MEYER TALKS SOME PLAIN ENGLISH IN SENATE

Senator From Carbon County Gets After Kennedy and Handles Him Right.

INSINUATES THAT HIS TALK IS UNBEARABLE

Does Not Regard the Deer Lodge Man in the Light of an Uninteresting Character, but Stand All His Gaff He Cannot—Senators Are Not Corporation Men and Will Not Stand Still and Hear Their Integrity Impugned.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.
Helena, Feb. 21.—Seldom is heard a more stinging, though just and perfectly parliamentary, rebuke than that which was administered on the floor of the senate yesterday by Senator Meyer of Carbon county to Senator Kennedy, the United Copper company's hired man, who has flouted in abuse and vilification for several days past.

The Inter Mountain told yesterday of Kennedy's reckless statements when holding the floor on the claim that he was talking to a question of personal privilege arising out of the Inter Mountain's truthful report of what had been done at the disgraceful night session on Wednesday, The Inter Mountain told last night of how, in his mad disregard for decency as well as truth, Kennedy called Senator Brennan of Flathead a liar. These and other insults the senators have stood quietly and with forbearance, realizing the futility of arguing with a man of Kennedy's stamp and being aware of the fact that the man's own actions must condemn him in the eyes of the public.

Meyer's Rebuke.

But in the course of the proceedings yesterday, when Kennedy was making his last wild fight against the adoption of the new rules, which propose to clip his wings and those of his friend, Lieutenant-Governor Higgins, in stifling the expression of the senate's opinion, the occasion came up when Senator Meyer could, in strong and yet temperate language, administer the deserved rebuke.

"Inasmuch," said Senator Meyer, "as the senator from Deer Lodge has called in question the proposed amendment to the rules (the one under discussion was that limiting debate); in view of the fact that he has talked quite ten times as much as any other senator on this matter, and also in view of the fact that he has declared repeatedly that he will use every means in his power—sometimes saying every legitimate means and sometimes omitting the qualifying word—to defeat the bill about which he has been talking, it seems to me that I may be excused for making a few observations at this time. I feel that in justice to myself I should review a few of my reasons for doing so.

His Abusive Tongue.

"Early in the session when the rules were adopted the senator from Deer Lodge took occasion to intimate that the senator from Gallatin, the chairman of the committee on rules, had done things which were criminal in character. He termed others of us co-conspirators and partners in crime. In this body only this morning he said to the senator from Flathead, 'You are a liar.' He has impugned the motives of myself and of other senators. He has cast aspersions on us. It is proper therefore that we hurl them back in his teeth. They are uncalled for, unwarranted and as unnecessary as they are absolutely untrue.

"I regret that it becomes necessary for me to speak in this manner of another senator. I would much rather deal with my fellow senators on a high plane, but it is time that a halt should be called on the conduct and the language of the senator from Deer Lodge. I, for one, will not suffer his insults any longer.

"For his language this morning he has said subsequently that he has no apologies to offer. If he has none a means should be found to get an apology from him."

When He Objects.

"The senator from Deer Lodge," went on Senator Meyer, "has not bothered me during this session. In fact, I have regarded him as rather an interesting character. It is only when he ceases to be a gentleman that I object to his conduct.

"Several times of late he has called attention to the Amalgamated Copper company. He has said that we who are advocating this measure are tools of that corporation. I want to say that there is not one vestige of truth in his assertions so far as I am concerned, nor do I believe that there are any among the senators against whom such a charge could be laid.

Not a Company Man.

"As for the senator from Deer Lodge, he has classified himself 'Me and Heinz' he said the other day on the floor of this senate, were opposing the bill. I do not have to classify him; he has done so himself.

"As long as I have been in the senate I have at all times taken such a position on any and all questions as I thought the proper one. I have no interest in the Amalgamated Copper company nor in any of the other mining companies which are interested here. I propose to advocate such measures as I think are proper and right and to oppose those which I think are not for the best interests of the people of Montana. It makes no difference to me whether those measures are prejudicial to the interests of the Amalgamated Copper company or to the interests of Mr. Heinz.

"So far as this particular measure is concerned, I have already said what I have to say concerning it. It proposes that every man shall have a fair and impartial trial when he goes into court. It proposes that a litigant shall not have to go before a court that is prejudiced against him. I want this measure to apply to Mr. Heinz as much as to the Amalgamated Copper company. It is a bill that is fair and just to all.

"The senator from Deer Lodge has referred to my advocacy of the change of venue bill two years ago. I have no apologies to offer for favoring that bill. It was a proper bill. I favored it then as I am favoring this bill now because I am in favor of giving relief to the people; I am in favor of a bill that will give relief from laws which compel a man to go before a biased and prejudiced court.

Cannot Be Done.

"I do not believe the bill that is before us, while having that object in view, could be so amended as to meet the approval of the gentleman from Deer Lodge. In fact, it is very clearly shown to us that he does not want a fair and impartial court. If that is not his position, I defy him to show us what his position is."

Kennedy, in talking against the amendment to the rules limiting debate—the question actually before the senate—had harked back to the days of King John and had talked much of an attempt to limit free speech by curtailing debate. Taking up this matter, Senator Meyer said:

It Is Not True.

"The senator from Deer Lodge has asserted that this bill is being pushed ahead of other legislation. I do not understand that anything has been taken out of its regular order. Until we were obstructed by the gentleman from Deer Lodge we were right up with our business and had no accumulation of work on hand."

Kennedy interrupted to ask if there were not a number of bills in the custody of the officers of the senate.

Senator Meyer replied that all this work would have been attended to had not the filibustering tactics intervened. He pointed out again that the senate is fully up with its work, and if bills have accumulated it is the fault of the obstructionists.

This practically closed the debate. Kennedy had no reply to make. He who had so recklessly assailed others and seemed to think himself immune from rebuke had been given a lesson.

The Inter Mountain yesterday carried the story of the afternoon proceedings to the point where Kennedy was arguing on a point of order that a legal day had not elapsed since Senator Hoffman gave notice of the proposed change of rules. After considerable talk along these lines, Lieutenant-Governor Higgins ruled that the point was not well taken.

Started to Droan.

The motion then was made to adopt the amendment to Rule 27, which limits debate. Kennedy thereupon, at 3:15, entered upon one of his rambling talks in opposition. Meyer made the point of order against him once that he was not talking to the motion, but, after a warning by the presiding officer, Kennedy proceeded and talked to 3:50. Then came Senator Meyer's speech rebuking the Deer Lodge senator, at the conclusion of which Meyer moved the previous question, which, prevailing, closed the debate. On a vote of 17 to 9 the amendment to the rules was adopted. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Anderson, Bourne, Biggs, Brennan, Cullen, Donlan, Hoffman, Hopkins, Johnson, Kelly Maddox, Mahon, Meyer, McLean, Waite, Whipple, Yegua.
Noes—Albright, Conrow, Durham, Kennedy, Kohrs, Murray, Ralston, Sherlock, Tewey.
There was a delay while President Higgins signed some bills, and it was not until 4:20 o'clock that the motion to adopt the amendment to Rule 38, giving the senate power to select its own chairman of the committee of the whole, came up. Kennedy submitted an amendment cutting out that provision of the amendment on the selection of the chairman, and on this he talked to 5 o'clock, rehashing and

Women's Headaches

FORWARD, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1909.
I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Malarial headache predicts fever. Biliious headache foretells liver troubles. Neuragic headache shows overworked nerves. Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Both men and women suffer the first four kinds of headaches, but the last, periodical headache, falls only to the lot of women and cannot be mistaken, for it is the unerring sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. No woman need give up and accept a life of suffering unless she allows herself to despair. Mrs. Snow, in her letter shows every suffering woman how not only suffering can be avoided but how weakness can be conquered and the best health assured. She tells, how even when the best medical aid failed, Wine of Cardui worked a complete cure. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain she was made a strong and healthy woman again. One week of suppression is a serious thing. But nine months! Think of it! Can your suffering be greater than hers? Can your case be more seemingly hopeless? Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. Mrs. Snow's attention was attracted to Wine of Cardui when she was discouraged and beyond the help of physicians—if she hadn't been beyond doctor's help she probably never would have come to take Wine of Cardui. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui, and try it now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. They are from the same cause as the irregular flow. Cure one and you cure both. Do not postpone your case. Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

LA TEST NEWS OF THE MINES

CAMP OF DE LAMAR

One Hundred and Eighty Tons of Ore Being Milled Daily.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.
Salt Lake, Feb. 21.—The impression has gone abroad that De Lamar, Idaho, is practically a camp of the past. But Editor John Lamb of the Silver City Nugget, and who is recognized as being one of Idaho's ablest writers, takes exception to such assertions. While the camp is not so active as it was at one time, he shows that it is not by any means dead. He says:

"The usual amount was paid out at De Lamar Tuesday—pay day. The usual amount of ore, about 180 tons per day, is being put through the mill, and the usual number of men are still employed. A tri-weekly service has been maintained here for several years and calling it 'played out,' it is a pretty lively old one yet. We would like to see some other old moribund camps displaying the same activity."

MINES OF DEEP CREEK

Traction Engines May Be Employed to Transport Ores.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.
Salt Lake, Feb. 21.—The committee appointed at the recent meeting of Deep Creek mine owners is busily engaged in gathering data for a report to be submitted at a later meeting of the Deep Creek association. President John Dern said today that he knew of a certain party who would establish a transportation line between Salt Lake and the mines and agree to deliver the ores to the smelters in the valley at a reasonable price, provided that he has the assurance of the producers that they can furnish him no less than 100 tons per day.

He would, Mr. Dern states, put traction engines on the road, but before doing so would expect the producers to enter into a contract with him for a period of two or three years.

The committee will ascertain if the amount of tonnage required can be had; in fact, the members will go into every detail, so whenever their report is completed it will be very comprehensive. No meeting will be called until the committee finishes its labors; nothing can be done to further the interests of the Deep Creek country until it is ready to report.

Clark and Breen Return.

Chairman W. D. Clark of the board of county commissioners, and County Attorney Breen returned last night from Helena, where the former has been looking after legislation and the latter made an argument in the supreme court.

The Dead Letter Sale.

[Washington Star.]
The sale of the unclaimed packages and letters from the postoffice department as collected in the dead letter office was commenced this morning at 10 o'clock and will continue until all are disposed of. The sale is being conducted at Sloan's auction rooms on G street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, and is the second sale of dead letters that has been had during the present fiscal year. Despite the fact that the last one was held only a little over a month ago, a large crowd was collected in the auction rooms when the auctioneer started the sale with a small package of jewelry. Catalogues are furnished every one who attends, and the number of each package with a partial description of its contents is given. The packages are sold by numbers and not by the description of the contents as appears in the catalogue.

The dead letter sale usually brings out a great deal of unconscious humor. The auctioneer is present in large numbers, both sexes of the species being much in evidence. The sale is the one of all others to bring this class of buyers to the front. The pleasure of buying something about which you know absolutely nothing is delightful, these people claim. It is about the same sensation felt in watching the little ball spin around the circle, with $500 down on the board wagered on its stopping at the red and not the black. The only difference between the dead letter sale and roulette et cetera is that in the former you cannot lose—every package sold contains something.

WOMEN MINERS OF SAN JUAN

Go 75 Miles Through Deep Snow to Ouray and Back Again.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.
Ouray, Colo., Feb. 21.—We saw two women miners on the streets of Ouray last Sunday. They are partners in a promising group of mining claims in San Miguel county near Telluride. They have prospected and worked with pick, powder and drill and suffered the hardships and privations of that kind of a life for years and, like many others, have untold millions almost within their grasp, but as yet they are hard pressed at times to buy powder and provisions with which to continue driving for their pay streak. The distance by the wagon road from Telluride to Ouray is about 75 miles. They made the trip on foot, reaching Ouray on Saturday. Snow covers the ground to a depth of one to three feet the entire distance, and in many places the road was not broken. They remained in the city two or three days to transact their business and then returned the same way they came. It is a trip few men would undertake at this season of the year. They attracted considerable attention from people on the streets, but were treated by everybody with the consider-

MINING RICH ORE

High-Grade Mineral From the Pittsburg and the Golden Wedge.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.
Central City, Colo., Feb. 21.—Leasers at the Pittsburg and Golden Wedge properties of the Cashier company, in the lower part of the Russell district, are making shipments of above the average values of the camp. During the past week Jordan & Co. shipped three lots which ran 1.88 ounces of gold, 13 ounces silver and 13.10 per cent copper, or net value of $947.70 per ton; 6.82 ounces gold, 17.48 ounces silver and 17.53 per cent copper, or net values of $161.08 per ton, and a still better grade, going 9.13 ounces gold, 13 ounces silver and 4.59 per cent copper, or a net value of $180.02 per ton. Saunders & Co. made a shipment netting them $217.66 per ton, the values being 10.29 ounces gold, 12.89 ounces silver and 12.10 per cent copper, and Williams & Co. made a shipment netting them $253.18 per ton, 12.69 ounces gold, 16.50 ounces silver and 6.59 per cent copper. About 60 men are at work at this property, the larger proportion of whom are on leasing account, and the property is making an excellent record for regular shipments. The ore is being handled by the sampling works of the Golden smelter. The Pittsburg shaft is being sunk an additional lift of 100 feet, which will make it 600 feet in all, and if the conditions are as satisfactory as at present, the company intends to make this the main working shaft and install a large plant of machinery. B. L. Campbell is in charge as superintendent.
