DUDLEY IS COMING. The president and the republican central committee have become alarmed at the outlook in Montana and are preparing for a sharp campaign to capture the state at the October election. Chairman Quay is said to have determined to send Col. W. W. Dudley to Montana to practice his blocks-of-five tactics, as he did in Indiana. As Dudley was, after the presidential election, in very much the condition of the cat that had pulled the chestnuts out of the fire for the monkey. and no more highly esteemed than was that animal after its day of usefulness was over, it would appear that he has a forgiving spirit, and for compensation man who, being under a thousand obligations to him for political services, yet never invited him to the white house after the charge was laid at his door of having used money in the last election corruptly. The coming of Dudley, under whatever conditions, to take a hand in the Montana campaign is an insult to the people here, for it assumes that they are purchasable and can be pulled into the republican camp by the use of a corruption fund. Dustey's efforts in that and day for a period of three weeks, closed direction were not confined to the last operating about ten days ago, owing to a campaign, but have been put forth from lack of ore for smelting purposes. It was time to time as they were required by found, however, that should they again the party of great moral ideas. rather the sin of having been found out.

In spite of all the Dudleys that the administration may send into Montana the vote at the October election will put this course where sand carbonate camps are rare. This course would involve much additional expense to the owners. They held a meeting on last Tuesday morning to determine what course should be pursued. Owing to the fact that the Country of the course of the course

Theodore Roosevelt, the newest member of the civil service commission, has that dignity that was known to most observing people long ago, and that is that democrats do not apply for positions neonle are a detriment rather than a bene under a republican administration or republicans ask for employment under a democratic president and department to the camp, as castle needs at this time men who progressive and enterprising, who go to remain and not to secure a few dollars with which to indulge in orgies around town and then leave to spread false democratic president and department chiefs. Mr. Roosevelt attributes this to the "vicious patronage system that had so long prevailed in this country" rather than to the American sense of fair play and justice. Instead of there being a reproach in the fact that (according to Mr. Roosevelt) one of the serious difficulties that the commission has to contend with is to "get democrats to come forward and be examined," it is something to the infinite credit of democrats that they have no desire, even for the sake of a personal advantage, to seek a place where they might be considered to be under even a slight obligation to the op- paper ventur posite party in politics. Democrats are more than willing that republicans, while they have the presidency, should also bear the entire responsibility for the administration of every public office, large or small, and not have it to allege that in the slightest degree they have been handicapped by subordinates who were interested in the disgrace and defeat of the republican party. It is well that it is the mountains are filling the air with smoke and destroying much valuable timber. A confiagration opposite town on the west side of the river last week was about five mires long, covering an area of many that this feeling should prevail, as it is to the credit of Americans that they are not willing to sacrifice one iota of political or personal independence for the sake of employment which, under different can be also be a serious of the river last week was about five miles long, covering an area of many acres. ent circumstances, they would covet. One fact which adds force to the discovery of Mr. Roosevelt is his further statement that at Albany, N. Y., where under the democratic administration the applications for place in the civil service were almost exclusively by democrats and where the case is precisely reversed now, two-thirds of the examiners have been republicans ever since the law went into effect. This shows the falsity of the democrate court to the democr the charge that the democrats sought to | 1 evade the law and make all the examiners democrats, as far as possible.
