

GEN. WARREN GAVE A NAME TO BUGHOUSE

Butte Man Can Claim Proud Distinction of Fathering a Game.

The publication in the Inter Mountain a few days ago of the story about the card game called "bughouse" aroused more or less interest in the origin of the name. Various theories have been advanced as to the source from whence the name came.

A Butte gentleman says that he is quite certain that the origin of the name should be attributed to General Charles S. Warren of this city. It was about two years ago that the game was first introduced in the Silver Bow club. It was then known as "teaser." General Warren after taking a few hands in the games conferred upon it the name of "bughouse."

"Why, anybody that would play that game would become bughouse," declared the general and ever since the name "bughouse" has been in use.

WRECKAGE DRIFTING IDLY ON THE WATERS

Tells Tale of Disaster to Lumber Carriers—A Boat Stern Found.

Victoria, B. C., April 2.—Further evidence of disaster having befallen one of the lumber carriers from Puget Sound was received from the ships Rabne and Invermark, arriving yesterday, the former from Liverpool and the latter from Callao.

A few days ago news was given of the finding of new lumber, and the stern of a ship's boat marked "Liverpool" on the Vancouver Island coast. Now, according to the Rabne and Invermark, quantities of new lumber and wreckage is drifting south of Cape Flattery.

The wreckage included the mast parts of some sailing vessels, several spars with bolts attached, a beam and a small amount of lumber. It was sighted about 150 miles southwest of Flattery. It was within a few miles of this that the Invermark sighted a quantity of new lumber. No clew can be obtained as to what vessel this wreckage is from, but it is generally thought that the ship Ansonia is the one which has been in trouble for the reason that she put to sea in the teeth of a heavy gale which blew 75 miles an hour on March 10.

Northern Pacific Will Put Up Some Cozy Cottages at Glandville.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Glendive, April 2.—The Northern Pacific road, which has found it hard work to keep employes here, has hit upon a plan whereby it hopes to solve the problem.

A number of neat and cozy dwellings are to be erected for the use of such employes as live at this point. The houses will be as nice as any in the city and will be rented to the railroad men at greatly reduced rates.

Contracts have been let for the construction of the buildings, which are to be completed by June 15.

RANCHERS ARE UP IN ARMS

Say Lands Are Being Ruined by Refuse From Smelter at Basin.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Boulder, April 2.—Ranchers in this locality are up in arms against the Basin & Bay smelter of Basin, operated under a lease by F. A. Heinz, alleging that their lands are being ruined by the refuse from the smelter.

A committee has been appointed to go to Basin and call on the management of the smelter in an endeavor to have the nuisance abated.

The company has begun the erection of a flume to carry off the refuse, but the work is progressing so slowly that the ranchers fear it will be completed too late to be of any benefit to them.

TWO BRIDGES BURNED DOWN

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Billings, April 2.—Two high bridges on the reservation at Corinth, 35 miles east of Billings, have been burned, causing the Burlington road a long delay in the running of western trains.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, although it is possible sparks from the engine started the flames.

When the damage was discovered a large force of men was put to work, and all haste was made in the repair work.

NEW WING AT STATE NORMAL WILL GREATLY IMPROVE THE FACILITIES

Haire & Fennell, associated architects of Butte and Helena, have prepared the plans for the projected new wing of the State Normal college at Dillon. This is the wing authorized by the last legislature. The appropriation for it carries $25,000. It is expected the contract for the erection of the structure will be let before May 1 and that the building will be completed by October 1.

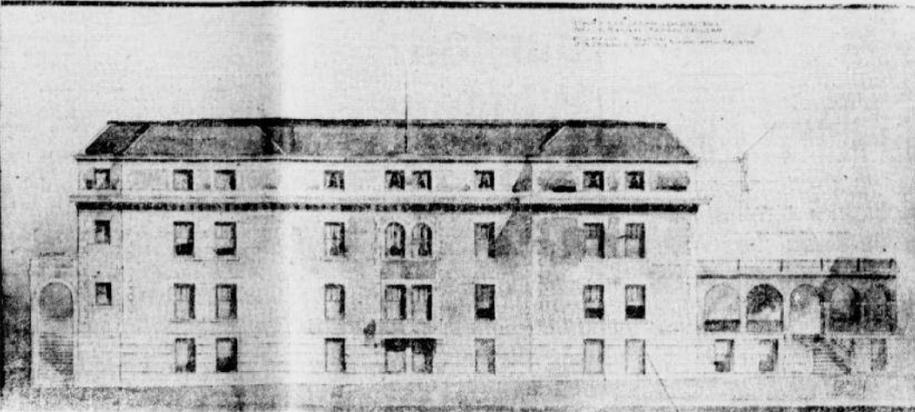

The new wing will be joined to the present building by a semi-circular connection extending from the north corner of the old building. The new wing will an important deviation in the arrangement of the upper story. Instead of an attic with dormer windows, the new wing will have its walls carried up a story higher, thus providing accommodations for more than twice as many rooms as the attic of the present dormitory contains. The doing away with a front entrance in the new building will also allow for an extra room. Altogether, the new wing will provide materially greater accommodations than the old one.

The entire basement will be utilized for dining hall, kitchen and storage purposes.

The three upper floors will contain a reception room, a sick ward, three bath rooms and lavatories and 38 sleeping rooms, for the accommodation of two students each. Most of the rooms will probably be a trifle larger than in the present building, and the corner rooms, in case of necessity, could be fitted up for the accommodation of three persons.

The height of the ceilings on the first and second floors will be nine feet and on the third floor eight and one-half feet. There will be five bath rooms in the new building and hot and cold water, slop approximately extend northeasterly at almost an angle of 45 degrees with the front of the present building, its front facing toward the city. This arrangement makes the buildings semi-detached, communication between the two being had through the basement and first floor. In this way none of the present window and light space will be interfered with.

The new wing has substantially the same dimensions as the old, being about 45-90 feet. The material used in its construction will be also the same, the basement being of stone and the upper stories of cream-colored brick. There is, however,

There will be no hallway in the basement, the support for the upper floors being obtained by means of beams and iron columns. The new dining hall will probably be the largest in the state, its dimensions being about 42x65 feet in the clear, with a 10 foot ceiling and amply lighted from three sides. It is estimated to accommodate at least 160 persons at one time. A large kitchen, pan room, storage and refrigerating rooms, coal bin and a bakery will also find room in the basement. In order to accommodate all these, the basement will be extended a considerable distance beyond the building proper.

sinks, etc., on each floor. As a matter of course, the building will be electrically lighted and steam-heated, and, if the available means permit, a maple floor will be put in the dining hall and the corridors.

This projected building will materially improve the appearance of the Normal grounds and what is still better, it will enable the college to properly take care of the constantly increasing number of students who seek to avail themselves of the instruction offered by that institution.

ESCAPE IN NIGHTIES

Red Lodge Women Have Only Time to Get Away From Fire.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Red Lodge, April 2.—Aroused from their slumbers by the cry of fire, Mrs. Tillie Koski and two girls employed by her at her restaurant, made a thrilling escape from the place at 2 o'clock in the morning. The building is of wood and the flames spread rapidly. The three women had barely time to get to the stairway, clad only in their night clothing, when the room in which they had been sleeping was filled with fire.

Inside of a few minutes the building was gutted. The loss is in the neighborhood of $1,000.

AT THE COBURN REVIVALS

Another Large Congregation at the First Baptist Church.

There was another large revival meeting at the First Baptist church last night. The meetings are approaching a close now, and Mr. Coburn will be heard for the last time next Sunday night. The subject of last night's discourse was "The Holy City."

Mr. Coburn has been in the city for some time past and has held quite a number of meetings here. The revivals have been largely attended and the evangelist feels highly encouraged by the success he has met with in Butte.

BUTTE'S BUSINESS PROGRESS.

The energy and progressiveness of the business men of Butte is known throughout the entire West. Year by year its merchants, in order to fulfill the demands of the purchasing public, endeavor to outdo their competitors in the variety and up-to-dateness of their stock.

A stranger in Butte would be surprised at the richness of the goods carried. Not only is this true in one particular business, but in almost every representative line. Mr. Ed. Rose, the energetic loan and diamond broker, who for the past 10 years has been in business in this city, is not to be lacking in this respect as anyone can readily perceive by paying a visit to his elegant new store at No. 27 North Main street.

Mr. Rose has spared neither time nor expense in making his new place of business one of the finest west of Chicago. The fixtures are the finest that could possibly be obtained, and the stock of diamonds and jewelry that are carried cannot be excelled anywhere in the West. One advantage of the new store is the privacy of the money loaning department. A person may enter the store through the rear entrance from the Park street alley if they so desire, and a great many people will appreciate this fact.

Mr. Rose has been associated with Mr. D. W. Brodie, who will still act in the capacity of manager, and as Mr. Brodie is well known in this city it is needless to say that the public's interests will be well cared for. Phone 688-7.
