

BY STEAM TO THE POLE.

Joseph Schlessel Will Travel on Ice in a Sled He Invented. San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Joseph Schlessel once tried to fly and failed. He built a machine purposed to take him into the clouds, but he stayed on earth, and his experiment almost put him under the earth, a pale, unhandsome corpse. Now Schlessel is willing to stay on the surface of the earth but he seeks a new method of traveling. He lives in North Oakland, and is a skillful mechanic, having worked for many years in iron foundries in this state. He has a little shop in which he has built his new machine that is to be his locomotive. In appearance this locomotive is a sled with a steam engine on the deck. A large tank is provided to hold petroleum for fuel. At each side of the sled is a series of lamps, not unlike the sections of a chain pump. These are made with sharp heels, raised and lowered by a sort of walking beam and at the same time pressed backward by a second shaft and operated in similar fashion. This steam sled moves forward readily on the floor of Schlessel's workshop, though the jolting is uncomfortable to passengers even on this short trip. The inventor says it will go much faster and smoother over ice and hard snow, and to travel over ice and hard snow is the use for which the sled is devised. Schlessel declares that on his sled he will try to reach the most northern latitude ever reached by man. "Steam," says he, "must provide the power for man to reach the north pole." A considerable quantity of petroleum can be carried in the tank. The blubber can be used to make fire under the boiler. By establishing stations I can keep my supply of fuel. He does not fear the extreme cold, and says that in Germany, where he was born and lived during his youth, he was noted for his ability to endure intense cold. He has some property and this he proposes to use to fulfill his intention of steering over the icefields to the ultimate north.

"Dr. Liebig & Co. Coming."

San Francisco and Kansas City's Great Specialists From Liebig World Dispensary.

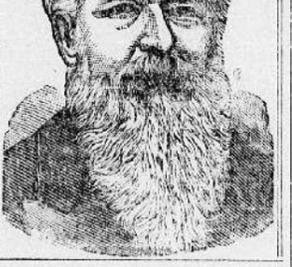

Their chief specialist, of San Francisco, will visit Marysville, American House, Oct. 13 and 14; Phillipsburg, Modlin's Grand Hotel, Oct. 15 and 16; Granite, Moore House, Oct. 16 and 17; Missoula, The Florence, Oct. 18 and 19, and at Mercantile Hotel, Helena, Oct. 19 to 24.

Dr. Liebig & Co. believe that a special physician's success entirely depends on his skill and ability to cure disease. Realizing this fact twenty years ago they gave up acute cases and family practice, and have devoted all time to chronic diseases, men's diseases, restoring lost health and vigor in old and young, and to day have the majority of chronic cases to treat west of the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean. Making specially to order from measurement, braces and appliances for all deformities. No physician can perform twenty-five men's work, no brain is capable of doing so. He who pretends to cure all diseases, be a bedside physician, a surgeon, a chronic disease expert, etc., etc., claims an impossibility. Dr. Liebig & Co.'s success depends upon special work, doing only office practice and treating a certain class of diseases as specialists. Chronic private and secondary diseases, often called incurable, are speedily cured. Diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat, blood and nervous system, and genito-urinary and reproductive organs receive careful special attention. It is a well known fact that surgeons and physicians treating only a special class of diseases obtain great skill and are universally successful. Diseases of men treated confidentially and never referred to. Delicate and complicated diseases of women skillfully treated.

The Liebig World Dispensary is the largest incorporated medical and surgical institute in the world continued under one management. Divisions in Kansas City, Butte, City of Los Angeles and San Francisco. The clinic is held every day. Not here to-day and away to-morrow, but here now, first, last, and all the time, combining skill and reliability has brought unequalled success to Dr. Liebig & Co. in the past twenty-four years.

TOBACCO—Drunkennes, Optum Habit, and excessive use of Tobacco destroy millions of valuable men and women yearly. Dr. Liebig & Co. give successful treatment by the Chlorides, Cinchonides and the latest methods, which overcomes the habit perfectly and permanently. Consultation personally or by letter, and all strictly confidential.

BAD BREATH—Catarrh is very prevalent in the throat, and destroys the purity of the breath, the hearing, the sight, and the entire system, attacking the lungs, heart, stomach, bladder, and all the organs. Why should Dr. Liebig & Co. not treat them also, when they are specialists for all chronic ailments and are far better prepared to do so, than any other physician, and are able to give more successful results than those who do not. Indeed, Dr. Liebig & Co. are of cases that have been badly treated by so-called "cure-alls," men suffering from destroying diseases or venereal disease or excesses. He had seen and terrible experience, and their penitence, and what the Practical may think or say, Dr. Liebig & Co. propose to be good Samaritans and cure them, and then say, "Glad to have done it."

MEN'S DISEASER—While some might wonder that a large and respectable Dispensary like Dr. Liebig & Co. should specialize in treating private diseases, venereal diseases, gonorrhea, syphilis, stricture, cancerous ulcers, blood poisoning, skin diseases, and all chronic ailments of men that unfit them for life's duties or that seriously affect their health, and that family physicians treat such diseases. We have never known one also doing so, nor one to refuse to do so, when they are specialists for all chronic ailments and are far better prepared to do so, than any other physician, and are able to give more successful results than those who do not. Indeed, Dr. Liebig & Co. are of cases that have been badly treated by so-called "cure-alls," men suffering from destroying diseases or venereal disease or excesses. He had seen and terrible experience, and their penitence, and what the Practical may think or say, Dr. Liebig & Co. propose to be good Samaritans and cure them, and then say, "Glad to have done it."

Mr. Merve Gill, a wealthy cattle and stock man of Emmet, Idaho, was a helpless invalid, unable to bed, two men nurses to attend him, and he had been cured of his ailment after ten years of lower extremities, when under treatment April, 1892, is now able to drive out morning and evening. His case was complicated with a venereal disease of heart and nervous debility. He paid Dr. Liebig & Co. $1,000 for his services. Mr. Thomas Galt, of 837 Highland street, Helena, states that he owes his life to Dr. Liebig & Co. He was a helpless cripple on crutches, given up to die, and he was cured of his ailment after ten years of lower extremities, when under treatment April, 1892, is now able to drive out morning and evening. His case was complicated with a venereal disease of heart and nervous debility. He paid Dr. Liebig & Co. $1,000 for his services.
