

TODAY'S NEWS FROM THE SMELTER CITY

DENNY IS IN CHARGE

Succeeds Twoby as the Treasurer of Deer Lodge County.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Anaconda, March 2.—Harry A. Denny took charge of the treasurer's office of Deer Lodge county this morning and P. D. Twoby, who has held the position acceptably for the past two years, retired. Mr. Denny has appointed as his deputy, George M. Johnston, who has been in the office with Mr. Twoby.

Harry Denny is a printer and he has been employed in the mechanical department of the Standard in this city for several years. He is very popular with his fellow workmen. On Saturday evening at the close of the work day the boys gathered around him and presented him with a magnificent timepiece of the latest and best make with solid gold cases. Inscribed on the inside was the following: "Presented to Harry A. Denny as a token of appreciation and regard by his fellow workmen February 26, 1903."

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Denny was last fall elected to one of the best paying and most responsible offices in the county, he has never missed a shift more than usual, and he worked until quitting time Saturday evening.

ON PURE FOOD BILL

Number of Local Doctors Sign Petition to Have It Passed.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Anaconda, March 2.—Anaconda physicians have declared themselves in favor of the pure food bill recently passed by the house and now pending in the senate. The petition was yesterday forwarded to the state senator for this county. The petition was signed by every physician in the city and it is understood that a great majority of the citizens of Anaconda favor the measure.

The petition follows: "To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Montana—Honorable Sirs: Recalling the analysis of the Anaconda milk supply, made by the Pediatric laboratory of New York City within the past 60 days, which showed that one dairyman was offering for sale to our citizens a normal milk for their consumption, and, knowing, as medical men, that human lives can be sacrificed by impure food stuffs and that legal enactments are necessary to secure relief, we respectfully ask your favorable consideration of the meat and milk inspection bill now before you.

"The necessity of such a measure is so evident and so urgent that we feel it would be questioning your intelligence to offer extended argument in favor of this bill.

"We therefore petition you to grant this boon to the people. H. W. Stephens, M. D., Mayor of Anaconda; Michael M. Leahy, M. D., J. M. Rockefeller, M. D., W. H. English, M. D., O. C. Evans, M. D., D. James M. Sligh, M. D., George B. Owen, M. D., M. W. Feenan, M. D., T. J. McKenzie, M. D., Felix L. St. Jean, M. D., and J. F. Spelman, M. D."

LITERARY NEWS

"Time, the Comedian," is the suggestive title of the novel in Anisette's for March. The author is Kate Jordan (Mrs. F. M. Vermilye), whose work is always notable for intense dramatic quality and fidelity of characterization. In scene-setting this novel is peculiarly attractive. The earlier parts of the story are laid in the familiar parlors of New York society, and the latter in the environment of the American colony in Paris. In the same number is a most amusing and chippier little play by Caroline Duer, "The Handling of Husbands." Alan Dale is at once humorous, incisive and mildly philosophical in a paper on "The Sublime Art of Pleasing Actors." A new writer, with a gift of wit, decidedly full and original, is David Barton, who contributes a story, "An Obstacle to Marriage." It is one of the most laughable bits of fiction published in many days. Charles Battell Loomis, in "My Author's Reading," gives a valuable hint to the man who finds he's forgotten his hatchet and is in a quandary as to where to spend the night. "Parsifal," by Guy Wetmore Cary, is a quaint, pretty love story of an American girl abroad. George Horton, author of "Like Another Helen," and other good novels, is in evidence with a little story of Chicago people, "Miss Black's Affinity." It reads like a page from the life chronicle of the Middle West metropolis. "The Subjugation of Ekrim Pasha," by Prince Vladimir Vantatsky, is a pleasing story of a love affair in diplomatic circles. Oscar King Davis offers "How Molly Joined," a tale full of sentiment and the spirit of war. A most ingenious little skit is "Sound and Fury," by S. H. Peters. There are not more than a couple of pages of it, and there is a laugh in every third line.

Second Edition.
D. Appleton & Co. state that Chauncey C. Hotchkiss' new book, "For a Maiden Brave," just published, went into its second edition before the day of publication. This is an excellent tribute to the development of Mr. Hotchkiss' skill as a writer of stories of the Revolutionary period. "For a Maiden Brave" deals with the exciting days on Long Island just after the retreat of Washington, and there are brought into the story many historic landmarks, such as France's tavern, in New York, the old Jones homestead on Long Island, and others of interest in New Haven and vicinity.

An Energetic Magazine.
One of the brightest and most energetic of the monthly magazines is Conkey's Home Journal (Chicago). It is edited with a view to pleasing every member of the family, and that it does so far as it is possible for one magazine to do so. The March issue contains the usual quota of short stories by well-known authors, departments for the home and a department of music. Chief among the features for the mother and daughter are a page of "Original Designs for Waists," "Lessons in Lace and Embroidery Making," "A Lesson in Home Millinery" and "A Lesson in Home Dressmaking." Miss Finch contributes an article on "A Wedding Breakfast in March," and Ethel M. Colson is the author of an illustrated article on "Beautiful Window Gardens." A very pretty two-step for the piano is by Frances Robertson.

Country Life in America.
The March number of Country Life in America marks the highest achievement of the most beautiful magazine published in this country. Like the Christmas Annual the Gardening Manual is a double number of about 100 pages which sells for 50 cents. The pictures are superb. Every department of gardening is covered by practical and inspiring articles. Prof. L. H. Bailey, the editor and leading horticulturist of the country, writes of "The Home Garden." Colonel Verbeck tells how he made his charming Japanese garden. Warren H. Manning, the noted landscape gardener of Boston, explains "How to Make a Formal Garden at Moderate Cost." "School Gardens" and the work of the "Philadelphia Vacant Lots Cultivation" are strong features. "The Home Vegetable Arise" contains novel ideas for doing away with drudgery. The Sargent Estate shows the finest American example of natural landscape gardening ever pictured. "Why and How I Made My Country Home" tells the evolution of Mr. W. C. Egan's home at Highland Park, Ill., which has an international reputation for its floriculture. Other interesting features are "The Im-

BOSETICH IS JAILED

Alleged Newspaperman Is Taken Upon Charge of Imposture.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Anaconda, March 2.—So-called newspapermen are becoming rather much of a nuisance in this city and the second man in less than a year to declare himself a knight of the quill and then immediately go to the bad is now in the county jail charged with obtaining money under false pretense. It is Anton Bosetich, who, it is alleged, represented that he was the authorized agent and correspondent of an Austrian newspaper, published in New York, and upon such representations secured several dollars.

Yesterday Chief of Police Taylor was notified by Zotti & Co., publishers of the paper, that the man was an impostor and that he was acting without authority from them.

Promptly upon the receipt of the telegram the chief, accompanied by Sheriff Petelin, looked the gentleman up and placed him in the county jail.

This is the second time Bosetich has been under arrest since his arrival in the city, nearly two weeks ago. He was first arrested because it was believed that he was implicated in the theft of some revolvers and other plunder from the Delzell store on East Park avenue.

Lambert, the other alleged newspaperman, was found guilty of stealing a gold ring by Judge Hayes, about two weeks ago. His case was appealed to the district court.

SERMON OF BAPTISM

Rev. Setzer's Remarks on the Rite of the Baptist Church.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Anaconda, March 2.—In the Baptist church last evening the Rev. Setzer preached a sermon on baptism and the lesson taught by it. The reverend gentleman said in part:

"Baptism is not baptismal regeneration, and baptism is not the door by which we enter heaven, and I do not claim that there is no other way, for Jesus plainly says, 'I am the door and by me if any man enter he shall be saved.' Then, if we are to be saved by baptism what would have been the need of Christ's death on the cross? And if we are saved by baptism, then we are not saved by grace through faith, as we are told in the Word of God—neither is salvation a gift, as Jesus has said.

"Baptism is immersion into water, and all scholars are agreed that Roman vi means baptism by immersion, and admit that immersion was the ancient form of baptism. That is truly a burial. Then anything that is not immersion is not burial, therefore it is not a New Testament baptism.

"The lessons taught by baptism: As we have already seen baptism is a burial immersion, according to New Testament teaching. What are we to learn from this ordinance? That we jointly died that we were jointly buried with Him, for He was buried for us and we by faith, accept His burial for sin, for our death and His death for our burial, that just as Christ was raised from among the dead through the glory of the Father, thus we also, in newness of life, might walk and we were jointly crucified with Him that the body of sin might be made powerless."
