SCHOOL OF MINES RECEIVES A BOOST

Legislative Committee Which Has Visited Institution Is Full of Praise.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION SECURES APPROBATION

Committee Is Convinced That Present Facilities Are Inadequate and Having Looked into the Plans for Improvements, Is Pleased to Say That in Their Opinion They Are Very Good.

The report of the legislative committee appointed to visit the various state institutions, covering its views upon the state school of mines at Butte, has been received. The committee favors a further appropriation for the school and commends the work being done by it in warm terms. The report of the committee is as follows: "Your committee visited the state school of mines, situated at Butte, Silver Bow county, Montana.

This institution has been in operation for two and one-half years and has an attendance of 68 pupils. The committee found the work of the institution well organized and its faculty composed of men who are thoroughly qualified for the special duty assigned to each.

Practical Instructions Given.

"The most prominent characteristic of the work done in this institution is the practical nature of the instruction given. It is claimed, and we believe acknowledged, that in no other school of this character are the pupils brought so directly and so continuously in contact with the actual problems and experience of the profession of the mining engineer as in Butte. It is the declared purpose of the management of the school that no pupil shall be graduated from the institution who has not acquired a practical as well as a theoretical acquaintance with the various subjects embraced in the course. We find that the institution is in need of additional equipment in the various departments to enable it to carry on its work successfully.

"The present facilities for the classes in assaying are entirely inadequate, and an appropriation should be made for additional accommodations in this line. There is a large unfinished attic in the school of mines' building which should be finished out, as it is very much needed for the accommodation of the classes. There is also need of a material increase of the heating plant of the institution. The present plant, which is good so far as it goes, is not sufficient for the rooms at present occupied, and must be enlarged to meet the demands of the greater space that must be used.

Improvements Well Planned.

"The committee examined carefully the detailed plans for these additions, and is of the opinion that they will meet the wants of the institution in the best and most economical manner. For general equipment considerable additions are needed and should be granted so far as the funds at the disposal of the state will permit.

"We desire to express here our gratification in view of the character of the instruction given in the school of mines, and to say that here, as in the other institutions we have visited in the state, we have been fortunate in securing efficient and capable teachers, trustees and managers."

Women's Dragging Pains

CHICAGO, ILL., October 3, 1902.

There is nothing of so much interest to a sick woman as getting well. I write this to sick, thoughtful women who have dreamed of a weary existence not knowing which way to turn for health. I have been in this precarious condition for nearly ten years in perfect health. Thanks to Wine of Cardui, I suffered with biliousness and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rush of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not for I thought that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. My attention was called to it by a little booklet and I decided to try it. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman. I am glad to be able to give this testimonial as I am now in perfect health.

Could Mrs. Bush have given a happier message than this to the thoughtful sufferers to whom she gives advice? What like health can bring the sufferer nearer to enjoying life? To make a sick woman well is to open almost every door of blessing and privilege to her—the blessing of having children in her barren home, the privilege of taking part in the real affairs of life.

Of thousands of women are continuing to suffer without making the effort to secure health—the health that would give strength instead of weakness, vigor instead of pain, happiness instead of dejection and hope instead of despair.

If you are suffering what can be of more interest to you than the fact that Mrs. Bush was in a precarious condition, weary of existence and is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual pains, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief? This should bring you to consider her letter seriously and to decide to give Wine of Cardui a trial. This is not a diagnosis and a theory as to how a cure can be worked. It is a case demonstrated by this prominent Chicago woman herself.

Is there any doubt in your mind that you can be cured by Wine of Cardui the same as Mrs. Bush was cured? Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle with its quick and lasting relief soon convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Will you secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist and start today the treatment which brings perfect health?

BILLS RELATING TO MONTANA HUNTING

State Game Warden Scott Explains Three Measures Passed By Legislature.

EFFORTS MADE TO HOLD DOWN THE POT-HUNTERS

Non-Residents Are Required to Take Out a License and Are Strictly Overlooked—Common Carriers Held Responsible—Provisions Made to Better Protect the Game in the State.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Helena, Feb. 28.—Three important bills relating to the fish and game laws of the state have been passed at this session of the legislature. These bills are largely supplemental to the fish and game laws already in effect. State Game Warden Scott, in explanation of them today, said: "Senate Bill 29, which now only awaits the senate's concurrence in some minor house amendments to be ready to go to the governor, makes no change from the old—or present—law with these exceptions, that turtle doves are added to the list of game protected at all times and that one may kill one mountain sheep a season. The same open season prevails under this bill in regard to the killing of elk, and it allows the killing of two mallards during that season, as the old law did.

"In regard to killing deer and Rocky Mountain goat, the open season is established in the new bill as from September 1 to December 1, one month shorter than has prevailed heretofore. December is cut out of the open season, as in that month the snow is so deep that the game has not an opportunity to escape. The season for the killing of mountain sheep is the same. You are allowed, under the new act, to kill one mountain sheep, three deer and one goat. The present law forbids you killing mountain sheep at all, but allows you to kill six deer and six goats. The mountain sheep is added to the list of game that may be killed, but the kill of deer and goat is reduced.

"As to killing feathered game, the open season for killing grouse, prairie chicken, quail, hen, sage hen, pheasant and partridge begins August 15 and ends December 1 under this new act. This puts sage hens back to the same time as the rest of the birds. The present law allows the killing of sage hens on August 1 and makes the open season for the others to begin on September 1. This new act starts the open season for all on the same date, August 15. The bill abolishes the spring season shooting of aquatic fowl and makes the open season for geese, ducks, brant and swan from September 1 to January 1. The old law permitted killing from September 1 to May 1.

Regarding Seining.

"The new act makes changes in the law regarding seining. It permits seining anywhere in the Missouri river, except in Lake Sewall in Lewis and Clarke county, the boundaries of the lake being described as from the Missouri River Power company's dam in Lewis and Clarke county to the bridge known as Blake's ferry bridge in Broadwater county. The size of the mesh of the seine to be used is fixed at one and one-half inches square. In the present law it is permissible to seine in the Missouri river only below the Great Falls and then with a sein of two inches square mesh.

"Under the new act any person who catches any trout, grayling or black bass or who removes any eggs or spawn from any such fish for speculative purposes or who sells any of the trout, grayling, black bass or spawn thereof is guilty of a misdemeanor. The new act prohibits absolutely the sale of any of these. The present law provides only for the protection in this manner of speckled mountain trout and grayling.

"The new act also provides for prohibiting the hunting or chasing of any big game with dogs. The old law, or present law, provides for a fine of from $1 to $250 for a violation of its provisions. This new act fixes the penalty at a fine of from $50 to $300. It should be remembered that with the exceptions I have mentioned the present law will remain in force after this new law becomes effective.

Non-Resident Hunters.

"Senate Bill 30, which has been passed by both houses and signed by the governor, re-enacts the provision for non-resident hunters being obliged to take out a license. It fixes the license at $25 for hunting big game and $15 for hunting small game for all who are not residents or taxpayers of the state. It makes provisions also regarding the exporting of any protected game or any part thereof from the state, with this exception: In case a resident desires to ship out he must secure a permit to do so from the state game warden and in case of a non-resident hunter desiring to ship he must present his license to the agent of the transportation company he intends to use in the shipment and have such shipment indorsed in ink on the back of the document. All game shipped out of the state either by resident or non-resident hunter must be in the personal possession of the shipper or carried as baggage or express, and must be accompanied by him on the same train.

Common Carriers Responsible. "The bill also holds the common carrier companies for any violation of these provisions and provides a penalty for the infraction thereof. Such common carriers are required to report each shipment at once to the state game warden. The act also provides that all packages containing fish or game to be shipped out in this manner shall be lettered in plain letters on the side to disclose their contents.

"The new act further provides that every person who is engaged in the business of guiding must procure from the state game warden a guide's license, which costs $10 per annum. The applicant for the license must be a competent person and an actual resident of the state and must present with his application an affidavit of his good character and responsibility, signed by three taxpayers in the county in which he lives. The applicant must also sign the official oath of a deputy state game warden. Such guide is held responsible equally with any of the party he guides for any violation of the law committed by a member of the party. It is required further that the guide, as soon as he returns from a trip with a party, must make out a report and forward it to the state game warden, stating the names of the people he guided, the number of each kind of game they killed and the number of days they were out. If they were non-residents, he must give the numbers of their licenses.

Hold the Taxidermists.

"Further the act provides that all taxidermists must secure a license from the state game warden at a cost of $25. It also requires that they render a report monthly to the state game warden, of all the animals or parts of animals they have received for mounting during the preceding month and the names and the addresses of the persons sending them; a list of all animals or parts of animals they have sent out during the month, to whom sent and the address of the consignee; also a list of the heads and other parts of animals on hand at the end of the month. Except for these changes the old law on the subjects covered in this act remains the same.

"Senate Bill No. 31, which has passed both house and is now awaiting the approval of the governor, provides for additional office expenses for the game warden and for mileage for deputies on service of all papers, the mileage to be paid out of the state fund instead of out of the county fund."

HIGHER WAGES WAS NOT THE IDEA OF THE UNION

Bowling Alley Man Says Pin Boys Were Satisfied With Conditions—He Is Glad They Have Union.

It is denied that the pin boys went on a strike for higher wages and shorter hours. At the Pfister bowling alley, Manager McKinley declares that the boys never seemed to be dissatisfied and that the whole story probably grew out of the refusal to set up pins for some late arrival who desired to play after the hour for closing had arrived. Mr. McKinley says that the boys on his alleys have been paid $4 a month. Now that the union demands a raise he says there will be no opposition to the proposition. "In fact, the managers seem to be rather glad that the boys have organized, as it secures competent boys for the alleys and enables the managers to depend on the boys when they have been hired through the union. At Pfister's alleys the new schedule will go into effect tomorrow. At the Thornton alleys the head pin boy is getting $40 per month, and the rest of the boys receive $35. For overtime work they get 15 cents an hour.

According to all the managers of the alleys, it was not a question of striking at all. The boys simply asked for what they thought they were entitled to, and the managers granted the new order of things.

Same as Ours.

LITTLE CHANCE TO PASS THE MEASURE

Law Requires Reapportionment But Is Not Likely to Go on This Time.

AFTER EACH CENSUS IT COMES UNDER THE LAW

Legislature of 1901 Failed to Obey the Statute and the Eighth Assembly Is Likely to Let It Slip—Allen and Whipple Bills and Their Representation as Compared With Present Law.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Helena, Feb. 28.—It is doubtful that any reapportionment bill whatever succeeds in passing the legislature. Though the legislature is required to reapportion the legislative representation of the several counties after each federal census the legislature of 1901 failed to obey the mandate, and there is little chance of the Eighth general assembly being any more obedient. In fact, a new reapportionment bill is always a difficult thing to get up. Not one was ever drawn which was satisfactory to all parts of a state.

The state now has a house of representatives of 72 members. Last Monday Senator Whipple introduced a bill in the senate cutting down the house membership to 53. Yesterday Representative Allen introduced one in the house raising the size of the house to 77.
