

NO MORE MOTOR LINE.

The Council Decides to Grant It the Right to Use Electricity.

A Protest as to Part of the Route of the Extension.

The Board of Equalization Concludes Its Labors and Makes Some Big Reductions—Other Matters.

The motor franchise came up in the city council last night on the report of the committee of streets and alleys, who recommended that it be granted, provided the whole line, including the addition, be operated by electricity.

J. H. Lawrence, on behalf of the motor railway people, said the line had never been a success with steam. The people who had built it and run it at a loss were now able to buy it through the court.

Mr. Lawrence said he was authorized to say that Gov. Hanson had asked Mr. Power three times to take his name off the protest.

C. C. Newman, attorney for the protestants, was heard. He said according to Mr. Lawrence the property of the city depended on this little branch line.

The streets and alleys committee reported in favor of having the grading of Broadway and the opening of Lawrence street made the special order for a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

Street Commissioner Kings reported the amount expended for labor during the week ending Oct. 12, 1891.

Building Inspector McCall reported 121 arrests for city offenses and fifteen for offenses against state laws.

The city marshal was instructed not to allow more than three backs to stand in front of the Grand Central at one time.

Mayor Kleinschmidt asked the committee on light to consult with the electric company as to the arrangement to be made with the electric company to place incandescent lights of say fifty candle power on dark streets.

Among the bills allowed were the following: Water company, $2,000; electric light company, $1,075; board of prisoners, $116.

The sixth ward sawer was ordered continued on Harris and Lyndale streets to the water outlet, at a cost of $900 more.

The council sat as a board of equalization for the last time. C. W. Cannon made a motion to put his assessment on the Cannon addition.

Mayor Kleinschmidt said during the proceedings that he wished the council could reduce the taxes. He was satisfied a great injustice was being done.

The council adjourned for the vacation to exempt from taxation mortgages held by non-residents during the entire fiscal year.

Yon Yonson.

The unequivocal success scored last season by that quaint and original dramatic creation, "Yon Yonson," which is to be given for the first time in this city at Mings, Friday evening, bids fair to be even eclipsed by the brilliant results that seem certain to be achieved during the present tour of the Swedish comedy, nor is it to be wondered at that "Yon Yonson" should acquire the fame that it enjoys since its first production, when it is considered how seldom a real theatrical novelty appears.

Fatal Accident to a Laborer at the Montana Central Railway Depot.

The Jury Recommends That the Company Enforce Some Rule to Prevent More Such Accidents.

High Boyle, aged about 45 years, a track worker for the Montana Central railway, was run over yesterday morning in the depot yard and received injuries from which he died about half an hour later.

Coroner Hookman summoned a jury of inquest which met at the court house in the afternoon. The testimony in regard to the accident was about in accordance with the facts stated above.

The jury, which was composed of James Sullivan, W. G. Miller, H. Williams, F. E. Piper, Louis Davis and William Sprague, brought in a verdict that Hugh Boyle came to his death by being crushed under the wheels of a freight car belonging to the Montana Central railway.

Boyle was an industrious, sober workman who had been about Helena for some two years or more. Through his industry he had saved some money, there being found in his trunk certificates of deposit on Helena banks for $1,150, and one for $300 on a Mandan, N. D., bank.
