seriousness and interview McGovern on the point.

Some fighters, like Fitzsimmons, are never really happy unless they are casting pugilistic slurs upon other members of their profession; in fact, Fitzsimmons and Julian were a mud-slinging pair that stand alone in the annals of prize fighting.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

Aurelio Herrera has embarked into society. Yesterday, at Boulder Springs, Charley, the Chinese cook, gave a regular pink tea party in honor of the Mexican and his retinue of trainers.

It causes a tinge of sadness to know that Hugh Jennings, the wonderful baseball player, will not play on the diamond again.

The writer knows Jennings well; in fact, he had the honor of being a pupil of Hugh's for some time.

Manager D. E. Dugdale announces that he has at last succeeded in signing Kid Hulen, the game little old man who played second base in such a fine way for Seattle during the close last season.

Champion Jeffries is catching fits on every side for his refusal to consider the offer of the Hayes Valley Athletic club for a fight between him and James J. Corbett.

At present Hugh Jennings, or "Our Hughie" as he was familiarly known at the Georgia university, is coaching the Cornell baseball team and at the same time attending the law school of Cornell.

The sporting editor has received a letter from Lou M. Houseman, sporting editor of The Chicago Inter Ocean, in which the Chicago writer says: "In a handicap boxing match held at Butte, Montana, some two months ago, James Jeffries agreed to stop Jack Munroe and failed."

So, Houseman has been answered to this effect. The fight should go on record as a four round bout with Jeffries and Munroe with "no decision," to denote that it was an exhibition bout.

Jeffries stands where he did before the bout. In other words, the Minneapolis Times prints a letter over Slagle's signature dated last week, wherein he states that he will not play with Portland's outlaw team.

Although it is nearly a month to the date of the American bowling congress at Indianapolis—the date is February 23—tenpin knights throughout the country are looking forward with enthusiasm to the event.

The members of the Indianapolis association who have charge of the big fixture are getting ready for the final effort to make it from the opening day the greatest gathering of bowlers ever held.

So far as can be determined from the progress of the arrangement effected, the congress will convene at the Sherman house at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of Monday, February 23.

The election of the new president of the American Bowling congress will be the most important problem before the many delegates who will attend the congress.

It should effect Jeffries' standing just as Tug Wilson's work before Sullivan should effect his standing, which means that Jeffries stands where he did before the bout.

His success with the amateur team was phenomenal. Cornell made a Southern tour in the spring of 1896 and Georgia's baseball team defeated the Northerners by a score of 1-0.

The East already has announced as its candidate for the office none other than John H. Price, a Buffalo politician. It is said New York bowlers in a body will boost his cause, while other tenpin knights in that section of the country, who are entitled to a vote at the congress, will cast their ballots for him.
