SUBDUED THE RIOTERS.

Speaker Crisp and the Democratic Majority Will Proceed With Public Business.

Republican Obstructionists, Led by Czar Reed, Routed in Every Conflict.

Good Results Follow the Caucus of Democratic Members—A Lively Day in the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The decree of King Crooks was all dominant to-day and the democratic majority acted as a unit in leading the filibustering which has blocked legislation for weeks. When the house met the democratic benches were crowded. The committee on rules had held a meeting at which, over the protest of republican members, the committee was instructed to report rules that would disarm filibusters. As soon as the journal was read, Reed, of California, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution asking the secretary of the treasury how many ounces of silver were purchased in July and August; the amount offered, and if the government had not purchased the amount required by law, under what authority the secretary had acted. Fitch objected, and the struggle began.

Burrows moved to dispose with the call of committees for reports. Catchings, from the committee on rules, presented a report providing that no other business be in order until reports of committees had been received.

Burrows made a point of order that the report was not an order, as it had originated with a committee. After a sharp tilt with Burrows and Reed on one side and the speaker on the other, the speaker overruled the point of order, holding that the committee on rules would originate the order of business, just as the committee on appropriations would originate appropriations. [Loud democratic applause.]

Burrows appealed against the decision of the chair. Fitch, of New York, moved to lay the appeal on the table. Burrows moved that the house take a recess of an hour. Catchings made the point of order that the report of the committee on rules was the only thing in order, and the speaker instructed the clerk to read the report of the committee.

Reed made a vehement fight against the action of the speaker. He declared the clerk had no right to read the report, declaring, amid democratic cheers, that the action of the speaker was the most surprising in legislative history.

After some further strictures on the chair, Reed concluded: "If Reed is to be out-Heroded, Herod intends to witness the transaction." The speaker then went carefully over its parliamentary status, and concluded by sustaining the point of order made by Gen. Catchings against Burrows' motion to take a recess. Payne attempted to appeal from the decision. Two appeals cannot be in order," objected the speaker, "the clerk will call the roll on the speaker, the gentleman from Michigan." By a vote of 172 to 157 the house sustained the decision of the chair. Heppner, of Iowa, upon the announcement of the vote made a recess for two hours. Fitch tried to a triangular wrangle over its parliamentary status, between Heppner, Outwaite and Reed. The speaker finally ruled Heppner's motion out of order. Heppner appealed, and on the vote his pleasantry, in obedience to a nod from Reed, refused to answer to their names. The decision of the chair was sustained, 177 to 150.

The question then recurred on ordering the previous question on the report from the committee on rules. Then motions came thick and fast. All were brushed aside by the speaker, who said the vote just taken would be the decision of the chair, which held that no motion was in order except the one motion to adjourn. The whole democratic side broke into wild cheering when the announcement was made and a wave of applause swept over the galleries. Although realizing that they were being out-Heroded by the speaker, the democratic side refused to yield in their stubborn fight. Burrows moved to lay the report of the committee on the table. The speaker ruled the motion out of order and declined to entertain an appeal. Some confusion followed, a dozen members being on their feet, and the speaker ordered all to take their seats. Every member instantly seated himself, except Ex-Speaker Reed, who was taken up with rage. For a moment he stood facing the speaker and then sank into a seat. There was more democratic applause, and the roll call began on ordering the previous question. The democratic side failed to muster a quorum and nothing was left then for them but to order a call of the house. This developed 187 democrats.

The vote recurred on ordering the previous question on the report of the committee on rules. The previous question was ordered, 180 to 138. Burrows moved to reconsider and Fitch moved to lay the motion on the table. Fitch's motion carried, 181 to 138. Under the rule thirty minutes was then allowed for debate and an exciting time followed.

Ex-Speaker Reed first took the floor. "We occupy a peculiar position of vantage in this contest," he said, "on the one side we are between two fires. We stand to win either way. You had to resort to every thing you have denounced or been bested, and with characteristic determination you chose annihilation. You sought to annihilate us deliberately in the traces against which you had stored and hoarded. In doing so you not only violated the precedent of 108 years, but all the principles of parliamentary law with which you ever came in contact. You refused the system of rules which we offered you, under which you could have done business, and instead you chose to accomplish the same ends by social acts of violence. The object of this action has been as worthy as the methods employed to accomplish it, for it has been the destruction of the power of the federal government in federal elections, in order that corruption and fraud might have free reign." [Loud applause on the republican side.]

"It is unnecessary for me," said Catchings, in rising to reply to Reed, "after the clear statements of the speaker in his closing days into a defense of the course of the filibuster to-day. It is cruel," he continued, sarcastically, "for Reed to suggest that we have humiliated ourselves. If we have I have not discovered it. The charge, I think, lies on the other side."

Remarks by several others Burrows made a motion to adjourn. It was lost, seventy-three to 173. The vote then recurred on the adoption of the report of the committee on rules, and it carried, 176 to 138.

The committee on election of president, vice-president and members of congress also presented a resolution asking the com-

WORK ON THE BILL.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Public hearings before the ways and means committee concluded to-day. It is the intention of the committee to commence work at once upon a new tariff bill. L. E. Holden, of Cleveland, spoke in favor of the existing duty on lead ore. He declared that if the duties should be reduced miners' wages would necessarily be reduced. Hugo N. Camp, of New York, insisted on the retention of the present duty on lead ore in the interest of producers and miners. He protested against the treatment of lead ore as raw material.

Among the other industries represented were thread, paints and colors, cocoa, raw ivory, and pianoforte ivories. E. J. Bremer, of New York, complained that the duty on silk is too high, so high, in fact, that foreign manufacturers of silk goods could not be brought into competition with American silks. He admitted, however, that foreign manufacturers of silk paid 50 per cent less wages than paid in this country.

At the afternoon session of the committee the carpet industry was discussed, as well as matches, brushes, tobacco, bric-a-brac and German looking glass.

Congressman McCall, of Massachusetts, spoke of the intense competition with American silks. He admitted, however, that foreign manufacturers of silk paid 50 per cent less wages than paid in this country.

In the Senate,

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—In the senate, Morgan, of Alabama, presented a petition from citizens of his state in favor of the repeal of the Sherman act. He said it was one of the petitions sent out by New York bankers, and he considered it a mandate from the north, not from the people of Alabama.

Reed then moved that the repeal bill be taken up. After a sharp passage between him and Fitch, who wished to make an amendment to the rules, providing for closure, the latter yielded to George, of Mississippi, who addressed the senate in opposition to the bill. When Gen. Fitch finished his remarks he directed the attendance of absent senators. Dolph suggested that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to "request" instead of "inform" the attendance of senators. Gray spoke in favor of repeal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The daily statement of the United States treasury shows, for the first time in two weeks, the receipts of the government to be in excess of expenditures. The figures for the month of September are as follows: Receipts $17,272,851, expenditures $17,052,000. Of the latter amount $8,518,000 was on account of pensions. The gold reserve to-day was $35,064,317. The net balance is now $11,519,278.

OMAHA, Sept. 20.—Specials from Deadwood, S. D., to the Bee say: At 6:30 forest fires had burned to Lead City. The Home-stake sawmills and lumber yard were first to go. Flames, aided by a prevailing strong wind, were making havoc among the frame buildings of the town. Help was called from all other towns and 1,800 men were battling with the flames. At 9:30 the wind changed and the flames were blown to the east. It was hoped of saving the city. Fire on the east reached the foothills, five miles from here. A hundred and fifty homeless people at the Freedmen's section are now at Piedmont, on Centennial prairie. FIRED ON THE LYNCHERS.

Eight of Them Killed Outright and as Many More Fatally Wounded.

Intent on Mobbing a Brute Who Murdered a Poor Woman for $2.

A Reign of Terror in a Parish in Louisiana—Put Under Martial Law—Criminal News.

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 20.—One of the most dastardly outrages in the history of this city occurred at about 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Henry S. Bishop was enticed by a negro named Thomas Smith from the market, where she had come to sell produce, into an empty saloon basement, beaten into insensibility and robbed of her pocket book containing less than $2. The fiend was captured and lodged in jail. A crowd gathered around the jail and kept increasing as night approached. At five o'clock the Roanoke light infantry marched to the jail, by orders of Mayor Trout. Guards were posted and the streets in the immediate vicinity cleared. About dark the crowd was increased by 100 men from the vicinity of the woman's home, headed by Mrs. Bishop's son.

At eight o'clock a portion of the mob battered at the side door of the jail, where the militia and Mayor Trout appeared. Shooting was commenced by the mob and the mayor was shot in the foot. The militia was then ordered to return the fire and a volley from about twenty-five rifles was poured into the mob. Eight men were killed by the fire and as many more wounded, some fatally.

During the excitement caused by the volley the negro was taken from the jail by officers, and secured. The dead and wounded were removed to drug stores and to the offices of nearby physicians. The militia then dispersed and left the scene as quietly as possible.

Following is a list of dead and injured as far as known at present:

Dead: S. A. Vick, hotel proprietor; Will Sheetz, fireman on a railroad; Chas. W. Whittemore, conductor on a railroad; T. H. Taylor, of Blue Ridge; George White Jones, engineer on a railroad; John Miller, distiller of Back creek; Emmet J. Swallow, of northwest Roanoke; George Settle, of Vinton.

Injured: Otto Felle, will die; Will Eddy, shot through the abdomen; Chas. Powell, shot in the head; Frank Miller, shot in the arm; Tom Nelson, leg off; Leroy White, shot in the back; J. B. McGhee, shot in the leg; Ebeard, shot in the leg; E. J. Small, shot in the abdomen; Chas. Powell, shot through the body; J. H. Campbell, Edgar Whalin, C. W. Figgitts, C. P. North, O. S. Taylor, Hall, David Kuggles, N. E. Sparks, T. E. Nelms.

Seven were made after the militia retired and Judge Woods, of the Hustings court, assured the mob that the negro had been removed from the jail, and accompanied three crowds through the jail to prove the truth of his statement. His statement did much to pacify the crowd, but they hung around the jail and adjacent streets for several hours afterwards, many dispersing to search for the secreted prisoner.

At midnight the scene had quieted down and no further trouble was expected. The militia remain under the mayor's orders, although it is probable they will not be called out again. Mayor Trout is firm in his political attitude, and declares that he will uphold the laws. The dead were removed to undertaking establishments and will be prepared for burial.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

Had State of Affairs in a Louisiana Parish.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—Leading colored men of this city, at a secret meeting, appointed a committee to ask the governor for troops for protection against the reign of terror in Jefferson parish, at the outskirts of the city. A mass meeting of the colored citizens of the state is called for Monday, and there are indications of serious trouble. Jefferson parish has been declared under martial law by residents, the sheriff, judges, senators, representatives and the militia are all ordered to believe that the state troops will be called out. Many white women and children have come to the city for refuge.

Bloodhounds from the penitentiary were loaned this morning in a swamp to track the murderer of Judge Hopital. On the exact spot where he fell an iron rod has been driven into the ground, to which the murderer will be tied when caught. Rescuing pine knots around it and branding iron are ready with which he will be tortured while suspended from the gallows by his arms above the fire.

ARCHDUKE FRANZ FERDINAND.

The Future Emperor of Austria Passed Through Helena Yesterday.

The Archduke Franz Ferdinand d'Este, heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungary throne, passed through Helena yesterday in a special car on his way to the east. He will visit the National park, and then continue his journey to Chicago. The future emperor was accompanied by five traveling companions and as many servants. The imperial party was in charge of Count Leo Wurmbrand, who, in addition to his responsibility for the prince's safe conduct must at all times be within call of the archduke. This dignitary is an absolute authority upon all matters of court etiquette; he will also confer with the secretary of state concerning all appearances of Franz Ferdinand.

Franz Ferdinand, although but twenty-nine years of age, is a general in the army of Austria, and in the armies of Russia and of the German empire. He has been honored by the crowned heads of Europe with decorations of the highest order of nobility. Public interest was aroused in the prince on the death of the Crown Prince Rudolf, and investigation showed that he was a laudible, proud and cold man; that his political address was decidedly behind the times, inasmuch that he was a firm believer in absolutism; and that he was leading a dissolute life. It was therefore deemed a wise move when the emperor decided to send his nephew on a trip around the world. The prince's coming in contact with all forms of government and with people of all nations.

The father of Ferdinand is the next heir to the throne; but as he is 69 years of age—his political address is decidedly behind the times, inasmuch that he was a firm believer in absolutism; and that he was leading a dissolute life. It was therefore deemed a wise move when the emperor decided to send his nephew on a trip around the world. The prince's coming in contact with all forms of government and with people of all nations.

A Beautiful Wedding at St. Peter's Church Last Evening.

Mr. H. O. Wilson and Miss Violet Cullen were married at St. Peter's Episcopal church last evening, Rev. F. T. Webb, rector, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated, and the wedding was one of the prettiest ever celebrated in this city. Miss Grace Cullen, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and L. O. Lewis, of Butte, best man. Stephen Carpenter, Norman Hoiter, Ernest Cullen and Chas. Power, acted as ushers. The church was crowded with friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony at the church there was a reception at the residence of the parents of the bride, on Dearborn avenue. The happy couple will go on an eastern trip, which will be extended to Boston.

The bride is one of Helena's prettiest girls and most popular belles, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. E. Cullen. She has grown up in Helena, and has well earned the title which comprised not only the young people, but the old timers who have watched her grow from childhood to woman's estate. The groom is one of the best young railroad men of the north-west. He has been with the Union Pacific railroad for a number of years, and for three years has been its representative in Helena. He has built up the business of that line in this section of Montana from almost nothing to the point where it is a large factor in the company's calculations. At the same time he has been making business and friends for the people he represented. He has made hundreds of close friends for himself, and there is no more popular or more highly respected young business man in Helena than Mr. Wilson.

In Their Final Resting Place.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 20.—With simple, solemn ceremonies the remains of James K. Polk, the tenth president of the United States, and those of his wife, were removed from the tomb at Polk place, the old family residence in this city, this morning to the state capitol grounds and reinterred. The services at Polk place and on Capitol hill were very impressive, and the occasion was honored with due respect by state, city, church and people by the tolling of bells, closing of places of business and large attendance at the ceremonies.

THE SITUATION AT RIO.

Not Much News Received Concerning It and What There Is Conflicts.

One Report to the Effect That the Rebels Had Practically Triumphed.

A Hopeful Representative at London Has Had no Bad News and Predicts Peixoto's Success.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Admiral de Mello has sent his ultimatum to the authorities at Rio de Janeiro, announcing his intention of immediately bombarding the city with all his ships unless it promptly surrenders. This information comes from an agent of a leading banking house in this city with large Brazilian interests, and it is believed to be thoroughly reliable. The dispatch adds that Rio is in the utmost consternation and dismay. Citizens are fleeing to the country with such of their belongings as they can carry. Merchants are packing goods in cellars preparatory to following them. Consular representatives of the powers are using their utmost efforts to dissuade the rebel commander from carrying out his threat, but so far, without avail. Heavy pressure is being brought to bear on the local authorities to induce them to surrender, as it is considered folly to resist, the forces being unable to do anything against the rebel gunboats and the land artillery being unable to reach them from their shelter behind the islands in the bay, from which they throw shells into the city. It is recognized that to hold out means simply the destruction of the city without any compensation or advantage to Peixoto.

Meanwhile three rebel vessels have reached Santos, and after a sharp fight succeeded in landing a strong force of marines, and at the time the dispatch was sent were endeavoring to take the city by assault, with probabilities of success.

Vicente Darinos, the Brazilian minister, received telegrams last night which made no mention of the success of the rebels, hence he is of the opinion that the government officers at Rio have not been interfered with, and that President Peixoto has not left Rio de Janeiro. The minister does not believe the news in regard to the ultimatum said to have been delivered by Admiral de Mello, and does not consider the situation alarming. He admits, however, that of late there has been considerable feeling against the president, it being alleged that he had violated the constitution.

The present agitation, according to the minister, was probably caused in view of the fact that the presidential election takes place in March. The minister received a telegram to-day that the banks of Brazil and other banks at Rio were open and transacting business, and that exchange would also be quoted to-day.

VAN HEEST WHIPS NAPIER.

Twenty-Eight Rounds Required to Do the Business.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—Van Heest and Napier fought to-night in the Olympic club before 4,000 people, for a purse of $2,000. Napier was a strong favorite in the betting. Capt. Wm. Barrott, of the police, was in charge of the fight. John Duffy was referee. The men fought cautiously throughout the first round. Napier missed several well intended leads and Van Heest did little or no damage with the blows he landed. There was some hard fighting in the second round, and Van had the best of it. Van with a terrific heart punch, landed a heavy right hander on the jaw. Napier gained a first blood in the fifth round and Van landed a large number of telling blows in the stomach.

In the sixth Van Heest half felled and was half knocked down, after giving his opponent some pretty hot stomach punches. There was some very rough fighting in the eighth round, and Van had the best of it. The tenth was the best round of the fight. Both men scored heavy blows on the head, and toward the close Van delivered a heavy right hander on the jaw. In round eleven the fighting was terrific. Van fell to the floor from exhaustion. In the twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth rounds Van was easy.

In rounds sixteen and seventeen Van was knocked down repeatedly. In round eighteen Napier punched Van all over the ring, although the latter landed some stomach punches with his left. Van was knocked down but the going saved him and he went to the corner very groggy. From the eighteenth to the twentieth rounds Van was divided, but Van seemed to get a little the best of the hitting.

Van Heest won in the twenty-eighth round with a punch in the stomach.

It was now in operation in over a hundred localities. It has ceased to exist at Fairbank, through local conditions merely, and at the archbishop's own suggestion, not by command from Rome.
