Giant Powder Exploded in Rarus and Devitt by Reckless Men.

FEARFUL RISK TAKEN

Many Miners Might Have Perished--None Received Warning.

When courts do not decide in accordance with the wishes of F. Aug. Heinze, anarchy prevails underground in the vicinity of the Heinze workings.

Recent developments at the Rarus and Michael Devitt properties make this plain. That miners in the Mountain View, the adjoining property, were not caught as mice in a trap and done to death, that blood did not flow and that the cage in the Mountain View shaft did not become a funeral car, is not the fault of Heinze or the murderous thugs who do his bidding underground.

With reckless disregard of the consequence to their brother miners in the near by workings, the Heinze agents on Tuesday night, as already related in the columns of the Inter Mountain, and in the United States court, by directing foul gases into the Mountain View sought to drive out the miners there employed, or kill them, and then blew up all the connecting workings.

GOVERNOR HAS NOT RENDERED DECISION

MR. TOOLE STILL UNABLE TO SAY WHETHER OR NOT HE WILL CALL THE ASSEMBLY.

SEVERAL PETITIONS ARE IN

New Lists of Names From Men All Over the State Who Want the Legislature to Discuss the Shutdown.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Helena, Nov. 6.—Governor Toole put in another day without making known his intentions upon the proposition of calling a special session of the legislature. At a late hour this afternoon it was announced at his office that no conclusion had been reached.

Petitions were received today from Havre bearing 500 names, from Little Chicago, a suburb of Great Falls, with 400 names, and from the farmers of the Belt mountains, 125 names.

Up to this afternoon no delegations had called upon the governor, although Secretary J. T. O'Brien of the Inter Mountain men's association and Charles Schatzlein of Butte are here with a petition signed by a large majority of the business men of Butte, urging the governor to call a special session.

The petition may be presented to the governor before he leaves the executive office for the day.

Result of Shutdown.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Philipsburg, Nov. 6.—There is a general regret here over the decision of the Northern Pacific management to discontinue the daily train to Drummond after November 8 and substitute a tri-weekly service. The shutdown at Butte and the recent troubles at the Granite-Bimetallic mine, which resulted in a receivership, probably brought about the suspension of the daily service.

Return From Helena.

The committee of business men who went over to Helena to call on Governor Toole returned to the city this morning. When seen by a representative of the Inter Mountain each member of the committee declined to say anything for publication. But all expressed themselves as pleased with the reception accorded the committee.

Petition From Missoula.

Missoula, Nov. 6.—A committee of business men left this morning for Helena to present to the governor the desire and wishes of this community that he call a special session of the legislature to relieve the present industrial crisis.

Ladies Have Bowling Match.

Missoula, Nov. 6.—The ladies' bowling club hired the Edison theater last night and, excluding the male sex, allowed only women to enjoy the performance. After the theater they were entertained by Mrs. H. O. Collins. It was a departure and proved to be a very enjoyable undertaking.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The United States government has recognized the defacto government of Panama. Washington, Nov. 6.—The following telegram was sent by the state department today to Mr. Ehrman, acting consul general of the United States at Panama.

"The people of Panama have by an apparently unanimous movement dissolved their political relations with the republic of Colombia and assumed their independence. When you are satisfied that a defacto government, republican in form and without substantial opposition from its own people, has been established in the state of Panama, you will enter into relation with it as the responsible government of the territory and look to it for all due action to protect the persons and property

MURDER CASES TO BE UP VERY EARLY

COUNTY ATTORNEY DELAYED

Illness of Mr. Breen's Sister Has Prevented Official From Pushing the Murder Cases on Hand.

There was no session of Department III of the district court today and will not be until Monday next, when the work of impaneling a jury will be begun.

The work of preparing the docket for Tuesday is now under way and next week promises to be a busy one for the county attorney's office.

The work of trying the capital offenses will be in the hands of County Attorney Peter Breen. Owing to illness in Mr. Breen's family he has been unable to attend to business and the bulk of the labors have fallen upon the shoulders of Assistant County Attorney Lynch.

There are five murder cases to be tried and the latter will be tried in this district owing to the fact that the case, that of Llewellyn Felker, has gained such widespread notoriety that it will be hard to get a jury.

Albert Beckman, the slayer of Helen Kelly, will be tried, as will also Salvatore Franchesci, charged with killing Deputy Sheriff Lazarre; Dominick Rolando, for killing Dennis Holland; Walter H. Brooks, who killed Chevier, and Thomas Pooley, who killed his son-in-law, Thomas Littlejohn, and daughter, Lydia Littlejohn.

LOAD OF POLES ROLLS ON THE WOODHAULER—FORMERLY AT GREAT FALLS WORKS.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Great Falls, Nov. 6.—Jerry Cranston lost his life while hauling poles from the mountains to his ranch on Hound Creek, about 50 miles from town, yesterday afternoon. The news of the fatality did not reach here until today. He was hauling poles down the mountain when the load broke loose and the poles rolled upon him, hurling him to the ground. His neck was broken. He was alone and it was several hours before his dead body was found.

He lived around Great Falls for a number of years, having worked at the smelter and for the street railway company. He was about 38 and unmarried. He leaves some brothers and sisters here.

The funeral will be held here Sunday with interment in the Highland cemetery.

GREAT EXHIBITION ASSURED

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 6.—The finance committee of the Lewis and Clarke exposition reports that the funds made available for the exposition up to November exceed $1,000,000. An effort will be made to secure from the next national congress an appropriation of $2,500,000.

Of the state appropriations, that of Minnesota is the largest, being $70,000. Eight other states have contributed various sums from $10,000 up and many more states have promised to make appropriations, some of those already contributing agreeing to double their appropriations.

Several foreign countries and many of the states of the union have agreed to exhibit all or a large portion of their Louisiana Purchase exhibits at the Lewis and Clarke exposition in 1909.

MAY SETTLE THE STRIKE OF MINERS

BUT THERE IS NO HOPE OF FIXING IT BEFORE MONDAY, WHEN MEN WILL GO OUT.

COLORADO IS BATTLEGROUND

But Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico Will Also Be Hit Hard When the Coal Miners Finally Go Out.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Denver, Nov. 6.—A conference is in progress in this city looking to a settlement of the trouble with the coal miners in the Northern Colorado fields and with a prospect of successful termination. The situation in the southern fields is growing more tense, however, and there is now apparently nothing that will prevent the miners from going out on strike Monday at the call of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers.

All Hope Abandoned.

District President William Howells of the United Mine Workers of America said today:

"We have abandoned all hope of a conference with the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and the Victor Fuel company, and the battle will be waged to a finish. Colorado will be the battleground, but the interests of the miners in Southern Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico will be looked after."

"National President John Mitchell will be on the ground. Commissioners are to be established in nearly every mining town, and Pueblo will be the commissary point. If any miners are ejected from the company houses they will be looked after by the national organization, which has an ample reserve fund to carry on the strike to a successful end."

Non-Union Miners.

"In reference to the non-union miners I will say that if they refuse to obey the strike order and do not come out at present, weight will be brought to bear upon them to quit work."

M. O. P. COMPANY TO APPEAR TODAY

JUDGE McHATTON WILL COME INTO JUDGE KNOWLES' COURT IN SHOW CAUSE ACTION.

DATE IS NOT SATISFACTORY

Attorney for Heinze Petitions for More Time and When It is Refused, Chooses to Talk Today.

If the M. O. P. company thought destroying the entrances to the Rarus mine from the Mountain View would effectually prevent the Butte & Boston company from discovering the former's thievery of ore from the Michael Devitt claim, it is mistaken, for yesterday afternoon the Butte & Boston company applied to Judge Knowles for an order citing the M. O. P. company to show cause why certain development work should not be performed in order to ascertain to what extent the Heinze company had been committing depredations and violating the court's orders.

The order was granted on the affidavit of H. V. Winchell, geologist in the employ of the Butte & Boston.

The Montana Ore Purchasing company was cited to appear into court at 1 o'clock this morning, and in this respect it obeyed, but as usual was prepared to resort to obstructive methods in order to delay justice and defeat the aims of the court in attempting to ascertain if there was to be any respect shown to the United States court.

Has Not Had Time.

Mr. Forbis started to read the affidavit of Mr. Winchell, asking permission to perform the development work, when Judge McHatton interposed as an excuse for delay that he had not had time to look up the matter. He asked that the court extend the time of hearing the order, and wanted several days in which to think the matter over.

Judge Knowles stated that he could hear the matter in Helena on Tuesday, but for some reason this did not suit McHatton, and after parleying for a while he consented to meet the issue at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In speaking to Judge McHatton about extending the time Judge Knowles remarked that if there was to be any defense offered as to why the order should not be granted, allowing the work, he wished to hear it right away, and that for this reason he wanted the parties to expedite matters.

Court's Attitude.

It is evident from the court's attitude that he intends to see the matter through and ascertain whether or not his orders of injunction and survey have been violated.

The filibustering tactics of the Montana Ore Purchasing company are having their effect upon the court and it is quite evident that Judge Knowles is growing tired of such methods.

The present term of the United States court will end tomorrow, and Judge

Dillon, Nov. 6.—Gambling must cease forthwith in Dillon, as the city last night passed an ordinance against gambling, making the punishment a fine of $50 to $100. ## PROCESSION FROM THE RESIDENCE TO CHURCH

Pallbearers Include Many Prominent Catholics and Ceremony in the Great Fane Is in Keeping With the Deceased's High Rank.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Helena, Nov. 6.—The mortal remains of the late Bishop John B. Brondel of Montana were laid to rest today with august and impressive ceremony befitting his high station in the Catholic church.

Pontifical high mass was celebrated by Archbishop Alexander Christie of Portland, assisted by several clergymen. The full cathedral choir furnished the music, which was of a high order.

Bishop O'Day of Seattle delivered a powerful sermon upon the subject of "Death" during which he pointed out the significant traits in the life of the deceased and paid tribute to his long and earnest work in behalf of the church.

The cathedral was crowded during the services, the aisles and vestibule being packed with people not only from Helena but from all parts of the state. Before the services the visiting clergy, members of Catholic societies and the actual and honorary pallbearers gathered at the bishop's residence and, forming in procession, marched to the cathedral, a short distance east, the clergy carrying the emblems and other indications of mourning used at the funeral of a prelate.

Eight pews on each side in front of the cathedral were reserved for the clergy, the societies and the pallbearers. As soon as they had been seated Archbishop Christie began at 10 a. m. to sing the solemn mass.

Following the services the people left the church with the exception of the clergy and pallbearers, after which the body was buried underneath the cathedral, along side the bodies of two priests who were buried there a number of years ago.

The following were the pallbearers: Rev. Father Crimont, S. J., president of Gonzaga college, Spokane, Wash.; Rev. Father Victor Day, Helena; Rev. Father

WILD BONDELZWAR MASSACRE A GARRISON

Capture German Fort in Demaraland, Africa—English Prisoners.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, Nov. 6.—According to the Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail, the Bondelzwars tribesmen, who are engaged in a native rebellion in Demaraland, succeeded in capturing Warmbad, a German fort. They burned the fort and the village, massacred all the Germans and took the English families prisoners.

A relieving force from the north engaged a large body of natives and fighting ensued, the result of which is not known. The correspondent adds that the fighting is supposed to be due to the execution of a Bondelzwars chief by German officers.

Murdering Traders.

Capetown, Nov. 6.—Official advices received here fully confirm the massacre at Warmbad, Demaraland, German Southwest Africa, by the Bondelzwars tribesmen. The Germans gallantly fought to the end, but were overwhelmed. It is believed that none of them escaped. Warmbad was burned.

Reports of isolated murders of German traders are also coming in. The rebellion in Demaraland is officially attributed to distress caused by the drought.

He talked very little about the affair, and it appears to be shrouded in mystery. The two brothers had a fight at the ranch of one of them near Forsyth. The dead man is said to have some property.

LITTLE MONEY IN THE CATTLE TRADE THIS YEAR

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Missoula, Nov. 6.—The large cattle outfits of Northern and Eastern Montana did not lay up much money this year, according to Thomas Burke of this city, who has recently made a trip through those sections and looked over conditions, and as a result they are planning to quit the business and engage in the sheep business.

Prices this year were poor. The arbitrary action of the Chicago packers in fixing prices is given credit for the depression, combined with poor feed and the fact that many more cattle than usual have been thrown upon the market.

ED LAHERTY.
GEORGE ALLEN.
ROBERT DONNELLY.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN.

Virginia City, Nov. 6.—The Kearsarge mine at Summit, eight miles south of Virginia City, was the scene today of one of the worst mining fatalities that ever occurred in Montana. R. B. Turner, the superintendent of the mine and six men, nearly all of them miners from Butte, lost their lives from being suffocated by smoke from a fire that destroyed the boiler house and blacksmith shops at the entrance to the main tunnel to the mine.

Up to 1 o'clock only one body, that of John Tobin, had been recovered. The mine was so full of smoke that it was not deemed safe to send in additional searching parties since the superintendent and two miners lost their lives while engaged in the heroic work of trying to rescue miners from the mine.

CONFLAGRATION STARTS IN BLACKSMITH SHOP

The boiler house and blacksmith shops, located at the mouth of the tunnel, caught fire between 4:30 and 5 o'clock this morning, the fire starting in the blacksmith shop. It was about the time the men were changing shift and all but four of the 18 miners employed in the mine got out.

Superintendent Robert B. Turner was early on the scene and decided to go into the mine after the miners who had failed to come out. As soon as the fire had subsided somewhat he entered, accompanied by two others.

Not far from the entrance to the shaft they came across the body of John Tobin, who had evidently succumbed while trying to get out. They carried him to the mouth of the tunnel and then returned for the others. The people waiting on the outside became more anxious as time passed and the rescuing party did not return.

HEROIC TURNER WENT BOLDLY INTO SMOKE

The indications are at 1 o'clock that Mr. Turner and the men named have lost their lives, as they would certainly have returned before this. There is an upraise in the tunnel not far from the shaft and the supposition is that Mr. Turner and the other rescuers, while searching for the missing miners, were suffocated by the smoke which fairly poured into the tunnel from the burning buildings.

The tunnel connects with a shaft which made it a veritable chimney. Mr. Turner never knew such a thing as fear and heroically led the rescue party when his friends tried to dissuade him as he was ill only a few days ago of asthma.

Some of the dead miners formerly lived in Butte. Coroner Johnson has gone to the scene. There is considerable excitement and the details are hard to obtain. There are about 150 men working for the Kearsarge mine, putting up a 60 stamp mill and mining.

TURNER STOOD AT THE HEAD OF HIS PROFESSION

Robert B. Turner, the general superintendent of the Kearsarge mine in Madison county, who so gallantly gave his life this morning in a vain effort to save the lives of his men, stood at the head of his profession in Montana. He was regarded as the leading authority on cyaniding work in the country, although only 35 years old, and was one of the best practical and theoretical mining men who ever came to the West.

The news of his tragic death, which was bulletined by the Inter Mountain at 10:30 o'clock this morning, spread rapidly over the city, for "Bob" Turner formerly lived here and has a host of friends in the community. The first news of his death was given by his partner, F. S. Mitchell, of this city, by the Inter Mountain.

Although Mr. Mitchell had heard of the disaster at the mine he could hardly believe that his friend and business associate was dead.
