NIMRODS TO TAKE TRIP TO RED ROCK

JOHN E. DAVIS, EMIL HANSON AND FRANK CONLEY WILL LEAVE BUTTE TONIGHT.

The hunting season in Montana is now at its best and many parties are leaving Butte for a few days' trip through the woods and about the lakes of the state. Tonight John E. Davis, Emil Hanson and Frank Conley leave for Red Rock lake, where they will spend a week. Next Tuesday Thomas M. Hodgson and J. T. O'Brien will join the party.

The ducks and geese are said to be unusually plentiful on the lake this season. The sport is reported to be the best in years. While they are gone the hunters will stay at the Montana Hunting club.

The hunting club has been in existence for the past 14 years. It is composed of Butte men with two exceptions. The clubhouse is a large roomy structure which cost $4,000. The grounds about the club comprise 900 acres, all of which is fenced.

The accompanying picture shows John E. Davis on his Kentucky horse. It was taken by H. H. Cross, the famous animal painter, in 1895.

At that time Mr. Cross was engaged in painting a number of horse pictures for the late Marcus Daly, some of which may be seen today in the Ravalli hotel at Hamilton, and in the Montana hotel at Anaconda.

Mr. Cross was 62 years of age, but was very fond of hunting and was enthusiastic as a boy. While he was painting the famous Hamburg and Tammany and other notables of the turf, he spent considerable time hunting throughout the state.

It was while the party was staying at Belmont Park, the well-known ranch of W. H. Raymond, in Madison county, that the accompanying photograph was taken.

BUTTE DOGS IN THE COURSING AT KEARNEY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. Kearney, Neb., Oct. 24.—The Mississippi Valley coursing game met yesterday without a winner in the all-age stake and the money was divided. This was necessary because of lack of time and the supply of jackrabbits running short.

The first ties in the all-age stake were run off, the winners including Yours Truly, Black Boy and Northern Express, Grace Greenwood, Confidence, Cloudburst and Charming Thought, owned by Blake and Smith of Butte.

KID FREDERICKS AT FIRE

Havre, Oct. 24.—Kid Fredericks, the light-weight boxer who knocked out Jack Clifford at Helena a short time since, had a narrow escape from death at the fire which burned the Havre Press building.

Fredericks was one of the hardest working of the volunteer firemen, and while close to the building came near being buried under the walls as the hook and ladder company was tearing it down.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE DAY'S SPORT NEWS

Leave it to James Edward Britt to coin new phrases in the prize ring. While discussing his coming fight with Canole in San Francisco the other day, he said: "I shall land him the blow soporic."

Joe Corbett, a brother of Jim Corbett, and the star twirler of the California league, is one of the players who opposes the adoption of a "salary limit" in the big baseball leagues. Corbett said:

"Players like Lajoie, Waddell, Wagner, Young and a few more are worth all the money they demand. They draw the crowds to the grounds, and why then should they not receive more money than a player who is never heard of and cannot draw enough money during a season to pay for his sleeping car berth on the trips?" Sounds all right, at that.

When Champion Jim Jeffries starts in New York he will have no trouble in finding Jack Munroe, the miner pugilist.

Munroe says he will be pleased to have a talk with the champion, and, if possible, sign articles for a fight.

In an interview in Chicago Jeffries said he did not believe Munroe could be induced to enter the ring with him.

When Munroe read this he said: "Well, if Jeffries thinks I won't fight, just let him show that he means business. Nothing would suit me better than to meet the champion. In fact, he is the one man I have been anxious to fight ever since our last battle.

"Jeffries has never shown any inclination to give me a return match, although I have been after him for almost a year. I will have to call off many others to meet the champion, but he can have a fight whenever he is ready to sign articles.

"Jeffries is blushing when he says I don't want to fight him. Why, I wanted to meet him in Frisco, but he put the matter off. He tried to get me to fight when out of condition and I simply refused to take the chance."

All Butte is interested in the 20-round glove contest between Eddie Santry of Chicago, and Aurelio Herrera, the Mexican, which is to take place next Thursday night at Anaconda.

Everyone wants to see the scrap and if all go who have said they will, it is doubtful whether the theater will hold them. The Mount Haggin club, under whose auspices the contest is to be held, has made arrangements to seat about 2,000 persons and it is estimated that fully that number will attend.

Eddie Santry came off the road yesterday at Anaconda weighing just exactly 120 pounds and after his trainer had rubbed him down his manager, Teddy Murphy, said to him: "Don't work any more today, for you are one pound under now and I don't want you to make the weight until a day or two before the fight. This allowed Santry the rest of the day to himself and he spent it with a party of friends playing ping pong and whist.

Santry's fight with Herrera will decide the lightweight championship of the Northwest and the people of Butte and Montana in general swear by the Mexican, who prides himself on never having been defeated in Montana.

Any time Herrera fights in this section of the country he is backed heavily to win, and it is thought that his friends will set their pile on him this time, too, although there is a general feeling among those who are well posted in such matters that Santry will win.

The Chicago lad has certainly done his share of fighting in his several years at the game and he has fought and bled with the best men of his time, from the champions down to the fifth raters, and successfully, too. His slashing 20-round battle with George Dixon, then the feather-weight champion, and his knock-out of Ben Jordan, champion of England, stamp him as one of the best 30-round men in the ring today. Santry is in excellent shape for the bout with Herrera and is very confident of winning.

Herrera is pegging away at his training quarters at Boulder, his hand is much better and his manager said last night that his man would be in fit shape to wager a million dollars on. Herrera does no boxing while he is working, in order to rest his sore hand and most of his work is done on the road. He and Billy Woods take their usual six-mile spin each morning and in the afternoon they go out hunting rabbits. Upon their return Herrera does a few rounds of bag punching and this completes the day's work. The Mexican has many visitors at his training quarters.

Biddy Bishop is arranging dates for his fighters in the East and he expects to leave Montana in a few weeks and will stop at Kansas City, Detroit, Milwaukee, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. Bishop has made application for matches for Herrera with Young Corbett, Terry McGovern, Abe Attell, Benny Yanger, Hughie Murphy, Jimmy Briggs and Tim Callahan, and for his middleweight, Billy Woods, he wants to get matches with "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, Tommy Ryan, Joe Walcott and Young Peter Jackson.

It will be noticed that Bishop is after the very toughest men in the business to pit against his men.

There is much curiosity to see Woods in action here before the trip East is begun and it has been suggested that a match between Frank Dunn and Woods be arranged at one of the neighboring cities. Dunn is well liked here since his 20-round draw with Jerry McCarthy, and there are many who believe he could lick most of the middleweights who are now posing as champions. Dunn is somewhat heavier than Woods, but it is not thought that Bishop would object to a few pounds.

Eddie Croke is out with a challenge to box any of the 128-pound men in the Northwest. Croke is a good one and has fought the best men in the business. Billy Woods would make a good match and the latter says he is willing to meet Croke on any terms and will make a side bet in the bargain if Croke desires it.

Teddy Murphy, manager of Eddie Santry, says that he has a man to match against Billy Woods at 150 pounds. His candidate for the colored boxer's scalp is Tony Caponi, the undefeated Italian middleweight of Chicago.

Teddy Murphy writes the sporting editor of the Inter Mountain that he will back his man against Billy Woods for any part of $500.

"Caponi has beaten everything in Milwaukee and Chicago that weighs from 145 to 155 pounds," says Teddy, "and I think he can beat Biddy Bishop's bogey man.

"I would like to mention, too," continues Teddy, "that Biddy shouldn't laugh too early over the possession of the best that is at 128 pounds. Santry is in better condition than he has been for three years, and I think he can beat Herrera easily.

"I notice in the Inter Mountain of yesterday that Johnnie Ritchie wanted to meet some man at 122 pounds. I will match Billy Rotechford of Chicago against him at any time for a side bet. Rotechford

CHAMPION WISHES TO FIGHT MUNROE

VERY ANXIOUS TO GET THE BUTTE MINER INTO THE RING FOR A BOUT.

New York, Oct. 24.—Champion Jeffries is not very fond of lying idle and reports say that he is to get on a match with Jack Munroe. It is not because the champion thinks Munroe is a great fighter that he is anxious to meet him in the ring, but he dislikes the idea of the miner pugilist posing as his conqueror.

Jeffries wants to wipe out this alleged victory and it is his intention to force Munroe to a fight.

Ever since Jeffries defended his title against Corbett he has been taking things easy at his home in Los Angeles. Most of his time has been taken up in hunting.

The big boiler-maker delights in hunting big game. He prefers the mountains to a Broadway. Neither does the champion care for theatricals. He would much prefer to engage in a battle than to stand before the footlights.

Jeffries' dislike of the stage probably cost him many thousands of dollars, as he is the first champion who ever failed to take advantage of a championship victory by traveling over the country, giving boxing exhibitions. However, the winning end of his San Francisco battle netted him more than $15,000, which will keep him for a short time to come.

Jeffries is the greatest heavyweight champion the world has ever seen in many ways. So anxious is he to defend his title against all comers that he is always on the aggressive, and he furnishes the odd spectacle of the champion running after his opponents. There are not many ambitious heavyweights running after Jeffries, for they know that the big fellow will take them at their word and sign articles so quickly that it might affect their hearts.

Never before has there been a champion who was so willing to mix it up with champion aspirants. Fitzsimmons and Corbett took long intermissions between their battles and they took good care not to give their victims a return match.

With Munroe disposed of, Jeffries seems to have the field pretty well cleared up, so far as the white men are concerned. There is not a man that the experts believe have a chance with the champion. As for Munroe, he is not considered seriously, and the result of his battle, should he ever meet Jeffries, is a foregone conclusion.

The Northern Pacific railway now offers a reward of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) in place of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for information leading up to the arrest and conviction of parties implicated in the work of dynamiting bridge at Livingston.

WILL WRESTLE IN WHATCOM

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. Whatcom, Wash., Oct. 24.—"Farmer" Martin Burns of Big Rock, Iowa, arrived here yesterday and deposited $1,000 to bind a match with any white man in America, catch-as-catch-can. Frank A. Gotch of Humboldt, Iowa, who is also here has issued a similar challenge, and it is certain that the men will be matched.

Coursing Tomorrow.

A 24-day stake will be run tomorrow at the coursing park in addition to the finals and semi-finals of the stake which was left unfinished last Sunday. There are plenty of hares on hand and Peter Teague, who is the new promoter of the sport, promises a good program.

My Treatment of ANAEMIA

AND ALL FORMS OF MALNUTRITION, INVOLVING NEURASTHENIC CONDITIONS

IS THE MOST MODERN AND RAPID

Competent authorities are now assert that a large percentage of the cases of simple anaemia will be found to have a neurasthenic origin; even where the anaemia is directly due to malnutrition, involving faulty conditions of the stomach and intestinal tract, there is always a more or less serious impairment of nerve tonicity.

The old method of treating these conditions with ordinary stimulants and tonics do little beyond exhausting tissue activity and helping to debilitate the nervous and blood systems.

The various forms of iron, cod liver oil, malts, phosphates and ordinary medicines that are generally given in these conditions do little but disorganize the sensitive digestive organs without building up the system as is intended. My new lymph treatment builds up every organ of the body without loss of time.

There is no abnormal condition that afflicts the human body for which more remedies are offered than for the variety of affections generally designated as nervous diseases.

NEURASTHENIA and Nervous Prostration

I doubt if there was ever a being born who passed from childhood to mature age without encountering some form of these troubles.

Nervous and prostrated people should consult without delay a doctor that is treating hundreds of such cases and making them his special study.

It costs you nothing for a talk. If you do not need treatment you will be told.

—READER—

If you are afflicted with any chronic, nervous or private disease and wish a quick cure, carefully consider the above facts and consult the doctor before taking treatment elsewhere.

KEENE IS IN AMERICA

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. New York, Oct. 21.—John O. Keene, the Kentucky turfman and trainer, who was suspended by Russian turf officials for nine months because of the alleged use of "dope," has returned from St. Petersburg.

Keene was accused of using a mysterious decoction to make his horses win, and because of jealousies among owners he was told to lay off.

He carried his case to the highest authorities and was told to resume his training at the opening of the racing season at Warsaw next May. He will spend a few months in Kentucky and will sail for Russia in February.

His record of 116 winning races is the best ever known in Europe.

SESSIONS HELD IN SECRET

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 24.—Delegates attending the National association of professional baseball leagues collected in little groups about the corridors of the Southern hotel at 3 o'clock this morning, the long night session having adjourned and talked among themselves of the night's work.

It was openly stated that very little had actually been accomplished. The discussion of amendments to the constitution and consideration of the drafting system have occupied most of the session. President Powers and Secretary Farrell had retired immediately upon adjournment of the session and after talking together for some little time the members of the different groups went to their rooms, still in effect having maintained secrecy.
