

WHIP ANY MAN ON EARTH

So Boasted the English Champion Boxer When Under the Influence of Liquor.

His Bibulous Habits and Boastful Tongue Have Cost Slavin's Friendship.

The Latter Very Confident of His Ability to Whip Jackson—Corbett Has No Show.

New York, March 28.—If what Howard B. Hackett says of Slavin and Mitchell is approximately true, the entire condition between England's boxing champion and Slavin is somewhat strained, if not absolutely fractured. Hackett, who talks with the pair Thursday on the steamer's deck just before the vessel left for her trans-Atlantic trip.

"I shall come back here in the fall," said the English boxer, "and if Sullivan whips Corbett, as I candidly believe he will, why I will be ready to fight him for any amount of money he may name. When it comes to fighting I am 'Johnnie on the spot.' I can lick Sullivan or any other man breathing and don't make any mistake about that. As for Slavin, he is all right, but I can lick him and he knows it. We have made considerable money in America, and we are taking home some $8,000 or more. So you will see that in spite of all the roasting we have had we haven't lost any great amount of the coin of the realm."

"Slavin will lick Jackson to a certainty, and in my opinion Sullivan will pinch holes through Corbett, who is nothing more nor less than a great big looking-glass fighter. I think I can lick the pair of 'em, but that does not matter."

Slavin, who had been talking to some friends, came up at this moment and heard Mitchell's last words.

"You mustn't pay any attention to Charlie to-day," he remarked jokingly. "The poor boy has been in his cups for a time, and he is talking through his hat."

Slavin is thoroughly convinced that he made a mistake in joining forces with England's boxing champion. A certain sporting man had a long talk with the American on this subject on a recent morning, and Slavin admitted that Mitchell was too much of a rowdy to be of any value as a sparring partner.

"When I come over here after licking Jackson," said he, "I will come alone, and I'll take some money, you can gamble on that."

"And what if you shouldn't lick Jackson?" asked Mike Donovan.

"Oh, it's a damn that I will whip him, because I know the man I am fighting, and I also know that he will not be in the fight."

USE OF ELECTRIC SPURS.

All Parties Concerned in the Affair Were Ruled Off.

New York, March 28.—The Guttenberg officials detected the electric spurs swindle Friday. When Jockey Cook, who rode Gyda in the third race, was being weighed in after the race, it was discovered that he was nine pounds overweight. The boy nearly fainted when the official weighed him on this subject on a recent morning, and Slavin admitted that Mitchell was too much of a rowdy to be of any value as a sparring partner.

WILLFUL MURDER.

Of One Woman and Four Children—Some of Deeming's Crimes.

Liverpool, March 28.—The coroner's jury investigating the deaths of the woman and four children whose bodies were found buried under the floor of the Dinham villa, at Rainhill, continued to-day. Among the witnesses were Bertha Deeming, sister of the murdered woman, who was the wife of Albert Deeming, brother of the murderer. Other witnesses were the proprietor of the hotel where Deeming stayed before moving to Rainhill, two or three women, two men, a jolter and a barmaid. All testified at great length as to the movements of Deeming, repairs made at Dinham villa, the introduction of a wife and sister, and other facts in connection with the case as already told in these dispatches. Mrs. Mather, mother of the murderer's Australian victim, also testified. The jury returned a verdict of willful murder against Deeming.

Not Assassinated by Political Enemies.

GARDEN CITY, Kan., March 28.—Recent information indicates that Sheriff Dunn, of Seward county, was not murdered by a mob organized to kill Judge Roblin, as was reported and as Roblin believed, but that he was murdered by his own deputies, and for money that he possessed. This information was given out by W. D. Orms, of Seward county, who was suspected of being the principal conspirator to assassinate the judge. The evidence he has is the testimony of a woman who was an intimate friend of Sheriff Dunn, and who knew better than any one else the conditions of his finances. The county is so sparsely settled that everybody is acquainted with the murderer, and it is feared a jury cannot be impaneled. All those that Roblin had arrested have been released because of the law which does not allow the state to take a change of venue.

Threatened to Lynch Anarchists.

PARIS, March 28.—The excitement caused by the blowing up of dynamite of M. Bulo's residence yesterday still exists. The citizens threaten to take the law into their own hands and lynch the anarchists if caught. The author of the explosion is said to be a man named Ravachol. Several of his associates are also named, and the police are unable to capture him. Notwithstanding this, a reporter of the Journal claims to have interviewed Ravachol yesterday. Ravachol says the idea of the anarchism is to terrorize the judicial authorities so as to prevent the condemnation of their companions arrested for other explosions. Ravachol says the anarchists have sufficient dynamite to blow up the residences of every French official.

Wholesale Murder of Peasants.

WASAW, March 28.—Police inquiries into the case of two brothers named Koslowski, imprisoned here on the charge of murdering and robbing a peasant near Bielostock, revealed the practice of wholesale murder of emigrants on the frontier. Already the naked bodies of five victims have been discovered in the snow in the woods adjacent to the house occupied by the brothers. Search for bodies is proceeding. The police estimate that the brothers have murdered at least forty persons.

Died Sitting Up.

MINGUEZ, Mexico, March 28.—Jose Gonzalez, a police officer, yesterday made an unprovoked assault on Manuel Ortiz, judge of the peace. He started out of town and was pursued by three policemen. Gonzalez kept them at bay with a revolver, killing two of the officers. A shot from the third policeman's pistol brought Gonzalez to the ground. He was taken to a hospital, but failed to die down to day, saying he supposed he could die as he liked, and sat in the chair until he died to death.

Evidences of Fault Play.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Fouled with a mass of sewer filth and battered and bruised from blows, the body of a man floated out of the mouth of the Thirty-first street sewer into Lake Michigan yesterday. The body was that of a man 25 years of age, who, from appearances, had been dead about three days. The pockets were turned inside out, showing that robbery was the object of the murder. There are no marks on the clothing by which his identity can be established.

Horror of Electrocution.

SING SING, N. Y., March 28.—Jeremiah Cotton, an ignorant Italian who murdered Louis Frankline in Brooklyn last July, was electrocuted this morning. The preliminary of the execution did not differ any from those in the past. Five shocks were given the condemned man. His right leg, where the electrode was applied, was severely burned and his face horribly discolored, even more so than on any previous electrocution.

Killed His Father-in-Law.

HILLSBORO, Texas, March 28.—Shortly after 12 o'clock last night W. L. Fisher, one of the best known citizens of Hill county, was shot and killed by Thomas Nash, his son-in-law. An air of mystery pervades the affair and developments of an interesting character are expected. Nash is already indicted in the district court for assaulting and attempting to murder a Mexican some two months since.

Bought School Contracts.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Just before adjournment for the day the grand jury in the boodle cases voted to indict Horely, who, besides being a member of the board of education, is an ex-member of the state senate. The indictment voted will not be returned into court until to-morrow. Testimony was given to-day by Oth Jones, who swore to buying Horely through third parties over $2,000 for contracts.

Shot at a Social.

CHICAGO, March 28.—J. C. Frost, a Pullman conductor, was shot in the eye last night by Michael Hogarty, a locksmith, in a quarrel over Rose Nelson, to whom Hogarty was to marry this evening. The shooting took place at a social gathering, and in order to reach Frost, Hogarty had to aim over the shoulder of one of the friends of his affianced. Frost will probably die.

Missouri Notes.

MISSOURI, March 28.—[Special.]—A deposit of native copper was struck in the Clearmont Consolidated mine in the Bigler Root valley a few days since.

Republicans met to-night to discuss the advisability of Dr. Parsons resigning in favor of the independent candidate for mayor. After a long discussion it was concluded to allow the ticket to remain as it is.

A telegram has been received saying a match will be made in a few days between the Sailor Kid and the South Butte Spider.

Suing for Heavy Damages.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Mrs. Homer G. Baldwin, injured so terribly in the New York Central collision at Hastings, Chestnut street, has sued the road for $50,000 damages. In order to sign her work to the company, Mrs. Baldwin had to hold the pen between her teeth while her husband moved her hand. She says she is finding a home for unfortunate women.

NO CHANCE FOR SILVER.

The Bland Bill Is Not Likely to Again Come Before the House.

Gold-Bugs Have Succeeded in Again Making Effective Their Opposition.

Discouraging Reverses Were Met by the Silver Men Who Started Out With a Petition.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The silver men have understood that a special order bringing in a cloture rule would be reported to the house to-morrow and telegraphed to all their men to be in the house to-morrow. This morning Speaker Crisp informed them that no special order would be brought in unless a majority of the democratic members of the house sign a petition asking for a cloture rule. Speaker Crisp was asked by an Associated press reporter this morning if the reports were true that the order would not be brought in unless the majority of the democrats signed a petition. He replied: "That is my inclination." "Then the silver bill will never be brought to a vote?" queried the reporter. "I don't know that that follows," replied the speaker. "They had a two-thirds majority of the democrats and may have a majority to sign the petition." Mr. Bland, Mr. Pierce and other silver men were seen. Mr. Bland was very downcast over the news that he might not force to vote the measure he has worked for so long. He admitted that the report that the silver bill had met with another setback, and one which practically meant its death without a final vote, was well founded. But he said that the matter was not absolutely settled. Mr. Pierce was a little more confident, but he and Mr. Bland said they would have nothing to do with the circulation of any more petitions. Some of the other silver men, however, attempted to get signers to a petition of the nature suggested by the speaker, but met with poor success, for, as already stated, thirty-five of the men who have heretofore voted for the silver bill refused to sign it. Among the number were Compton (Md.), who not only declined to sign the petition, but gave notice that if any cloture resolution is brought in he will vote against it. The anti-silver men are exultant over the changes in the situation, but the pronounced silver advocates are exceedingly irritated and angry and do not hesitate to indignantly protest against the treatment they have received.

Depended the Change.

BERLIN, March 28.—In the lower house of the Prussian Diet Count Von Eulenburg, the newly appointed president of the Prussian council made a statement in which he justified the separation of the imperial chancellorship from the presidency of the Prussian ministry. Concluding, he said that in view of the fact that the discussion of the primary education bill had created such serious and irreconcilable differences, he had decided to resign. He said he expected at present, the government would refrain from insisting upon further consideration of the bill. But, he added, the government would reserve the right to call up the bill in the future without overstepping the limits of the constitution. It is said that the reichstag will be indefinitely prolonged this week, as will also be the landtag.

Various Wives Appear.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 28.—A scandal has arisen over the property of Lewis Heller, who died suddenly in Tucson, Arizona, recently, while en route to California. Heller had large interests in Mexico and the Central American states, and was the owner of a large company of Lower California (Baja) and in many railroad concessions. He married a Mexican lady. His estate was large and by his will left certain property to his children. Heller had a second wife, and now another wife has appeared, an American, who claims a portion of the property. Heller married her in the United States and was never divorced from her there. However, the Mexican wife, by Mexican law, is the legal wife of Heller. The widow here will contest the will and sensational developments are expected.

The Pope's Rich Fond.

ROME, March 28.—It is stated on good authority that Pope Leo XIII, in anticipation of future difficulties which the holy see may encounter, has deposited in a bank to be paid to his successor the sum of $5,000,000, which has been saved by economies at the Vatican. The pope has no children. Archbishop Ireland had no doctrinal decision will be taken in regard to the school question in the United States.

Saltatory Not Consistent.

LONDON, March 28.—The Star, commenting on the Bering sea correspondence, says: The dispatches do not give Lord Salisbury the better of it. He has not been consistent. Secretary Balfour has. The American cabinet are not so consistent as they desired to protect the seals. Lord Salisbury acted as though he was afraid of offending the Canadians, whose only desire is to catch seals.

Declined to Commit the Government.

PARIS, March 28.—In the deputies to-day urgency was asked for the bill providing that damage done private property by dynamite explosions be met by the state. Lord declined to commit the government and the motion was rejected. The chamber passed the bill inflicting the death penalty on persons convicted of destroying property by the use of dynamite.

She Whaled All of Them.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 28.—Sporting circles in this city are agog over the list of accomplishments displayed recently by Miss Claudine Downing. While in a restaurant three thoughts made stirring remarks about her. She complained to the proprietor and asked to have them ejected, but he declined to do so. Becoming disgusted, she stripped herself of her hat and cloak and immediately went up to one of them and laid him out with a single blow, and afterwards administered a severe chastising to the other two. Yesterday one of the female employees in the restaurant made an uncomplimentary remark about her which she took to heart and went for her and unceremoniously laid her with a single blow, and things, but the assaulted woman finally got to her feet and knocked Miss Downing senseless with a rolling pin. The two were arrested.

Announced by a Clerk.

NEW YORK, March 28.—John J. Langbehn, the crank who, December last, demanded the brains of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and was committed for examination as to his insanity, has been announcing the family of Jay Gould by ringing the bell of his residence and demanding to see Helen, the eldest daughter of the financier, whose lover he had been with a single blow, and afterwards administered a severe chastising to the other two. Yesterday one of the female employees in the restaurant made an uncomplimentary remark about her which she took to heart and went for her and unceremoniously laid her with a single blow, and things, but the assaulted woman finally got to her feet and knocked Miss Downing senseless with a rolling pin. The two were arrested.

Should be Reported; that while they favored the free coinage of silver, and wanted to vote for it, they opposed any rule in a democratic house which would cut off the right to a debate.

Speaker Crisp defined the situation to be simply this: "If a majority of the democrats in the house desire the committee on rules to make a report which will enable the house to come to a direct vote on the silver bill, and if they signify that desire, the committee will make the report. If they do not so signify the committee will understand that a majority do not desire it, and the responsibility will rest with the majority of the democrats of the house, and not with the committee." In reference to charges of the speaker's opposition to silver or to his duplicity, the speaker said he had nothing to say except to recall the recent fact that he himself presented the bill from being tabled, and to state that, as a representative from Georgia, he favors and will vote for the free coinage of silver.

VERY SATISFACTORY.

The President Says Salisbury's Proposition Is of That Character.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Lord Salisbury's last communication to the president, stating the grounds upon which he consents to renew the modus vivendi, was laid before the senate this afternoon. In transmitting the paper to the senate the president added to the formal letter a statement that Salisbury's reply was very satisfactory, and that he was preparing a suitable response. The character of this response is indicated briefly in the president's letter as being a substantial acceptance of Salisbury's terms, with a few modifications that doubtless will be arranged without difficulty. There can be no question that the reception of this communication largely removed any doubts as to the favorable action of the senate upon the treaty, and, in fact, when adjournment was had it was the general belief that the treaty will be ratified to-morrow. Much of debate to-day was devoted to the question of damages that might be awarded by arbitrators for or against this country. Senator George took prominent part in discussing this point and, fortified by a number of authorities, proceeded to address the senate at length, briefly to the question of damages that might be awarded by arbitrators for or against this country. ## FEW DISSENTING VOTES.

The Minneapolis Convention Will Ratify the Administration of Mr. Harrison.

Senator Pettigrew (S. D.) Has Translated the Handwriting on the Wall.

Gov. Russell States His Preference in the Matter of the Democratic Presidential Nominee.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The following appeared in the Evening Star Friday: "Senators who are thoroughly acquainted with South Dakota politics seem to be very much surprised at the publication of a statement which has it that the delegates to the Minneapolis convention were instructed for Harrison in spite of the opposition of Senator Pettigrew. To a Star reporter it was stated to-day that Senator Pettigrew never wrote a letter or in any way opposed President Harrison. Some of Senator Pettigrew's friends say he has been maliciously misrepresented by those who are opposed to the supremacy of republicanism in South Dakota. So long as Mr. Blaine was regarded as a candidate Senator Pettigrew, who was in accord with South Dakota sentiment, was a Blaine man. When Blaine was no longer a possibility South Dakota sentiment was for Harrison. Senator Pettigrew knew this, it is said, and has kept in touch with its state throughout."

The above publication was evidently for the purpose of convincing the people here that Senator Pettigrew had not been opposed to President Harrison, and consequently had not received a knock-out in the recent South Dakota convention. The compromise between the South Dakota senate and the president has been so nearly adjusted that it is safe to say Senator Pettigrew is perfectly satisfied to see President Harrison re-nomined if no other man can be. The fact is politicians in Washington have all come to the conclusion that the fight against the administration, strongly entrenched as it is behind the government, is very small work, and the prospects are now that the convention at Minneapolis will be a ratification of the republicanism of the past four years and a re-nomination of the president without any dissenting votes.

CLEVELAND'S STRENGTH.

THE SECRET OF IT SET FORTH BY GOV. RUSSELL.

BOSTON, Mass., March 28.—Gov. Russell, who has once withdrawn from the presidential race in favor of Mr. Cleveland, but who next to Cleveland will have the support of the magnum element in the democratic party if it is necessary to trot out the "dark horse," made a fully prepared statement to-day as to the outlook for the presidency on the democratic side, in which he said:

"I think that Cleveland's recent letter in a most wise way places him in a proper attitude before the country and his position and his position that a presidential nomination is neither to be sought nor declined is right and proper. The strength of a leader in a national contest rests on the spontaneous recognition by his party that he is one who represents its principles, its progress and its highest aspirations. Such recognition does not require personal effort to force the opinion and choice of the party. A strong national leader need not, therefore, be torn to him because it wants him, and because he is first in the confidence and support of the great masses of its loyal members who are devoted to its cause and desire its victory as the triumph of principle and the inauguration of a declared policy. This I believe is Cleveland's strength. By courage, ability and patriotism, he has won the confidence and affection of the people. With firm adherence to democratic principles, and with more political sagacity, he fearlessly urged an aggressive policy of reduction of tariff taxation. His course united the democratic party upon that question in an enthusiastic, restless, fighting force, and has won for it unprecedented victories in every section of the country. I don't understand the wisdom of the policy which would suggest leaving this path to wander divided into unknown fields and to meet new obstacles, or which would put aside the man whom the situation distinctly marks as our leader. As I believe that tariff reform is and ought to be the great issue, it seems to me to be very important to emphasize it, not only by our party legislation and our platform, but distinctly by our candidate. This is the importance of Cleveland's nomination."

Holman Would Be President.

SHERBURN, Ind., March 28.—The managers of Congressman W. S. Holman's political destinies claim that he is on a clear road to the nomination for the presidency. The plan is to nominate Holman for congress on April 12, and later present his name to the state convention for governor, and if he should get that nomination let him decline it and permit the central committee to fill the vacancy. This boom will bring Holman prominently before the people, and in case the nomination for president comes west Holman will claim the prestige and his friends will urge his nomination. The delegation from Indiana will be for Isaac P. Gray, but Holman's friends claim his popularity outside the state will force Indiana to support him after it becomes evident that he stands a show of getting the nomination.

Democrats of Livingston.

LIVINGSTON, March 28.—[Special.]—The democratic city convention to-day nominated for mayor, H. S. Potts; city marshal, J. W. Johnson; city clerk and attorney, John T. Smith. This evening at a ratification meeting held in Fowle's hall, Hon. R. R. Smith, of Helena, president of the state association of democratic clubs, and Judge L. A. Luce, of Bozeman, made rousing speeches. Much enthusiasm was shown at the convention and it is the general opinion that the democrats of this city are better organized than ever before and they are hopeful of electing the entire city ticket.

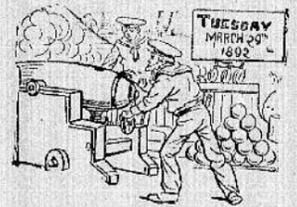

Captures a County.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 28.—David B. Hill starts off in the race for the control of the Georgia State Democratic convention by capturing the delegates of Polk, the first county to act. In David B. Hill they recognize a student of broad mind who has not prejudiced their cause and from whom they could get sympathy if not relief.

Death of a Merry-Maker.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Pat Rooney, the Irish comedian, died to-day of pneumonia, after three days' illness. He was 44 and he was a member of the Elks and Actors' guild. He leaves a widow and six children.

GANS & KLEIN.

ON MARCH 29TH, 1847, Vera Cruz, the key of Mexico, surrendered to General SCOTT, after a destructive bombardment of five days.

The Mexicans had supposed the city to be virtually impregnable and its fall was a source of much surprise to them. They lost about a thousand men, the victors capturing half as many cannon and about five thousand prisoners.
